Annual Report.

IT SEEMS well in sending out the first annual report of the Church Training and Deaconess House, that some mention should be made of its origin and plan, so that those who have not seen the various notices which have already appeared in print about it, may have a clearer idea of its object.

The need of trained workers in the Church having always been keenly felt, the subject was brought before the Bishop of the Diocese in July, 1889, and a plan suggested to enable women who desired to avail themselves of it, to receive thorough instruction and systematic training in the various branches of Christian work. The idea met with hearty sympathy from the Bishop, but the adoption of the Canon on Deaconesses by the General Convention in 1889, led to an extension of the plan.

After several months of careful deliberation, a circular was issued, dated August 1st, 1890, signed by the Bishop and the following women, constituting the first Board of Managers:

Miss Coles, Chairman,
Miss E. C. McVickar, Secretary,
Miss Aertsen, Treasurer,
Miss Elizabeth N. Biddle,
Mrs. George L. Harrison,
Miss Annie Buchanan,
Miss Elizabeth Morris,
Mrs. Mary E. Mumford,
Miss Katherine Buckley.

This circular gave a sketch of the scope and purpose of the Institution, and the scheme of its organization (though this has been to some extent modified), and it also contained an appeal for the funds necessary to start the work. Subsequent circulars were issued from time to time, and these are printed in full as an appendix to this report in order to show the history of the movement.

In November, 1890, the property No. 708 Spruce street was purchased on behalf of the Institution, by Miss Coles, who conveyed it to the Corporation in April, 1891.

A Charter was obtained in March, 1891, and the Corporation legally organized in its present form.

The Bishop secured the services of Miss Caroline H. Sanford as House Mother, and she assumed the charge of the work on the Festival of the Epiphany, 1891, when the House was opened with a Service of Benediction, and the work begun in earnest with four resident students.

As the work was new to all, and there was little opportunity in this country to acquire knowledge on the subject, it was thought well, that at the close of the school term in June, Miss Sanford and Miss Coles should go for two months to England, and there learn from practical experience, what to do, and what to avoid. During this visit, they were most kindly permitted to look very thoroughly into systems and methods, and were received as most honored guests, in many of the Deaconess Houses, and other Institutions. The Deaconess House at Kaiserswerth was also visited. It is truly remarkable to see the results of this wonderful work of faith, the Mother of all modern Deaconess work, established by Pastor Fliedner, in 1833, and now numbering over 800 Deaconesses, and affiliated with over 4800. Extending its branches throughout the world, every variety of work is found at its main centre. Clustering around the Mother House at Kaiserswerth, from which all the activities emanate, is a "House of Evening Rest," for Deaconesses, no longer able to work; a Home for Reduced Ladies; a Preparatory School and a Training College; a Magdalene Asylum; an Orphan Asylum; a Hospital for men; one for women, and one for children, and an Insane Asylum, and it would be difficult indeed, to imagine anything more beautiful, than the simple consecrated lives of these holy women.

With these experiences our second year is begun in earnest faith that God has a very real work for us to do, here and now.

There have been fifteen students, representing nine different dioceses, admitted as residents during the year. Two have left on account of poor health, one was called away by urgent duty, and twelve still remain.

They are divided into two classes—Probationers and Special Students. Probationers take the full two years' course preparatory to becoming Deaconesses; Special Students may, for sufficent reason, be excused from some of the literary work, but they all share in the household duties and the practical parish and mission work.

The early morning hours are given to the care of the house, each student gladly and cheerfully taking up the part assigned to her. Then follow the lessons, under the direction of a Faculty of most competent instructors.

The afternoons are devoted to practical training, under the direction of members of the Board of Managers.

Miss Biddle's class, on Thursdays, is intended especially to train women as Bible Class teachers, and a limited number each term are privileged to work, under her supervision, at St. Barnabas' Mission, teaching Bible Classes and visiting the people. Four other students under Miss Buchanan's direction, visit the sick in the Episcopal Hospital, and the people connected with that mission, and teach in the Schools. Several have been working with Miss Parrish in St. Mary's street, where she is striving to solve the problem, "How best to help the poor." They see that the sick are admitted to Hospitals, or cared for by the Visiting Nurse Society; they learn to co-operate with the existing charitable agencies; to persuade the children to attend school, and the parents to be more thrifty and clean.

During the Summer, five of the students were admitted into the Training School of the Episcopal Hospital on the same footing as the regular pupils. This was a favour for which we cannot be too grateful. They acquitted themselves creditably, and feel that they gained experience which will be invaluable in their future work.

This Fall, in addition to the work already mentioned, the students have begun to attend a class in ecclesiastical embroidery at St. Stephen's Parish House. A cooking class, taught by Miss Bedford, meets at the Church Training and Deaconess House each week, taking alternate lessons in domestic and sick-diet cooking. On Friday afternoons, Mrs. Halsted, of Baltimore, is giving a series of lectures, six in number, upon "Nursing." These have been well attended and thoroughly appreciated.

In looking over the results of the past year's efforts, we feel that we have reason for encouragement in the fact that from the still larger number of women who applied for admission, as many as fifteen were found to be, not only ready and desirous, but also possessing qualities which made them fit to avail themselves of the opportunity given by the opening of the House, to prepare, by thorough training, for the service of God, whether by entire consecration to that service as Deaconesses, or in a more limited sphere of activity, where, however, training is no less necessary for good work. Of the twelve students now resident, five are looking forward to the Diaconate.

Ample provision is made for women desiring to take up one or more branches of study or practical work. Every Christian woman desires to spend some part of her life, no matter how small, in the active service of God, and no worker in any field can fail to recognize the value of preparatory training.

It was thought that the opportunity for practical work under teachers trained by long experience, would be eagerly seized by those anxious to acquire the experience and judgment necessary to successful Church work. The advantages offered here, not only for practical work, but for study, seemed to us great and unusual, and the success of the Church Institute connected with St. Stephen's Church, led to the hope that very many would avail themselves of these advantages. But so far this hope has been disappointed. The number of non-resident students has been very small.

The By-Laws contain all directions in regard to application, both for students in general, and for candidates for the office of Deaconess. As the Canons of the Church require at least two years special preparation for the office, it will still be another year before any of our students can be ordained.

The cry of the Church is loud for consecrated, capable women, to work in our city parishes and missions; in our Indian and Colored work, in the far West, and in the farther foreign fields. May we not hope, that under the blessing of God, this Institution may be used by Him, to train up such women and to fit them for such work?

In conclusion it is our wish to extend to all who have aided in this work the assurance of the cordial appreciation with which their help is regarded, and it is proper, especially to thank the Faculty and the attending physician, who have so willingly and with such systematic regularity given gratuitously their time and talents for the benefit of the Home.

A.

[From the Digest of the Canons of the General Convention.]

TITLE I.

OF DEACONESSES.

§ I. Unmarried women of devout character and proved fitness may be appointed to the office of Deaconess by any Bishop of this Church.

§ II. The duty of a Deaconess is to assist the Minister in the care of the poor and sick, the religious training of the young and others, and the work of moral reformation.

§ III. No woman shall be appointed to the office of Deaconess until she shall be at least twenty-five years of age, nor until she shall have laid before the Bishop testimonials certifying that she is a communicant in good standing of this Church, and that she possesses such characteristics as, in the judgment of the persons testifying, fit her for at least one of the duties above defined. The testimonial of fitness shall be signed by two Presbyters of this Church, and by twelve lay communicants of the same, six of whom shall be women. The Bishop shall also satisfy himself that the applicant has had an adequate preparation for her work, both technical and religious, which preparation shall have covered the period of two years.

§ IV. No Deaconess shall accept work in a Diocese without the express authority, in writing, of the Bishop of that Diocese; nor shall she undertake work in a Parish without the like authority from the Rector of the Parish.

§ V. When not connected with a Parish the Deaconess shall be under the direct oversight of the Bishop of the Diocese in which she is canonically resident. A Deaconess may be transferred from one Diocese to another by letter dismissory.

§ VI. A Deaconess may at any time resign her office to the ecclesiastical authority of the diocese in which she is at the time canonically resident; but no Deaconess having once resigned her office, shall be reappointed thereto, unless there be, in the judgment of the Bishop, weighty cause for such reappointment.

§ VII. The Bishop shall have power, for cause, after a hearing granted, to suspend or remove a Deaconess from her office.

§ VIII. No woman shall act as a Deaconess until she has been set apart for that office by an appropriate religious service, to be prescribed by the General Convention, or, in the absence of such prescription, by the Bishop.

CIRCULARS.

I.

THE CHURCH TRAINING AND DEACONESS HOUSE OF THE DIOCESE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

During several years past there has been a growing conviction in the minds of earnest Church workers that many devout women would be glad to avail themselves of an opportunity to become qualified, by a systematic course of study and discipline, for more effective work for the Master.

Some of these, it has been thought, would choose to give their lives wholly to this one thing, and become members of an order consecrated to religious service.

Others, it has been thought, would like to become better prepared for such Sunday-school or mission or benevolent work as they could perform in the parishes to which they belong, or in the community in which they live, but without any intention of devoting themselves to it altogether.

Others, still, there may be who, while feeling strongly drawn towards the life of a missionary, would yet, before undertaking it, be glad to test themselves and their fitness for such a calling, by spending some time in preparation for its peculiar duties.

Out of this prevalent feeling grew the action of the General Convention of 1889, authorizing the appointment of unmarried women of devout character and approved fitness, to the office of Deaconess, by any Bishop of this Church.

The second section of the canon defines the duty of a Deaconess to be to assist the minister in the care of the poor and sick, the religious training of the young and others, and the work of moral reformation.

The canon further provides that before appointment the applicant shall have had an adequate preparation for her work, both technical and religious, which preparation shall have covered the period of two years.

For the purpose of providing such preparation as will meet the needs of the three classes of workers referred to, the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania is to be opened on the Feast of the Epiphany, Tuesday, January 6th, 1891. Its headquarters will be at No. 708 Spruce street, Philadelphia, which has been purchased, and is now being furnished for this purpose.

Its general management will be under the direction of the Bishop of the Diocese, who will in this be assisted by the warden, the Rev. T. S. Rumney, D.D.

The daily order and discipline of the House will be directed by the House Mother, Miss Caroline H. Sanford, who will also have the direction of all studies and duties to be performed by the inmates.

The financial and out-ward business of the House will be cared for by the Board of Managers, appointed by the Bishop, of which Miss Coles is president, and to whom letters of inquiry should be addressed, at 2111 Walnut street, Philadelphia.

The real estate and investments, whenever through the liberality of those who believe that this work will be for the glory of God and the welfare of His creatures there shall be money to invest, will be in charge of a Board of Council, of which Mr. George C. Thomas is treasurer.

Instruction will be given by a faculty of six clergymen and other teachers, to be appointed by the Bishop.

The training given will be intellectual, devotional and practical. It will be open to women from any Diocese, and any who may desire to come to the House simply for instruction in any department of study can do so without becoming residents.

It will be the aim to furnish most favorable facilities for learning in all branches of Church work.

Instruction will be given in the Bible, Prayer Book, Church history, Theology, social science, hygiene and home sanitation, nursing, methods of teaching, missions, cooking, housekeeping, needlework, and whatever else may be needed to qualify those whom the school may send out to be true helpers of the parochial clergy in their missionary and benevolent work. Opportunity will be given to the students to study the regular work of hospitals and other charities of the city, and to put into practice what they are learning day by day.

One of the results hoped for from bringing students into a home, under one roof, and subject to the direction of a judicious and competent house mother, is that each may learn to work without friction with her fellow-workers, not asserting herself, but realizing the end in view to be one, to be willing to be directed by others as to the part she shall perform.

Candidates for admission must be at least eighteen years of age, in good health, and must furnish satisfactory evidences of character and ability.

The charges for board, room, laundry and necessary text books will be $200 a year. But for candidates for the office of Deaconess there will be no charge, except for books, after the first year. The charge for students who do not live in the House, but who come for special instruction, will be $25 a year, and they will provide their own books.

The House will be open during the year, but those who remain during the summer vacation will be expected to render such service as may be appointed for them.

I cordially commend this institution to the prayers and sympathy of all Church people, clergy and laity, not only in the Diocese of Pennsylvania, but throughout the Church, and I ask for the Board of Managers a generous response to whatever appeal they may make for funds for the prosecution of the work.

O. W. WHITAKER,

Advent, 1890. Bishop of Pennsylvania.

II.

We, the undersigned, constituting the Board of Managers of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, avail ourselves of the sanction and approval of Bishop Whitaker to appeal to the Church at large for sympathy and aid in the work we have undertaken, confident that, with such support, the proposed institution will be fruitful in providing many earnest women with the means for development, training and usefulness, and in supplying to the clergy well-qualified workers in every department.

We, therefore, ask the clergy throughout the country to look out from among their people such women, godly, devoted, and also practical, as may be encouraged to offer themselves for training. We will gladly enter into correspondence with such women, without expecting them to decide the question before applying.

And to both clergy and laity we most earnestly appeal for the financial aid so essential in every Church enterprise. Give us individual contributions and give us also collections in the Churches.

Chiefest and above all, give us your prayers!

THE RT. REV. O. W. WHITAKER, D. D., President.
THE REV. T. S. RUMNEY, D. D., Warden and Chaplain.
MISS C. H. SANFORD, House Mother.
SENECA EGBERT, M. D., House Physician.

This Institution was opened January 6th, 1891. The first term of study ended May 26th, with seven resident students and fifteen non-resident. On the 15th of June four of the students entered the Training School for Nurses, in the Episcopal Hospital, for three months' instruction.

The object of the Church Training and Deaconess House is not only to furnish the necessary intellectual, spiritual and practical preparation for those who desire to become deaconesses, but also to afford the same advantages to others who wish to become more thoroughly qualified for any department of Church work: as, for instance, Bible class or Sunday-school teaching, parish visiting, attendance upon the sick, caring for the neglected, ministering to those in trouble, and all forms of Christian beneficence.

While intellectual instruction will occupy a prominent place, and will be given by those who are specially competent to teach, provision will also be made for practical training. This will include, among other things, cooking, care of a household, reading to the sick, house visiting, preservation of health, visiting public and parochial institutions, emergency cases, needlework and teaching. In all these, instruction will be given by those who have had large experience, and are peculiarly fitted to teach by example as well as by precept.

The aim will be to make the students familiar with the various kinds of service to which they will be liable to be called when their term of preparation shall have ended.

Applicants, whose admission has been approved by the Board of Managers, may enter at any time, but it is most desirable that those who wish to become residents should enter at the beginning of the school year, the first Wednesday in October.

The charges for residents are $200.00 a year; but for the second year of candidates, there is no charge. For non-resident students the charge is $5.00 for any single study, and for the whole scheme, $25.00 including the necessary text-books.

Application for admission may be made to Miss E. N. Biddle, 1812 Locust Street, Philadelphia, from whom, also, any desired further information may be obtained.

The next Term of Study will begin Wednesday, October 7th, 1891.

SERVICE OF BENEDICTION

OF THE

CHURCH TRAINING AND DEACONESS HOUSE

708 Spruce St., Philadelphia.

EPIPHANY, 1891.

¶ The Bishop, entering, shall say:

Peace be to this house, and to all who shall dwell in it.

V. Except the Lord build the house their labor is but lost that build it.

R. Except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain.

V. Our help is in the name of the Lord.

R. Who hath made heaven and earth.

V. Blessed be the name of the Lord.

R. Henceforth world without end.

V. O Lord open Thou our lips.

R. And our mouth shall show forth Thy praise.

PSALM XCI. Qui habitat.

1. Whoso dwelleth under the defence of the Most High, shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

2. I will say unto the Lord, Thou art my hope, and my stronghold; my God, in Him will I trust.

3. For He shall deliver thee from the snare of the hunter, and from the noisome pestilence.

4. He shall defend thee under His wings, and thou shalt be safe under His feathers; His faithfulness and truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

5. Thou shalt not be afraid for any terror by night, nor for the arrow that flieth by day.

6. For the pestilence that walketh in darkness, nor for the sickness that destroyeth in the noon-day.

7. A thousand shall fall beside thee, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.

8. Yea, with thine eyes shalt thou behold, and see the reward of the ungodly.

9. For Thou, Lord, art my hope; Thou hast set Thine house of defence very high.

10. There shall no evil happen unto thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11. For He shall give His angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

12. They shall bear thee in their hands, that thou hurt not thy foot against a stone.

13. Thou shalt go upon the lion and adder; the young lion and the dragon shalt thou tread under thy feet.

14. Because he hath set his love upon Me, therefore will I deliver him; I will set him up, because he hath known My Name.

15. He shall call upon Me, and I will hear him; yea, I am with him in trouble; I will deliver him and bring him to honor.

16. With long life will I satisfy him, and show him My salvation.

Glory be to the Father, etc.

HYMN (299).

We give Thee but Thine own,
Whate'er the gift may be:
All that we have is Thine alone,
A trust, O Lord, from Thee.

Oh! hearts are bruised and dead,
And homes are bare and cold,
And lambs, for whom the Shepherd bled,
Are straying from the fold.

To comfort and to bless,
To find a balm for woe,
To tend the lone and fatherless
Is angel's work below.

The captive to release,
To God the lost to bring,
To teach the way of life and peace,
It is a Christ-like thing.

And we believe Thy word,
Tho' dim our faith may be;
Whate'er for Thine we do, O Lord,
We do it unto Thee.

THE APOSTLES' CREED.

V. The Lord be with you.

R. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray.

THE LORD'S PRAYER.

O God, who by the leading of a star didst manifest Thy only begotten Son to the Gentiles, mercifully grant that we, who know Thee now by faith, may after this life have the fruition of Thy glorious Godhead, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

O Lord, look down with Thy gracious favor upon this Church Training and Deaconess House. Visit it, we pray Thee, with Thy blessing. May Thy presence ever abide in it. May Thy love ever protect it. May Thy angels ever watch over it. May it be evermore an abode of truth, and love, and peace, and holiness, and may those who dwell in it so faithfully serve Thee in this life, that they may at last find an abode in the blessed mansions of Thy eternal home in heaven; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

O God the Son, eternal wisdom of the Father who wast Thyself the teacher of Thine Apostles, and who didst send Thy Holy Spirit to guide Thy faithful people into all truth, grant, we beseech Thee, that all they who shall teach in this House, and all they who shall learn therein, may have a right understanding in all things, and so use the talents committed to their charge, that they may give an account of their stewardship with joy to Thee, whom, with the Father and with the Holy Ghost, we worship and adore, one God, world without end. Amen.

Bless, O Lord, the inmates of this House, and inspire each of them with the spirit of humility, gentleness, kindness, obedience and thanksgiving to God; and may the fulness of Thy heavenly benediction ever rest upon this place, that all who shall dwell therein may themselves be abodes of Thy Holy Spirit, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

O Thou from whom cometh all wisdom and all knowledge, be the Counsellor of Thy servant, to whom is entrusted the supervision of the inmates of this House. Stand by her and their right hands, to give them discretion and endurance for the faithful and conscientious discharge of all their duties, through our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen.

O God, without whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy; give, we beseech Thee, to all those Thy servants who may be charged with the management, maintenance, and discipline of this House, such wisdom, zeal and fidelity that they may render to Thee an acceptable service. May they have the sympathy, encouragement and prayers of all Thy people, and may this work here begun be carried forward by them under Thy direction, and sustained by Thine almighty help, to the honor of Thy Name, the prosperity of Thy Church and the salvation of men, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Enlarge, O Lord, the hearts of Thy faithful people, that like as the Israelites Thy people of old offered willingly to Thee of their substance, so we, remembering that our days on earth are but as a shadow, that here we have no abiding place, and that all things come of Thee, may with perfect hearts offer willingly to the continual support of the work this day begun, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God and the fellowship of the Holy Ghost be with us all evermore. Amen.

ADDRESSES.

HYMN (469).

God shall charge His angel legions
  Watch and ward o'er thee to keep;
Though thou walk through hostile regions,
  Though in desert wilds thou sleep.

On the lion vainly roaring,
  On his young thy foot shall tread;
And, the dragon's den exploring,
  Thou shalt bruise the serpent's head.

Since with pure and firm affection,
  Thou on God hast set thy love,
With the wings of His protection
  He will shield thee from above.

Thou shalt call on Him in trouble,
  He will hearken, He will save;
Here, for grief reward thee double,
  Crown with life beyond the grave.

Students not living in the house will be charged $25.00 per annum, or they will pledge themselves to such definite work as shall be deemed equivalent by the President of the Board of Managers.

Non-residents may be admitted as Special Students to instruction in any single branch upon payment of five dollars annually, which will include the necessary text-book.

SECTION 2.—All residents will be entitled to remain in the House during the year, but those remaining between May and October, will perform then, as at other times, such duties as may be assigned them by the House Mother, or Bishop.

SECTION 3.—In addition to the eight months of study, at least ten weeks' Hospital or other practical service will be required of all candidates, and of all other students who elect to remain in the House during the summer.

ARTICLE X.

The regular School year will begin on the first Wednesday in October, and end the last Tuesday in May, with a recess from the day before Christmas Eve to Epiphany, and one week at Easter.

Each student shall be entitled to leave of absence for one month in each year in addition to the Christmas and Easter recess.

ARTICLE XI.

The Board of Managers shall have power to make changes in these By-Laws, but no change or addition shall be made unless at least four weeks previously it shall have been proposed in writing at a stated meeting of the Board, and within five days thereafter have been presented in writing to the Bishop of the Diocese; and no change shall be made touching the rights and powers of the Board of Council or any member of it, without the concurrence of a majority of the members of that Board given at a meeting duly convened.

The Bishop of the Diocese shall have the right to be present at any meeting of the Board, (notice of which shall always be sent to him) and to speak upon any subject which may be before it.

House-Mother, C. H. SANFORD, Deaconess,
OFFICE HOURS: { Mondays, from 10 A. M. to 12 M.
Saturdays, " 2 to 5 P. M.

THE second annual meeting of the corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania was held on Tuesday, January 17, 1893, at 708 Spruce Street.

The meeting was called to order at 4.15 P. M., the Rt. Rev'd O. W. Whitaker, D. D., in the chair.

In the absence of the Secretary of the Board of Council of the corporation, Mr. R. Francis Wood, the Chair appointed Mr. Ewing L. Miller Secretary of the meeting.

Reports were presented from the Treasurer of the Corporation, the Treasurer of the Board of Managers, the Board of Managers, and the House-Mother. These reports were referred to a special committee, to be appointed by the Chair, to take the necessary action toward publishing the same.

The Bishop announced the following appointments for the ensuing year, to wit:—Warden, the Rev. T. S. Rumney, D. D.; House-Mother, Miss C. H. Sanford, Deaconess; and the following Board of Managers: Miss Coles, Miss McVickar, Miss E. P. Aertsen, Miss F. E. Bennett, Miss E. N. Biddle, Miss Annie Buchanan, Miss Irwin, Miss Elizabeth Morris, Mrs. Effingham Perot, Mrs. Wm. W. Farr, Miss Louisa G. Davis, and Miss Anne N. Sanders.

An election was then held for members of the Board of Council, which resulted in the unanimous election of John Ashhurst, Jr., M. D., George C. Thomas, Charles C. Harrison, R. Francis Wood, and Ewing L. Miller.

George C. Thomas was elected Treasurer, and Ewing L. Miller Secretary of the Corporation.

The Bishop announced the committee to audit the reports of the Treasurer as John Ashhurst, Jr., M. D., and R. Francis Wood; and the committee on publication of the annual report, as Miss Coles, Miss McVickar, Deaconess Sanford, and Ewing L. Miller.

The Bishop then addressed the meeting upon the very satisfactory record of the past year, and the great reason for encouragement in the results which have already been realized. He referred to the admirable order of the household and the excellent condition of the House; and said that the management of the House-Mother must have been very judicious to accomplish all that has been done at the moderate expenditure stated in the Treasurer's report. He spoke of the cordial co-operation of the clergy, which has given to the House a very able Faculty and corps of instructors. The number of resident students taking the regular course has been larger than was anticipated for the first year; and the only possible regret that those who are so deeply interested in the work can feel is that so few have taken advantage of the opportunity to pursue the courses of study, either full or partial, that are here provided for special students.

On motion, adjourned.

Attest, EWING L. MILLER, Secretary.

ANNUAL REPORT.

The close of another year recalls to us the duty we owe of giving to our patrons and subscribers an account of our stewardship.

It is with real pleasure that we tell of a year full of blessings.

At its beginning our commodious and well-adapted house had a mortgage of $8000 resting upon it. This, through the earnest efforts of some of the managers and the liberality of our friends, has been entirely cancelled (for details of which see Treasurer's Report, B) New plumbing has been introduced throughout the house, adding materially to the comfort and health of the building. The room used as a chapel, where the students gather morning and evening and noonday for united prayer, has been greatly enlarged and tastefully refitted. These improvements have all been paid for, and we feel most grateful to have our house, perfect in all its appointments, entirely free of debt.

The year opened with twelve students, of whom one, too young and unprepared, after a thorough trial in our school, was placed, through the influence of Miss Sybil Carter, in the Wilder Farm School, Minn., for one year. Another, after remaining in the house for a few months as a special student, left to take charge of an orphanage in Western Texas. A third, who came to have her fitness for missionary work tested, is laboring faithfully among the Indian women at White Earth Reservation.

Two new students have entered this autumn, making our present household eleven in number. Of these five are to be set apart as Deaconesses on the Festival of the Epiphany, having completed their two years of study and passed their examinations with credit. For the two years, in addition to the curriculum of study, they have been trained in practical parish work, house-to-house visiting, mothers' meetings, Sunday-school teaching, etc., under the supervision of experienced church workers.

For twelve weeks of each summer our students have been granted the privilege of living in the Episcopal Hospital and sharing the thorough course of training given to the nurses in both the medical and surgical wards. Their intelligence and faithfulness called forth most gratifying praise from Miss Littlefield, the head nurse.

At the head of the candidates stands our Housemother, whose cultivation, ready sympathy, and spirituality have made her peculiarly fitted to fill that office. Her duties have been arduous, since while attending to the manifold calls of her position she has followed all the studies and passed her examinations. She will come back to us to give her whole time to the welfare of the house.

Miss Davison will remain in the house, working as a Deaconess in Grace Parish under Rev. Dr. Stone. Miss Adwen will leave immediately after her ordination for White Earth Reservation, there to work among Indian women under the supervision of Miss Sybil Carter. Mrs. Jones will go to Montana to work under Bishop Brewer's direction. Miss Stuard remains in the house, continuing her work for the present in her own parish in this city.

The new year opens with our household still numbering eleven. Two new special students will enter the coming term, filling the places of those who have gone out from us.

The Faculty have with untiring zeal continued their labors, and they have had their reward in the earnest attention and interest of the students. The Rev. Dr. Stone has been obliged to withdraw on account of the press of other duties, and the students parted with him with great regret. The Rev. R. W. Micou, the new professor at the Divinity School, has been appointed to the vacant chair, and began his lectures only a few weeks ago. A new course has been added during the year, of instruction in business methods under the charge of Rev. W. F. Paddock, D. D.

Two changes have taken place in the Board of Management through resignations—Miss Hard, who felt that, living away from the city, she was unable to assist in the work of training, and Miss Parrish, whose health demanded entire cessation of work and a year abroad. We are looking forward with impatience to her return, in restored health, when we hope to have her once more in the position she filled so ably. Mrs. William Farr and Miss Louise G. Davis have been appointed by the Bishop to complete our number.

We have passed through a time of great anxiety by reason of the extreme illness of Miss Elizabeth Biddle. Our work would have been most seriously crippled had she been taken away. But with deeply thankful hearts we now look forward to her restoration to health and to us.

Surprise and disappointment was expressed in our last report that so few in our own city had availed themselves of the instruction and training offered in our house. This feeling has increased when, after two years, in all the classes only eleven come from outside to attend the lectures, and this in a day when there seems a thirst for knowledge in other departments, and the activity in church life is greater than ever before. Can it be that a want of information in reference to the privileges here offered is the reason?

The scheme of studies will be found in another part of our report; and the House-mother will be glad to give any information, either by letter or in person.

Our House, in the nature of things, can never be self-supporting. To any one who will devote herself to the life of a Deaconess, we offer a full course of training, extending through two years, for the small sum of $200.00. Therefore the fees cannot be expected to pay even the running expenses of the house; these should be met by the Church, especially in this Diocese; and we earnestly appeal to individuals and parishes for annual subscriptions and collections.

We are not unmindful of the very great liberality shown to us by a few who have given not only largely, but again and again when asked to do so; nor do we forget that there have been parishes, like St. Stephen's, which has not only given us a yearly offertory, but has this year assumed the expenses of a student. Then, too, much has been done for the work by benefactors outside of the Diocese; but our main dependence ought to be systematic contributions from our own people, and upon their hearts and consciences we lay this work, feeling it to be no longer an experiment, but that it has proved itself an answer to a positive need in our Church.

(Signed) E. C. McVICKAR,
Vice-President.

REPORT OF HOUSE-MOTHER.

Throughout the past year of 1892 there have been nine resident students, besides four who left in the spring, and two who entered in the fall. These fifteen students represent ten different Dioceses, and include five candidates, two probationers, and eight special students.

We have had a most encouraging year, notwithstanding the many perplexing questions arising as the work develops. The domestic routine has been arranged with a view of giving each student practice in all kinds of housework, without encroaching upon the time and strength needed for other things. The housework does not occupy more than an hour daily, and, judging from the cheerful spirit shown, the students do not find it burdensome. There is a growing interest in the studies, which become more and more helpful as time goes on. We have felt deeply the loss of Miss Biddle's help, not only in the class and in mission work, but as our wise and loving counselor. We also heard with regret of Dr. Stone's resignation, but all who can do so attend his weekly lectures, either at Grace Church or Epiphany. We greatly enjoy Prof. Micou's course on the General Epistles, which takes the place of Dr. Stone's lectures. It is not only as instructors that the clergy help us, but as friends who are always glad to advise us in our reading and to help solve any doubts or difficulties. The course in "Business Methods," under Dr. Paddock, is new this year, and is found of great benefit. This is equally true of the lesson in "Physical Culture" given us by Miss Spyker, through the kindness of Miss Irwin. This is but one of numberless kindnesses received from the Managers.

Too much cannot be said in recognition of the privileges accorded our students in connection with the Episcopal Hospital. During the time spent there everything was done to help their progress, and their health and comfort cared for most thoughtfully. They returned enthusiastic about their work, and bringing kind messages of commendation from the authorities.

The health of the family has been excellent. An effort has been made to brighten the family-life by devoting an hour each evening to social intercourse. We were so absorbed in work as to be in danger of forgetting that we "have a fellowship with hearts to keep and cultivate." Appreciating the effort required, the House-Mother wishes here to express her gratitude to each member of the family who so unselfishly laid aside her own pursuits at the appointed hour, and contributed to the growth of a sisterly feeling in the household. The increased happiness and affection which have resulted must be a present reward and will prove a life-long blessing.

During the summer Miss Coles, besides making other improvements, enlarged and beautified our little chapel. We like to keep fresh flowers there and to make our services as earnest and hearty as possible. Our music is much better than last year, and awakens the hope that some day we may have training in this branch.

The practical work of last year has been continued as far as possible in the same parishes, but new work has been added. The students still work in the Hospital Mission, in Bible-classes, infant schools, sewing and industrial schools, mothers' meetings, and in tenement and parish visiting. They have also become sufficiently experienced to relieve cases of suffering from accident or disease by a little timely attention, and to supply the places of absentees by taking charge of classes in cooking or in more intellectual branches. A knowledge of the different charitable agencies, the conditions of admission to hospitals, homes, and nurseries, is indispensable to effective work; to further this purpose, one of the Managers kindly agreed to devote one half day each week to taking the students to visit the different institutions of the city.

We realize the imperfections of our work thus far, but draw a glad courage in these days of "beginnings" from the thought that so many of God's saints are offering for us unceasing prayers. Asking for a continuance of this loving interest, we go on in His strength to better work this coming year.

(Signed) CAROLINE H. SANFORD,
House-Mother.

APPENDIX.

[From the Digest of the Canons of the General Convention.]

TITLE I.

CANON 10.

OF DEACONESSES.

§ I. Unmarried women of devout character and proved fitness may be appointed to the office of Deaconess by any Bishop of this Church.

§ II. The duty of a Deaconess is to assist the Minister in the care of the poor and sick, the religious training of the young and others, and the work of moral reformation.

§ III. No woman shall be appointed to the office of Deaconess until she shall be at least twenty-five years of age, nor until she shall have laid before the Bishop testimonials certifying that she is a communicant in good standing of this Church, and that she possesses such characteristics as, in the judgment of the persons testifying, fit her for at least one of the duties above defined. The testimonial of fitness shall be signed by two Presbyters of this Church, and by twelve lay communicants of the same, six of whom shall be women.

The Bishop shall also satisfy himself that the applicant has had an adequate preparation for her work, both technical and religious, which preparation shall have covered the period of two years.

§ IV. No Deaconess shall accept work in a Diocese without the express authority, in writing, of the Bishop of that Diocese; nor shall she undertake work in a Parish without the like authority from the Rector of the Parish.

§ V. When not connected with a Parish the Deaconess shall be under the direct oversight of the Bishop of the Diocese in which she is canonically resident. A Deaconess may be transferred from one Diocese to another by letter dismissory.

§ VI. A Deaconess may at any time resign her office to the ecclesiastical authority of the diocese in which she is at the time canonically resident; but no Deaconess having once resigned her office, shall be reappointed thereto, unless there be, in the judgment of the Bishop, weighty cause for such reappointment.

§ VII. The Bishop shall have power, for cause, after a hearing granted, to suspend or remove a Deaconess from her office.

§ VIII. No woman shall act as a Deaconess until she has been set apart for that office by an appropriate religious service, to be prescribed by the General Convention, or, in the absence of such prescription, by the Bishop.

I.

THE

During several years past there has been a growing conviction in the minds of earnest Church workers that many devout women would be glad to avail themselves of an opportunity to become qualified, by a systematic course of study and discipline, for more effective work for the Master.

Some of these, it has been thought, would choose to give their lives wholly to this one thing, and become members of an order consecrated to religious service.

Others, it has been thought, would like to become better prepared for such Sunday-school or mission or benevolent work as they could perform in the parishes to which they belong, or in the community in which they live, but without any intention of devoting themselves to it altogether.

Others, still, there may be who, while feeling strongly drawn toward the life of a missionary, would yet, before undertaking it, be glad to test themselves and their fitness for such a calling, by spending some time in preparation for its peculiar duties.

Out of this prevalent feeling grew the action of the General Convention of 1889, authorizing the appointment of unmarried women of devout character and approved fitness, to the office of Deaconess, by any Bishop of this Church.

The second section of the canon defines the duty of a Deaconess to be to assist the minister in the care of the poor and sick, the religious training of the young and others, and the work of moral reformation.

The canon further provides that before appointment the applicant shall have had an adequate preparation for her work, both technical and religious, which preparation shall have covered the period of two years.

For the purpose of providing such preparation as will meet the needs of the three classes of workers referred to, the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania is to be opened on the Feast of the Epiphany, Tuesday, January 6th, 1891. Its headquarters will be at No.

708 Spruce street, Philadelphia, which has been purchased, and is now being furnished for this purpose.

Its general management will be under the direction of the Bishop of the Diocese, who will in this be assisted by the Warden, the Rev. T. S. Rumney, D.D.

The daily order and discipline of the House will be directed by the House Mother, Miss Caroline H. Sanford, who will also have the direction of all studies and duties to be performed by the inmates.

The financial and out-ward business of the House will be cared for by the Board of Managers appointed by the Bishop, of which Miss Coles is president, and to whom letters of inquiry should be addressed, at 2111 Walnut Street, Philadelphia.

The real estate and investments, whenever through the liberality of those who believe that this work will be for the glory of God and the welfare of His creatures there shall be money to invest, will be in charge of a Board of Council, of which Mr. George C. Thomas is treasurer.

Instruction will be given by a faculty of six clergymen and other teachers, to be appointed by the Bishop.

The training given will be intellectual, devotional and practical. It will be open to women from any Diocese, and any who may desire to come to the House simply for instruction in any department of study can do so without becoming residents.

It will be the aim to furnish most favorable facilities for learning in all branches of Church work.

Instruction will be given in the Bible, Prayer-Book, Church history, Theology, social science, hygiene and home sanitation, nursing, methods of teaching, missions, cooking, housekeeping, needlework, and whatever else may be needed to qualify those whom the school may send out to be true helpers of the parochial clergy in their missionary and benevolent work. Opportunity will be given to the students to study the regular work of hospitals and other charities of the city, and to put into practice what they are learning day by day.

One of the results hoped for from bringing students into a home, under one roof, and subject to the direction of a judicious and competent house mother, is that each may learn to work without friction with her fellow-workers, not asserting herself, but realizing the end in view to be one, to be willing to be directed by others as to the part she shall perform.

Candidates for admission must be at least eighteen years of age, in good health, and must furnish satisfactory evidences of character and ability.

The charges for board, room, laundry and necessary text books will be $200 a year. But for candidates for the office of Deaconess there will be no charge, except for books, after the first year. The charge for students who do not live in the House, but who come for special instruction, will be $25 a year, and they will provide their own books.

The House will be open during the year, but those who remain during the summer vacation will be expected to render such service as may be appointed for them.

I cordially commend this institution to the prayers and sympathy of all Church people, clergy and laity, not only in the Diocese of Pennsylvania, but throughout the Church, and I ask for the Board of Managers a generous response to whatever appeal they may make for funds for the prosecution of the work.

O. W. WHITAKER,

Advent, 1890. Bishop of Pennsylvania.

SERVICE FOR THE ADMISSION OF CANDIDATES.

¶ The Warden will present the Probationers standing in order before the Bishop with these words:

Reverend Father in God, I present unto you these persons, Probationers in this House, to be admitted candidates for the office of Deaconess.

¶ The Bishop will then address the Probationers as follows:

Dearly beloved in the Lord, you have signified your desire, with God's help, to labor in ministering to the necessity of the Church by such works of Christian charity as, in the order of God's providence may be entrusted to you, and to this end to undergo such training and preparation in this House as is found by experience to strengthen and direct the talents which Almighty God has committed to your charge. But that we may the better understand your mind, and that you yourself may have the more strongly impressed on your remembrance that which you are about to undertake, you shall answer audibly to these questions which I now put to you:—

I. Will you, by God's help, be diligent in the performance of the several duties which shall be entrusted to you?

Answer. I will strive to be so, by God's help.

II. Will you be obedient to those who are over you in the Lord, cheerfully obeying their godly admonitions; and will you cultivate and preserve sisterly love towards your fellow helpers, and all others; and above all, endeavor to order your life and conversation according to the doctrine of Christ, and to live in His faith and fear?

Answer. I will do so, the Lord being my helper.

III. Do you desire to be admitted a candidate for the office of Deaconess?

Answer. I do.

¶ The Candidates kneeling, one by one, the Bishop shall say to each:

I admit you as a candidate for the office of Deaconess in the Protestant Episcopal Church. In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.—Amen.

Almighty God, Who hath given you this will, give you grace and power to perform the same, through Jesus Christ our Lord.—Amen.

Let us Pray.

Almighty God, Who hast in Thy Holy Gospel given us the example of our blessed Lord and Master, Who went about doing good, and directed us to follow His steps, accept, we beseech Thee, the services of these Thy handmaidens; adorn them with innocency of life, make them humble, modest, and constant in their work; kind and compassionate towards those to whom they minister. Grant to them steadfastness to labor in the Lord, make them loving and amiable towards their fellow-workers, and at last bring them to the rest of Thine eternal Kingdom, through Jesus Christ our Lord.—Amen.

¶ Then a short space shall be spent in silent prayer.

BENEDICTION.

The God of peace, Who brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus Christ, the great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant, make you perfect in every good work to do His will, working in you that which is well pleasing in His sight; through Jesus Christ, to Whom be glory for ever and ever.—Amen.

THE DIOCESE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

¶ All things being in readiness, a Priest shall present to the Bishop sitting in his chair, near to the Holy Table, such as are to be set apart as Deaconesses, saying:

Reverend Father in God, I present unto you these women [or this woman], to be set apart to the office and work of Deaconess.

The Bishop.

Declare, we pray you, unto those who are here gathered what the office and work of a Deaconess are.

¶ Then shall the Priest, addressing the People, say:

Dearly beloved, it is written in the Holy Gospel according to St. Luke, that while the Lord Jesus was going about through cities and villages, preaching and showing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God, there were women not a few which ministered unto him of their substance. Likewise, after he was crucified (as the same Evangelist hath elsewhere told us), the women which came with him from Galilee were emboldened to follow after them that carried his body to the burial, and to prepare spices and ointments. Also that it is agreeable to the mind of Christ that women should do him service by offices of loving kindness, we gather from St. Paul, who saith to the Philippians, Help those women which labored with me in the Gospel. And who also commendeth unto the Romans, one Phebe, a Deaconess of the Church which was at Cenchrea.

Touching the duty of women set apart to this office and ministry, the Canons of the Church affirm that it is to assist the Minister in the care of the poor and sick, in the religious training of the young and others, and in the work of moral reformation. That they may be duly appointed to such service, have these women come hither.

¶ Then shall the Bishop say as followeth :

Beloved, we have good confidence that they who are now presented to be set apart to the office of Deaconess are competent thereto, for it hath been so certified unto us, as the Canons require, by them whose word we trust. Nevertheless, if there be any who can allege aught on account of which it is inexpedient that any of these persons be so set apart, let protest be now made openly and before all men.

¶ If no good reason be alleged by any why the service should not proceed, then shall the Bishop say:

Let Thy merciful kindness, O Lord, be upon us.

Answer. Like as we do put our trust in Thee.

¶ Then, all kneeling down, the Bishop shall say:

Unto Thee lift we up our eyes;

Answer. O Thou that dwellest in the heavens.

Bishop. As the eyes of servants look unto the hand of their masters;

Answer. And as the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistress;

Bishop. Even so our eyes wait upon Thee, O Lord;

Answer. Until Thou have mercy upon us.

Bishop. O Lord, have mercy upon us.

Answer. Have mercy upon us.

Bishop. O Lord, let Thy mercy lighten upon us;

Answer. As our trust is in Thee.

The Bishop.

O Eternal God, Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, Creator of man and woman; who didst anoint with the Spirit, Miriam and Deborah and Anna and Huldah; who didst not disdain that Thine only begotten Son should be born of a woman; who, also, in the tabernacle of the testimony and in the temple, didst ordain women to be keepers of Thy holy gates; Look mercifully, we beseech Thee, upon these Thy servants, about to be set apart to the office and work of Deaconess. Protect them in the way wherein they go, and grant that in singleness of purpose and with a willing mind they may worthily accomplish the task committed to them, to Thy glory and to the praise of Thy Christ, to whom with Thee, O Father, and Thee, O Holy Ghost, be glory and worship for ever and ever. Amen.

¶ Then shall he add:

O magnify the Lord with me,
Answer. And let us exalt His name together.

¶ Then, all standing up, shall be said:

We will praise Thy name, O God, with a song.
Answer. And magnify it with thanksgiving.
Bishop. O give thanks unto the God of heaven.
Answer. For His mercy endureth forever.
Bishop. O give thanks unto the Lord of Lords.
Answer. For His mercy endureth forever.

¶ Then shall be sung or said the Hymn called Magnificat, as followeth:

Magnificat. St. Luke i: 46.

My soul doth magnify the Lord: and my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.

For he hath regarded: the lowliness of his handmaiden.

For behold, from henceforth: all generations shall call me blessed.

For he that is mighty hath magnified me: and holy is his Name.

And his mercy is on them that fear him: throughout all generations.

He hath showed strength with his arm: he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.

He hath put down the mighty from their seat: and hath exalted the humble and meek.

He hath filled the hungry with good things: and the rich he hath sent empty away.

He remembering his mercy hath holpen his servant Israel: as he promised to our forefathers, Abraham and his seed, for ever.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son: and to the Holy Ghost;

As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shal be: world without end. Amen.

¶ Then shall the Bishop ask of them the following questions, to which each candidate shall answer for herself.

The Bishop.

Have you well considered in your own mind your purpose to serve God in this office and ministry?

Answer. I have so considered it.

The Bishop.

Will you endeavor, so long as you shall hold this office, faithfully to fulfil the duties of the same without fickleness or waywardness?

Answer. I will.

The Bishop.

Will you diligently ask of God the grace to enable you to cling to this endeavor, and to make this purpose good?

Answer. I will.

The Bishop.

Will you reverently obey your Bishop, and other chief Ministers, who, according to the Canons of the Church, may have the charge and government over you: following with a glad mind and will their godly admonitions?

Answer. I will endeavor so to do, the Lord being my helper.

¶ Then the Bishop, laying his hands severally upon the head of every one of them kneeling before him, shall say:

Take thou authority to exercise the office of a Deaconess in the Church of God, whereunto thou art now set apart.

Blessed be thou of the Lord, my daughter. The Lord recompense thy work, and a full reward be given thee of the Lord God of Israel, under whose wings thou art come to trust. Amen.

The Bishop.

The Lord be with you.

Answer. And with thy spirit.

Let us pray.

¶ Then, all kneeling down, the Bishop shall say these Prayers following.

For the Deaconesses newly set apart:

O God, who, in thy holy Word, dost commend above all goodly apparel the ornament of a quiet spirit; Adorn, we beseech thee, these thy servants, with the meekness and the gentleness of Christ. Preserve them alike from faithless fears and from unreasonable desires, that with a steadfast heart and settled purpose they may run the way of thy commandments, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

For such as are in Need and Necessity.

O God, Almighty and merciful, who healest those that are broken in heart, and turnest the sadness of the sorrowful to joy; Let thy fatherly goodness be upon all that thou hast made. Especially we beseech thee to remember in pity such as are destitute, homeless, or forgotten of their fellow-men. Bless the congregation of thy poor. Uplift those who are cast down. Mightily befriend innocent sufferers, and sanctify to them the endurance of their wrongs. Cheer with hope all discouraged and unhappy people, and by thy heavenly grace preserve from falling those whose penury tempteth them to sin; though they be troubled on every side, suffer them not to be distressed; though they be perplexed, save them from despair. Grant this, O Lord, for the love of Him who for our sakes became poor, thy Son, our Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

For final Blessedness.

Almighty and eternal God, to whom is never any prayer made without hope of mercy; Bow thine ear, we beseech thee, to our supplications, and in the heavenly city cause us to be united with thy faithful servants, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Rom. XV: 13.

The God of hope fill us with all joy and peace in believing, that we may abound in hope, through our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen.

THE Third Annual Meeting of the Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House, of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, was held on Tuesday, January 16, 1894, at the House, 708 Spruce Street.

The meeting was called to order at 4 P. M. by the President, Rt. Rev. O. W. Whitaker, D.D., who opened the same with prayer, and Ewing L. Miller acted as Secretary.

Reports were presented from the Treasurer of the Corporation, the Treasurer of the Board of Managers, the Board of Managers, and the House-Mother. These reports were referred to a special committee, to be appointed by the Chair, to take the necessary action toward publishing the same.

The Bishop announced the following appointments for the ensuing year, to wit: Warden, the Rev. T. S. Rumney, D.D.; House-Mother, Miss C. H. Sanford, Deaconess; and the following Board of Managers: Miss Coles, Miss McVickar, Miss E. P. Aertsen, Miss F. E. Bennett, Miss E. N. Biddle, Miss Annie Buchanan, Miss Irwin, Miss Elizabeth Morris, Mrs. Effingham Perot, Mrs. Wm. W. Farr, and Miss Anne N. Sanders.

An election was then held for members of the Board of Council, which resulted in the unanimous election of John Ashhurst, Jr., M. D., George C.

Thomas, Charles C. Harrison, R. Francis Wood, and Ewing L. Miller.

George C. Thomas was elected Treasurer, and Ewing L. Miller, Secretary, of the Corporation.

The Bishop announced the committee to audit the reports of the Treasurer as John Ashhurst, Jr., M. D., and R. Francis Wood; and the committee on publication of the annual report, as Miss Coles, Miss McVickar, Deaconess Sanford, and Ewing L. Miller.

On motion, it was ordered that the changes in the By-Laws, suggested by the Board of Managers and approved by the Bishop, in accordance with Article XI, be printed in the Third Annual Report.

The House-Mother having announced the receipt of a copy of the new Standard Prayer Book, the following was unanimously adopted:—

Resolved, That the thanks of this Corporation be, and are hereby, extended to Rev. Dr. W. R. Huntington, of the Committee on Publication of the same, for his kind thoughtfulness in presenting to the House the copy of the new Standard Prayer Book which has just been received.

After appropriate remarks by the Bishop, in which he suggested that the House should be talked about by all of its friends, and the knowledge of its great work spread in every parish in the Diocese, the meeting then, upon motion, adjourned.

Attest: EWING L. MILLER,
Secretary.

ANNUAL REPORT.

The Board of Managers of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania present to their kind patrons and subscribers their Third Annual Report.

There were thirteen students in the House at the beginning of the year, and fourteen non-resident students. Five of our House Students were ordered Deaconesses on the Feast of the Epiphany, January 6th, 1893, at the Church of the Holy Trinity. And one was ordered Deaconess on All Saints' Day at St. Stephen's Church. One of our first graduating class, Deaconess Sanford, is the able and devoted House-Mother of our Institution, and the other changes in the House will be found in detail in her report.

There are now in the House at the close of our third year three resident Deaconesses, one candidate, three probationers, and four students, eleven in all; and there are eighteen non-resident students attending the different lecture and instruction courses.

We are constantly in receipt of most encouraging reports of our graduates from the various fields of duty upon which they have entered, both from Rectors and members of Parishes, who speak in the highest terms of the faithful and efficient character of their work.

We are glad to announce that the names of the Revs. Dr. Perry and Mr. Moses have been added to our Faculty, of all of whom too much cannot be said in grateful recognition of their labors as lecturers and instructors.

There is one vacancy on our Board, owing to the resignation of Miss Louisa G. Davis.

Those who are now in the House are being well trained in Guilds, Kindergartens, Mothers' Meetings, Sunday School, Bible Class, and all other work to make them thoroughly fitted for their future duties.

To all students we offer a full course of training through two years for the small sum of $200.00 per annum. Students are admitted for any length of time, and those who enter the House are not pledged to become Deaconesses or to take the full course. Some of us believed that the response to the opportunity offered to outside students would be very great if the knowledge of our scheme of training was more generally diffused, and with this end in view great efforts have been made during the past year to put our work and its details before every clergyman and every parish in this Diocese.

It is not only our duty in this report to tell of work done, but it is also our desire that the House should be as widely known as possible, and that the clergy and others should recognize the true position of Deaconesses as an integral portion of the Church's Ministry, and that the Deaconess possesses an office and order which the very efficient volunteer worker has not, she being set apart by the Bishop with "the laying on of hands." Deaconess Gilmour, of the Rochester Deaconess Institution, England, in her very interesting report to the Bishop of Rochester, gives the following definition of a Deaconess and her work:—

"The work of the Deaconess in the primitive Church was essentially the work of the true woman, made to minister to man, to be his helpmeet—not his teacher and master, except by a life of obedience and faithful love; we never find them preaching, but we find them working side by side with the Deacon. What he was to the men, the Deaconess was to the women—tending the sick, giving relief to the poor, visiting the prisons, giving instruction to the women and children, and preparing the Catechumens. In the church she was the door-keeper to the woman's side, and kept order on it.

"A Deaconess is, then, a woman who, after a period of preparation and training, is solemnly set apart by the Bishop, in the midst of the Church, by the laying on of hands; she is duly commissioned by him, and is chosen and sent by him to the work to which he shall appoint her. Her life and all that she has is dedicated to God's service. She is the servant of the Church, and works only and absolutely under the parochial clergy, to whom she is licensed, and is one of the Church officials. A Sister is elected by her community; she may or may not receive the Bishop's benediction, but she has no commission from the Bishop, neither does she belong to a Church order. She belongs to her community, and receives the orders of her Mother Superior, to whom she owes unquestioning obedience. A Parish Deaconess may devote her whole life to one parish, a comfort and strength to all—to the Bishop, who watched her training, and admitted her to probation, and who solemnly sent her forth in the strength of the gift given by the laying on of his hands; to her parish priest, who has in years of work learned to look upon her as his right hand, having taught her all his own particular ways and fancies about his parish and his people."

It is hoped that the generosity and liberality of the Church in this diocese and elsewhere will continue, and thus enable the Church Training and Deaconess House to send out many well-trained women to do the Master's work.

The scheme of studies will be found in another part of the report.

Any questions will be answered by addressing "The Admission Committee, 708 Spruce Street."

In behalf of the Board,

ANNE NICHOLAS SANDERS, Secretary.

REPORT OF HOUSE-MOTHER.

An English clergyman of great experience in connection with Deaconess institutions said: "Whatever you do, keep out of print." He felt that publicity was the death-blow of all genuine, Christ-like work. Besides, there is the temptation to give exceptional instances as though they were representative of the work as a whole, or to relate thrilling anecdotes about the poor, which the worker only learned through the confidential relations so established. Even in writing an annual report, bare facts seem so inadequately to represent our busy, engrossing life, that one is strongly tempted to transgress in these respects.

Our year's work comes almost entirely under the two heads, study and visiting. As eleven hours and a half each week are spent in recitations, much preparatory work is required for these and for the Sunday teaching in which every student is engaged. These Sunday scholars have all to be visited frequently, also the members of mothers' meetings and sewing classes, besides many others of the sick and poor. Each student has some week-day classes in guilds or industrial schools, and works in some mothers' meeting besides. During the past year they have been working at Grace Church, Holy Trinity Church and Mission, St. Paul's, St. Stephen's, St. Barnabas', St. Simeon's, the Hospital Mission, St. James' Guild, and the Angora Home. They have had classes in the ordinary English branches, cooking, sewing, dress-making, and have assisted in the kitchen garden. Three went to the Episcopal Hospital last summer for the usual training. We have no difficulty in finding work, as we have now on hand applications from the rectors of six parishes; besides an urgent appeal for helpers in the city wards.

It would seem desirable that those having the direction of the practical work of the students should have some stated time early in each term for meeting together with the House-Mother and reviewing the list of students. In this way they would keep before their minds the requirements and qualifications of the students and the places open to them for work; then, as a directress finds a student sufficiently familiar with one part of the curriculum, she can be promoted to another, so avoiding waste of time. Two years is little enough for our ideal course of training, which includes, besides six months in the hospital and the necessary studies in the literary department, training in domestic cooking and sick diet, sewing, cutting and fitting of garments, teaching in Bible classes, Sunday schools, guilds and industrial schools, the management of mothers' meetings and sewing classes, care of infants, house-to-house and hospital visiting, the business routine of meetings, and the scope and purpose of the different public charities.

The problem we have to solve is how to secure this varied experience for the student without injury to the classes which she assists in teaching. It seems to be conceded by all the Managers that the whole two years should be spent in one Sunday school or Bible class, as a shorter time does not suffice to test her influence over her scholars. One afternoon being reserved for visiting these classes, all the rest of the training in practical work must be condensed into two afternoons weekly.

Last year's plan of study has been doubled; that is, the studies of the junior and senior classes are carried on side by side instead of in successive years. The household routine has been but slightly altered to suit the growing demand. The Mission talks given on Saturday mornings last year are now taken by the students in turn to give them confidence in extempore speaking. This has led to the formation of a Missionary Society, the meetings being conducted according to strict rules. The Chairman and Secretary are appointed from the students in turn, to familiarize them with the necessary routine of auxiliary meetings, etc. Of the thirteen students with whom we began the year, five were ordered Deaconesses on Epiphany by Bishop Whitaker in the Church of the Holy Trinity. This was a memorable day in our history. Although a heavy snow-fall blocked the trains and made local travel difficult, a good representative congregation assembled at the appointed hour. Besides the Bishop, Clergy, Managers, and friends of the School, there were present delegations from the New York Deaconess House, from the Lutheran and Methodist Deaconess Houses of this city, and from the Episcopal Hospital. The New York Deaconess party, including the House-Mother, Mrs. Hoffman, stayed at the Church Training and Deaconess House, and this visit strengthened the warm, sisterly feeling between the two Schools. In the evening all the household, with the visitors, were invited to Miss Coles', where there was a delightful gathering of those most deeply interested in the work, including the Bishop and Faculty.

Of this first graduating class, Deaconess Jones is working in Helena, Montana; Deaconess Stuard is House-Mother of the "Home of the Holy Comforter," New York City; Deaconess Davison is working in the parish of Grace Church, Philadelphia; Deaconess Adwen in St. Luke's parish, Rochester, N. Y., and Deaconess Sanford remains as House-Mother of this Institution.

The Advent Term opened with only five students, and for several weeks our affairs looked less encouraging than ever before.

On All Saints' Day, one of the five, Miss Rodman, was ordered Deaconess in St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia, where she is now working. The same week we received four new resident students. So our brief "trial time" was over, but not without leaving blessed results, and evoking a spirit of loyal devotion, which drew us all more closely together.

In addition to the instructors of last year, we now have the Rev. Dr. Perry, Rev. Mr. Moses, Miss Aertsen, and Miss Elizabeth N. Biddle, whom God has restored, to our great comfort and help. The interest in study continues strong, and it seems as if the standard was higher than ever before among the students, who thoroughly appreciate the time and pains bestowed upon them by all their teachers. This feeling toward the Faculty and Managers does not cease when they leave the School, for rarely is a letter received from graduates which does not contain some expression of affectionate gratitude toward these kind friends, besides the fact that most of them correspond regularly with one or more of the ladies. To the Managers we owe thanks for numberless kindnesses, in the way of drives, tickets for lectures and concerts, gifts of flowers, fruit, and books. Miss Coles, who is always planning something for our welfare, had the kitchen and laundry put in beautiful repair this summer, during the vacation.

During the autumn we had the pleasure of a long visit from an English Deaconess from St. Andrews', Portsmouth; also, shorter visits from Mrs. Briarley and Mrs. Twing, who gave us most interesting accounts of their experiences in foreign mission fields.

Perfect health, kind friends, and, above all, congenial work for the Master, with a sense of growing power in doing it, may well make us what we are—a happy, thankful household.

CAROLINE H. SANFORD,
House-Mother.

TITLE I.

CANON 10.

OF DEACONESSES.

§ I. Unmarried women of devout character and proved fitness may be appointed to the office of Deaconess by any Bishop of this Church.

§ II. The duty of a Deaconess is to assist the Minister in the care of the poor and sick, the religious training of the young and others, and the work of moral reformation.

§ III. No woman shall be appointed to the office of Deaconess until she shall be at least twenty-five years of age, nor until she shall have laid before the Bishop testimonials certifying that she is a communicant in good standing of this Church, and that she possesses such characteristics as, in the judgment of the persons testifying, fit her for at least one of the duties above defined. The testimonial of fitness shall be signed by two Presbyters of this Church, and by twelve lay communicants of the same, six of whom shall be women. The Bishop shall also satisfy himself that the applicant has had an adequate preparation for her work, both technical and religious, which preparation shall have covered the period of two years.

§ IV. No Deaconess shall accept work in a Diocese without the express authority, in writing, of the Bishop of that Diocese; nor shall she undertake work in a Parish without the like authority from the Rector of the Parish.

§ V. When not connected with a Parish the Deaconess shall be under the direct oversight of the Bishop of the Diocese in which she is canonically resident. A Deaconess may be transferred from one Diocese to another by letter dismissory.

§ VI. A Deaconess may at any time resign her office to the ecclesiastical authority of the Diocese in which she is at the time canonically resident; but no Deaconess having once resigned her office, shall be reappointed thereto, unless there be, in the judgment of the Bishop, weighty cause for such reappointment.

§ VII. The Bishop shall have power, for cause, after a hearing granted, to suspend or remove a Deaconess from her office.

§ VIII. No woman shall act as a Deaconess until she has been set apart for that office by an appropriate religious service, to be prescribed by the General Convention, or, in the absence of such prescription, by the Bishop.

THE Fourth Annual Meeting of the Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania was held on Tuesday, January 15, 1895, at the House, 708 Spruce Street.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the Warden, Rev. T. S. Rumney, D. D., who then read a communication from the Bishop, stating that he was confined at home by sickness and therefore unable to be present, and requesting him to preside. Ewing L. Miller acted as Secretary.

The minutes of the Third Annual Meeting were then read and duly approved.

Reports were then read from the Treasurer of the Corporation, which showed an overdraft of $14.54 in the General Fund on January 1st, but it was announced that since that date contributions had been received which had made a credit balance in this fund; and $3129.42 to credit of the Endowment Fund; the Treasurer of the Board of Managers, showing balance of $198.62 in her hands; from the Board of Managers, and from the House-Mother. These reports were referred to a special committee to be appointed by the Chair to take necessary action toward publishing the same.

The Chair then announced the Bishop's appointments for the ensuing year, to wit: Warden, the Rev.

T. S. Rumney, D. D.; House-Mother, Miss C. H. Sanford, Deaconess; and the following Board of Managers: Miss Coles, Miss McVickar, Miss E. P. Aertsen, Miss F. E. Bennett, Miss E. N. Biddle, Miss Annie Buchanan, Miss Elisabeth Morris, Mrs. Effingham Perot, Mrs. Wm. W. Farr, Miss Anne N. Sanders, Mrs. Andrew A. Blair, and Mrs. Edw. R. Fell.

The meeting then proceeded to an election of members of the Board of Council, which resulted in the unanimous choice of John Ashhurst, Jr., M. D., George C. Thomas, Charles C. Harrison, R. Francis Wood, and Ewing L. Miller.

George C. Thomas was elected Treasurer, and Ewing L. Miller, Secretary, of the Corporation.

The Chair then announced the committee to audit the reports of the Treasurer as John Ashhurst, Jr., M. D., and R. Francis Wood; and the committee on publication of the annual report, as Miss Coles, Miss Biddle, Deaconess Sanford, and Ewing L. Miller.

A discussion was then held as to best methods for bringing the institution more thoroughly to the notice of the clergy and their parishes, with a view of securing an increase of students as well as financial aid. The following was proposed by Miss Bennett and unanimously adopted:—

Resolved, That it is the sentiment of this meeting that a Pastoral Letter from the Bishop, to be read in all the parishes of the diocese, as well as circulated among churchmen and churchwomen generally, is the surest way of making known the Church Training and Deaconess House to the Church, thereby increasing the number of students and enlarging its list of contributors; and that the Bishop be respectfully requested, if this meets with his approval, to send forth such a letter at such time as he may deem fit and proper.

The meeting then adjourned, at 5 P. M.

Attest: EWING L. MILLER,
Secretary.

ANNUAL REPORT.

The history of the Deaconess movement, with details of the work in Germany and England, has already been given in previous reports; as also the steps leading to the adoption by the General Convention of the Canon on Deaconesses, the founding of the schools for the training of Deaconesses in New York and Philadelphia, and the work done in the three years of the existence of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Philadelphia.

And yet at the close of the fourth year of our work a general summing up of results may be allowed.

We are not unmindful of the fact that a too great eagerness for results, for visible and tangible success, is narrow and unwise. All the work of God of which we are permitted to take cognizance has been done slowly; through countless ages the foundations of the earth were laid, and the glories and beauties of Nature were brought to perfection in the long "days" of Him with whom a day is as a thousand years; the scheme of Redemption, evolved through the whole period of the world's history, still awaits its final and glorious consummation. And those who would be co-workers with God must learn to labor patiently, perseveringly, and with a living faith that, by and by, perhaps long after they have lived and died, their labor shall be found to have been not in vain, but fruitful in permanent and blessed results.

The Deaconess movement and the work done in Germany and England were followed in this country by the founding of the Bishop Potter Memorial House in Philadelphia, in 1867, by Mr. William Welsh, and in 1889 by the passage of the Canon on Deaconesses. The opening of the St. Faith Home for the training of Deaconesses in New York, and of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, took place soon after. These were the periods of preparation and of organization.

The work of the past four years has with us been chiefly tentative and experimental. None who were engaged in it had any pet theories; all felt that they had much to learn, but all were deeply interested and enthusiastic, eager to learn and to help,—Bishop, Warden, Professors, House-Mother, Managers, and Board of Council,—animated by one spirit, and with a single aim.

In the four years there have been in the House thirty-two students; of these eight have been set apart as Deaconesses; the rest have been trained for various departments of Church work, sixteen of the whole number being qualified to teach adult Bible Classes.

The past year has been a very satisfactory one in the quality of our students; added to those reported last January, nine have been entered for the present term. Thus far all have proved themselves diligent students and workers. Their intellectual drill in Bible study, Prayer Book, Church History, Christian evidences, and Hygiene has been very thorough. Their practical training has been careful and constant, including cooking, sewing, vocal and instrumental music, keeping accounts, nursing, the management of guilds, kindergarten, kitchengarten, Girls' Friendly and other societies, Mothers' Meetings, district visiting, Sunday School and Bible Class teaching. Their womanly tact and tenderness have made them apt pupils in the school of practice; in the hospital they have learned to minister to the souls and bodies of the sick and dying, and in the homes of the poor they have quickly won for themselves the place of the beloved and honored family counselor and friend. Their student life has thus become a premonition and foretaste of the larger and fuller life awaiting them, when, as graduates and Deaconesses, they go out from us to new fields of parish and mission work, some in our crowded cities, some as workers under missionary bishops at home and abroad.

The distinctively religious work of the year has been done in the following churches and missions, viz.: Holy Trinity, St. James', Atonement, St. Andrew's, Trinity, Southwark, St. Barnabas', Episcopal Hospital Mission, the Mission of the Prince of Peace, Mission to the Chinese, the Church Home, and the Episcopal Hospital.

An interesting feature of the year has been the residence for a longer or shorter time at the House of missionaries from the Indian and foreign fields, and of others preparing for the work: these have been Mrs. Brierly and Miss Woodruff, from Africa; Misses Graves and Ives, from Niobrara; Miss Sabine, now in Alaska, and Miss Crummer, now in China. All of these ladies have realized the value of the teaching and training given at the House as a preparation for work in those distant and difficult fields. The visits of the Rev. Mr. Tyng, of Japan; of Rev. Mr. Prevost, of Alaska, and of the Missionary Bishops whose names follow, viz.: Bishops Hare, Garrett, Brewer, Talbot, and Leonard, have awakened deep and earnest interest. Visits from the general officers of the Woman's Auxiliary, Mrs. Twing and Miss Emery, are always welcomed and appreciated, and we rejoice to know that these officers are constantly bringing to the attention of the diocesan branches the work of the New York and Philadelphia Training Schools, and suggesting to applicants for appointment to mission fields, at home or abroad, the value of a preparatory course in one or the other of them.

The demand for Deaconesses far outstrips the supply. Of those trained in this House, two are at work in our city parishes and highly esteemed for their work's sake; two are in New Jersey; one at Rochester, New York; one in New York city; one in Helena, Montana; and one is our efficient and beloved House-Mother. There are eight Deaconesses in all, and we are thankful for them, and for those others who, though not Deaconesses, have here been prepared and hence sent out to do effective work for Christ. But we cannot repress the question, "Why are there no more?"

Why is it that this great city has sent us in the past year but twenty day scholars and not one resident student? Why is it that we are told now and then by some devout communicant of the Church, "I never heard of the Church Training and Deaconess House"?

Whatever may be the answer to these questions, it is the manifest duty of all who are already interested and engaged in this work to do their utmost to make it widely known and to extend its influence and usefulness. The time is past for haphazard and dilettante Church work done at intervals of leisure and without previous training. Throughout the wide world of business, professional, and social life, organization, system, and training are the rule. Woman's work in the Church should be no exception. Never was that work more needed,—among the ever-increasing masses of our foreign population, whose ignorance and vice threaten the very foundations of our free institutions; among the English-speaking and native skilled mechanics, who, if not positively alienated from religion and the Church, are ignorant and careless of both; among the new settlers in our missionary jurisdictions; in our old and organized parishes at home; in the mission fields of Africa, China, and Japan. From all these quarters comes the earnest appeal for women trained and skillful, as well as tender and devoted, to take an intelligent and effective part in the evangelization of the world, and in the building up of the Kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ. God speed the day when women in large numbers, women of position, leisure, and education, shall hear and heed the call!

We cannot close our report without giving expression to the deep regret with which we have been called upon to part with our faithful and beloved co-worker, Miss Agnes Irwin. Some consolation for our loss comes to us from the fact that her appointment to the high and honorable position which she now fills shows that her gifts and attainments are widely appreciated, and also from the hope that in her new sphere she will see and use opportunities for forwarding the work of the Church Training and Deaconess House, so dear to her heart.

We have been fortunate in securing for our department of the work Mrs. Edward R. Fell and Mrs. Andrew A. Blair.

All which is respectfully submitted, on behalf of the Board of Managers.

ELIZABETH N. BIDDLE.

REPORT OF HOUSE-MOTHER.

As Miss Biddle's Report covers the general work of the House, it gives me an opportunity to enter more into matters of detail.

During the year, 1894, we have seen the fulfillment of some of our cherished plans. We have had a large enough number of students to take charge of the housework, without calling upon the Candidates, who have presumably had sufficient training in that branch. This leaves them free to aid the House-Mother in more responsible duties, and also to inaugurate some new work. Through the kindness of Miss Bertha Klapp, the students have a Friday morning sewing class, where they are taught to cut out and make garments, and to darn and mend second-hand clothing. The Candidates form a committee to select such clothing as needs repair, keep a list of all garments, and superintend the monthly sales. These sales are held the last Saturday in each month, and are for the benefit of women known to be worthy of encouragement, enabling them to buy warm, neatly mended clothing at a low price. We heartily thank those kind friends both here and in Connecticut who have kept us well supplied with half-worn clothing, and trust that their number will continue to increase as our enterprise grows. We shall be happy to supply any one with a bag ready addressed to the Church Training and Deaconess House, in which any garments or remnants can be gathered and returned to us when filled. The receipts for the present will be used toward buying material wholesale and extending the work in various directions, the chief object being to help those who wish to help themselves.

The Missionary Society, of which the work just mentioned is a branch, has been a source of enjoyment as well as profit. The students have made marked improvement in their addresses and in executive ability. We have had the pleasure of listening to six Missionary Bishops, and to Church missionaries from the South, West, Alaska, China, Japan, and Africa. Miss Coles gave us an interesting account of the Anglican Conference; Miss Susan G. Chester, of the College Settlement work among North Carolina mountaineers; and Miss Bell, of her experiences in Turkey. The short residence of several missionaries either going or returning from the foreign field was felt to be beneficial by bringing us more closely in touch with their work, and we hope that this will become a general practice with them in future.

Received from mite chest, ...	$102 36
Flower fund, ...	2 97
Monthly sale, ...	17 47
Total, ...	$122 80

Expended for Mrs. Brierley, ...	$ 5 25
Chapel flowers, ...	1 23
Monthly sale, ...	5 69
N. C. Deaconess work, . .	81 85
Total, ...	$94 02

Leaving a balance of $28.78, of which $25 is for the Deaconess House in China.

It should be explained that more than half the amount for North Carolina came from personal friends of the Deaconess, who heard we were working for that object and wished their contributions to go under our name.

We wish here to thank the Rector and ladies of St. Andrew's Church, who have given us the use of a room in their Parish House for the Monthly Sale, and have otherwise shown kindly interest.

There have been few changes in the list of instructors. Rev. Dr. Paddock felt obliged to resign his class in Business Methods, which the Rev. Mr. Fuller has undertaken. The plan of this class has been enlarged in order to teach the students not only to keep accounts and make out bills, checks, etc., but also to keep parochial statistics and to write such formal reports of work as are required from a Deaconess.

Miss Aertsen being unable to continue her class at present, Miss McVickar kindly consented to begin a class in English, to test the ability of the students in reading aloud and in letter and note writing. The popularity of this class is proved by the fact that the students decline to leave it when considered proficient.

Through the generosity of Mrs. Wm. W. Farr, we have had a class in the Tonic-sol-fa system once a week this winter; cooking lessons as usual through the spring term ; and two delightful courses of lectures last winter, one upon Tennyson, by Miss Bennett, of Ogontz, and the other upon " Early Christian Art," by Miss Sylvia Eastman.

Our Library, the gradual growth of four years, now numbers over 500 valuable books of reference and of general literature.

With the approval of the Bishop, there is a temporary arrangement for the early celebration of the Holy Communion in the School Chapel, except upon the first Sunday in each month. The Rev. L. M. Robinson kindly gives his services on this occasion, St. Stephen's Church lends us the chalice and paten, and Miss Sanders has embroidered a beautiful set of altar linen.

Sixteen Deaconesses met at St. Faith's early in October. Several prayers were recommended to be used regularly by the Deaconesses, and it was urged that the day preceding the Annual Ordination in each school be kept as a Quiet Day.

On Epiphany, 1894, Miss Keenan and Miss Collins were ordered Deaconesses in St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia. Miss Keenan was called to be Deaconess in St. John's, Bridgeport; Miss Collins, in Morristown, N. J.

There have been nineteen students resident in the House during the past year, ten of whom looked forward to the Diaconate. This is a larger number than ever before; but, more than all, we thank God for the earnest, devoted spirit and loving kindness so marked in their work and in their home life.

Respectfully submitted,

CAROLINE H. SANFORD,
House-Mother.

TITLE I.

CANON 10.

OF DEACONESSES.

§ I. Unmarried women of devout character and proved fitness may be appointed to the office of Deaconess by any Bishop of this Church.

§ II. The duty of a Deaconess is to assist the Minister in the care of the poor and sick, the religious training of the young and others, and the work of moral reformation.

§ III. No woman shall be appointed to the office of Deaconess until she shall be at least twenty-five years of age, nor until she shall have laid before the Bishop testimonials certifying that she is a communicant in good standing of this Church, and that she possesses such characteristics as, in the judgment of the persons testifying, fit her for at least one of the duties above defined. The testimonials of fitness shall be signed by two Presbyters of this Church, and by twelve lay communicants of the same, six of whom shall be women. The Bishop shall also satisfy himself that the applicant has had an adequate preparation for her work, both technical and religious, which preparation shall have covered the period of two years.

§ IV. No Deaconess shall accept work in a Diocese without the express authority, in writing, of the Bishop of that Diocese; nor shall she undertake work in a Parish without the like authority from the Rector of the Parish.

§ V. When not connected with a Parish the Deaconess shall be under the direct oversight of the Bishop of the Diocese in which she is canonically resident. A Deaconess may be transferred from one Diocese to another by letter dismissory.

§ VI. A Deaconess may at any time resign her office to the ecclesiastical authority of the Diocese in which she is at the time canonically resident; but no Deaconess, having once resigned her office, shall be reappointed thereto, unless there be, in the judgment of the Bishop, weighty cause for such reappointment.

§ VII. The Bishop shall have power, for cause, after a hearing granted, to suspend or remove a Deaconess from her office.

§ VIII. No woman shall act as a Deaconess until she has been set apart for that office by an appropriate religious service, to be prescribed by the General Convention, or, in the absence of such prescription, by the Bishop.

EXTRACTS FROM THE BY-LAWS.

Article V.

The order and discipline of the House will be under the direction of a House-Mother, subject to the direction of the Bishop. She will be annually nominated by the Board of Managers, and if approved, appointed by the Bishop, and shall be a communicant of the Protestant Episcopal Church. She shall receive such salary as shall be determined by the Board of Managers, payable quarterly, on the last day of March, June, September, and December. She shall have the direction and control of the inmates subject to the direction of the Bishop, and of all domestic affairs of the House. She shall admit no one as a resident, except upon presentation of a certificate as provided in Section 5, Article IV. She shall enter in a book provided for her by the Board the name of each person admitted to the House, her age, religious training, confirmation, parochial connection, the date of her admission, and of her recognition as a candidate for the order of Deaconess, and any other facts which she may think important. She shall keep an account of all moneys received by her for expenditure, and shall make a monthly report of the same to the Board.

She shall also make a report monthly concerning all points which shall be necessary to give the Board an intelligent idea of the workings and condition of the household.

Article VIII.

Section 1.—Applicants for admission must be at least eighteen years of age, in good health, of fair scholarship, of good moral and religious character, and shall present satisfactory recommendations.

Sec. 2.—Applicants for admission as special non-resident students may be admitted by the Warden, or President of the Board of Managers.

Sec. 3.—The Students of the Household will comprise three classes:—

1. Those who enter for general training or instruction, and have no desire to become Deaconesses. These will be called Special Students.

2. Those who desire to become Candidates for the office of Deaconess. These will be called Probationers.

3. Those who have been admitted Candidates for the office of Deaconess. These will be called Candidates.

Sec. 4.—The House-Mother, with the approval of the Admission Committee and the Bishop or Warden, may admit a Special Student to become a Probationer, but no one shall be thus admitted who is not a communicant of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and has not obtained the certificate referred to in Article IV, Section 8.

SEC. 5.—A Probationer may be admitted a Candidate for the order of Deaconesses by the Bishop, upon the recommendation of the House-Mother and Warden.

SEC. 6.—Upon the satisfactory completion of the prescribed course of study and training, the Candidate shall receive a testimonial to that effect from the House-Mother and the Faculty, which shall be considered as a guarantee that she has had the "adequate preparation" required by the Canon of Deaconesses.

Special Students, whether resident or non-resident, upon the satisfactory completion of any of the courses of study, shall be entitled to receive a testimonial to that effect from the Bishop and Faculty.

ARTICLE IX.

SECTION 1.—The charges for resident students, including tuition, training, and necessary books, will be $200.00 a year. Students not living in the House will be charged $25.00 per annum, or they will pledge themselves to such definite work as shall be deemed equivalent by the President of the Board of Managers.

Non-residents may be admitted as Special Students to instruction in any single branch at the rate of five dollars annually.

SEC. 2.—All residents will be entitled to remain in the House during the year, but those remaining between May and October will perform then, as at other times, such duties as may be assigned them by the House-Mother or Bishop.

SEC. 3.—In addition to the eight months of study, at least ten weeks' Hospital or other practical service will be required of all candidates, and of all other students who elect to remain in the House during the summer.

ARTICLE X.

The regular School year will begin on the first Wednesday in October, and end the last Tuesday in May, with a recess from the day before Christmas Eve to Epiphany, and one week at Easter.

Each student shall be entitled to leave of absence for one month in each year in addition to the Christmas and Easter recess.

ARTICLE XII.

When Candidates shall have completed the prescribed course of study and training, and shall have been admitted to the Order of Deaconess, they shall be entitled to make the House their headquarters and their home, subject to such regulations as may be hereafter adopted as an addition to these By-Laws by the Board of Managers.

THE Seventh Annual Meeting of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania was held in the Church House on Tuesday, January 18, 1898, at four o'clock P. M., the Bishop of the Diocese in the chair.

After devotional exercises, the minutes of the last annual meeting were read and approved.

The annual reports were then read and took the usual course for audit and publication.

The Bishop then announced his appointments for the ensuing year for the offices of Warden, House Mother, and the Board of Managers.

An election was then held of members of the Board of Council, which resulted in the choice of John Ashhurst, Jr., M. D., George C. Thomas, Charles C. Harrison, R. Francis Wood, and Ewing L. Miller.

George C. Thomas was elected Treasurer, and Ewing L. Miller Secretary of the Corporation.

On motion of the House Mother, seconded by Ewing L. Miller, the following was unanimously agreed to:

"Resolved, That the Board of Council, the Board of Managers, and the House Mother wish to hereby place upon record their appreciation of Miss McVickar's services as Vice-President of the Board of Managers and as Instructor and personal friend of the school, and our sincere regret that she is called upon to leave us."

The Bishop then made a few remarks, in which he gave his hearty commendation to the most interesting report of the Board of Managers that had been read by the retiring Vice-President, Miss McVickar, and urged its very careful perusal by all persons interested in the work of this Institution.

On motion, then adjourned.

Attest:

EWING L. MILLER,
Secretary.

ANNUAL REPORT.

It has been thought that perhaps the most interesting and faithful report that could be given at the close of the first seven years' work of the Church Training and Deaconess House would be gathered from the reports of the Deaconesses and students who have been for a longer or shorter time trained in the House. Ten Deaconesses are working in Philadelphia, ten more in various dioceses in our land. Of students (forty-five in all), one is in China, one in Japan, one in Alaska. As to the estimation of them by their rectors, what higher proof could two of our Deaconesses have received than that when Dr. McConnell left Philadelphia he took with him to Brooklyn Miss Rodman, who for two years had been his Deaconess at St. Stephen's; and Dr. Anstice, who brought from Rochester to St. Matthias' his Deaconess, also one of our graduates. Rev. Mr. Tyler, of the Church of the Advent, who has Miss Camp as his Deaconess, speaks in no measured terms of the work our House is doing for Christ and the Church, and of the present and future efficiency of Miss Camp.

Rev. Mr. Haupt, of St. Paul, Minn., in writing of Miss Borland, Deaconess, telling of her many parochial duties, one of which is that of Choir Mother, in addition to which she is House Mother in the Church Deaconess Home of that diocese, adds how conscientiously and acceptably all her works is performed. To have made this part of our report complete, we should have asked the rectors with whom our other Deaconesses are associated for some account of their work, those from which we quote having come only incidentally to us.

At Grace Church, although the rectorship has been changed, Miss Davison has carried on her faithful work from the time of her setting apart five years ago, gladly retained by Dr. Harris when succeeding Dr. Stone. Miss Stuard has labored with untiring devotion and consecration for five years in a small hospital for incurables in New York city, in which she is in verity the House Mother. No Deaconess of ours is doing more self-sacrificing service than she.

The number of the reports from the Deaconesses themselves is also incomplete but perhaps sufficient, as there seems a great unanimity of feeling as well as uniformity of work throughout, varying only in amount.

The most marked characteristic that we find in these papers is their real joyousness; without exception, may we say, they breathe a spirit not simply of content but delight in their work, and thankfulness for the privilege of doing it.

Mrs. Jones, whose first field of labor was under Bishop Brewer in Montana, is now working in St. John's Parish, Detroit, and reports 3165 visits made between September, 1895, and September, 1897—the length of time she has been in that parish,—and adds: "These are almost all of a distinctive parochial character, being to those sick, in need or bereavement, or for religious teaching and training." Besides these she tells of all the parish charities in which she takes part, of talks on missions, of G. F. S. work, and addresses at the Sunday School Institute, etc., with a zeal peculiarly her own.

Miss Collins, a graduate of the class of '94, has served faithfully since that time in the parish of the Church of the Redeemer, Morristown, New Jersey. Mrs. Chester, '95, went from us directly to Asheville, to do what her hand should find to do among the people in the mountains of North Carolina. Miss Keenan is matron of the Church Home at Angora. Mrs. Cowan, who has been working in St. James' Parish in this city, has been called to Western Texas, to assist Bishop Johnston in his hard field. Mrs. Drant, whose health broke down in St. John's Mission, Cincinnati, since her recovery has taken temporary charge of the Church Home, Orlando, Florida, a more genial climate being necessary for her.

Miss Byllesby gives very interesting accounts of her work where Bishop Whitehead has placed her, in an old parish almost extinct but now reviving, of which he holds the rectorship, and in a new mission which the Bishop has started in a neglected part of Pittsburg. On the day she was set apart the Bishop announced his desire to introduce Deaconess work in the diocese, and said he was willing to lend her to any parish wanting her help for special work. As an outcome of this the rector of another parish has asked for two days of her time out of each week. Miss Gerrish returned to the Bishop of Maine, whose candidate she was, striving with all her might for the people among whom her Bishop has placed her.

Of last year's class Miss Babcock is in Japan, at the far-off station of Aomori, and we have reason to hope great things because of her earnestness and painstaking faithfulness. She had been but a short time in her new field when heard from. Her first letters tell only of her very trying voyage and her efforts to secure a teacher of the language. She writes very sweetly of her connection with the Deaconess House, and among other things says: "I have thanked Dr. Batten over and over again for a little lesson of trust that he taught me; it was worth coming to the Deaconess House for, had that been the only lesson learned there."

Miss Locke, at the Church of the Saviour, West Philadelphia, is working so acceptably that the rector has been heard to say that he wished he had two Deaconesses instead of one—so much is he impressed with the importance and usefulness of the Order.

Miss Hall, at St. Paul's Mission in West Philadelphia, under Dr. Stanger, writes: "The work of a parish Deaconess is, or ought to be, so entirely identified with the work of other people, and is so much a matter of influence that it is very hard to tell just what is your part of the work," but goes on to tell of visits—about 180 a month—and classes taught, etc.

In Boston another member of this class, Miss Carter, is now about establishing a school for the training and instruction of churchworkers. It is intended to have a dispensary in connection with it, under Miss Carter's charge, who is herself a trained nurse. She writes enthusiastically of the enterprise. We turn from this to Miss Mabel Adams, who, under Rev. Henry Phillips, of the Church of the Crucifixion in our own city, is doing a very real missionary work among the most degraded colored population. She already sees a very encouraging improvement in the deportment of the "street children" whom she has gathered about her in the sewing school. And women who formerly belonged to the parish but had drifted away she has hunted up and brought to the Mother's meetings as their door to the Church. Her report is full of hope.

In China, Miss Crummer has charge of the Training School for Bible Readers in Shanghai, of which she writes:

"The wisdom displayed in establishing a church training school for the improvement of our Bible women becomes more and more apparent as time goes on. There are eight women now who are studying; six reside in the house and two are day students. Twice during the last month I have been asked if I had some woman I could send out for Bible work among the people. Unfortunately they have not yet finished their studies, and each woman now under instruction has a place waiting for her in the district from which she came."

The time fails to speak of the many others in detail, but surely there are enough to encourage us as the result of seven years, and these the first and experimental ones. Of the first named on the list of graduates, our House Mother, no mention has been made. Who can estimate her share in the success of one and all of these who have gone out from the Home! "By their fruits ye shall know them."

Submitted, on behalf of the Board of Managers,

E. C. McVICKAR.

REPORT OF HOUSE MOTHER.

The number of students taking the full course this year has averaged twenty, besides forty-five who attend special classes. Of the twenty-one at present taking the full course, seventeen reside in the school. The classes have been carried on as usual, except for temporary absences of instructors on account of illness. We are indebted to Mrs. Potts for having several times filled these vacancies most acceptably.

The following members of the class of '97 have been set apart as Deaconesses during the year: Clara M. Carter, Jane H. Hall, Mabel Adams, and Frances Locke. In the School Chapel, on the afternoon of October 6th, these four Deaconesses were graduated, together with Berta R. Babcock, then on her way as a missionary to Japan. Before this report is printed the sixth member of this class, Kate J. Adams, will have fulfilled the Hospital requirements and received the diploma of the school.

The Missionary Society has met the first Saturday of each month to transact business and learn about the general missionary work of the Church. On the remaining Saturdays, the Mission Study Class has done good work under the leadership of Miss Wurts and Miss Glidden. We have acquired a missionary library of ninety-eight volumes. The need of such a library was expressed in our last report.

The receipts of the Society have been $90.48, and expenditures as follows: City Mission, $30.14; General Missions, $5.68; Library, $46.50—leaving a balance on hand of $8.16.

The Deaconess Retiring Fund is now incorporated and its first report appears elsewhere in these pages.

The good health of the family continues unbroken. The standard of study has been raised. Four students are taking a three years' course instead of two, two of these in order to study Greek.

The Church Training and Deaconess House may now lay some claim to being a "Mother House," as three institutions have had their house mothers trained here, and have adopted our system with necessary modifications. These daughter houses are the Training-school in Shanghai, China, in charge of Miss Crummer; the Deaconess House, St. Paul, Minn., in charge of Deaconess Borland; and the Training-school in Boston, Mass., in charge of Deaconess Carter. All our Deaconesses are kept steadily employed, and we have more applications for trained workers than there are candidates in next year's class.

After seven years of prosperity we must be prepared for trials. The growth of the school makes evident the weak places in its system, which we endeavor to recognize at once and remedy; and the growth of the Deaconess Order gives more food for criticism. Two things seem necessary if our future is "to copy fair our past": First, the confidence that God has called forth this movement to do a special work in these last days; second, a clear idea as to our share in it.

There are things for which we can not be responsible. We can not "make over" a middle-aged woman in education and character. We can only develop what already exists. The school gives two years' time in which the woman can test the sincerity of her consecration, and prove that she has gifts useful to the Church. The authorities judge of her probable usefulness, and give every facility for her improvement. There are qualifications that may outweigh some defect in education or character. Recognizing these in a candidate the proper authority may decide favorably, though her handwriting is poor, or her temper quick. What then? Does the Church require more of the Deaconesses than of the clergy? Yet they have seven years' training where we have two. There certainly is a tendency to hold us responsible for all defects of previous years, and this tendency will strengthen if we meekly accept the responsibility. What may justly be expected of us? Should we undertake more than this? That the graduates shall be trained Christian women, self-surrendered to the control of God's spirit; and that where there is some marked deficiency, there shall be marked ability in some special line of work to counterbalance. Even within these limits we shall meet enough discouragement to test our faith.

We often have students who would like to become Deaconesses, but whose health, defective education, or extreme youth make further probation desirable. Thus far, we have made a final decision before they left the school. There is an English school where such people are sent out as lay workers for two years, more or less, until their vocation is proved. Is not some arrangement of this kind worth considering?

There is one more suggestion, originating with several of the alumnæ, upon which we would like the opinion of those most interested in the Deaconess House. It is that alumnæ, students, and friends should work toward a partial endowment, say $50,000, the income from which, with the students' fees, should be made to cover all current expenses. Then all subscriptions and gifts could go toward aggressive work or designated objects, such as scholarships, the support of Deaconesses among the needy, or, as our growth demands it, the erection of new buildings. It seems to me that it would be as good for institutions as for individuals to have a definite income and learn to make the most of it. Of course, even if this idea has your approval, probably years will pass before its accomplishment, and those who have supported the school so generously may not live to see this result. But just for this reason, should we not begin this provision now?

Never again can we look to find such ardent love for the school as glows in the hearts of its founders.

On the other hand, the opportunity to help the school will strengthen the affection of our graduates. One-sided obligations are not always grateful memories, and exercise is good for the strongest love. To quote one student, "If we had a chance to do something, we would feel as if we still belonged here."

Respectfully submitted,

CAROLINE H. SANFORD,
House Mother.

[From the Digest of the Canons of the General Convention.]

TITLE I, CANON 10,

OF DEACONESSES.

§ I. Unmarried women of devout character and proved fitness may be appointed to the office of Deaconess by any Bishop of this Church.

§ II. The duty of a Deaconess is to assist the Minister in the care of the poor and sick, the religious training of the young and others, and the work of moral reformation.

§ III. No woman shall be appointed to the office of Deaconess until she shall be at least twenty-five years of age, nor until she shall have laid before the Bishop testimonials certifying that she is a communicant in good standing of this Church, and that she possesses such characteristics as, in the judgment of the persons testifying, fit her for at least one of the duties above defined. The testimonials of fitness shall be signed by two Presbyters of this Church, and by twelve lay communicants of the same, six of whom shall be women. The Bishop shall also satisfy himself that the applicant has had an adequate preparation for her work, both technical and religious, which preparation shall have covered the period of two years.

§ IV. No Deaconess shall accept work in a Diocese without the express authority, in writing, of the Bishop of that Diocese; nor shall she undertake work in a parish without the like authority from the Rector of the Parish.

APPENDIX.

[From the Digest of the Canons of the General Convention.]

TITLE I, CANON 10,

OF DEACONESSES.

§ I. Unmarried women of devout character and proved fitness may be appointed to the office of deaconess by any bishop of this Church.

§ II. The duty of a deaconess is to assist the minister in the care of the poor and sick, the religious training of the young and others, and the work of moral reformation.

§ III. No woman shall be appointed to the office of deaconess until she shall be at least twenty-five years of age, nor until she shall have laid before the Bishop testimonials certifying that she is a communicant in good standing of this Church, and that she possesses such characteristics as, in the judgment of the persons testifying, fit her for at least one of the duties above defined. The testimonials of fitness shall be signed by two presbyters of this Church, and by twelve lay communicants of the same, six of whom shall be women. The Bishop shall also satisfy himself that the applicant has had an adequate preparation for her work, both technical and religious, which preparation shall have covered the period of two years.

§ IV. No Deaconess shall accept work in a diocese without the express authority, in writing, of the bishop of that diocese; nor shall she undertake work in a parish without the like authority from the rector of the parish.

§ V. When not connected with a parish, the deaconess shall be under the direct oversight of the bishop of the diocese in which she is canonically resident. A deaconess may be transferred from one diocese to another by letter dismissory.

§ VI. A deaconess may at any time resign her office to the ecclesiastic authority of the diocese in which she is at the time canonically resident; but no deaconess, having once resigned her office, shall be reappointed thereto, unless there be, in the judgment of the Bishop, weighty cause for such reappointment.

§ VII. The Bishop shall have power, for cause, after a hearing granted, to suspend or remove a deaconess from her office.

§ VIII. No woman shall act as a deaconess until she has been set apart for that office by an appropriate religious service, to be prescribed by the General Convention, or, in the absence of such prescription, by the Bishop.

EXTRACTS FROM THE BY-LAWS.

Article V.

The order and discipline of the House shall be under the direction of a House Mother, subject to the direction of the Bishop. She shall be annually nominated by the Board of Managers, and if approved, appointed by the Bishop, and shall be a communicant of the Protestant Episcopal Church. She shall receive such salary as shall be determined by the Board of Managers, payable quarterly, on the last day of March, June, September, and December. She shall have the direction and control of the students and all other members of the household (subject to the direction of the Bishop), and of all domestic affairs of the House. She shall admit no one as a resident, except upon presentation of a certificate as provided in Article IV, Section 5. She shall enter in a book provided for her by the Board of Managers the name of each person admitted to the House, her age, religious training, confirmation, parochial connection, the date of her admission, and of her recognition as a candidate for the order of deaconess, and any other facts which account of all moneys received by her for expenditure, and shall make a monthly report of the same to the Board of Managers. She shall also make a report monthly concerning all points which may be necessary to give the Board of Managers an intelligent idea of the workings and condition of the household.

Article VIII.

Section 1.—Applicants for admission must be at least eighteen years of age, in good health, of fair scholarship,* of good moral and religious character, and shall present satisfactory recommendations.

Sec. 2.—Applicants for admission as special non-resident students may be admitted by the Warden, House Mother, or President of the Board of Managers.

Sec. 3.—The Students of the House shall comprise four classes:

1. Those who have been received as visitors.

2. Those who enter for general training or instruction, and have no desire to become Deaconesses. These will be called Special Students.

3. Those who desire to become Candidates for the office of Deaconess. These will be called Probationers.

4. Those who have been admitted Candidates for the office of Deaconess. These will be called Candidates.

*See questions for Entrance Examination, page 25.

SEC. 4.—A Probationer may be admitted a Candidate for the office of Deaconess by the Bishop, upon the recommendation of the Warden, House Mother, and Admission Committee.

SEC. 5.—Upon the satisfactory completion of the prescribed course of study and training, the Candidate shall receive a testimonial to that effect from the Warden, House Mother, and the Faculty, which shall be considered as a guarantee that she has had the "adequate preparation" required by the Canon of Deaconesses.

A Special Student, whether resident or non-resident, upon the satisfactory completion of any course, may receive a testimonial from her Instructor, and on the completion of the whole course she may receive a testimonial from the Bishop, Warden, and House Mother.

ARTICLE IX.

SECTION 1.—The charges for resident students, including tuition, training, and necessary books, shall be $200.00 a year, payable half yearly in advance.

Non-residents may be admitted as Special Students to instruction in any single branch without charge.

SEC. 2.—All residents shall be entitled to remain in the House during the year, but those remaining between May and October shall perform then, as at other times, such duties as may be assigned them by the House Mother or Bishop.

SEC. 3.—In addition to the eight months of study, at least ten weeks' hospital or other practical service shall be required of all candidates, and of all other students who elect to remain in the House during the summer.

ARTICLE X.

The regular School year shall begin on the first Wednesday in October, and end the last Tuesday in May, with a recess of eight days from Christmas Eve, and of one week at Easter.

ARTICLE XI.

When candidates shall have completed the prescribed course of study and training and shall have been admitted to the Order of Deaconess, they may be entitled to make the House their headquarters and their home, subject to such regulations as may be hereafter adopted as an addition to these By-Laws by the Board of Managers.

THE Tenth Annual Meeting of the Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House was held in the Church House on Wednesday, January 9, 1901, at 3.30 o'clock; the Bishop in the chair and Ewing L. Miller acted as Secretary.

After devotional exercises conducted by the Bishop, the minutes of the Ninth Annual Meeting were read and duly approved. The reports of the Board of Managers, including that of the Treasurer, the House Mother, and the Treasurer of the Corporation, were read and referred to a Committee on Publication, consisting of the Warden, Mrs. Schulte, Mrs. Perot, and the Secretary.

Communication from the Treasurer of the Corporation was received, stating that since his report of January 1st, he has received $238.50 for account of the 710 Spruce Street fund, reducing the balance due on that account to $1639.19 at this date. The House Mother announced that since closing her report she had received assurance that the much-needed post-graduate course should be made possible by a gift of the necessary buildings and also endowment of this department of the work.

The Bishop announced his re-appointment of the present Warden, House Mother, and Board of Managers for the ensuing year.

An election for members of the Board of Council resulted in the unanimous choice of George C. Thomas, Charles C. Harrison, R. Francis Wood, Ewing L. Miller, and Wharton Sinkler, M.D.

George C. Thomas was elected Treasurer and Ewing L. Miller Secretary of the Corporation.

Upon motion the Bishop appointed the Rev. W. P. Lewis, D.D., Mrs. Richard N. Thomas, and Ewing L. Miller a Committee to draft a minute relative to the death of John Ashhurst, Jr., M.D., who reported as follows:

> Dr. John Ashhurst, Jr., has been a member of the Board of Council of this Corporation from the foundation of the Deaconess House until his death. Beside his fidelity and judgment in performing the duties of this position, we desire to record our sense of the valuable services which he was constantly rendering to the students as a physician, and which in at least one instance were the means of saving the promise of a highly useful life from being wrecked. We desire, therefore, in these few words to record our sense of his services, both as a counsellor and physician, and to express the great loss that we have sustained by his death.

On motion, then adjourned.

Attest:

EWING L. MILLER,

Secretary.

ANNUAL REPORT.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

We stand upon the threshold of a second decade in the history of our house, and before we enter it we desire to call to mind a few events in the years that are gone with the blessings they have brought.

On the Feast of the Epiphany, 1891, with a service of Benediction, the house at 708 Spruce Street was formally opened as a Church Training and Deaconess House. A charter was obtained in March, 1891, and the Corporation legally organized in its present form. We note but few changes among the officers of the Board of Council and the Board of Managers. The President, The Bishop of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, the Treasurer of the Board of Council, the President and Treasurer of the Board of Managers, and the House Mother have been with us from the beginning, and five of the original Board of Managers are still in office.

Three members of the Faculty and two of the Instructors have given efficient service for ten years.

For different reasons one and another Manager has felt obliged to withdraw from our numbers, and this year we accepted, with great regret, the resignation of Miss Kelly.

A faithful friend of the House and a member of the first Board of Council has lately been called to his rest; we desire to give grateful testimony to the unfailing kindness and helpfulness of Dr. John Ashhurst.

At the opening of the House in 1891 there were four students in residence; before the year ended this number increased to twelve, five of whom were set apart as Deaconesses at their graduation in 1893. During the past ten years, forty-two students have been graduated in full course, thirty are now Deaconesses, twenty-nine in our own country and one in Japan. The remaining twelve were Special Students, and are Missionaries both at home and abroad. Since 1896, when the Board of Missions decided that all women receiving appointment under their Board should be required to spend at least six months in a Church Training School,—that their character and stability of purpose might be fully tested before they entered upon their chosen work,—thirteen of these Special Students have been received. Without exception they have decided to remain for two years, preferring to finish their studies here rather than in places with fewer advantages. Six are now completing the second year's instruction, and of the seven graduates, six are in the Foreign Field, as follows: one in Santiago, three in Japan, and two in China. One is in her own diocese of Los Angeles.

In the system of training experience has taught us to develop our plans, but the foundation principles have remained the same. The religious, intellectual, and practical studies of the students have been equally considered and the standards raised when deemed advisable. The religious privileges were increased when the Chapel was enlarged and beautified in 1893, and when in 1895, through the kindness of the Reverend Mr. Robinson, the early Celebration of the Holy Communion was permanently added to the list of services. Since 1899, the beginning of the school year has been blessed with the devotions of a Quiet Day.

The scheme of studies has been enlarged and developed, as a comparison of reports will show, and the students passing satisfactory examinations in our present curriculum should be qualified to teach those who may hereafter be entrusted to their care. As forming part of both instruction and practical work the Mission Study Class holds an important place. Begun in 1893 as a Missionary Society, formed for the purpose of familiarizing the students with the ordinary business routine of Woman's Auxiliary Meetings, it now makes the study of Church Missions part of the regular course. Addresses are usually made by the students to give them practice in extemporaneous speaking. They thus gain not only knowledge of their subject, but the power to impart it in a clear and comprehensive manner.

In the purely practical work there are possibly more changes than in the other departments, and we are not yet perfectly sure that we have embraced all the necessary opportunities for advancing the future usefulness of our Candidates. Ample time is given for the cultivation of the useful arts. Qualified teachers instruct in cooking and sewing; under the guidance of a visiting nurse pupils are taught to recognize cases requiring a physician's care and to render aid in emergencies. The efficiency of this last branch is increased by the requirement that all students shall spend at least ten weeks in a hospital during the summer months. The lighter housework in the Mother House is done by the students to teach them that "the trivial round, the common task," furnish but another opportunity for perfect service. For practice in distinctly Church work, the students are made welcome in the large city parishes which are doing well-organized mission work. The Junior, or first year, students are allowed no responsibility; they act entirely under direction, studying and comparing methods. The Seniors instruct Sunday-school classes of their own, and this year we have increased their responsibilities by giving to those capable of managing them, charge of Woman's Auxiliary and Kitchen Garden work. The results thus far attained are very satisfactory, and we intend, as opportunity offers, to do more in this direction, for the bearing and experience of responsibility increase knowledge and self-confidence.

We would gladly linger in pleasant retrospection over many other points of interest relative to our practical work, but we must pass on to our future requirements.

Very early in the history of our House was felt the importance of forming permanent funds for maintaining and increasing its usefulness. At the present time there are four funds established which would seem to meet our special needs. The Endowment Fund, the Mary Coles Fund for increasing the efficiency of the work, the Deaconess Retiring Fund, and the E. C. McVickar Fund. The income of this latter fund is used to supply books necessary to the students in their work. We ask our friends to remember the wisdom of putting this House on a solid financial basis and to contribute to these Funds during their life and by bequest.

We began our tenth year with a very great need confronting us; the accommodation of our House at 708 Spruce Street had become entirely inadequate to the demands made upon it. We were obliged to either enlarge our borders or to refuse many of the applicants desiring to enter our household. In June, 1900, with the advice and consent of the Bishop of the Diocese and the Board of Council, the Managers decided to purchase the adjoining house at 710 Spruce Street. Connections between these two houses were made during the summer and we entered into possession in September. Of the purchase price of $19,500, $17,622.31 have been most generously donated, and we sincerely thank the many friends of the Institution who have helped to make this addition a possibility. We trust we may continue to receive gifts toward this object, as many repairs are needed in the new house which we will not make until entirely free from debt.

We feel more and more the need of wisdom to guide us in the decisions we are constantly called upon to make, as to who shall or shall not be accepted as Candidates for the Diaconate or the course of training for Church workers. It would simplify matters if it were possible to make any entrance examination a real test of fitness for the work. The standard of requirement can not be fully understood or there would be less difficulty than there is at present in accepting or refusing applicants. Many women are capable of doing good work in a limited sphere, but much will be expected of those who are graduated from the Church Training and Deaconess House. The demand of the Church for Deaconesses and trained women for Church work is increasing with alarming rapidity, alarming only because we can not meet it. Without doubt, in the future many women will offer their lives to the Church, and because of this we believe it to be our duty to urge our Bishops and others in authority to use their ripest judgment in making choice of fit persons to enter this course.

The matter may be viewed from one standpoint only: the fitness of the person for the work to be done. Personal sympathy for the individual has no place here; a woman may be devout and earnestly desirous of becoming a Deaconess and yet be totally unfit for the office, and our love and kindness will be truly shown if we prevent such a one from making a serious mistake.

The work of a Deaconess is missionary work, whether the field be in a parish or among the heathen, at home or abroad. The details of the work may vary, but the principles are always the same: "To instruct the ignorant, to strengthen and increase the faithful, to visit and relieve the sick, to turn and soften the wicked, to rouse the careless, to recover the fallen, to help to restore the penitent, and to labor to bring all to be of one heart and mind within the fold of our Holy Church." Not only must a woman desiring to undertake this blessed work for the Master be spiritually minded and willing to sacrifice self for the cause, but she must be mentally, as well as practically and physically, fitted for it. Before entering the House she should be well informed of "all the things that a Christian ought to know and believe to his soul's health." She will be required to teach and she must with no uncertain sound "give a reason for the faith that is in her." It is not too much to expect of our candidates that they should have led useful and practical lives before they come to us. A religious life is the most severely practical of any, and a woman who has led an indefinite, untrained life for twenty or more years will not in two years' time overcome all indolent habits and be a model for others to copy. To be a successful missionary, a woman must be well educated, cultivated, and refined. She will represent the Church to the ignorant and uncultivated; the best of the Church's teachers should go to them, for no persons are more justly critical than those whom we are apt to class as ignorant. The two years spent at the Church Training and Deaconess House supplement, do not take the place of, early education and Church training.

The advantages of the House are great, situated as it is in a large city with vast opportunities for doing home missionary work, with a corps of able instructors in "the paths that lead to knowledge"; and, last but not least, the discipline of obedience, punctuality, and the learning to live with others, not of one's kindred. But, great as are these advantages, they can not take the place of the early training that makes such an indelible impression upon each individual life.

We have much to be thankful for in the results already attained by our students; good accounts come to us from all lands testifying appreciation of the faithful and efficient service rendered by those who have gone from us. That this number may greatly increase and all our work tend to the Glory of God is our most earnest prayer.

Respectfully submitted on behalf of the Board of Managers,

JULIA L. SCHULTE.

REPORT OF HOUSE MOTHER.

THE ECUMENICAL CONFERENCE.

One of the great events of the past year was the Ecumenical Conference in New York. Recitations were suspended and the whole school enabled to attend the meetings.

QUIET DAY.

October 2, 1900, we began the autumn term with the usual Quiet Day; it was conducted by the Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins, and was most helpful to all.

GRADUATION AND ADMISSION OF DEACONESSES.

October 3d six students were graduated, of whom three were made deaconesses—viz., Misses Kempton and Ridgely, in Holy Trinity, Phila., and Miss Grebe, in her own diocese of Los Angeles, Cal. Of the remaining graduates, one is a missionary in Santiago, Cuba; one sails this month for China; and one has just returned from a post-graduate course in the Women's University Settlement, London.

PRESENT NUMBER OF STUDENTS.

We have now twenty-one students taking the course, of whom eight are preparing for foreign missions, and five for domestic. With one exception, all these are taking two years of training, instead of the minimum six months required by the Board of Missions. There is the usual number of nonresidents following special studies, and on the whole these do more thorough work than formerly.

OUR MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The members have pursued the required course of study; have continued their work as a branch of the Woman's Auxiliary; and have been favored with addresses from Bishop Partridge, Rev. Messrs. Ingle and Prevost, Mr. Eugene Stock, Deaconess Elliott, Miss Irene Mann, and others. They have raised for missions $140.22, and have a balance of $15.48.

THE LIBRARY.

This now numbers 1230 volumes, over 200 of which belong to the missionary department. We are specially indebted to our Warden for many additions to the reference library, and to our Chaplain for a large proportion of our books on missionary subjects.

CHANGES.

In September we took possession of the adjoining house, "710," and at the same time had the pleasure of welcoming Deaconess Colesberry as Assistant House Mother. The rooms in the new building not needed for students are taken by deaconesses whose work lies in the neighborhood.

DR. ASHHURST.

The one sorrow in our prosperous year has been the death of this friend. To his interest we are indebted for Dr. Egbert's invaluable services, and from the first he was our wise adviser in all matters of health, in several cases preventing serious mistakes.

HISTORY OF THE SCHOOL.

In beginning this work ten years ago we had to devise our own methods, as it was unlike any other at that time existing in the American Church. Owing to our Faculty, the course of study has been a strong point from the first. In household discipline, while preserving general order, we aim to develop the power of conscientious self-government.

The practical training has been the hardest problem. There are so many things it is desirable for a deaconess to know that it is difficult to decide on the proportionate value of each. We have come to realize that during the two years of hard study the students have not time nor strength for outside responsibilities; so we provide a good course in sewing, cooking, and sick-nursing, but have them learn about the various parochial agencies by assisting others.

The method is satisfactory for women who have made a good record before coming here, but, in itself, is no test of how they will succeed when thrown on their own resources. The English and German deaconess houses, as well as all training schools for nurses and teachers, provide opportunity for their graduates to prove their powers before going away among strangers.

SCHOOL FOR PRACTICE.

What we need next is a graduates' school for practice. Let those who have completed the two years' course of study successfully continue to work here, having their home and a small allowance to cover necessary expenses, such as is provided in hospitals. There are plenty of poor parishes and districts in the city where the services of such a body of women would be valuable. Parishes too poor to support a deaconess might pay something into the treasury in return for services rendered, but we would still have to depend upon an endowment.

As it is desirable also to provide rudimentary training in institutional work, such a house, together with "708" and "710," would furnish experience for several assistants in the management of a house, and purchasing supplies.

NEED OF INSTITUTIONAL TRAINING.

During this year we have had applications for nine deaconesses, specially trained to this kind of work, to take charge of large institutions, six of which were orphanages. We had to answer that "we do not give such training." This ought not so to be. The care of orphan girls was the special duty of the early deaconesses, and should be ours. The Romanists realize its importance, and give their best talent to it. We have the women ready, if we can furnish the training. This brings me to my last suggestion:

A HOME FOR MISSIONARIES' CHILDREN.

Not a school, for there are plenty of good schools, but a home for these little ones when sent away from their parents to this country to be educated. Let them attend as day scholars in any city school the parents may select, but let us care for them outside of school hours. Of course, their parents would pay us the cost of their board, but they would be relieved of some expense and much anxiety. I am told that the lowest rate at present, in Church boarding-schools, is $300 for each child, which provides for no extras or vacation expenses. There is not time to dwell on the pleasant results to us from this scheme, except to say that it would provide some practice in the care of children.

Such limited experience both in this line and in the house management could be supplemented by work as assistants in the larger diocesan institutions, the graduate having some practical knowledge of her subject to begin with.

Drawing inspiration from our blessed past, we turn with confident faith to meet these growing responsibilities, and may God give us to see this vision of increased usefulness become a reality before another ten years are past.

Respectfully submitted,

CAROLINE H. SANFORD, House Mother.

APPENDIX.

[From the Digest of the Canons of the General Convention.]

TITLE I, CANON 10,

OF DEACONESSES.

§ I. Unmarried women of devout character and proved fitness may be appointed to the office of deaconess by any bishop of this Church.

§ II. The duty of a deaconess is to assist the minister in the care of the poor and sick, the religious training of the young and others, and the work of moral reformation.

§ III. No woman shall be appointed to the office of deaconess until she shall be at least twenty-five years of age, nor until she shall have laid before the Bishop testimonials certifying that she is a communicant in good standing of this Church, and that she possesses such characteristics as, in the judgment of the persons testifying, fit her for at least one of the duties above defined. The testimonials of fitness shall be signed by two presbyters of this Church, and by twelve lay communicants of the same, six of whom shall be women. The Bishop shall also satisfy himself that the applicant has had an adequate preparation for her work, both technical and religious, which preparation shall have covered the period of two years.

§ IV. No Deaconess shall accept work in a diocese without the express authority, in writing, of the bishop of that diocese; nor shall she undertake work in a parish without the like authority from the rector of the parish.

§ V. When not connected with a parish, the deaconess shall be under the direct oversight of the bishop of the diocese in which she is canonically resident. A deaconess may be transferred from one diocese to another by letter dismissory.

§ VI. A deaconess may at any time resign her office to the ecclesiastic authority of the diocese in which she is at the time canonically resident; but no deaconess, having once resigned her office, shall be reappointed thereto, unless there be, in the judgment of the Bishop, weighty cause for such reappointment.

§ VII. The Bishop shall have power, for cause, after a hearing granted, to suspend or remove a deaconess from her office.

§ VIII. No woman shall act as a deaconess until she has been set apart for that office by an appropriate religious service, to be prescribed by the General Convention, or, in the absence of such prescription, by the Bishop.

THE Eleventh Annual Meeting of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania was held in the Woman's Auxiliary Room of the Church House, on Wednesday, January 8, 1902, at 4 P. M.

In the absence of the Bishop, the Warden, the Rev. Jas. DeWolf Perry, D.D., occupied the chair and conducted the devotional exercises.

The Minutes of the Tenth Annual Meeting were read and approved. The following communication was read from the Bishop:

4027 WALNUT STREET.

Philadelphia, January 6, 1902.

MY DEAR MR. MILLER:

I greatly regret that I cannot be present at the Annual Meeting of the Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House.

I congratulate the friends of the Deaconess House upon the prosperous year that has passed, and the encouraging outlook for the future; and I rejoice in the prospect of usefulness that is evidently opening before us in the work of St. Martha's House. I hoped to give at this meeting a report of the final arrangements regarding the finances and management of this new department of our work, but this has been prevented by my illness. I can only say now that the property is held by me in trust, and that I feel no anxiety as to the future support of the Institution. It has begun its work in the right spirit and manner, and its administration thus far gives reason to anticipate that it will not only be of great benefit to all who come within the range of its influence, but that our post graduates who share its burdens and responsibilities, will find this experience a most valuable preparation for their life work.

Will you kindly announce to the Meeting that I have reappointed the Rev. J. DeW. Perry, D.D., Warden; Miss Caroline H. Sanford, House Mother; and the present Board of Managers for the ensuing year; and have also appointed Miss Jean W. Colesbury, Deaconess, to be in charge of St. Martha's House.

I am thankful to be able to tell you that I am steadily though slowly recovering health and strength. For several days past I have sat up two or three hours twice a day.

Will you give my love and blessing to all those engaged in the Deaconess work, which is very near my heart.

Affectionately yours,

O. W. WHITAKER,

The Reports of the Board of Managers, including that of the Treasurer, the House Mother, and the Treasurer of the Corporation, were read and referred to Committee on Publication, consisting of Miss Coles, Deaconess Sanford, the Warden and the Secretary.

An election for members of the Board of Council resulted in the choice of George C. Thomas, Charles C. Harrison, R. Francis Wood, Ewing L. Miller and Wharton Sinkler, M.D.

George C. Thomas was elected Treasurer and Ewing L. Miller Secretary of the Corporation.

The Chairman announced that a complete index to the end of the year 1901 of all missionary articles published in the "Spirit of Missions" had been prepared by Deaconess Sanford for presentation by the Deaconess House to the Board of Managers of the Foreign and Domestic Missionary Society which would be of great value for reference by students and all others interested in Missions, and that the publishers, recognizing the importance of the work, had agreed to continue the index in future

On motion, then adjourned.

Attest :

EWING L. MILLER,

Secretary.

ANNUAL REPORT.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

It is with very deep feelings of gratitude to God, that we begin this, our Eleventh Annual Report of the "Church Training and Deaconess House." The never-failing generosity of those interested in the work, has made it possible for us to complete the entire payment on 710 Spruce Street, and we stand to-day, free from all debt, and owning two large houses, with beautiful open lots, of very real value, and in a situation which always seems peculiarly well fitted for the carrying on of our work—Laus Deo.

It seems almost beyond belief, that our work has grown and developed as it has. In its earlier conception, the idea was no more, than to give to the rising generation of Churchwomen, the opportunity to learn from those of long experience, how better to do the Church's work. But each year, this idea has deepened and widened and broadened, and each year, new and better opportunities are given to the students, and to-day we claim that our School offers an almost ideal course of training, to workers in parishes, and in the Domestic and Foreign Missionary field. As we read over the records of the years that have gone, we cannot fail most gratefully to recognize growth in every direction. "The Scheme of Studies" set forth each year, is scarcely more than an outline of what is done, and at first sight, may not give a just estimate of the amount of intellectual work required of the students. But women, who have been prominent members of the Board, and closely connected with the House, and whose lives have been given to teaching, realize the amount of study it entails, and the necessity that each student should have the very best opportunities for accomplishing her task.

For this reason, we desire during the coming summer, when the students are absent in the hospitals, to make certain changes in our new house, which will give us greater facilities for the better carrying on of our work, and we realize that to do this wisely and well, will cost perhaps more money than we may seem justified in asking, at a time when so many appeals are necessarily being made for things, which may claim to be of greater importance. But our duty seems clear to lay the matter before the Church, and to appeal to her members, to help us to put our Philadelphia School in the very best shape possible.

We want each student to have a good well-ventilated room to herself, and it is equally important that the school rooms shall be so enlarged as to give better accommodation to the classes, and the house is beautifully adapted to make these changes. The present heating arrangement is a very extravagant one, and a new heating apparatus throughout, will, in the end, be an economy. Consultation with a well known architect, has convinced us, that if the money can be obtained, our best plan will be to make certain radical changes which will be permanent and lasting. It will depend upon the response to this appeal whether this can be done, as we are not willing to secure these necessary alterations and improvements until the money is in hand to pay for them. Philadelphia is rich in Institutions for all sorts and conditions of persons, and nowhere in the world are people more generous. Is it too much to ask the Church, to help us to make this School worthy to give the best training to her children?

We refer to the House Mother's Report for details, and for facts about the students—for the home life—and for the beautiful new work at St. Martha's House.

We are all very happy that no change has taken place during the year in our Board of Managers, but that with increasing interest, and increasing love for the work, we grow more and more united to it, and to each other. And we rejoice, that under the influence of Mrs. A. J. D. Dixon, the able Chairman of the Associates, their work is developing so beautifully, and coming more and more in touch with our ideals. The Associates form warm friendships with the students, who constantly go to them for counsel and advice. They correspond with those who are working in far off Mission fields, and any one who realizes the pleasure of receiving a letter, when separated from home and friends, will know what pleasure that must often give in lonely hours. They have also sent most valuable aid in many ways, to our graduates, who are labouring in remote corners of this great Nation, and the kindness which prompts them to have the monthly afternoon teas, often gives to students who come here as strangers, the opportunity of meeting and knowing many, who become true friends and helpers in their future lives.

Nothing has been more gratifying to the Managers throughout all these years, than the loving, self-sacrificing devotion of our Faculty. Week after week, and month after month, at what must often be very great inconvenience in their busy lives, they give freely of their time and talents to instruct the students, and without other compensation, than that which comes from duty faithfully done. The Rev. L. M. Robinson was appointed by the Bishop in 1895 to act as Chaplain to the House. In addition to his other duties, and at a personal sacrifice, he has never failed, at an early hour on the Lord's Day to give to the students the opportunity to unite in the Celebration of the Holy Communion, before they go forth to meet the duties of the day.

To Mr. George C. Thomas, we offer our grateful thanks for all he did so unselfishly and ungrudgingly, to aid us in the purchase and payment of the new house.

To Dr. Egbert we again extend our thanks for his continued care, and we rejoice to have secured the most valued assistance of Dr. Sinkler, who, busy as he must necessarily be, is never too busy to give any needed advice to our students.

The one sad regret to us all is the illness of our beloved Bishop, whose never-tiring interest and ever-watchful supervision, has always brought comfort and help to all students, and has lightened the duties of every one connected with the School. His sympathy in and with each one has been unfailing, and we rejoice to hope that a year of well earned rest will bring him back, with renewed vigour, to us and to the Diocese.

We believe one great part of our work to be the testing of applicants for Missionary duty, and another to be the directing into right channels, those women who, with a desire to do some good in the world, do not see their vocation. We believe also, that good training, and the discipline necessary in a well regulated Christian household such as ours, must be of inestimable value to any woman. But above all—and we think such examples as St. John the Baptist and St. Paul bear witness to it—we believe that time cannot be better spent, than that which is given to earnest preparation for Christian Work. We want to give those women who come to us, the very best preparation possible, and in closing our Report, we ask you to help us to make this school so attractive, and by your gifts and sympathy and prayers to put it upon such a high spiritual and intellectual basis, as will be an inducement to women to take advantage of the privileges we offer.

REPORT OF THE ASSOCIATES OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

During the past year the Associates of the Church Training and Deaconess House have held a business meeting at 708 Spruce Street on the Second Tuesday in every month, at half past eleven o'clock, when they conduct the business of the Associates, and also have an opportunity to come in touch with the House Mother and Students, and to personally hear how they may help them in their various lines of work.

The Associates have no funds other than the annual dues of $1.00 each and what they voluntarily contribute to special objects.

The third Tuesday in each month we give a Tea at the Deaconess House at half past four o'clock, for the students, for which invitations are sent. And in this way the interest in the work of the House is increased.

These Teas are much appreciated by the students and many pleasant friendships have resulted from them.

Although statistically we may not seem to have accomplished much, the work for which we exist is being done, namely that of personally knowing the good work done at the Deaconess House, and of giving others an opportunity to see it for themselves, and to become more familiar with what the training and education of a Deaconess is.

We raised a very appreciable sum of money towards paying off the debt on the new house, No. 710 Spruce Street, and have added some little comforts to it since it has been in use, such as window shades, a dictionary stand, cups and saucers and towels, and each summer we have hemmed the new linen, to be added to the household stores.

We hope soon to furnish fire extinguishers on each floor of both houses. Miss Sachse, one of the Associates, has conducted a sewing class most ably for the students and has given them the full Drexel Institute course in sewing.

In addition to the list of Active Associates, we have now added a new list, to be called Contributing Associates, consisting of those who have become interested in the House, but who cannot attend the meetings, and who also pay annual dues of $1.00 each.

During the illness of Miss Parkhill it was the pleasure of the Associates to send her flowers, and our loving interest in her recovery cheered her during her trying illness.

We have also helped Miss Pew from time to time in her work among the colored people at the Church of the Crucifixion, by sending old clothes, and donations for the Christmas Festivals.

The Rector of St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia, through Miss Sanders, presented a kindergarten outfit to St. Martha's House.

The Associates esteem it a privilege to know personally the House Mother and Students and realize that in endeavoring to make the latter feel more at home in a strange city, they have come under an influence stimulating and beneficial to themselves.

Respectfully submitted,

MARGARETTA S. DIXON,

President.

REPORT OF HOUSE MOTHER.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

Our Quiet Day this year was conducted by the Rev. W. C. Richardson of St. James's Church. The addresses were most inspiring and we regretted that so many of the usual attendants were unable to hear them, being out of town.

The next day, October 2nd, in the absence of the Bishop and Warden, the Chaplain, Rev. L. M.. Robinson, conducted the graduating exercises. Diplomas in full course, were conferred upon Gertrude Carter, Emily M. Elwyn, Fanny D. Lees, Florence Sloane, and Mary E. Wagner; in special course, upon Eloise W. Baldwin and Harriet R. Parkhill. Certificates were given, with warm commendations, to Elodia Arce and Dolores Franco, who, though hindered by their unfamiliarity with English, had done excellent work. An earnest address followed from Rev. W. M. Groton.

The service for the admission of deaconesses was held in St. Peter's Church, on All Saints' Day. At this time the Misses Elwyn and Sloane, and Mrs. Wagner were admitted to the order. Miss Parkhill's consecration was appointed for St. John's Day in her own diocese of South Florida, and Miss Lee's will take place after her return to Salt Lake. The missionaries sent out from the school this year have been Miss Arce and Miss Franco to Mexico, Miss Carter to Hankow, and Miss Leighton to Alaska.

UNDERGRADUATES.

Fifteen students entered the Junior Class this term, making, with the ten Seniors, twenty-five in all. Two were obliged to drop out on account of health, and five are non-residents this year. There are, besides these, eighteen ladies attending one or two courses regularly.

CHANGES.

Through the generosity of a dear friend the chapel has been enlarged to include what was formerly the school room. The chancel has been handsomely carpeted; the walls stencilled; and a brass altar rail added, the gift of Deaconess Graham and her sister, in memory of their father.

A change in the working staff was made when Deaconess Colesberry was placed in charge of St. Martha's; Deaconess Florence Sloane succeeding her as Assistant House Mother in the school.

THE LIBRARY.

Largely through the interest of the Warden and Chaplain, fifty-four volumes have been added to the reference library and thirty-two to the missionary library.

THE MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Mission Study Class have been privileged to substitute for the miscellaneous addresses on current missionary news, a course of monthly lectures by the Rev. R. B. Kimber. He arranges these with reference to the topic for mission study for the remainder of the month, giving a clear, bright summary of the Church's work in the field under review up to the present time.

We had the pleasure of entertaining the women delegates to the "C. S. M. A." Convention last spring, and have also had visits from Bishops Graves of China, Morrison of Duluth, and Wells of Spokane, and Rev. Dr. Forrester of Mexico, Dr. Gates of China, and Misses Bristowe and Bull of the Japan Mission.

Our society, which is also a branch of the Woman's Auxiliary, has raised $108.01 for missions this past year, and has a balance on hand of $23.29.

THE FIRST DEATH AMONG OUR DEACONESSES.

In April, Henrietta R. Bronson was called home. She was in charge of the Church Orphanage in St. Louis. Her death was the result of a fall. Her letters had been full of her happiness in her work, and of gratitude for the kind friends surrounding her. She was much beloved, and we learn that a new wing is to be added to the orphanage as a memorial to her.

NEW WORK.

In my last report, I spoke of the need of a post-graduate course in parish work. Before that report was printed, the means had been generously provided, and St. Martha's House, at the corner of Eighth and Snyder Avenue, is the result. On the afternoon of All Saints, this house was formerly opened and dedicated by the Bishop, over one hundred invited guests being present. Deaconess Colesberry had furnished the house so tastefully yet economically, that it was an object lesson for people of limited means. She and her fellow workers, Deaconesses Elwyn and Wagner, were warmly welcomed by their neighbors, and the "First Ward News" published kind notices of the progress of their work. The ideal set before them by the Bishop is that each resident should become a member of one of the neighboring parishes, and that they should never rest satisfied until every "unattached" family is connected with one of these churches. In the meanwhile they provide a bright warm place of entertainment, where the mothers can feel safe in letting the children come. The people are chiefly Protestant working people, ambitious for their children's advancement, ready to help by small fees towards the current expenses of classes, and most grateful for the instruction and innocent recreation provided.

Deaconess Colesberry reports 300 names on her roll. The school children come from four o'clock to six and have had to be divided into seven classes, as only twenty five or thirty can be accommodated at once. The girls learn sewing, knitting and cooking, and both boys and girls have classes in sloyd and gymnastics. In the evening there are older classes for the working girls in cooking, dressmaking, embroidery, and plain sewing. There are fifty-five girls enrolled. Saturday morning there are two kitchen gardens for the little tots, besides four other classes for the school children.

The Free Library furnished us with a travelling library case of fifty volumes, to which they have added twenty-five more. Within the first week there were 154 applicants for books. Friends have contributed largely in the way of children's books and we hope to become a regular branch of the Free Library some day, as the number of readers is now well up in the hundreds.

Every set of children has its hours for games, music, or lectures, during the week, and there is a warm affection growing up between the deaconesses and their neighbors. Each deaconess has her own Bible Class in one of the neighboring parishes and one has a mothers' meeting, while through all their work runs the one motive to do all to the glory of God. For eight short weeks of existence, St. Martha's has a wonderful record, and must be a cause of thanksgiving to every one who in ways great or small has contributed towards it. Among other liberal gifts towards this work may be mentioned that of $500 from the Advancement Society.

Among all God's great mercies to us this year, the last and greatest is the restoration of our dear Bishop to some degree of his former health. May God continue His mercy towards us, and teach us "to show forth His praise not only with our lips, but in our lives."

Respectfully submitted,

CAROLINE H. SANFORD,

House Mother.

APPENDIX.

[From the Digest of the Canons of the General Convention.

TITLE I, CANON 10,

OF DEACONESESS.

§ I. Unmarried women of devout character and proved fitness may be appointed to the office of deaconess by any bishop of this Church.

§ II. The duty of a deaconess is to assist the minister in the care of the poor and sick, the religious training of the young and others, and the work of moral reformation.

§ III. No woman shall be appointed to the office of deaconess until she shall be at least twenty-five years of age, nor until she shall have laid before the Bishop testimonials certifying that she is a communicant in good standing of this Church, and that she possesses such characteristics as, in the judgment of the persons testifying, fit her for at least one of the duties above defined. The testimonials of fitness shall be signed by two presbyters of this Church, and by twelve lay communicants of the same, six of whom shall be women. The Bishop shall also satisfy himself that the applicant has had an adequate preparation for her work, both technical and religious, which preparation shall have covered the period of two years.

§ IV. No Deaconess shall accept work in a diocese without the express authority, in writing, of the bishop of that diocese; nor shall she undertake work in a parish without the like authority from the rector of the parish.

§ V. When not connected with a parish, the deaconess shall be under the direct oversight of the bishop of the diocese in which she is canonically resident. A deaconess may be transferred from one diocese to another by letter dismissory.

§ VI. A deaconess may at any time resign her office to the ecclesiastic authority of the diocese in which she is at the time canonically resident; but no deaconess having once resigned her office, shall be reappointed thereto, unless there be, in the judgment of the Bishop, weighty cause for such reappointment.

§ VII. The Bishop shall have power, for cause, after a hearing granted, to suspend or remove a deaconess from her office.

§ VIII. No woman shall act as a deaconess until she has been set apart for that office by an appropriate religious service, to be prescribed by the General Convention, or, in the absence of such prescription, by the Bishop.

THE Twelfth Annual Meeting of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania was held in the Women's Auxiliary room of the Church House on Friday, January 9, 1903, at 2.30 P.M.

The Bishop presided and conducted the devotional exercises.

The minutes of the Eleventh Annual Meeting were read and approved.

Announcement was made of the death of the Rev. Leverett Bradley, a member of the Faculty, and the Bishop appointed the Warden as a committee to draw up a suitable minute thereon. (See page 10.)

The report to the Board of Managers, including that of the Treasurer, the House Mother, and Associates, and also that of the Treasurer of the Corporation were read and referred to the Committee on Publication, consisting of the Warden, Miss Coles, the House Mother, Miss Elisabeth Morris, and the Secretary.

An election for members of the Board of Council resulted in the choice of George C. Thomas, Charles C. Harrison, R. Francis Wood, Ewing L. Miller, and Wharton Sinkler, M.D.

George C. Thomas was elected Treasurer and Ewing L. Miller Secretary of the Corporation.

The Bishop announced the reappointment of the Rev. J. De Wolf Perry, D.D., Warden; Miss Caroline H. Sanford, House Mother; and the present Board of Managers for the ensuing year.

Upon motion, the following was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this meeting has heard with interest the report of the work done at St. Martha's House, and will be pleased if a formal report of such work can in future be furnished to this Corporation, to be included in its annual reports.

Upon motion, the following was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this Corporation recognizes the importance of the work of St. Martha's House, and realizes the great benefit accruing from making it coordinate with the work of this Corporation in the nature of a post-graduate course for its students under the care of the Deaconess appointed by the President of this Corporation.

Upon motion, the Chair appointed the Warden and House Mother, the Rev. Dean Groton, and the Rev. Mr. Robinson a Committee to Revise the Scheme of Studies for the ensuing year.

Upon motion, it was—

Resolved, That the thanks of this meeting be offered to Rev. Robert Kimber for his valuable instructions on missionary work, kindly given to the students of the House.

Upon motion, the Board of Managers were requested to take into consideration the propriety of amending Article X of the By-Laws, by changing the Christmas vacation from eight days to twelve days or two weeks.

Upon motion, it was recommended to the Committee of Publication that on the list of students in the annual report those students alone should appear whose standing as students is at the time of publication fully assured.

On motion, then adjourned.

Attest:

EWING L. MILLER,

Secretary.

MINUTE.

We desire to place on record an expression of our feeling of great loss in the removal by death, on the 31st of December last, of the REV. LEVERETT BRADLEY, a member of the Faculty of The Church Training and Deaconess House. In January, 1901, he kindly consented to fill a temporary vacancy in our Board of Instructors. He was so successful and so interested in the work that he yielded to requests to continue in it, and was engaged in it when he felt called to go with his regiment to the coal fields as its chaplain. This quick, cheerful response to duty was one of his prominent characteristics. He combined with a gifted mind a winning manner; with earnest conviction a breadth of thought and of sympathy, and with manly strength great gentleness of heart. The soldier spirit which prompted him to offer his young life to his country at the beginning of the civil war was exemplified in his ministry. He was a good soldier of Jesus Christ,—faithful unto death he has received the crown of life. We thank God that he has been among us as a fellow-worker, and we offer to his bereaved family our sincere sympathy.

ANNUAL REPORT.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

Looking back over twelve years of effort and of growth the Managers of the Church Training and Deaconess House feel that they have every reason for thankfulness and for encouragement. The number of students in the House—at present twenty-two—shows a healthy, steady increase. The standard of scholarship and character among them has been raised, and the administration of our household affairs will stand comparison with that of any institution in Philadelphia, both as to comfort and economy. Good reports come in from our graduates and deaconesses in Alaska and Florida, in China and Japan, in Honolulu and the Pacific coast, in the North Carolina mountains and among the Southern negroes. Perhaps our best have gone to a distance, but the fact that twelve deaconesses are working in Philadelphia shows that the prophet is not without honor in his own country. The part of the city around St. Martha's House seems to have opened at its touch, and a marvelous field lies before the residents.

The Associates have shown a warm interest and are quietly doing most helpful work among the students in the House and among those who have gone out from us. The Deaconess House would be a much less pleasant place without them.

The Faculty go on in their round of duties, week after week, year after year, "like the stars which pour down on us the calm light of their bright and faithful being;" "their sound is gone out into all lands and their words into the ends of the world." Who can tell where their influence does not reach? We have not yet had time to realize our loss in the death of Mr. Bradley, so universally beloved. Prof. Heffern has kindly consented to teach the Old Testament. Miss Sachse's Sewing Class is everywhere acknowledged to be a model of its kind, while the musical education of the students is under the care of Mr. Ralph Kinder, Organist and Choirmaster of the Church of the Holy Trinity. Last winter they were also benefited by a course of lessons in the use of the voice from Miss Blaylock. The health of the students has been excellent. Dr. Sinkler has come to our rescue in several perplexing cases, and we are grateful to Drs. Zimmermann and Egbert for many kindnesses. Dr. Elliston J. Morris has kindly consented to act as our physician.

We desire to call attention to the title of our House, commonly spoken of as "The Deaconess House." It is also and first a Church Training House, and of our one hundred and thirty-nine resident students thirty-four belong to the Order of Deaconesses.

In our own Board there have been some changes. Miss Aertsen, who during these twelve years has seldom been absent from her post, is taking a well-earned holiday abroad. We cannot part with her as a manager, but Mrs. Lowber has been elected in her place as Treasurer. We gladly welcome Mrs. Mackay-Smith and Miss Anna Randolph as new managers, but deeply regret the resignations of Mrs. Innes and of Mrs. Fell. The good judgment and prayerful spirit of the former will be missed more than we can express; while we shall never forget that it was to the suggestion of the latter that we owe our Board of Associates.

But we may not rest on our oars, nor on our laurels, and there are plans for alterations in the House which seem almost indispensable. Our present heating arrangement of four furnaces is an extravagant one, and we wish to remedy that and also to provide more room, as the House in its present condition is full. These plans call for nearly $10,000.

The training and equipment of workers in this "Age of Woman's Work" is no unimportant task. With gratitude to God and thanks to our friends for help in the past, may we not hope that we will be enabled to go forward and do better work in the future?

Respectfully submitted,

ELISABETH MORRIS,

JANUARY, 1903. Cor. Secretary.

REPORT OF THE ASSOCIATES OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

Our work has gone on during the past year very much on the same lines as the year before. We began our monthly Teas by giving a larger one than usual on October 22d to the members of the Woman's Auxiliary and others who were here during the Missionary Council, to which several Bishops and many interesting friends came.

Since then the Tea each month has taken place as usual. During the summer, in answer to an appeal which I made, Miss Colesberry received from the Associates $166.20 for summer outings at St. Martha's House. They also gave $5.00 for books for the library there, and $15.00 to Miss Sanford for summer outings at the Deaconess House. Our list of contributing members now numbers 24.

Miss Sachse's Sewing Class continues as usual, doing excellent work. At Christmas the Associates sent a number of filled stockings to the Deaconess House, to be distributed at the discretion of the students to little sick children who were kept at home and could not be at the Sunday School festivals.

A correspondence from time to time is kept up with Deaconesses in distant places and through Deaconess Sanford's very interesting monthly reports we are kept constantly in touch with them.

The Associates appreciate the privilege of their work, and feel that it grows in interest from year to year. Respectfully submitted,

MARGARETTA SERGEANT DIXON,
President.

REPORT OF HOUSE MOTHER.

Commencement.—This year the graduating exercises were held in the spring at the close of school. For several years we have felt the disadvantage of having the graduation in October, as many of the class began their new work in September and could not leave to return to the school so soon afterward. This year, for example, the eleven who were together until the term closed on the 28th of May, were scattered from China to Kentucky by October, and only four could arrange to return here. Of these four, two were set apart as deaconesses by the newly consecrated Bishop-Coadjutor. The service was held at St. James's Church; the Rector, Rev. W. C. Richardson, having again kindly conducted our Quiet Day meditations on the preceding Tuesday.

After the service, Bishop Mackay-Smith visited the House, meeting the diocesan deaconesses gathered there as well as the resident students, and leaving with all the conviction that in their new Bishop they had found a new friend.

Increased Facilities.—The Managers have told of the new fields of work opened to the deaconesses this year, but a line of development near home claims special notice. Through the good offices of one of our Trustees and of the Superintendent of the City Mission, two of our graduates have been employed in that work, and a third is engaged to join them as soon as her present course is completed. These City Mission workers live with us and have some of the seniors working under them; five are under Miss Richmond's direction in the Charity Organization, and two in the Octavia Hill Association. Deaconess Pew, who has given her life to the colored mission work of this city, has now gone to live among her people on Bainbridge Street, and has three students working with her. This close connection with all branches of organized relief in our neighborhood gives a practical turn to the students' sympathies,—they need not stop now with "feeling sorry." Table talk is interspersed with such appeals as "Does any one know of a place for a good laundress?" "Who has sewing to be done?" and the other evening a junior came in radiant, announcing, "Oh, Deaconess, my woman is to keep house for Miss ——'s man!" and we all felt that when the middle-aged but homeless woman agreed to take charge of the young widower's little family, two problems were solved. To all the officers of these societies we owe a debt of gratitude for the personal care they have taken in training these young women in relief work.

The students continue to have the privilege of working in the parochial organizations of Holy Trinity, St. Barnabas', St. Peter's, St. James's, and in the classes at St. Martha's. The increase of these opportunities keeps pace with our increasing numbers.

Training in Sunday-school Teaching.—This department of the school should be made much more efficient, and we hope next year to report progress.

Mission Study Class.—This class consists of the members of our branch of the "C. S. M. A.," and has pursued the usual course of study, with monthly lectures from Rev. R. B. Kimber, giving clear and impressive "bird's-eye" views of our various mission fields, summing up each subject for the month's topical study, and bringing the history up to the present date. We are also a branch of the Woman's Auxiliary and have monthly reports from our delegates to these meetings. We can report twenty-seven Deaconesses and Missionaries from our school now in the mission field, eight being from the class of 1900. At present eleven are in training for distinctively missionary work. The offerings this past year have amounted to $71.42, besides a box for Deaconess Callaway's mission schools.

The News Letter.—The correspondence with those who looked to the school as their "alma mater" grew so large that, as one Deaconess remarked, "unless one were sick or in trouble she could not expect a letter." A happy inspiration suggested the use of the mimeograph, and a monthly "News Letter" is now sent out to those who have been attached to the school, giving the current news, to which the House

Mother adds any personal paragraphs intended for that correspondent alone. One day each month is entirely occupied in composing, copying, and sending these letters, but it is a labor of love amply repaid by the grateful, loving responses from all quarters, and by the way in which it is drawing us closely together, quickening intelligent sympathy in one another's work.

Christmas Cheer.—Last year a group of young ladies in Haverford sent us some Christmas stockings to be given to "shut-in children" who would have no other gifts. This year the Haverford gifts were multiplied; our Associates also sent contributions, and some dear little children brought arms full of toys. On counting up we had eighty-five well-filled stockings to distribute. Meanwhile, through our Deaconesses, we had lists from which we culled the most pitiful cases and were able to supply them all. We did feel sorry when we heard of an entire Sunday School in one of our parent parishes which had only $3.00 with which to provide for numbers of poor children. It seems as if such things only need to be known to be remedied next year.

In Memoriam.—We have had a prosperous happy year, but just as it closed, one of our kind instructors, Rev. Leverett Bradley, died. His place in the school will be difficult to fill, as he delighted in his work and succeeded to a rare degree. His influence will remain a power in many lives.

Admission of Candidates.—On Epiphany, 1903, Bishop Whitaker admitted seven candidates for the Deaconess Order, the largest number ever admitted at one time in our school.

St. Martha's.—The growth of this work is limited by the lack of resident workers. We wish that more of our graduates could spare a year for practice in this settlement before assuming permanent responsibilities. But they are pledged for months ahead of their graduation, and bishops and rectors hurry them away to their work. This state of things is encouraging as showing a growing demand for trained workers, but discouraging to those seeking them. As our Bishop said recently: "It is like going to a shop and finding everything sold." Although hampered in this respect, St. Martha's is doing a good work well, perhaps taking deeper root because prevented from spreading as rapidly as it would. Deaconess Colesberry writes: "The first helpers, Mrs. Wagner, Miss Elwyn, and Miss Boyd, carried such a spirit of loving kindness into their work in the House and into their neighborhood-visiting that the result shows this year in every branch of the work." There are over 1200 persons connected with the various organizations. A roof-garden and ice-water fountain were grateful sources of refreshment to the people during hot weather, and through gifts of our Associates and others 145 women and children were sent for a week or two in the country, and 653 for a day's outing. Some had their first holiday in twenty years.

The increased attendance at the neighboring churches testifies to the faithfulness with which the Deaconesses care for the spiritual needs of their new friends. A visitor is impressed with the atmosphere of loving kindness on both sides, for if the residents have shown it, surely never have people been more lovingly welcomed and kindly treated than they have been by the whole neighborhood.

Respectfully submitted,

CAROLINE H. SANFORD,
Deaconess.

APPENDIX.

[From the Digest of the Canons of the General Convention.]

TITLE I, CANON 13,

OF DEACONESSES.

§ I. A woman of devout character and proved fitness, unmarried or widowed, may be appointed Deaconess by any Bishop of this Church. Such appointment shall be vacated by marriage.

§ II. The duty of a Deaconess is to assist the Minister in the care of the poor and sick, the religious training of the young and others, and the work of moral reformation.

§ III. No woman shall be appointed Deaconess until she shall be at least thirty years of age, nor until she shall have laid before the Bishop testimonials certifying that she is a communicant of this Church in good standing, and that she possesses such characteristics as, in the judgment of the persons testifying, fit her for at least one of the duties above defined. The testimonial of fitness shall be signed by two Presbyters of this Church, and by twelve lay communicants of the same, six of whom shall be women. The Bishop shall also satisfy himself that the applicant has had an adequate preparation for her work, both technical and religious, which preparation shall have covered the period of two years.

§ IV. No Deaconess shall accept work in a Diocese without the express authority, in writing, of the Bishop of that Diocese; nor shall she undertake work in a Parish without the like authority from the Rector of the Parish.

§ V. When not connected with a Parish the Deaconess shall be under the direct oversight of the Bishop of the Diocese in which she is canonically resident. A Deaconess may be transferred from one Diocese to another by Letters Testimonial.

§ VI. A Deaconess may at any time resign her office to the Ecclesiastical Authority of the Diocese in which she is at the time canonically resident, but she may not be suspended or removed from office except by the Bishop for cause, with the consent of the Standing Committee, and after a hearing before the Bishop and the Standing Committee.

§ VII. No woman shall be recognized as a Deaconess until she has been set apart for that office by an appropriate religious service, to be prescribed by the General Convention, or, in the absence of such prescription, by the Bishop.

EXTRACTS FROM THE BY-LAWS.

Article V.

The order and discipline of the House shall be under the direction of a House Mother, subject to the direction of the Bishop. She shall be annually nominated by the Board of Managers, and if approved, appointed by the Bishop, and shall be a communicant of the Protestant Episcopal Church. She shall admit no one as a resident, except upon presentation of a certificate as provided in Article IV, Section 5. She shall enter in a book provided for her by the Board of Managers the name of each person admitted to the House, her age, religious training, confirmation, parochial connection, the date of her admission, and of her recognition as a candidate for the order of Deaconess, and any other facts which she may think important. She shall keep an account of all moneys received by her for expenditure, and shall make a monthly report of the same to the Board of Managers. She shall also make a report monthly concerning all points which may be necessary to give the Board of Managers an intelligent idea of the workings and condition of the household.

Article VIII.

SEC. 5.—Upon the satisfactory completion of the prescribed course of study and training, the Candidate shall receive a testimonial to that effect from the Warden, House Mother, and the Faculty, which shall be considered as a guarantee that she has had the "adequate preparation" required by the Canon of Deaconesses.

A special student, whether resident or non-resident, upon the satisfactory completion of any course, may receive a testimonial from her instructor, and on the completion of the whole course she may receive a testimonial from the Bishop, Warden, and House Mother.

Non-residents may be admitted as Special Students to instruction in any single branch without charge.

SEC. 2.—All residents shall be entitled to remain in the House during the year, but those remaining between May and October shall perform then, as at other times, such duties as may be assigned them by the House Mother or Bishop.

SEC. 3.—In addition to the eight months of study, at least ten weeks' hospital or other practical service shall be required of all Candidates, and of all other students who elect to remain in the House during the summer.

ARTICLE X.

The regular School year shall begin on the first Wednesday in October and end the last Tuesday in May, with a recess of eight days from Christmas Eve, and of one week at Easter.

ARTICLE XI.

THE Thirteenth Annual Meeting of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, was held in the Women's Auxiliary Room of the Church House, on Wednesday, January 13, 1904, at three o'clock.

The Bishop presided and conducted the devotional exercises.

The Minutes of the Twelfth Annual Meeting were read and approved.

The Report of the Board of Managers, the Treasurer, the House-Mother, Associates, and a statement of the management of St. Martha's House, also that of the Treasurer of the Corporation, were read, accepted and referred to a Committee on Publication, consisting of the Warden, House-Mother, Mrs. Lowber, Miss Morris, and the Secretary, with instructions to print one thousand copies.

An election for members of the Board of Council resulted in the choice of George C. Thomas, Charles C. Harrison, R. Francis Wood, Ewing L. Miller, and Wharton Sinkler, M. D.

George C. Thomas was duly elected Treasurer, and Ewing L. Miller, Secretary of the Corporation.

The Bishop announced the reappointment of the Rev. J. DeWolf Perry, D. D., as Warden; Miss Caroline H. Sanford as House-Mother; and the present Board of Managers for the ensuing year.

An announcement was made of the death of the Rev. Theodore S. Rumney, D. D., the first Warden of the House, and, upon motion, Miss Sanford was instructed to prepare a Minute theron to be published in the Annual Report.

On motion, the President was instructed to convey to Miss Coles the kind wishes of the meeting, and prayers for her recovery to health, and her safe return.

Upon motion, the meeting desired to express its affectionate regards to the Rev. William Ely, D. D., and its regret at his being compelled to sever his connection with the Faculty, which he has had since the establishment of the House.

On motion, then adjourned.

EWING L. MILLER,
Secretary.

MINUTE.

In the beginning of this work, when friends were few, one of our kindest supporters was the Rev. Theodore S. Rumney, D. D. For five years he was Warden of The Church Training and Deaconess House, teaching a class, and showing careful interest in the welfare of the school and of its individual members. He was obliged to resign on account of poor health, in 1896, and died at his home in Germantown, November 24, 1903.

May we keep him ever in remembrance as one who was ready to plant and to build, committing the future to God.

ANNUAL REPORT.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House in the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

If the usefulness and efficiency of the Church Training and Deaconess House were to be tested by the practical results of the past thirteen years, no one would doubt the worth of the work. Its graduates are in every part of the Mission field, and from China and Japan, the Philippines and Hawaii, Alaska to Florida, and from our own city missions and parishes, reports come back to the Training School which quicken our zeal, widen our interests, and make us feel that in truth "the field is the world."

This record is encouraging, but it is our earnest desire that the women in this Diocese and throughout the land should know that the Church has provided opportunities for special training in Christian work in this age of specialization in all departments of life. Towards the accomplishment of this aim, a leaflet, stating the character and scope of the Church Training and Deaconess House, was sent to every rector in this Diocese and to all the Bishops. Many kind acknowledgments were received from the latter, expressing their sympathy with, and interest in, the work, and in some cases requesting that the notices be sent to their clergy. Leaflets were also sent to the delegates of the Silver Bay Conference for Church Workers, and to the Society of Collegiate Alumnæ. A clear account of the Deaconess work, and a summary of the requirements for the Missionary, the Special Student and the Non-resident Courses, with conditions and expense of each, has been prepared for distribution among those who ask for details.

The Faculty continue their zealous work, and words are inadequate to express our gratitude to them for giving their time, their talents and their interest so untiringly.

In our own Board, our President, Miss Coles, has gone abroad for a much-needed rest, and we miss the inspiration of her presence. It was with deep regret that the Managers accepted the resignation of Mrs. Thomas. Her thoughtful and intelligent service as Secretary, and her wise judgment, were especially valuable.

During a leave of absence granted to Miss Sanford, Miss Morris was House-Mother in April and May. She gave herself most generously to the best interests of the work, filling her position with so much tact and wisdom that the Managers feel through her they have been brought into closer touch with the students and have gained a more intimate knowledge of the difficulties and encouragements of the work.

The Associates have co-operated with us most cordially in their liberal response to our appeals, and we wish to express our appreciation of their personal interest in the students and of all they have done for St. Martha's House.

From a material standpoint, our chief desire is to begin and complete the long-planned improvements in the House, in order that it may be well-equipped and suitable for all needs. This will involve an outlay of $20,000, but we feel we are laying the foundations for a growing work. We have a nucleus of $5086 towards this end, including two generous donations of one thousand dollars each, which have been received during the past month. These gifts encourage us to hope that they are forerunners of similar contributions.

The retrospect of the past leads us to a deeper realization of the spiritual influence and responsibility of the work, and while we ask for gifts, we plead far more for the prayers and sympathy of our fellow-laborers in Christ.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH S. CARRYL,

Secretary.

REPORT OF THE ASSOCIATES OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

For the past year, the Associates of the Board of Managers have held a monthly meeting, as usual, on the second Tuesday of the month, followed on the third Tuesday of each month, during the winter.

except in Lent, by a tea at the Church Training and Deaconess House. In February, there was music at the tea, which gave a great deal of pleasure. The first tea in the fall is confined only to the Associates, so that they can have this opportunity of knowing the new students.

In May, a special meeting was called, and Dr. Forrester, of Mexico, spoke to the Committee, with the result that they sent $50 to Miss Arce in Mexico ($20 from the Associates and $30 through them), to help her in her work in a time of great need.

By the end of June, the Associates raised $150 towards the salary of a resident worker at St. Martha's House, and also sent $52 for the summer outings, besides having sent $10 at different times during the winter. They also sent Miss Pew $12 towards her work among the colored people; and $10 to Miss Sanford for summer outings.

Great interest has been taken this year in sending Christmas stockings to the Church Training and Deaconess House, to be distributed by the Deaconesses in their work among the poor; and this year about 125 or 130 stockings were sent, and gave great pleasure to the very poor and sick children who received them.

Several of the Associates formed little classes or clubs to fill stockings, and in this way the number was much larger than ever before. The interest certainly has grown this year, and we feel that the Committee has done good and effective work.

Respectfully submitted,

MARGARETTA S. DIXON,

President.

REPORT OF HOUSE MOTHER.

Graduation.—The graduating exercises in May, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Morris, acting as House-Mother, were well attended and inspiriting. In the preceding March, the Managers decided to give the Deaconess in charge a six months' vacation, dividing her duties among themselves. Miss Biddle and Miss Parrish took the class work and the superintendence of the outside relations of the school in practical training, and Miss Morris became the resident head of the house, with the experienced help of Deaconess Sloane, the Assistant House-Mother. Under the Managers' care, no business matters were allowed to slip through the mails to the absent Deaconess, and every detail was so administered that at the close of the six months there were no arrears of work to be made up. The results have been beneficial, not only to the health of the absentee, but to the Managers, giving them a clearer idea of the inner working of the school. The House-Mother can never forget their thoughtful kindness in this whole matter.

Quiet Day.—Rev. Dr. Groton, Dean of the Philadelphia Divinity School, conducted the Quiet Day, October 6, and made it a peculiarly helpful preparation for the service of the next day.

Deaconesses' Service.—This was held in Calvary Church, Germantown, of which our Warden, Dr. Perry, is Rector. He had spared no pains to make the occasion perfect. In the absence of Bishop Whitaker, Bishop Mackay-Smith preached the sermon and set apart four of the graduates as deaconesses. Since then two more have been admitted to the Order: one in Cincinnati, Ohio, and the other in Kyoto, Japan. The class of 1903 is the banner class in three particulars—it has the largest number of missionaries, 5; the largest number of deaconesses, 6; and the largest number of graduates, 7. The present senior class has 10 members, and the junior, 7.

Rochester Deaconess House.—One of the senior class took her summer training in England this year, through the kindness of Deaconess Gilmore, the Head of the Rochester Deaconess House. She had the privilege of an interview with Deaconess Cecilia, sister of the Dean of Westminster, and author of "The Ministry of Deaconesses," who was then on her death-bed. It was through Deaconess Cecilia that we secured the cheap edition of her work as a text-book in our school. She was pleased to know that we valued it. In founding our training school for deaconesses in this Diocese, we owed our most helpful ideas to these two women, Deaconess Gilmore and Deaconess Cecilia.

Changes.—A comparison of the list of the Faculty this year and last shows many changes. Rev. Dr. Ely, who had been connected with the school from the first, resigned, after thirteen years of faithful teaching. Rev. J. R. Moses, and Rev. H. F. Fuller, resigned on account of removal. At the request of Bishop Whitaker, Rev. James Montgomery, Rev. Thomas Garland, and Rev. George Bartlett, have kindly joined the Faculty, and Miss Randolph has taken charge of the class in Business Methods. The class in Greek (optional), taught for the past three years by Prof. Robinson, grows in numbers, and is doing good work. During the many changes last spring, the Rev. Bakewell Green, while temporarily in the city, taught a class in the Psalms so ably that we were all sorry when he was called to another Diocese.

Owing to Miss Sachse's unavoidable absence, it was thought wise to suspend the Normal Sewing Class for this one year, in the hope that she can then resume it. We are privileged in having Miss Ellen Morris in charge of the Cooking Class this year, and Mr. Ralph Kinder again for the Vocal Music.

In May, Deaconess Sloane decided to accept an urgent call to be parish deaconess at St. Peter's Church, Philadelphia, and Deaconess Walker took her place as Assistant House-Mother.

A change in the hour of the early service at St. Peter's obliged us to arrange for one on holy days in the school chapel. With the approval of Bishop Whitaker, Rev. George Gunnell, of St. Andrew's, kindly assists the Chaplain by taking these services on week days.

Day Visitors.—The attendance of non-resident students at the classes is encouraging. Thirty-three come with regularity, and a growing proportion apply for the half-yearly examinations. In Radnor, a plan is under consideration which may be of interest. Some ladies there wish to choose one branch of religious study from those offered at our school and select one of their circle who is free to attend this course as their leader. She will then direct their study, by the note books and references she used in the school. As one of our aims is to encourage religious study among Sunday school teachers, in this way we can bring its benefits within reach of those who cannot come to the school.

Lectures.—In October, Rev. Dr. Shinn gave a series on "Women Who Have Helped;" January 9th, Miss Emily M. Morgan gave an illustrated lecture on the "Face of Christ in Art;" and throughout the year, Rev. R. B. Kimber has continued his vivid sketches of the various mission fields, in connection with the topical study which the students are doing.

C. S. M. A.—Our branch of the C. S. M. A. could not send delegates to the Conference held in Canada this year, on account of the distance, but reported as contributing to missions $67, and to the United Offering, $8. Their funds are largely derived from the proceeds of the sales of second-hand clothing held semi-annually, which help the poor and at the same time add to the missionary fund. The contributions of the Associates to these sales, also to the Christmas work, and towards many pleasant excursions for the school, must be gratefully mentioned here, though more formally acknowledged in another place.

Practical Training.—The practical work of the students continues on the same general lines as last year, and in this department we are particularly indebted to the supervision of Miss Biddle, Mrs. Schulte, Miss Parrish, Miss Fisher, Miss Elizabeth Morris, Miss Prophete, the officers of the Charity Organization, and Octavia Hill Association, and to our own Deaconesses at St. Martha's, the City Mission, and the Church of the Advent.

Missionaries.—Miss Berta Babcock, class of '97, from Aomori, Japan; Miss Crummer, '95; and Miss Dodson, from Shanghai, China; and Miss Agnes Mahoney, from Liberia, were our principal missionary visitors this year.

Under the heading of The Deaconess Retiring Fund will be found an account of our new Vacation Home for Deaconesses and Church Workers.

It is pleasant each year thus to close this report with the account of some great and unexpected gift; such come like a benediction on the past, and a command to go forward with good courage.

Respectfully submitted,

CAROLINE H. SANFORD,

House-Mother.

CAROLINE H. SANFORD,
Treasurer.

From the Minutes of the Seventh Annual Meeting, October 7, 1903.— It was announced that through the generosity of the late Mrs. Louisa Gurney, of West Sumner, Maine, her house with a farm of ten acres had been given in trust for the use of the members of the Deaconess Retiring Fund. The deed of gift was read by her nephew, and residuary legatee, the Rev. Lucien M. Robinson, and was received by the twelve members present with many expressions of appreciation.

Mrs. Gurney was the last representative in the village of two of the original founders of the town. She wished to leave her home in trust to a religious order of women who would continue to make it a centre of Christian helpfulness in the community. It is to be called Rye-moor, a combination of the family names of her parents, Ryerson and Moore.

For the present the house will be open in the summer only.

Several deaconesses spent some happy weeks there as pioneers this summer, and alterations were begun which will, it is hoped, give accommodation for all who may wish to come next year. It is suggested that the graduates try to time their visits so as to have Class Reunions each year at the home farm.

The Deaconess Trustee, who is also the House Mother of the Church Training and Deaconess House, has requested that any desiring to avail themselves of this opportunity next summer will communicate with her as soon as possible.

THE TERMS ARE AS FOLLOWS :

For a limited number assisting in household duties the terms will be reduced.

[From the Digest of the Canons of the General Convention.]

TITLE I, CANON XIII.

OF DEACONESSES.

§ I. A woman of devout character and proved fitness, unmarried or widowed, may be appointed Deaconess by any Bishop of this Church. Such appointment shall be vacated by marriage.

§ II. The duty of a Deaconess is to assist the Minister in the care of the poor and sick, the religious training of the young and others, and the work of moral reformation.

§ III. No woman shall be appointed Deaconess until she shall be at least thirty years of age, nor until she shall have laid before the Bishop testimonials certifying that she is a communicant of this Church in good standing, and that she possesses such characteristics as, in the judgment of the persons testifying, fit her for at least one of the duties above defined. The testimonial of fitness shall be signed by two Presbyters of this Church, and by twelve lay communicants of the same, six of whom shall be women. The Bishop shall also satisfy himself that the applicant has had an adequate preparation for her work, both technical and religious, which preparation shall have covered the period of two years.

§ IV. No Deaconess shall accept work in a Diocese without the express authority, in writing, of the Bishop of the Diocese; nor shall she undertake work in a Parish without the like authority from the Rector of the Parish.

§ V. When not connected with a Parish, the Deaconess shall be under the direct oversight of the Bishop of the Diocese in which she is canonically resident. A Deaconess may be transferred from one Diocese to another by Letters Testimonial.

§ VI. A Deaconess may at any time resign her office to the Ecclesiastical Authority of the Diocese in which she is at the time canonically resident, but she may not be suspended or removed from office except by the Bishop for cause, with the consent of the Standing Committee, and after a hearing before the Bishop and the Standing Committee.

§ VII. No woman shall be recognized as a Deaconess until she has been set apart for that office by an appropriate religious service, to be prescribed by the General Convention, or, in the absence of such prescription, by the Bishop.

ST. MARTHA'S HOUSE.

A STATEMENT.

St. Martha's House, a Church Settlement, situated on the N. E. Corner of Eighth and Snyder Avenue, was formally opened by Bishop Whitaker on All Saints' Day, 1901.

The object of its founders was to establish a house in which industrial classes and helpful meetings could be held for all ages, and from where, through the influence of its residents, many would be won for the Church, and the wanderers brought back to her fold. Our motto might well be, "As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith." St. Martha's House was also to furnish a post-graduate course to any students of the Deaconess House who might wish the experience.

It is difficult to give statistics in settlement work, because the various agencies tend to raise the tone of an entire neighborhood, and who can define its bounds?

We were told to expect no real results for five years, but in three months we had gained a host of friends, and a warm welcome wherever we went. As we are in a part of the city where few lectures or entertainments are given, our societies have prospered from the first. Our pretty rooms, with the cordial welcome of a friendly resident, appeal to a boy or girl, tired mother or a brave, young working girl, and they look forward to their weekly meetings with a never-abating zest. We find in our daily visiting that to them St.

Martha's House stands for the ever-ready, ever-sympathizing friend, for see how our agencies prove this to them.

Is a loved one sick? A nurse visits her, once or twice daily, cheers the caretaker, brings order out of chaos in the sick room, makes the patient clean and comfortable, shows the family what to do in her absence, gives advice and sympathy, frequently lends bedding and clothes from our Loan Closet, or, if need be, secures material aid.

Is the baby of a family ill? The mother comes for Pasteurized Milk daily; and the little one, before so frail and languid, grows bright and healthy, to the joy of the parents. Is a young girl, a foreigner or a stranger in this city, seeking work without influence? She comes to the Guild, and after a short time is given a note to a prominent firm, and she is well pleased that good employment has at last been secured.

Thirty little children come daily to the Kindergarten, where they are taught by a loving, Christian teacher to see and to appreciate beautiful things, to overcome their little faults, and to work and sing happily, till they grow old enough to go to school.

Two potent agencies for good are the Library, with its helpful, entertaining books, and the Saving Fund, to which on Saturdays hundreds of children come with important faces to save their pennies, or older ones, from factory or home, bring part of the week's wages for rent, clothes or the rainy day.

In the summer, our roof-garden, picnics or the outings arranged for tired workers in the country or by the sea, help us to know our neighbors even better than through the winter months. And yet, when we think of Christmas, with its many parties and the sad ones cheered, we find it hard to say what time of the year is the best to show love to those who need it.

All our meetings and classes tend to encourage the making of better, brighter, neater homes, and as the girls learn to cook or sew, and they or the mothers listen to talks from nurses, doctors, wise housekeepers or other talented friends, they gain much that helps them in their daily lives.

Including the House-Mother, twenty persons have lived for a longer or shorter time in St. Martha's House, among whom were Miss Elwyn, now in the Philippines, and Miss Boyd, in Japan. Our present staff includes two nurses, a kindergartner, an assistant, and a graduate from the Deaconess House. We have many friends, as well as students, from the mother house, who come weekly to teach classes of various kinds, and many other friends come periodically to give lectures and talks on Japan, China, Holland, Palestine, or on True Honor, Purity, Cheerfulness, Marriage, Ideals, Books, Influence, Work, Health, Food, or on religious topics. Others come to sing or recite to tired workers, who thoroughly enjoy any form of amusement. Generous donations of money have been received from time to time, the largest amounts coming from the Advancement Society of Pennsylvania, through the Associates of the Deaconess House, and from several personal friends.

Our list of activities shows the variety of our work. All who come to St. Martha's voluntarily pay dues, however small, to the house they love so well. Those who move away tell us that the children say, "Mother, we don't like this neighborhood—there is no St. Martha's House."

We know St. Martha's has an influence for good in the neighborhood, for the most prominent politician has acknowledged it, all the policemen testify to the change in behavior of the various "gangs," and last spring we were fortunate enough to prevent a saloon from being placed opposite by spending a day in the License Court. The Board of Health, through Dr. Abbott and Dr. Martin, are friendly to us, Miss Madeira doing school nursing, and Miss Holmes special visiting for them.

Four or five hundred people come to us weekly, and at present 850 pass through our doors to classes, meetings, etc.

Our quarters are too small for our needs, and we are hoping that some day some one will build a gymnasium near, where hundreds of boys could be gathered in, where a Free Library could be established, and in which there would be a room large enough for meetings, lectures, etc.

We had eight parties during Christmas week, where three would have been enough had our rooms been larger. We multiply entertainments because of the small number who can be accommodated at once. As yet, we have not been able to do any work among the men, but we look forward to the day when more elevating clubs can be offered them than the political ones they now frequent.

We try to visit every one and keep a card catalogue of information gained. It is here where so much religious work comes in. By friendly visits, we learn of the religious faith or the lack of it in our neighbors, and, as they learn to trust us, we can get the children baptized or sent to Sunday school, and even win the indifferent parents by notifying them of special services. In four Sundays lately, I have taken 23 children to Sunday school, 16 being new, and 7 wanderers brought back. Of those taken to church recently, many had not communed for years, and one woman had never been to communion, though confirmed in her youth. The nurses have had 139 different patients, and paid 2062 visits. They always discover whether the children in the family have been baptized, and get the clergy, if possible, to call on the sick. Many patients have had their last hours brightened by these kindly ministrations, and many have been brought into the Church. Our household represents four different churches, and all our residents encourage people to attend the one nearest to their homes. Any one with the slightest Episcopal connection, or any who could be won by many, many visits, till in some crisis we stand their friend, are reported to me, and I keep long lists of them for daily prayer and visiting till one by one they are brought into the Church.

For fifteen years I was active in parish work, and I can testify that a settlement can reach certain people that the ordinary parish societies do not, but if the churches will look with favor on the settlement and work sympathetically hand in hand, it is not too sanguine to believe that, in time, a whole community could not only be helped, but won to allegiance, and all prejudices and unhappy misunderstandings be smoothed away.

In closing, it is interesting to note that people in other cities write to St. Martha's House to inquire about our methods, that they, too, may establish Church Settlements. Many young Church girls are applying for residence, that they may learn intelligently to help in such enterprises, and the first one will come to us, with the Bishop's permission, on February the first.

THE Fourteenth Annual Meeting of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, was held in the Woman's Auxiliary Room of the Church House on Thursday, January 12th, at three o'clock.

The Bishop presided and conducted the devotional exercises.

The minutes of the thirteenth annual meeting were read and duly approved.

The reports of the Board of Managers, the Treasurer, the House Mother, Associates, and also that of the Treasurer of the Corporation were read, accepted, and referred to a Committee on Publication, consisting of the Warden, House Mother, Mrs. Perot, Miss Coles, and the Secretary, with instructions to print fifteen hundred copies.

Upon motion of the Rev. Dr. Perry the following was unanimously

"Resolved, That in order to insure the future maintenance and efficiency of this work our very small Endowment Fund should be increased, and our Church people are urgently requested to contribute to this fund, and in making their wills to remember it as deserving of their bequests."

An election for members of the Board of Council being in order, it resulted in the unanimous choice of George C. Thomas, Charles C. Harrison, R. Francis Wood, Ewing L. Miller, and Wharton Sinkler, M. D.

George C. Thomas was duly elected Treasurer and Ewing L. Miller Secretary of the Corporation.

The Bishop announced the reappointment of the Rev. J. DeWolf Perry, D. D., as Warden, Miss Caroline H.

Sanford as House Mother, and the present Board of Managers for the ensuing year.

Upon motion, the House Mother was requested to send a copy of the annual report to each rector in the Diocese, calling attention to the work, and appealing for the attention of their congregations to the need of contributions and to their Sunday-school teachers to the opportunities for instruction and training offered by the House.

The Bishop requested that the Board of Managers should prepare a copy of the By-Laws in accordance with recent alterations and amendments, and that a corrected edition of the same be printed.

Upon motion, then adjourned.

Attest:

EWING L. MILLER,
Secretary.

ANNUAL REPORT.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

The great event of the past year in things temporal has been the extensive repairs and remodeling of our House.

Nos. 708 and 710 Spruce Street are admirably adapted to our needs, but, as in all private dwellings which have been changed into institutions, many changes were necessary. When the property 710 was added five years ago, openings only were cut through the division walls. Last spring the roofs were leaking, the furnaces were worn out, the plumbing out of repair, and the requirements of the Fire Department demanded a brick fire escape.

With our President, Miss Coles, in Europe, the Managers shrank from undertaking such a work, but the need was imperative, and with special prayer for wisdom and guidance, they undertook the task. After consultation with Bishop Whitaker and the Board of Council, and with the advice of Miss Coles, it was deemed the wisest course to put the whole property into a permanent condition. The result is a dignified building, suitable in every way to its work.

The large bed rooms have been converted into single rooms for over forty students, all well lighted and heated; the kitchen, dining room, and school rooms enlarged, and the whole house put in perfect repair, as well as a brick tower fire escape built from the ground to the fourth floor.

The work was finished at the specified time, and it will always be pleasant to recall the kind interest shown throughout by the builder and workmen and the entire absence of friction or misunderstanding.

The Managers desire to thank the architect, Mr. William L. Baily, of Messrs. Baily & Bassett, and Mr. C. E. Hardican, of the Smith, Hardican Company, for their constant personal attention to the work.

We had hoped the cost would not have exceeded $15,000, but the gas and water pipes were found filled with rust and worn out, and any who have had the experience of making old houses as good as new will not be surprised that the entire expense has exceeded that sum by more than $2,000. We rejoice to say that the full amount has been paid, and we begin the new year free from debt.

To those who have helped us so willingly and generously, the Managers desire to express their heartfelt thanks. They feel with the English novelist, "When one is grateful for something too good for common thanks, writing is less unsatisfactory than speech—one does not at least hear how inadequate the words are."

The report will tell of our students and Deaconesses at their work at home and abroad, and of the prized Summer Home in Maine, which we obtained through the influence of the Rev. Dr. L. M. Robinson. The scheme of studies is given elsewhere. May I call attention to our classes, which are all free.

The instructors include the Dean and three other members of the Faculty of the Divinity School, besides other clergymen of Philadelphia, who cheerfully give their time and services. Our renewed thanks are heartily given to these faithful teachers, whose fidelity is only equaled by the extent of their widespread influence—literally from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and to the ends of the earth.

The attendance of outside students has been encouraging, and it is earnestly hoped that more may avail themselves of this rare opportunity for religious instruction, or tell of it to others, especially those who are engaged in teaching. Attendance upon the Mission Study Class, held on Wednesday mornings at ten o'clock, will be of assistance to any one teaching such a class, or interested in Missions.

The yearly charges for resident students, including board, tuition, and necessary books, has been reduced to $200.

It is with sincere regret that we record the resignation from the Board of Managers of Mrs. Bernard Schulte and Miss Helen L. Parrish. The former has left the city, but her care and wise direction of our students in St. Peter's parish will long be remembered. We are thankful that Miss Parrish continues her valuable instruction in Practical Sociology.

With pleasure we welcome Mrs. Howard Wurts Page, who has accepted her appointment as Manager and has consented to relieve Miss Carryl, for several years our faithful and efficient Secretary.

The Managers and Associates alike deeply regret the resignation of Mrs. A. J. D. Dixon as President of the Associates of the Board of Managers. Under her happy and tactful guidance each succeeding year has added to the good work in many directions done by the Associates. Mrs. William Goodrich has been elected to fill her place.

The work of Miss Ellen Morris, who has taught a Normal Class in Cooking, and Miss Sachse, a Normal Class in Sewing, is much appreciated by students and Managers; also that of the Rev. R. B. Kimber, of New York, for his monthly Mission talks.

To Dr. Ellison J. Morris and Dr. Zimmerman, who have been unremitting in the faithful discharge of their duties as our Physician and Oculist, the Household and Managers join in expressing deep appreciation and thanks.

As we look forward into all that the new year may bring, we may be cheered by the record of the past, "full with the blessing of the Lord;" by the promise for the present, "Underneath are the everlasting arms;" for the future, "Lo! I am with you alway."

Respectfully submitted,

MARY E. B. PEROT.

JANUARY 1ST, 1905.

REPORT OF THE ASSOCIATES OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

A MEETING of the Associates has been held in the past year, during the winter months, on the second Tuesday of the month. There are twenty-five Associates, with an average attendance of twelve at the meetings. There are also twenty-eight Contributing Associates who are not required to attend the meetings, but who contribute to the work by their dues and by their interest in the House. The teas were also held, as usual, on the third Tuesday of the month, excepting in Lent, and at the February tea there was music.

At each meeting Miss Sanford's report is read, which keeps the Associates in touch with the Deaconesses in distant fields. The reports of the work of the students are also read. The Associates sent $10 to Miss Pew for her work among the colored people in the northern part of the city; also $10 was sent to Miss Callaway for her work in Kentucky. When Mrs. Dixon received a letter from Miss Parkhill, in Florida, asking for a piano, it seemed an almost impossible request, but through the energy of Mrs. George L. Morris a second-hand piano was obtained, and the money was also raised by the Associates for sending and boxing it. At the same time Mrs. Morris was able to get a piano for Miss Pew, which will be much appreciated by the music-loving colored people in her district.

The Associates raised during the spring over $200 towards the salary of a Resident at St. Martha's House, which was forwarded to Miss Colesberry by Mrs. Dixon.

The Christmas stockings were prepared by the Associates and distributed to sick children by the students. Besides what was given towards this object by the Associates, Miss Sanford reported a contribution from Mrs. Earl B. Putnam, one of the Contributing Associates. The Associates have also undertaken to put a window in the Chapel. Mrs. Goodrich has received, so far, $19 towards it.

Mrs. Goodrich was elected President of the Associates in place of Mrs. Dixon, who resigned her position with much regret, but who feels that she leaves it in good hands. The work is going on with the same interest as in the past, and with the new members now coming in we hope for renewed energy and interest in the future.

Respectfully submitted,

MARGARETTA S. DIXON.

JANUARY 12th, 1905.

REPORT OF HOUSE MOTHER.

Graduating Class.—The graduating exercises of the Class of 1904 were held in the Chapel on Thursday, May 26th, at 4.30 P. M., when eight students received diplomas.

The ten weeks spent in the Hospital Training this summer was most satisfactory, though in August two members of the Class of 1905 were called to the foreign field—Miss Carrie A. Palmer to Shanghai and Miss Margaretta Ridgely to Africa.

One candidate from the Class of 1904 was set apart as Deaconess by Bishop Vincent in Cincinnati, where she is working on the Cathedral staff. Two others were admitted to the order on All Saints' Day by the Right Rev. O. W. Whitaker, D. D., LL. D., in the Church of the Atonement, West Philadelphia. Rev. B. W. R. Tayler, formerly of Los Angeles, who was to present one of the candidates, kindly consented to conduct the Quiet Hour service and intercessions of the preceding day.

Junior Class.—Five of the entering class this fall hope to become foreign missionaries. One of these is a graduate nurse expecting to work in Shanghai, and for her, with Bishop Graves' warm approval, a new line of training has been begun. The Episcopal Hospital allows her to work two days each week in the Drug Department and in the Eye and Ear Dispensary. Unlike most of our city hospitals, the Episcopal does not depend upon neighboring druggists, but puts up its own prescriptions, so affording a valuable training in this work, which in China has to be done by the medical staff. We are most grateful to the Hospital Board and to the officers in charge of these departments for this great favor.

Changes.—In consequence of Dr. Nelson's election as Bishop Coadjutor of Albany, we lost two instructors whom it will be difficult to replace: Dr. Nelson as our lecturer on Revelation, and Dr. Schulte in Pastoral Work. Dr. Egbert has been one of our faithful lecturers from the first, but his professional duties have become engrossing, and as parts of his course are now duplicated by work in other departments, it was decided to use the time for other things. He has promised, however, to give several lectures to each class on sanitation and kindred subjects, taking the time in the senior year in connection with the course on "Charitable Work." Rev. George Bartlett, who taught the Catholic Epistles last year, found himself unable to continue the work; we remember gratefully his ready help in an emergency and regret his resignation.

On Sundays the Chaplain, Rev. Dr. Robinson, never fails to hold the early celebration in the school chapel, and on the saints' days Rev. George Gunnell comes with a like willing spirit.

No one connected with the school can look over the list of the Faculty and Instructors of the Church Training and Deaconess House without a thrill of pride at realizing the learning, talent, and devoted work given so freely by these members of the Diocese to advance this cause.

Our school offers the same privileges to students from any part of the continent as to those from Pennsylvania. There is no discrimination made in giving scholarships or in vacation privileges. Yet it is our own Diocese that furnishes all the financial support outside of the regular fees, and it is the clergy and members of the Diocese who furnish the instruction. I wish we could make some return to the Diocese by helping more in the poor missions and parishes. Often clergymen apply for a trained worker to canvass, to prepare confirmation classes, or to do some special work which they, single-handed, cannot do properly in addition to already heavy tasks. They can often pay a small sum for such service when the support of a Deaconess is quite out of the question. Such missions need help, but when women come here for study, with their time limited to two years, I cannot take them from the well-organized parishes, where they are learning the best methods, and send them off where they will see less than in their own homes and learn only from bitter experience. Some day I hope we may have scholarships providing for a third year of study on condition that half the time shall be devoted to this work under the direction of the Diocesan Board.

Miss Biddle, at St. Barnabas', Deaconess Colesberry, at St. Martha's, Deaconess Pew, in the Colored Mission, St. Peter's House, the City Mission, the Charity Organization, and the Episcopal Hospital Training School for Nurses are our most kind helpers in the practical work outside. St. Martha's becomes more valuable to us every year, and we rejoice to know that it has grown so much as to justify its incorporation as a separate institution and will publish its own reports henceforth.

Our Associates have given much happiness this year by providing delightful little "outings" for the students and by making us their almoners in distributing ninety-three Christmas stockings to children who would otherwise have had nothing.

The Church Students' Missionary Association met in Alexandria, Va., and our two delegates were most delightfully entertained by our old friends, Dr. and Mrs. Micou. The delegates brought back an interesting report of the Church Students' Missionary Association Convention and pleasant memories of the old Seminary.

The Managers' report mentions a reduction in terms from $250 to the former sum of $200 per annum. As the increased rate has proved a mistake, and as it was partly due to my persuasion, my influence, that the terms were raised, I presume upon your patience to say a few words in explanation. The income from the Bishop Potter Memorial Fund pays for taxes, repairs of buildings, etc.; $200 per annum just covers the running expenses of the House during the school year, but both sources together do not give any balance towards salaries and keeping the House open through the summer vacation. It did not seem any more right for an institution than for an individual to spend $1,000 per annum beyond its income, trusting to friends to make up the deficiency. Of course in our early days this is excusable, but not as a lifelong policy. I found that the additional $50 would balance accounts, but acknowledge that it was rash to undertake this plan before securing the co-operation of other training schools. This we find to be impossible, and hence have returned to former rates. But I must say, like the old professor of chemistry, "Our experiment has failed, but the principle remains the same."

Five years ago, the alumnæ started an "Endowment Fund" to meet this need. If those who have helped thus far in founding the school will aid us, it might be desirable to raise a fund of $30,000 to provide for the expenses not covered by the income from students. After the first promoters of the work have passed away, it will be easier to interest the Diocese at large in raising scholarships than in making up annual deficits.

The death of dear Miss Anne Sanders, one of our first and firmest friends, reminds us that we cannot expect that we, who were here from the first, can have many more years in which to work on earth.

Respectfully submitted,

CAROLINE H. SANFORD,
House Mother.

ANNUAL REPORT.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

In presenting this the Fifteenth Annual Report of the Church Training and Deaconess House, we must first express our gratitude to the "Giver of all good things" for the many mercies and encouragements that have crowned the year. The house, so commodious, and, as far as completed, so well equipped, and by the great kindness and generosity of warm friends entirely free from all indebtedness, is in itself a subject of thankfulness. The School year opened with the largest and a most promising class; among them several who are looking forward to mission work at home or abroad.

One of these is a Chinese lady, who has come to us that she may be fitted for work among her own people in Hankow. Being a widow and a woman of high position, she will have opportunities of reaching the women. Her quickness in study and in mastering our language is very noticeable.

Again we extend our thanks to the band of teachers, clerical and lay, men and women, who give such devoted assistance—a free-will offering to the service of God.

Nor must we omit to mention with great appreciation the ready help of the Associates. Always ready to forward any scheme for adding to the pleasure of the students or for extending their work, they have proved themselves a most invaluable addition to the ranks.

One noteworthy point in the work must not be overlooked, for it seems of great importance: this is the "hospitality without grudging" which is offered to God's servants in the Church.

The new missionary just starting out on her untried labors, the weary one coming home for a well-earned rest, others passing to and fro with their various messages, find here a place to pause and gather fresh strength and refreshment, which the word of love and sympathy in a common interest always gives, that so they may take courage and go on.

When we consider the large household with the varied characters and dispositions gathered together, we are impressed with the harmony and peace which pervades the house, and can but feel that the Spirit of Love is there, and that a wise hand is guiding it.

Again, in closing, we ask most urgently for the support in interest, sympathy, and gifts, but above all in prayers, of all who are joined with us in the bonds of our Holy Faith.

Respectfully submitted,

ESTHER PARRY AERTSEN.

REPORT OF THE ASSOCIATES OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

FROM December, 1904, it is my pleasant duty to report that the meetings of the Associates, held on the second Tuesday of each month, have been most interesting, the average attendance being greater than in previous years. Every third Tuesday in each month during the Winter the Associates have given teas at the House, which have been the means of bringing the students and Associates closer to one another.

Deaconess Sanford has, from time to time, sent reports giving an account of different fields of work of both students and deaconesses.

The Associates have collected and given as follows:—

For a memorial window in Chapel	$30 00
For the needs of the House	25 00
For the work of graduates (Women's Auxiliary, Chestnut Hill)	5 20
For the work of graduates (Associates)	214 00
For students' outings—(Associates)	10 00
For the Church of the Advent	10 00
Total	$299 00

The Associates have made donations in kind, besides these gifts of money including second-hand clothing and other articles for the "Mothers' sales," some valuable additions to the recreation library, and their annual gift of the Christmas stockings to be distributed by the graduate workers of the Training School to fifty little children who would otherwise have no Christmas presents.

Looking backward through the year now past, it is a pleasure to record the earnestness of all those interested in our work, and the consummation of many hopes. We have cause for great thankfulness in having accomplished so much, and we earnestly pray that the coming year may prove to be one of which still more will be realized.

Respectfully submitted,

HELEN G. GOODRICH,
President.

JANUARY 16th, 1906.

REPORT OF HOUSE MOTHER.

THERE were six graduates in this year's class, but only two have as yet been admitted to the Deaconess Order. It is becoming more and more the practice for candidates to work for a year or two, testing their vocation, before they are made Deaconesses.

Deaconess Walker had a severe and protracted illness last Winter, and in consequence felt obliged to resign as Assistant House Mother and take very light parish work for awhile. We were all much attached to her, but the change seemed necessary for her sake. Her place has not yet been filled, but I have been given instead the services of a secretary for two hours daily, as the business correspondence of the School had become too confining.

The Faculty remains unchanged except by the welcome addition of the Rev. F. M. Tait, as instructor in the Catholic Epistles. To quote Bishop Whitaker's words, "Our Faculty are equal to that of any divinity school in our country," and we cannot rate too highly the advantage given this School through their generous and whole-hearted service.

Several ladies who wished to attend the lectures at the Church Training and Deaconess House felt that they needed preparatory study. Such preparation may now be obtained through the "Bishop Whitaker Course for Sunday-school Teachers."

Besides the normal classes in cooking and sewing, in the House, the Juniors have classes in kitchen gardens, sewing schools, and mothers' meetings. Until recently they all worked under experienced directresses in well-equipped parishes. This year we have in addition the entire conduct of three mission kitchen gardens, and are extending our work in several directions under the supervision of a Committee on Practical Work, selected from the Board of Managers; we thus are able to provide training for our increasing numbers.

All the students took Summer work this year, most of the Class of 1906 being at the Episcopal Hospital. They go trembling and return full of enthusiasm.

There is a noticeable spirit of loyalty and kindness in our large household. Last year our returning delegates, acting upon a hint received at the Church Students' Missionary Association Conference in Alexandria, Va., formed class prayer circles, meeting each in its little room at the close of the noon-day chapel prayers for missions. We thankfully trace the growth of the School, spiritually and numerically, to the prayers of "our girls" and of older friends.

Our Missionary Society is now a branch of the Church Students' Missionary Association, making a full report through that Society. It is enough to say here that we continue our connection with this diocesan Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary, and have our weekly mission study class, with monthly lectures by Rev. R. B. Kimber.

The Church Students' Missionary Association Conference met in Cambridge, Mass., this year, when our two delegates were most kindly entertained by Dean Irwin of Radcliffe College, formerly one of our Managers.

A meeting was held by the local Alumnæ of this School, January 5th, 1906, to consider the formation of an Association. The attention of all our graduates and missionaries is called to the statement of the purpose, terms of membership, and other particulars published on page 24 of this report, and we hope that before the School year closes they will organize themselves into a band of devoted women to help in extending and strengthening the work of the School.

Respectfully submitted,

CAROLINE H. SANFORD,
House Mother.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE DEACONESS RETIRING FUND SOCIETY, 1905.

At the annual meeting, October 6th, 1905, the President, Rev. J. DeWolf Perry, D. D., presided, and opened the meeting with prayer. Eight members were present. As the former Secretary had moved to Illinois, Deaconess Colesberry was elected to her office.

The Treasurer, Deaconess Sanford, reported as follows:—

Balance in hand	$304 45
Received from dues	245 00
" through Offertory	37 15
" " Rev. Dr. Perry	25 00
Interest	79 55
	$691 15
Previously invested	2,000 00

CAROLINE H. SANFORD,
Treasurer.

Audited and found correct:
ELIZABETH WALKER,
MINNIE S. PERKINS.

Three questions of importance were asked, as follows:—

1. Could those whose payment to the Deaconess Retiring Fund had lapsed for three or four years be allowed to resume payments where they left off, instead of at the date of resumption?

2. Could a Deaconess who entered her name on graduation, but who omitted to pay for several years, make up back payments?

3. Could a Deaconess, graduate of the School, upon entering several years later, be allowed to make up back payments from the time she graduated?

The Society resolved that permission could be given in all three cases, provided the amount included five per cent. compound interest for the several payments, and the Deaconess so paying was under forty-five years of age.

Deaconess Josephine, a new member, was admitted, and the Secretary instructed to write to others.

Respectfully submitted,

APPENDIX.

[From the Digest of the Canons of the General Convention.]

Canon XX.—Of Deaconesses.

Section I. A woman of devout character and proved fitness, unmarried or widowed, may be appointed Deaconess by any Bishop of this Church. Such appointment shall be vacated by marriage.

Sec. II. The duty of a Deaconess is to assist the Minister in the care of the poor and sick, the religious training of the young and others, and the work of moral reformation.

Sec. III. No woman shall be appointed Deaconess until she shall be at least twenty-three years of age, nor until she shall have laid before the Bishop testimonials certifying that she is a communicant of this Church in good standing, and that she possesses such characteristics as, in the judgment of the persons testifying, fit her for at least one of the duties above defined. The testimonial of fitness shall be signed by two Presbyters of this Church, and by twelve lay communicants of the same, six of whom shall be women. The Bishop shall also satisfy himself that the applicant has had an adequate preparation for her work, both technical and religious, which preparation shall have covered the period of two years.

Sec. IV. No Deaconess shall accept work in a Diocese without the express authority, in writing, of the Bishop of that Diocese; nor shall she undertake work in a Parish without the like authority from the Rector of the Parish.

SEC. V. When not connected with a Parish, the Deaconess shall be under the direct oversight of the Bishop of the Diocese in which she is canonically resident. A Deaconess may be transferred from one Diocese to another by Letters Testimonial.

SEC. VI. A Deaconess may at any time resign her office to the Ecclesiastical Authority of the Diocese in which she is at the time canonically resident, but she may not be suspended or removed from office except by the Bishop for cause, with the consent of the Standing Committee, and after a hearing before the Bishop and the Standing Committee.

SEC. VII. No woman shall be recognized as a Deaconess until she has been set apart for that office by an appropriate religious service, to be prescribed by the General Convention, or, in the absence of such prescription, by the Bishop.

EXTRACTS FROM THE BY-LAWS.

Article VIII.

Section 1. Applicants for admission must be at least eighteen years of age, in good health, of fair scholarship, of good moral and religious character, and shall present satisfactory recommendations.*

Sec. 2. Applicants for admission as special non-resident students may be admitted by the Warden, House Mother, or President of the Board of Managers.

Sec. 3. The students of the House shall comprise four classes:—

1. Those who have been received as visitors.

2. Those who enter for general training or instruction and have no desire to become Deaconesses. These will be called Special Students.

3. Those who desire to become candidates for the office of Deaconess. These will be called Probationers.

4. Those who have been admitted as candidates for the office of Deaconess. These will be called Candidates.

Sec. 4. A Probationer may be admitted a Candidate for the office of Deaconess by the Bishop, upon the recommendation of the Warden, House Mother, and Admission Committee.

* See questions for applicants, page 34.

SEC. 5. Upon the satisfactory completion of the prescribed course of study and training, the Candidate shall receive a testimonial to that effect from the Warden, House Mother, and the Faculty, which shall be considered as a guarantee that she has had the "adequate preparation" required by the Canon of Deaconesses.

A Special Student, whether resident or non-resident, upon the satisfactory completion of any one course of study or of training, may receive from her instructor a written certificate of that fact, and on the satisfactory completion of the whole course she may receive the testimonial signed by the Bishop, Warden, and House Mother.

ARTICLE IX.

SECTION 1. The charges for resident students, including tuition, training, and the use of necessary books, shall be $200 for the school year, payable semi-annually, in October and February.

Non-residents may be admitted to instruction in any single branch without charge.

SEC. 2. All residents shall be entitled to remain in the House during the year, but those remaining between May and October shall perform then, as at other times, such duties as may be assigned them by the House Mother or the Bishop.

ARTICLE X.

The regular school year shall begin on the first Wednesday in October, and shall end on the last Tuesday in May. In addition to this, however, at least ten weeks of Hospital service or other practical work shall be required of all candidates and of all other students who elect to remain in the House during the summer. If other work be substituted for Hospital service the fact must be clearly stated in the certificate of graduation.

There are two recesses, one of two weeks at Christmas, the other of one week, beginning on the Wednesday before Easter.

Article XI.

When Candidates shall have completed the prescribed course of study and training and shall have been admitted to the Order of Deaconess, they may be entitled to make the House their headquarters and their home, subject to such regulations as may be hereafter adopted as an addition to these By-Laws by the Board of Managers.

George C. Thomas was duly elected Treasurer and Ewing L. Miller, Secretary of the Corporation.

The Bishop announced the reappointment of the Rev. J. DeWolf Perry, D.D., as Warden, Deaconess Caroline H. Sanford as House Mother, and the present Board of Managers for the ensuing year.

The Treasurer reported for the Committee on Finance, as appointed at the last Annual Meeting, having made the following investments:—

For the Endowment Fund, $3,000 United States Steel 5 per cent. Sinking Fund Bonds.

For the McVickar Fund, $1,000 Reading Jersey Central Collateral Trust 4 per cent. Bonds.

At the suggestion of the Treasurer and upon recommendation of the Finance Committee, it was ordered that the securities belonging to the various funds of the Corporation be deposited with the Pennsylvania Company for Insurances on Lives and Granting Annuities under a Deed of Trust establishing that Company as the Attorney-in-fact for such securities for the Custodianship of same and collection of income therefrom, the same to be paid to the Treasurer.

Upon further suggestion of the Treasurer and upon motion, it was—

Resolved, That the "BISHOP WHITAKER ANNIVERSARY FUND," when received, shall be invested, not restricting such investments to so called "legal securities," and that these investments come under the resolution above referred to regarding the Pennsylvania Company; and further that any balance left over should be handed to them in cash so as to keep the fund intact and separate from any other trust funds and known by this name.

Upon motion, it was ordered for the current year that the Treasurer be instructed to turn over to the Board of Managers all income from the Endowment Fund for current expenses.

Upon motion, it was ordered that for the ensuing year all income from the "Bishop Whitaker Anniversary Fund" shall be added to principal.

Upon motion, it was—

Resolved, That for the current year the President, Secretary, and Treasurer be appointed a Committee on Finance to whom all matters of the investment of endowments and permanent funds shall be committed and other questions of a financial nature.

Upon motion, then adjourned.

EWING L. MILLER,
Secretary.

ANNUAL REPORT.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:—

As this, our Sixteenth Annual Report, is sent out, we are glad to say that we have a large number of students this year, twenty-seven in all. They represent eighteen dioceses, from Vermont, on the east, to the Hawaiian Islands and Japan in the west. To accommodate this number, we have furnished five more rooms, leaving nine rooms still to be completed when the need for them arises. Our two large houses are admirably adapted to their uses, and, thanks to our generous friends, let me remind you, entirely free from debt.

We wish that every one in the diocese might know of the work that is being done here, and of the advantages that are freely offered to all, so that a larger number, especially of Sunday School teachers, might take advantage of these opportunities.

The year that has just passed has brought no changes in our Board of Managers or Faculty, and the work has gone on uninterruptedly and faithfully. As our seniors and graduates are often called upon to speak in public, we have added this year a class to fit them for this important part of their work, and have secured the services of an able instructor.

Our new Committee in the Practical Work of the students has proved to be a valuable one. This committee visits the various classes, mothers' meetings, Girls' Friendly Societies, etc., where the students are at work, thus giving them sympathy and encouragement, and in reporting to the Board of Managers, keeps them in touch with what each student is doing.

With the increasing number of students our expenses increase, and we have had to make many appeals to kind and interested friends. Our Endowment Fund has heretofore been too small to produce any appreciable income. To it has been added this year our first legacy,—a bequest of $2000 by Miss Frances E. Bennett, one of our founders.

Again, we would thank our faculty and instructors for their devoted services; our Associates for their ever ready help, both to the students and to the graduates; and our physician for his conscientious and skillful attention whenever called upon.

In closing we must express our gratitude for all the encouragements that have come to us, year by year. They make us look forward confidently to the future, with a very real faith that this work is well-pleasing unto the Lord.

E. C. PAGE,
Secretary.

REPORT OF THE ASSOCIATES OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

A meeting of the Associates has been held in the past year during the winter on the second Tuesday of each month. There are twenty-six active members and thirty contributing members. Teas are given by the Associates every third Tuesday in the month, from October to February, resulting in better acquaintance with the students and permitting friends of the students to attend so as to learn of their work.

Our principal effort has been in helping the Deaconesses in their various fields of labor towards which we have given—

To Deaconess Leslie, for Chapel Midnight Mission		$10 00
" "	Parkhill for own use	5 00
" "	Babcock for own use	5 00
" "	Rearden for Boys' Club	5 00
" "	Sanford for 2 reading lamps	10 00
" "	Parkhill for cot	10 50
" sick laundress at Deaconess House		3 00
Total		$48 50

A quantity of partly worn clothing and shoes has been sent from time to time to the Deaconess House to be distributed to the worthy poor.

A beautiful wainscoting has been placed in the chancel of the Chapel by the Associates as a token of love and respect for their chairman, Mrs. Effiingham Perot.

One hundred and seventeen Christmas stockings were prepared by the Associates and distributed to sick children by the students, bringing joy and cheer to many a destitute home.

The reports of the students' practical work have been read at the monthly meetings; and we also have had most interesting letters from the House Mother.

The Emergency Closet has been of great practical use, during the past year. We have received from the sales of maternity bundles, $21.80 and many bundles have been given to mothers without charge. Money received from these sales is used to purchase new material for other bundles.

During the summer, the Associates hemmed the much needed table linen.

It gives me great pleasure to report the Associates as always most willing to assist in any suggested work, and loyal in their desire to forward the interests of the House as well as that of the Deaconesses.

Respectfully submitted,

HELEN G. GOODRICH,

President.

January 30th, 1907.

REPORT OF THE HOUSE MOTHER.

Again we can report a year of prosperity. We graduated six members of the class of 1906 in full course; of whom four were candidates for the Deaconess Order. The present senior class numbers twelve members and the junior class fifteen.

On All Saints Day two graduates, Pauline Neidhart and Harriet Rearden, were set apart as deaconesses by Bishop Whitaker in Calvary Church, Germantown; at this service the Bishop had the Thanksgiving for the safe arrival of Gertrude Stewart in Hankow, after a dangerous voyage and shipwreck, and of Serena Laning in Tokyo—these being two absent members of the class.

Earlier in the year, Mabel Whitcomb had been set apart in her own parish church in Washington, where she is to work. As the Warden explained at the service, the candidates now are advised to wait and test their vocation by working for several years after graduation before being set apart, and then are likely to have the service of admission in the parish where they are working at the time. After the service in the Church, the whole school, with the Bishop and visiting deaconesses, were delightfully entertained in the parish house adjoining.

There was no change in the staff of Instructors this autumn except that we had the pleasure of adding the name of Miss Hacker as teacher of elocution. In last year's report I spoke of "The Bishop Whitaker Course for Sunday School Teachers," then just beginning. Classes were formed at the "Church of Our Saviour," Jenkintown, at St. Barnabas', and at the Church Training and Deaconess House. The results of the examinations in May were most gratifying to the Examiners appointed by the Bishop, and the work has already resulted in securing a candidate for the ministry, and two if not four more trained women workers for the Church.

The advance movement in the school marking this year has been the organization of an Alumnæ Association in January, 1906, with the two-fold purpose of "united prayer for the House, its activities, and all members; and united effort to further the interests of the House." There was long delay in starting the organization, but we now have forty active members and two associate members; the Intercessory Committee is about to send out a leaflet embodying its work for the last few months; the majority of the present Junior Class have come to us through the efforts or influence of our Alumnæ; and its members have contributed nearly $700 towards the endowment fund since last spring.

The practical training of the students is carried on as usual by assigning them to work in the Sunday schools and parochial organizations of the Diocese wherever they can give or receive marked benefit. Thanks to Miss Richmond, the seniors are still allowed to receive her invaluable training in Organized Relief Work as volunteer workers. Every year St. Martha's grows more valuable to us as a training place in all lines of weekday work for the Church; this year we celebrated its fifth anniversary, and the large company present listened to the Bishop's tribute to the character of the Deaconess in charge and the influence of her work upon the neighborhood feeling that "the half had not been told" and cannot be till the day when the record kept on high is made known.

There is usually a month after school opens in October before the parochial societies in which the students are engaged begin their winter work. This time was profitably employed this year by lending the students as canvassers to overworked clergymen in the missions of St. George's, St. Augustine's, St. John Evangelist's, and elsewhere. They made hundreds of house to house calls, revising the clergymen's calling lists, reporting new families, and people for baptism, confirmation, etc. When desired, they made a card index. The clergy wrote most gratefully of the help thus given, it was valuable experience for the students, and we hope in this way we can become more and more useful to the Diocese.

There have been three conventions within the year in connection with which we have had the pleasure of entertaining delegates:—the National Convention of Charities and Corrections, the Church Congress, and the C. S. M. A.

Among our many delightful guests we remember particularly our two missionaries, Clara Neely of Japan, and Charlotte (Mason) Littell of Hankow.

Within this year, we have to record the death of three who have been identified with the school from its early history: Miss Frances Bennett who was a charter member of the Board of Managers; Deaconess Emily Taylor Rodman who entered as a student the first year of the school and has been among its most devoted and beloved daughters; and Rev. Dr. W. P. Lewis, who joined the staff of instructors in 1898, and only resigned on account of failing strength a short time before his death.

The growth of the school is encouraging but does not at all keep pace with the overwhelming number of applications for workers. The most urgent of these appeals, however, do not come from places where conditions are desirable from a worldly point of view. The need is for the best women, those who are most useful and successful in secular life and yet who count it a privilege to give all they are and have to help win the victory for Christ.

Respectfully submitted,

CAROLINE H. SANFORD,

Deaconess.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE DEACONESS RETIRING FUND SOCIETY, 1906.

At the Annual Meeting, October 4th, 1906, the President, Rev. J. DeWolf Perry, D.D., presided and opened the meeting with prayer. Six members were present. The elections for the year were as follows:—Trustees, Deaconesses Ridgely and Colesberry; Treasurer, Deaconess Sanford; Secretary, Deaconess Colesberry.

The Treasurer, Deaconess Sanford, reported—

TREASURER'S REPORT, October 1st, 1905, to October 1st, 1906.

Total for year ending Oct. 1st, 1906	$1,144 12
Purchase of Lehigh Valley R. R. bond	1,006 75
Balance on hand	$137 37
Whole amount invested, 1906	1,000 00
Previously invested	2,000 00
Total amount, Oct. 1st, 1906	$3,137 37

CAROLINE H. SANFORD, Treasurer.

The "Ryemoor" account could not be given as certain sums were to come in and others still to be paid out. We hope to have a balance of $16.00. It was explained, by request, that Ryemoor was a gift to the Diocese of Pennsylvania for the D. R. F. Society; Rev. L. M. Robinson, D.D., and Deaconess Sanford being Trustees for life.

It having been reported that various members of the Society had not signed the application blanks, and as there were no printed forms to send to new applicants, it was voted to have one hundred and fifty copies printed at once.

Respectfully submitted,

JEAN W. COLESBERRY.

APPENDIX.

[From the Digest of the Canons of the General Convention.]

CANON XX.—OF DEACONESSES.

SECTION I. A woman of devout character and proved fitness, unmarried or widowed, may be appointed Deaconess by any Bishop of this Church. Such appointment shall be vacated by marriage.

SEC. II. The duty of a Deaconess is to assist the Minister in the care of the poor and sick, the religious training of the young and others, and the work of moral reformation.

SEC. III. No woman shall be appointed Deaconess until she shall be at least twenty-three years of age, nor until she shall have laid before the Bishop testimonials certifying that she is a communicant of this Church in good standing, and that she possesses such characteristics as, in the judgment of the persons testifying, fit her for at least one of the duties above defined. The testimonial of fitness shall be signed by two Presbyters of this Church, and by twelve lay communicants of the same, six of whom shall be women. The Bishop shall also satisfy himself that the applicant has had an adequate preparation for her work, both technical and religious, which preparation shall have covered the period of two years.

SEC. IV. No Deaconess shall accept work in a Diocese without the express authority, in writing, of the Bishop of that Diocese; nor shall she undertake work in a Parish without the like authority from the Rector of the Parish.

SEC. V. When not connected with a Parish, the Deaconess shall be under the direct oversight of the Bishop of the Diocese in which she is canonically resident. A Deaconess may be transferred from one Diocese to another by Letters Testimonial.

SEC. VI. A Deaconess may at any time resign her office to the Ecclesiastical Authority of the Diocese in which she is at the time canonically resident, but she may not be suspended or removed from office except by the Bishop for cause, with the consent of the Standing Committee, and after a hearing before the Bishop and the Standing Committee.

SEC. VII. No woman shall be recognized as a Deaconess until she has been set apart for that office by an appropriate religious service, to be prescribed by the General Convention, or, in the absence of such prescription, by the Bishop.

EXTRACTS FROM THE BY-LAWS.

ARTICLE VIII.

SECTION 1. Applicants for admission must be at least eighteen years of age, in good health, of fair scholarship, of good moral and religious character, and shall present satisfactory recommendations.*

---

* See questions for applicants, page 33.

SEC. 2. Applicants for admission as special non-resident students may be admitted by the Warden, House Mother, or President of the Board of Managers.

2. Those who enter for general training or instruction and have no desire to become Deaconesses. These will be called Special Students.

3. Those who desire to become candidates for the office of Deaconess. These will be called Probationers.

4. Those who have been admitted as candidates for the office of Deaconess. These will be called Candidates.

SEC. 4. A Probationer may be admitted a Candidate for the office of Deaconess by the Bishop, upon the recommendation of the Warden, House Mother, and Admission Committee.

SEC. 5. Upon the satisfactory completion of the prescribed course of study and training, the Candidate shall receive a testimonial to that effect from the Warden, House Mother, and the Faculty, which shall be considered as a guarantee that she has had the "adequate preparation" required by the Canon of Deaconesses.

In addition to this, however, at least ten weeks of Hospital service or other practical work shall be required of all candidates and of all other students who elect to remain in the House during the summer. If other work be substituted for Hospital service the fact must be clearly stated in the certificate of graduation.

There are two recesses, one of two weeks at Christmas, the other of one week, beginning on the Wednesday before Easter.

Report of the Board of Managers.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:—

In presenting our Seventeenth Annual Report it is with deep gratitude that we record a significant step toward the permanence and usefulness of this work in the generous gift of the Bishop of the Diocese. The House, of which he was one of the founders, has always received his loving care, and last February, when he gave to our endowment the whole of the Anniversary Fund presented to him by the Diocese, he set the seal of his approval upon the Church Training and Deaconess House. This has been called "the Bishop Whitaker Anniversary Fund," and his name will ever be connected with the work to which he has given so much of his time and strength.

We earnestly invite the Churchwomen and workers in Philadelphia to visit the school and see the opportunities for training in special lines which are not only adapted to those who wish to become deaconesses and missionaries, but which are helpful to all interested in Church work.

Again we thank the Faculty who so faithfully give their best to our students year by year, and we wish to express our sincere sympathy to the Rev. Mr. Eastman, who has been obliged to resign on account of ill health.

We also thank the Associates for their interest in the students and graduates and our house physician for his ever ready kindness and care.

We would call the attention of our contributors to the fund known as the E. C. McVickar Fund, the interest of which is used to give useful books to our graduates. It will be readily understood that these absolutely necessary tools for work are very often impossible to obtain in their far-off missionary fields, and an increase of this fund would enable us to accomplish much real good. But beyond all material things, we ask for united prayers that God will put it into the hearts of many faithful women to give themselves to the work of the Master, and that this House may be the means of guiding many into the joy of service.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH S. CARRYL.

Report of the Associates of the Board of Managers.

It affords me great pleasure to report that at present there are thirty-three active and thirty contributing Associates. The monthly meetings have been fully attended every second Tuesday in the month, from October until May.. From time to time we have had most interesting talks and letters from the House Mother. At every meeting our Chairman, Mrs. Effingham Perot, gives us a detailed report from the Board of Managers, and the students reports are also read; with these valuable helps we are kept in touch with the many branches of work in the House.

The emergency closet is continually being drawn upon for needs of the worthy poor and replenished by the Associates. During the summer, the table linen for the House was hemmed and returned in the autumn ready for use. Religious books and partly worn clothing have been obtained and sent to the Deaconess House for distribution among the students to assist them in their various fields of labor.

At Christmas time, the Associates collected 187 stockings for children, filled with toys and candies; these were given to the poor children with whom the students were brought in contact and with happy results to both children and their parents. Each stocking contained the mate as well as the gifts.

On every third Tuesday in the month, from October until Lent, the Associates have given a Tea to welcome the new students and their friends, and to afford us the opportunity to extend to them our sympathy and encourage them in the life work they are undertaking.

Money expended from January, 1907, to January, 1908:

St. Martha's Building Fund	$5 00
Mrs. Lam, for daughter's scholarship	20 00
Deaconess Sanford, for outings	10 00
Deaconess Sanford, for Ryemoor	10 00
Table silver for Deaconess House	11 70
Printing Tea Cards and Sundries	4 55
Total	$61 25

We received from sale of maternity bundles $19.00, and expended same amount for new material.

The Associates are a most willing and earnest body of workers, always deeming it a privilege to help the Deaconess and House in any way. Praying God may bless our work and that it may grow larger in such time and manner as shall be for His glory, the above is

Respectfully submitted.

HELEN G. GOODRICH,
President.

Report of the House Mother.

As Commencement approached with the last week of May, we suddenly realized that the school had outgrown our Chapel accommodations, unless we excluded our own graduates and the nearest relatives of those to be graduated. Happily, the use of the Chapel in the Church House was offered us by the Bishop, and proved commodious and appropriate, as emphasizing our relation to the Diocese. Of the graduating class, numbering ten, Deaconess Clarke remains in the school as Assistant House Mother; Miss Newbold has gone to Japan; Miss Kelton to Cuba; Miss Harriman to the Indians; Miss LeCompte to the Ragged Mountain Missions; Miss Brainerd to the New York City Mission; Miss Peet to the Cathedral, Cleveland, Ohio; Miss Ross and Miss Minot to their homes in New England parishes; and Miss Correll is taking a year in Teacher's College preparatory to Mission work.

The students could not all go to the Episcopal Hospital this summer, and a new opportunity was presented to us through the kindness of Miss Harriet Morand, Superintendent of a Children's Hospital at New Dorp, Staten Island. Our thanks are due, both to her and to Miss Payne of the Episcopal Hospital, for the interest and care shown; far beyond anything that could be asked, but most gratefully appreciated.

The School opened a week later than usual this October on account of the General Convention, and was not in full running order until November, for the same reason. The course of study and practical training is unchanged, except that in Sociology we have combined several agencies into a more effective course. Thanks to the assistance of Miss Fisher, Miss Parrish, Miss Richmond of the Society for Organizing Charity and to Prof. Kelsey of the University, our seniors have the benefit of the University lectures, and work out the practical side in S. O. C. cases, under the advice of their experienced leaders in conference.

Two graduates have been admitted to the Deaconess Order this year, Rosabelle Thompson, '05, and Edith C. Clarke, '07. The Alumnæ have adopted a school pin, to be worn only by graduates in full course. The design, which has been approved by the authorities as the school seal, was drawn for us by the Rev. H. M. Medary, and so is sure to be "correct" in heraldry as well as most satisfactory to all.

A large company of interested friends were present at the re-opening of St. Martha's, after alterations and enlargements which have more than trebled its capacity for neighborhood work. St. Martha's House is a six-year-old phenomenon, and we all feel a wondering pride in the gentle little deaconess whose work of love it is.

Among our visitors this year we have had the pleasure of entertaining the following missionaries: Bishop and Mrs. Roots of Hankow, Mrs. Lincoln of Shanghai, Miss Woodruff of Liberia, Miss Hicks of Manila, Deaconess Parkhill of Southern Florida, and Deaconess Drant of the Chinese Mission in San Francisco.

A set of tubular chimes now calls us to class and Chapel, in place of the discordant bell. The chimes are a gift from Miss Elizabeth Carryl in memory of her friend, Deaconess Emily T. Rodman.

The thoughtful kindness of our Associates has secured for the students many pleasures during the year in the way of concerts and outings, besides material aid in their charitable work. Our Chaplain, Rev. L. M. Robinson, D.D., and the Rev. George Gunnell have provided for an early Communion Service in the School Chapel on Sundays and Holy Days. On account of the practical work being done in parishes scattered throughout the city, it is only at these early services that we can meet together for the Communion.

We have the school enlarged to its final limit; a partial endowment well begun; a preparatory course arranged for applicants who need it; and post-graduate training provided at St. Martha's. It is seventeen years since this work began and soon another subject will demand careful consideration. I mean providing for those deaconesses whose working days are over, wholly or in part. Missionaries are supported by the United Offering; the Church worker exercises choice as to where she will work and does not sacrifice her family and personal interests. But the Deaconesses go where most needed, and rarely even ask what support will be provided. Their work lies for the most part in missions and parishes where the salaries just cover living expenses. Here they are so constantly engaged that for ten or eleven months of the year they are entirely separated from their relatives and personal friends. They give their best years to the Church, and before they are obliged to retire on account of failing strength let us strive to prepare a competence for their old age.

Eleven years ago, the Deaconesses began a Retiring Fund, which now amounts to over $3800. We also have had the gift of a small farm and furnished house in Maine which affords an inexpensive summer home for all, and may in time, with a resident manager, provide a refuge for those temporarily disabled. This is all the present provision, but we felt that if we did what we could, the rest would come when needed. Several leaders in the Deaconess work in other communions are facing this problem to-day, and have written or interviewed me as to what we intend to do. Our sisters in the Rochester Deaconess House, England, seem to have a plan worthy our consideration. They are accumulating a fund which, as I understand it, is to secure a small but living income to the retired deaconess. Where she has any income of her own, she receives sufficient from the fund to raise it to the stated amount; where she has nothing, she is provided for entirely from this source. Some such method is preferable to a "Home" and would probably be less expensive. Deaconesses all have friends or relatives whom they would like to be near in their last days, provided they need not be dependent upon them. Besides, Deaconesses must needs be strong and rather independent characters to carry the load of responsibility they do and to live such lonely lives; therefore it would be most difficult to order a Deaconess Home so as to give each one freedom, and yet secure the discipline necessary for a harmonious household. Where people begin the religious community life at eighteen, it becomes second nature; but to begin this experiment at sixty or seventy, with comparative strangers, all equally worn out with lifelong toil, and with unfamiliar rules and surroundings, would not be so easy. I wish that a committee of those skilled in such questions could take this matter in hand. There are probably half a dozen years before any of our graduates will be obliged to give up work, but even so the work of providing for them might well be at least planned during the coming year.

Respectfully submitted,

CAROLINE HAMLIN SANFORD,
House Mother.

Report of the Board of Trustees of the Deaconess Retiring Fund Society, 1906.

The annual meeting of the Deaconess Retiring Fund Society was called in October, 1906, and as all officers were in Richmond it was adjourned till January 16, 1907. Six members were present, and Rev. James De Wolf Perry, D.D., presided.

The Treasurer, Deaconess Sanford, reported as follows:

Audited and found correct,

EDITH CAMERON CLARKE.
JEAN W. COLESBERRY.

Deaconess Sanford reported that our Trustee, Rev. L. M. Robinson, D.D., had arranged for the repairs and taxes of Ryemoor, leaving our cash balance on hand untouched. This amounts to $37.80. Ryemoor will be open next summer from July 1st to Sept. 1st, and those wishing to go will please apply early in the spring.

An interesting discussion followed on the subject of providing for old and disabled deaconesses, and it was moved that the Deaconess Retiring Fund Society approve the formation of an increased retiring fund, as embodied in Deaconess Sanford's yearly report to the Managers of the Church Training and Deaconess House. Deaconesses Clark and Rearden were admitted as new members.

Respectfully submitted,

JEAN W. COLESBERRY,

The reports of the Board of Managers, including that of the Treasurer, the Associates, the House Mother and the Trustees of the Deaconess Retiring Fund, were read, accepted, and referred to a Committee on Publication, consisting of the Warden, House Mother, Miss Coles, Miss Randolph, and the Secretary, with instructions to print an edition of 1500 copies or less.

Upon the recommendation of the Board of Managers, the resolutions relative to the deaths of Miss Elizabeth N. Biddle and Miss Elisabeth Morris were unanimously adopted by a standing vote, and the Secretary was instructed to give appropriate place thereto in the Annual Report.

The Bishop, as President of the Board of Council, announced alterations in the By-Laws, which had been approved by it, changing the fiscal year to end September 30th, instead of January 1st.

Upon motion, the President, Secretary, and Treasurer were appointed a Committee on Finance to whom all matters of investment of endowments and permanent funds, and other questions of a financial nature, shall be committed.

Upon motion, then adjourned.

Attest:

EWING L. MILLER, Secretary.

Report of the Board of Managers.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:—

In presenting the Eighteenth Annual Report, we feel that while there is no special incident to chronicle, we can report a year of the quiet, steady growth and development that is as essential to the welfare of an institution, as the more striking events of momentous years.

As helping in this development, we gratefully acknowledge the debt we owe to the Faculty, without whose faithful services, freely given, our high standard of scholarship could not be maintained.

The Associates, too, have greatly helped us, both in material things, and in affording to the students an opportunity for recreation and social intercourse that must help to lessen the isolation of those from distant places, and make them feel that they are not strangers in a strange land, but members of a wide-spread family with the same purposes and sympathies.

Most of all is our appreciation due to the House Mother and her Assistant, whose untiring devotion to the work is far greater than will be chronicled in the House Mother's report for the year.

In the recent revision of the By-Laws, the chief alteration is that of changing the date of the fiscal year to September 30th, and of the Annual Meeting to November. This has been done with the object of presenting a clearer statement of the condition of the treasury at the beginning of the school year, and with the hope that more of our friends will be able to attend the Annual Meeting in November than in January, which latter month is one of the busiest in the year.

Notwithstanding the generosity of our friends in partially endowing this institution, we still need financial aid in Scholarships, but still more do we need helpful interest in our work and aims. We feel that the Church Training and Deaconess House will not be fulfilling its entire function, until all the parishes (and, as far as possible, each individual), in the Diocese, realize that as a diocesan institution they have a share and interest in the work, and in supplying its needs.

In the endowed Missionary Scholarship, given by the members of the Woman's Auxiliary in memory of their late President, Mrs. Whitaker, we are glad to feel an added tie connecting us with the Diocese at large. All who knew Mrs. Whitaker remember her deep interest in Missions, and there seems an especial fitness in this memorial, by means of which a perpetual scholarship will be provided to train a worker in the mission field in the institution which owes so much to Bishop Whitaker's fostering care.

In June Miss Elizabeth N. Biddle, one of the Founders and long-time managers of the House, passed beyond our sight. Her deep spirituality and unusual ability have been more potent influences in founding and guiding this institution than can be expressed in words. A special meeting was held after her death on June 15th, and minutes were adopted which will be found on another page. The influence of such a life and character does not die, but widens as the years go on,—"She, being dead, yet speaketh."

* * * * * * * * * * *

In the short interval between writing and presenting this report, we have lost, in the death of Miss Elisabeth Morris, another of our most faithful friends and managers. Ever ready to sacrifice herself to the welfare of the House, she often gave her personal service in measure that few others could, or would do. It remains for us who are left, to carry on the work to which she gave herself so freely, and to be animated with increased devotion, inspired by her example.

MINUTE.

Elizabeth Newbold Biddle.

At a special meeting of the Board of Managers of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, held June 15, 1908, the following minute was adopted:

WHEREAS our dear friend, Elizabeth N. Biddle, has been called from her unwearied service for Christ into His immediate presence, Resolved, That while we rejoice with her, we, the Managers of the Church Training and Deaconess House, desire to place on record our sense of the great loss sustained by all connected with the institution. Her influence was an important factor in the inauguration of the work, and as a Charter member, by her faithful pen and voice she did much to make possible the purchase of the house and the beginning of its endowment. For seventeen years her wise counsels and zeal have been a constant inspiration to the managers; her teachings, wide experience, and loving advice of priceless value to the students and officers.

To her sister and family we extend our heartfelt sympathy in their sorrow, remembering that the righteous live forevermore, their reward also is with the Lord, and the care of them is with the Most High.

E. C. PAGE,
Secretary.

MINUTE.

Elisabeth Morris.

At a special meeting of the Board of Managers of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, held Jan. 12, 1909, the following minute was adopted:

Abounding in every good work, at the flood tide of usefulness and loving service for Christ, suddenly His call has come to our dear friend, Elisabeth Morris, and she has entered into the joy of her Lord.

We, the Managers of the Church Training and Deaconess House, desire to place on record the unspeakable loss sustained by the Board, officers, and students.

Associated with the House from the first, she has for eighteen years served in the most responsible parts of the work. As chairman of the Admission Committee, as teacher, and once, in the absence of the House Mother, as resident head of the House—in every position she was as able as she was modest. Her character was unusual in its strength and sweetness, its power and simplicity; her judgment so clear, her methods so practical, yet pervaded by deep spirituality. Beloved by all, she will be mourned by former students, now missionaries, and Church workers in our own and in far distant lands.

We extend our heartfelt sympathy to her father and family; remembering the words of the Lord Jesus, how He said, "What I do thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter," and "Whosoever believeth in Me shall never die."

E. C. PAGE,
Secretary.

Report of the Associates of the Board of Managers.

During the past year the Associates of the Church Training and Deaconess' House have held a business meeting every second Tuesday in the month, from October to May, when monthly reports from the Board of Managers have been read by our Chairman, Mrs. Effingham Perot. These have kept us in touch with the business of the House.

Deaconess Sanford is frequently called upon to tell us of the needs of the House, and we are always glad to help as far as our treasury will permit.

The Teas this past year, always well attended, have been a source of pleasure to the students, enabling them to meet their friends, and Mrs. Remington's delightful music has greatly added to the enjoyment.

Two hundred stockings were sent out to destitute homes, carrying cheer and good will to their inmates, and many a little heart was lightened when, after having removed the candies and toys, they found, way down in the toe of the stocking, its mate, and so became the owner of a pair, the possession of which they have rarely had. This year each student of the Junior Class has been taken under the care of two of the Associates, and at Christmas each one received a small token in memory of the day.

Miss Sachse is still doing excellent work with her sewing class.

The Associates have given as follows:

E. C. McVickar Fund	$10 00
St. Augustine's Mission	5 00
St. Martha's House	5 00
Outing Fund for Students	10 00
West Summer House	10 00
Furnishings for Deaconess House	14 09
Printing Tea cards	2 75
Miss Fairlamb for work in Utah	5 00
For a Deaconess	5 25
Stamps and Stationery	3 86
Mrs. Whitaker Memorial Scholarship	70 00
	$140 95

Besides gifts of money, the Associates have made donations in kind including partly worn clothing and other articles to be given away where needed.

Quite a number of maternity bundles have been made and given to the House Mother for distribution among poor women.

At the Annual Election, held on Tuesday, January 12, Mrs. Samuel F. Houston was chosen to be President for the ensuing year.

It is most gratifying to report the flourishing condition of the Associates; we now number thirty-three active and thirty-two contributing Associates, which membership is greater than that of any previous year.

Hoping the future years will bring increased membership and greater prosperity is my fondest wish.

Respectfully submitted,

HELEN G. GOODRICH.

January 25, 1909.

Report of the House Mother.

This year the school has averaged twenty-nine resident students, besides thirty-seven non-resident students attending one or more courses of study. There were no changes from the previous year in the staff of instructors, which is always an advantage; and each year adds to our debt of gratitude to those who are faithfully giving their time and talents to build up this work,—to the Clergy who year after year teach in the lecture room and conduct the Chapel services; to the skilled instructors in preparatory and industrial classes; to the careful direction in practical work afforded through St. Martha's House, the parish workers at St. Peter's and St. Barnabas's, under the Society for Organizing Charity, and the Episcopal Hospital, the Jefferson Maternity, and St. John's Hospital at New Dorp.

Of the thirteen graduates this summer, five became missionaries, and are at present working in Hankow, Japan, Africa, and in the Indian and Mountain Missions of this country; making, with four from previous classes, nine missionary volunteers from this school within the year. Four graduates have been admitted to the Deaconess Order.

To those interested in the growth of the Order, it is encouraging to notice that "The Living Church Annual" publishes the names and addresses of one hundred and forty-three deaconesses, belonging to the Church in the United States.

The Bishop has thought best to defer the appointment of a committee to consider the increase of the Deaconess Retiring Fund, owing to circumstances arising since the last annual meeting. Meanwhile, the feeling thus far expressed is unanimously in favor of annuities rather than a Home. One correspondent says, "A Deaconess in a Home is lost completely—'laid on a shelf.' We have a deaconess who, though hampered by the infirmities of age, is still very useful in the parish to which she has belonged most of her life, and where she is known and loved by all the workers in the Church. She is always ready to help them when able. What a mistake to take her from this happy, useful environment to place her in a Home." A deaconess could be useful as a "supply" or occasional substitute long after she became unable to do full parish work, if she had a small annuity to depend upon. We earnestly hope that some definite plan may soon be framed, by the committee, for our guidance in this matter, and that all interested in it will give it their hearty support.

The Alumnæ Association have sent out an experimental issue of a little paper called the "News Letter," which they expect to publish three times a year, if they meet with sufficient encouragement. By this means we hope to keep all the graduates in close touch with the school and with one another.

Before we close the record of this year, we recall in loving memory those who have left their earthly tasks for the rest of Paradise. Two of these were deaconesses,—Mabel Whitcomb, who had just begun work in her home parish, when she developed a painful malady from which she died after months of suffering; and Emma M. Grebe, "a greatly beloved deaconess of Los Angeles, known and loved in every mission and parish in the diocese."

The other two were from the Board of Managers, the oldest and the youngest of those who began this work eighteen years ago. Miss Elizabeth Biddle, though an honorary member for several years, kept her interest in the school to the very last, and no one had a stronger influence in moulding the characters and establishing the ideals of those in training, or was so unfailingly sympathetic and wise in counsel to the graduates in their difficulties; Miss Elisabeth Morris died suddenly on Epiphany, and we cannot yet realize it. She truly had "a heart at leisure from itself," and her joy was to do thoughtful kindnesses for all with whom she came in contact. She was so intimate with the family life of the school, that once, in order to secure a necessary rest for the House Mother, she left her lovely home and, without any preparation, undertook the charge of school and household for a prolonged term with perfect satisfaction to all. She watched over the welfare of the students during their summer hospital training, obtaining for them unexpected half holidays spent at her country home. Well were both these Christian women named Elizabeth, "consecrated to God"—and we thank Him that this work has been blessed with their labors.

Respectfully submitted,

CAROLINE H. SANFORD,

House Mother.

JEAN W. COLESBERRY.

This is a large increase over former years. Deaconesses Clarke and Colesberry were appointed to audit the accounts.

The report of Ryemoor was then read by Deaconess Sanford. Fourteen guests besides two servants were in residence from one to two months during the past summer. With balance and receipts during the summer there was received $370.79. Household expenses were $278.17, leaving a balance of $92.62 which was used for permanent repairs and improvements.

Certain suggestions were read and approved by the members present relating to the increasing of the Retiring Fund. The Secretary was instructed to send these to Rev. Dr. Perry, in writing, that he might present them to the Committee for Increasing the Deaconess Retiring Fund, soon to be appointed by Bishop Whitaker.

On motion, the meeting adjourned.

Appendix.

[From the Digest of the Canons of the General Convention.]

Canon XX.—Of Deaconesses.

Section I. A woman of devout character and proved fitness, unmarried or widowed, may be appointed Deaconess by any Bishop of this Church. Such appointment shall be vacated by marriage.

Sec. II. The duty of a Deaconess is to assist the Minister in the care of the poor and sick, the religious training of the young and others, and the work of moral reformation.

Sec. III. No woman shall be appointed Deaconess until she shall be at least twenty-three years of age, nor until she shall have laid before the Bishop testimonials certifying that she is a communicant of this Church in good standing, and that she possesses such characteristics as, in the judgment of the persons testifying, fit her for at least one of the duties above defined. The testimonial of fitness shall be signed by two Presbyters of this Church, and by twelve lay communicants of the same, six of whom shall be women. The Bishop shall also satisfy himself that the applicant has had an adequate preparation for her work, both technical and religious, which preparation shall have covered the period of two years.

Sec. IV. No Deaconess shall accept work in a Diocese without the express authority, in writing, of the Bishop of that Diocese; nor shall she undertake work in a Parish without the like authority from the Rector of the Parish.

SEC. V. When not connected with a Parish, the Deaconess shall be under the direct oversight of the Bishop of the Diocese in which she is canonically resident. A Deaconess may be transferred from one Diocese to another by Letters Testimonial.

SEC. VI. A Deaconess may at any time resign her office to the Ecclesiastical Authority of the Diocese in which she is at the time canonically resident, but she may not be suspended or removed from office except by the Bishop for cause, with the consent of the Standing Committee, and after a hearing before the Bishop and the Standing Committee.

SEC. VII. No woman shall be recognized as a Deaconess until she has been set apart for that office by an appropriate religious service, to be prescribed by the General Convention, or, in the absence of such prescription, by the Bishop.

Extracts from the By-Laws.

VIII.

SECTION 1. Applicants for admission must be at least eighteen years of age, in good health, of fair scholarship, of good moral and religious character, and shall present satisfactory recommendations.*

---

* See questions for applicants, page 9.

SEC. 2. Applicants for admission as special non-resident students may be admitted by the Warden, House Mother, or President of the Board of Managers.

SEC. 3. The students of the House shall comprise four classes:

1. Those who have been received as visitors.

2. Those who enter for general training or instruction and have no desire to become Deaconesses. These will be called Special Students.

3. Those who desire to become candidates for the office of Deaconess. These will be called Probationers.

4. Those who have been admitted as candidates for the office of Deaconess. These will be called Candidates.

SEC. 4. A Probationer, in order to become a Candidate for the office of Deaconess, shall present to the Bishop a written recommendation signed by the Warden and the House Mother.

SEC. 5. Upon the satisfactory completion of the prescribed course of study and training, including residence for one school year, the Candidate shall receive a testimonial to that effect from the Warden, House Mother, and the Faculty, which shall be considered as a guarantee that she has had the "adequate preparation" required by the Canon of Deaconesses.

A Special Student, whether resident or non-resident, upon the satisfactory completion of any one course of study or of training, may receive from her instructor a written certificate of that fact, and on the satisfactory completion of the whole course she may receive the testimonial signed by the Bishop, Warden, and House Mother.

IX.

SECTION 1. The charges for resident students, including tuition, training, and the use of necessary books, shall be $200 for the school year, payable semi-annually, in October and February.

Non-residents may be admitted to instruction in any single branch without charge.

SEC. 2. All resident students taking the required course, shall be entitled to remain in the House during the year, but shall at all times perform such duties as may be assigned them by the House Mother or the Bishop.

X.

The regular school year shall begin on the first Wednesday in October, and shall end on the last Tuesday in May. In addition to this, however, at least ten weeks of Hospital service or other practical work shall be required of all candidates and of all students who wish to graduate in full course. If other work be substituted for Hospital service the fact must be clearly stated in the certificate of graduation.

There shall be two vacations during the school term, one of two weeks at Christmas, the other of one week, beginning on the Wednesday before Easter.

Form of Bequest.

THE Nineteenth Annual Meeting of the Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania was held, pursuant to the by-laws, at the Church House, on Tuesday, November 16, 1909, when an election of the Board of Council took place, resulting in the election of R. Francis Wood, Wharton Sinkler, M.D., Charles C. Harrison, Arthur E. Newbold, and Ewing L. Miller, in addition to the President and Warden, ex officio.

Mr. Arthur E. Newbold was elected Treasurer and Mr. Ewing L. Miller Secretary. The Bishop re-appointed the Board of Managers as appointed at the annual meeting in January.

Inasmuch as the Eighteenth Annual Report for 1909 had been printed and issued about March the first, it was deemed advisable to print only the financial statement of the Treasurer of the Corporation and of the Board of Managers at this time, together with the minute on the following page.

The House Mother reported that the School was never in better condition than now, and mere words fail to express all it owes to the Faculty and others who give their time and talents freely to the furtherance of the work.

Thanks of the Corporation were extended to Mr. Miller for acting as Treasurer pro tem. since the death of Mr. Thomas.

Upon motion, the President, Treasurer and Secretary were appointed a Committee on Finance, to which were referred all matters of investment of endowments and of permanent funds and other questions of a financial nature.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

Attest:

A. D. HEFFERN, Secretary.

Mr. George C. Thomas.

"Among the many who are mourning their separation from George C. Thomas, the Managers of the Church Training and Deaconess House desire to place on record their deep sense of personal loss. As Treasurer of the various funds of the Institution for the past years, ever ready to give us help and advice, surely in him was the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and ghostly strength, the spirit of knowledge and true godliness.

"We extend to his wife and children our heartfelt sympathy. If we thus grieve for him, how much more do they. We thank God for the good example of his life on earth; we rejoice that he has entered into service in the immediate presence of his Lord, for we believe in the life to come."

EWING L. MILLER, Treasurer pro tem., in account with THE CHURCH TRAINING AND DEACONESS HOUSE.

THE Twentieth Annual Meeting of the Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania was held, pursuant to the By-Laws, in the Assembly Room of the Church House on Friday, November 4th, 1910. Owing to the absence of Bishops Whitaker and Mackay-Smith and also the Warden, the Rev. A. D. Heffern, D.D., was chosen Chairman and Ewing L. Miller acted as Secretary.

The Minutes of the last Annual Meeting having been published, upon motion, the reading thereof was dispensed with.

Communications were read from the Bishop Coadjutor and the Warden regretting absence from the meeting.

The Treasurer submitted his Annual Report which upon motion was accepted and referred to the Committee on Publication. It showed the following balances:

To the credit of General Account	$36.63
Bishop Whitaker Endowment Fund, Principal Account	273.16
Mary Coles Fund, Principal Account	528.50
Mary Coles Fund, Income Account	259.75
E. C. McVickar Fund, Principal Account	241.25
E. C. McVickar Fund, Income Account	8.98
Total cash on hand	$1348.27

He also submitted a memorandum of the securities held by the Pennsylvania Company for Insurances on Lives and Granting Annuities under the deed of trust, as follows:

For the Endowment Fund, Par Value	$31,000.00
Mary Coles Fund	11,000.00
E. C. McVickar Fund	2,000.00
Julia C. Whitaker Fund	5,000.00

The reports of the Board of Managers, including that of the Treasurer, the Associates and the House Mother, were read, accepted and referred to a Committee on Publication consisting of the Warden, House Mother, Miss Coles, Miss Sinkler and the Secretary with power to print an edition of such number as they deem advisable.

It being in order to elect the Board of Council, upon nominations duly made, the following were elected: R. Francis Wood, Arthur E. Newbold, Ewing L. Miller, John Cadwalader, Dr. John K. Mitchell, in addition to the President and Warden ex officio.

Mr. Arthur E. Newbold was duly elected Treasurer and Ewing L. Miller, Secretary of the Corporation.

The Bishop re-appointed the present Board of Managers.

Upon motion, the President, Treasurer and Secretary were appointed a Committee on Finance to which were referred all matters of investments of endowment and permanent funds and other questions of a financial nature.

The President of the Board of Managers made an earnest appeal to the Meeting regarding the finances of the Corporation, stating that each year a deficit had to be faced in the conduct of the Training School, the fact that it is impossible to raise the charge for tuition of pupils and in consequence other means must be adopted for meeting this deficit. It was the sense of the meeting that extra efforts should be made on the part of all friends interested in this splendid Institution to increase the Endowment Fund from the present amount to at least $50,000.

Upon motion, then adjourned.

Attest:

EWING L. MILLER, Secretary.

Report of the Board of Managers.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:—

We have the pleasure of making our twentieth Annual Report, and again record our thankfulness for the many blessings of the past year.

But as Dr. Furness once said of the University of Pennsylvania: "We are thankful to say that our income is insufficient." We are not growing so fast as that institution, but equally our students' fees do not begin to cover the cost of their maintenance. Every year there has been a deficit, and now in spite of our Endowment fund we are as badly off as ever, and there is every care taken for economical administration. When the "Prophets" in the government and in the popular magazines are discussing the "high cost of living," we need not. As we are a Diocesan institution, we appeal to each parish for aid, by collections or otherwise. As an institution which sends a large proportion of graduates to the mission fields, Foreign, Domestic or Diocesan, we appeal to the Woman's Auxiliary Branches,—we appeal to every individual who is interested in sending women trained for all kinds of Social Betterment Work,—women who are actuated by the highest Christian motives in offering themselves.

We are increasingly grateful to our faculty who give so freely of their learning, their interest and their time for the intellectual training of our students. We regret that Rev. Mr. Garland has resigned owing to his increased duties as Secretary of this Missionary Department. This Autumn, the Rev. Dr. Montgomery has had to stop his lectures, although he still keeps his connection with the Old Testament Department. It has been a rare privilege to have had a man of such standing. By his recommendation, Rev. Dr. Fleming James is lecturing and his course is arousing interest and enthusiasm. The Rev. Dr. Foley is very kindly substituting for Dean Groton in his absence.

We are indebted to the Society for Organizing Charity for the admirable training in scientific practical relief work for our Senior classes, and to many of the parishes and St. Martha's House for training in methods of church work.

It would seem advisable to fix an age limit of forty years for the admission of students. A woman who is earning her living must give up two years with no income, and enter an untried field, and over forty seems late to begin a life's work. And it does not seem fair to the school nor to the Trustees of the Deaconess' Retiring Fund on the other hand to graduate women for a possibly short term of usefulness.

Underlying all efforts to educate in methods, is the principle of devotion to the Master, and the atmosphere is full of prayer in common and in private, and the motto chosen by the founders is well carried out,—"This is the Law of the House: The whole limit thereof round about shall be most Holy."

JULIA U. SINKLER.

Report of the Associates of the Board of Managers.

Each year shows an increase in the interest of the Associates in the Students, and those who have gone out from the House.

The plan of each Associate having two students under her care, one Senior and one Junior, has proved of value.

The Associates are also sending regularly papers and magazines to the Missionaries, Deaconesses, and Church Workers, who are working in our own and foreign lands.

The Monthly Teas have been largely attended enabling the students to meet their friends. We are much indebted to Mrs. Remington, Miss Amelia Sanford, and others for the delightful music and recitations.

A large number of Christmas Stockings were given for distribution by our students, also Maternity Bundles. The gifts in money from Associates and Contributing Associates are as follows:

Furnishings for Church Training and Deaconess House	$11.59
To Deaconess Fairlamb's work in Utah	10.00
Christmas present to retired Deaconess	5.25
Mrs. Goodrich for material for Maternity Bundles	10.00
Summer Outing retired Deaconess	10.00
Work at Ryemoor, Maine	10.00
Summer Outings for Students	10.00
Postage, Tea Cards, Stationery	9.97
Toward outfit of Student	20.00
	$96.81

CHARLOTTE H. F. HOUSTON.

Report of the House Mother.

The school opened last October with a senior class of thirteen and a junior class of fifteen, and though there were several changes the average number of resident students was twenty-eight out of the thirty enrolled during the year.

There were several changes in the Faculty also. About the mid-year, greatly to our regret, the Rev. T. J. Garland was obliged to resign his class in Modern Church history; happily for us, Rev. Arthur Rogers, D.D., who already had the Ancient Church history, kindly consented to add this, bringing the whole department under one instructor. Rev. J. A. Montgomery, D.D., found it impossible to continue his lectures on Old Testament history but interested himself in securing the Rev. Fleming James to carry on this line of instruction. Dr. Montgomery was greatly beloved and honored here, and all were glad when he promised to continue his connection with the school by giving us a course of illustrated lectures on Palestinian Explorations this winter. Miss Ethel Springer, for the past five years a most faithful teacher of the English class, has also resigned, having removed to Middletown, Connecticut.

There is one friend who has gone forever from the scene of his earthly labors, whose unfailing interest and wise counsel were always at our service. In any question about a student's physical or nervous adaptation for the work, Dr. Wharton Sinkler seemed always to diagnose correctly, firmly discouraging the unfit, but encouraging others to take the necessary measures to gain health. Three of our present missionaries were taught how to become strong and useful women under his guidance.

The year was a happy one as to our family life; the recreation hour around the evening lamp, and the Sunday evening "sings" were occasions pleasant to recall. The Associates gave one of their "teas" on the opening day, continuing them once a month, except during Lent, so affording the students an opportunity to meet old friends and make new ones.

The Commencement Exercises were held as usual in the Bishop's Chapel at the Church House. Dean Groton acted for the Warden, Rev. Dr. Perry, who was attending the Edinburgh Conference; Rev. Dr. Montgomery preached the sermon; Dean Groton presented a class of thirteen to receive the school diplomas, two of whom were then admitted to the Deaconess Order by Bishop Whitaker in the service immediately following. Dean Groton spoke in a few fitting words of the three who had died within the year:—Emily F. Taylor, Class of 1902; Mabel A. Protheroe, 1908; and Margaret Elliott, the president of the graduating class, who had died the previous summer.

Since then we have heard of the death of Miss Lillis Crummer, class of 1895, for fifteen years a faithful teacher in Shanghai, China. She was the first missionary sent out from our school and set a high standard for devoted service.

This year the invitations to the Commencement lunch were sent to all the alumnæ, and there was a most happy re-union, ten members coming from out of town, beside those in the vicinity.

The Alumnæ Association has made a success of the "Newsletter," under the editorship of Miss Ethel Springer, and this little paper, started in type-written manuscript by the House Mother, nine years ago, has come out in most attractive dress. It is dearly prized by our missionary graduates at home and abroad, keeping them in close touch with the school and with one another.

The school Missionary Society is a regular branch of the Woman's Auxiliary, and has contributed this year $38.42 to the United Offering, and $52.79 for missions, beside sending boxes to two Indian schools. They have a weekly class for Missions Study; a monthly lecture on current mission news from the Rev. R. B. Kimber; a short course upon "How to Teach Mission Study Classes," from Miss Anne Hubbard; and this year have had visits and addresses from fourteen missionaries. Since our last report they have sent from their number four missionaries to China, one to Japan, one to Alaska, one to the Indians, four to Utah, and have one under appointment for Africa. I doubt if any other branch of the Woman's Auxiliary can equal our record in that respect.

A thousand dollars has been added to the Deaconess Retiring Fund within the year, and a more general interest awakened. The summer at Ryemoor, Deaconess Edith Clarke being in charge, was a social and financial success.

There are three lines of work designated by the Church as specially assigned to her women helpers, namely "ministry to the sick and suffering," "the relief of the poor," and "the religious instruction of the young," and in each of these lines our training during the past twelve months has gained in efficiency. (1st) St. Martha's has opened a dispensary with a staff of able physicians and under the care of a trained nurse, which, it is hoped, will give new opportunities for experience in neighborhood medical relief. We have also been invited to help in the medical social service work of the nearest large hospital. This will supplement the summer hospital training. (2nd) By co-operating with the training schools of the Presbyterian and Baptist Churches we have been successful in establishing a course of lectures on Social Problems by specialists in different departments. These are given weekly in the Church House from October to May, and are preceded by short "quizzes" on the last week's lecture, conducted by the Rev. C. A. Young. In addition to this lecture course for several years past all the Seniors have had work under the guidance of the Society for Organizing Charities, care being taken that they belong to the S. O. C. Conference nearest their Sunday School or Mission district and that they co-operate with their parish deaconesses, by investigating new applications for relief. We feel that we now offer a really exceptional training for parish relief visiting. (3rd) But our most hopeful progress has been in connection with the work of religious instruction. Thanks to the generous labors of our Faculty, we have had an excellent and comprehensive course of study from the first, but, although the tuition is free, we did not seem able to reach any considerable number of Sunday School teachers in our own diocese, unless they intended to devote their lives to Church work as a vocation. We were not reckoned as a factor in the Diocesan work of teacher training.

Immediately after the close of the school year, the first week in June, our Managers offered the use of the house to the Pennsylvania Sunday School Association for a "Five Days' Teachers Training," following a plan carried on for several seasons at Ripon, England. The Association arranged for three lectures each morning, and a course of illustrated lectures on the life of Christ in the evening. There was a Sunday School exhibit, and a very good collection of curios from Palestine and the foreign mission fields. There were delegates from forty parishes, including some from Newark, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and North Carolina. Over one hundred and eighty-nine persons attended. As a result it has been decided to continue this plan, meeting in September each year. It has also been arranged to have the evening Teachers Training classes of the Association meet in our school rooms this winter, and the "Primary Sunday School Teachers' Union" also holds its fortnightly meetings here, on Saturday afternoons.

We are indebted to the Presbyterian Deaconess House for permission given our students to attend their course on Comparative Religions last winter, when Dean Groton was unable to take our class. We in return gladly welcome their students to our Normal course in sewing and dressmaking. The three Schools, the Presbyterian and Baptist Training Schools and our own, by combining have secured an unusually good teacher for a normal class in physical culture. By co-operating in these branches which do not touch upon doctrinal differences we are able to secure superior advantages.

Acting upon the advice of Rev. R. A. Walke and some of our own Missionary Graduates, we have undertaken that hereafter all our graduates shall be given sufficient musical instruction to enable them to read notes, and play at least four chants and six hymn tunes!

There is one branch of Church work in which we give no adequate training, and that is, institutional work. We need women trained, as the Roman Catholic Sisters are, to frugal, systematic management of orphanages, and homes for old people. I long to have the Deaconesses able to make real homes for the homeless poor, with cheerful but plain surroundings which will not unfit children for service, nor make the aged feel ill at ease because of unaccustomed luxuries, and where their lives may be bright in the love of God.

But if GOD means to use us in this way, He will lead us. We cannot doubt His Presence as we trace our history from year to year, and we realize that there is as great cause for thankfulness in cases where He prevented or delayed us, as in all the many ways in which He has prospered us.

Respectfully submitted,

CAROLINE H. SANFORD,
House Mother.

THE Twenty-first Annual Meeting of the Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania was held in the Woman's Auxiliary Room of the Church House on Tuesday, November 21, 1911. The meeting was presided over by the Rt. Rev. Philip M. Rhinelander, Bishop of the Diocese, who, after remarks relative to the deaths since the last Annual Meeting of Bishop Whitaker and Bishop Mackay-Smith, Presidents of the Corporation, conducted appropriate devotional exercises.

Ewing L. Miller acted as Secretary.

The Minutes of the last Annual Meeting having been published, upon motion the reading thereof was dispensed with.

The Treasurer submitted his annual report which, upon motion, was accepted and referred to the Committee on Publication. It showed the following balances:

To the credit of General Account	$26.97
Bishop Whitaker Endowment Fund, Principal Account	866.84
Bishop Whitaker Endowment Fund, Income Account	431.16
Mary Coles Fund, Principal Account	1067.25
Mary Coles Fund, Income Account	303.00
E. C. McVickar Fund, Principal Account	241.25
E. C. McVickar Fund, Income Account	2.63
Total cash on hand	$2939.10

He also submitted a memorandum of the securities held by the Pennsylvania Company, etc. under the Deed of Trust as follows:

Endowment Fund, par value	$33,000.00
Mary Coles Fund	11,000.00
E. C. McVickar Fund	2,000.00
Julia C. Whitaker Fund	5,000.00

He further informed the Board that since the closing of his annual report at the end of the fiscal year, to wit: October 1st, he had received on October 3rd $5,000 from the Rev. J. DeWolf Perry, D.D., for the establishment of the Elizabeth Rossell Perry Memorial Scholarship Fund, and on November 13th had received a legacy of $5,000 from the Estate of Maria Blanchard for the Bishop Whitaker Memorial Fund.

Upon motion of the Warden, it was ordered that the words "Missionary Scholarship" should be added to and become a part of the title of the Julia C. Whitaker Fund so that it would hereafter read "The Julia C. Whitaker Missionary Scholarship Fund."

The reports of the Board of Managers (which included a most interesting retrospect of the Corporation since its inception), including that of the Treasurer, Associates and the House Mother, were read, accepted and referred to a Committee on Publication consisting of the Warden, House Mother, Mrs. Effingham Perot and the Secretary with power to print an edition of such number as they deem advisable.

It being in order to elect a Board of Council, upon motion, nominations being made, the following were elected:

R. Francis Wood, Ewing L. Miller, Arthur E. Newbold, John Cadwalader, and Dr. John K. Mitchell, in addition to the President and Warden ex officio.

Arthur E. Newbold was duly elected Treasurer, and Ewing L. Miller, Secretary of the Corporation.

The Bishop re-appointed the present Board of Managers.

Upon motion of Bishop Garland, the title of Head Deaconess and House Mother was given to Deaconess Sanford, and that of Assistant House Mother to Deaconess Clarke, and upon further motion it was ordered that the names of the Bishops of Pittsburgh, Bethlehem, Harrisburg, Erie and the Suffragan Bishop of Pennsylvania should be recorded as Honorary Visitors to the Institution.

Upon motion, the President, Secretary, and Treasurer were appointed a Committee on Finance to which were referred all matters of investments of endowment and permanent funds and other questions of a financial nature.

Upon motion, the following was unanimously adopted and ordered spread upon the Minutes and a copy thereof sent to the family of Bishop Mackay-Smith:

"The Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, at its Twenty-first Annual Meeting, held on November 21, 1911, desires to place upon record its deep sense of loss in the death of the Rt. Rev. Alexander Mackay-Smith, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese, which occurred on November 16th.

"From the time of his coming into the Diocese nearly ten years ago, he has invariably shown the deepest interest in the work of this Institution and as Bishop-Coadjutor has been its honored Vice-President, becoming its President upon his succession as Bishop of the Diocese. His invariable courtesy and kindly interest as well as liberal support have been the means of much encouragement to us all and are now the source of our bereavement in his loss and deep sympathy with those who are near and dear to him."

Upon motion, the following was unanimously adopted and ordered spread upon the Minutes and a copy thereof sent to the family of Miss Maria Blanchard:

"The Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, at its Twenty-first Annual Meeting, held on November 21, 1911, desires to place upon record its grateful appreciation of the gift by legacy under the will of Maria Blanchard in the generous sum of five thousand (5000) Dollars, the same to be added to and become a part of the Endowment of the Corporation. Such remembrances as the above by the friends of this Institution not only materially relieve its present needs but insure the continuance of its work in the future. Notwithstanding this generous remembrance, the Corporation shall ever feel a sense of deep loss in the personal encouragement and support it has enjoyed for so many years of the life of Miss Blanchard."

Upon motion, the following was unanimously adopted, ordered spread upon the Minutes and a copy thereof sent to the Rev. Dr. Perry:

"The Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, at its Annual Meeting held on November 21, 1911, by unanimous vote desires to place upon record its deep sense of appreciation of the generous gift of the Rev. James DeWolf Perry, D.D., its honored Chaplain, and his children in the sum of Five thousand (5000) Dollars for the establishment of a Memorial Scholarship Fund in the name of Elizabeth Rossell Perry, thus perpetuating the memory of a beloved wife and mother, and one of our honored Associate Members, in whose death we sorrow; and in a very material way adding to the efficiency of the work of the Corporation."

Upon motion, the Committee on Publication of the Board of Managers was authorized to print a new prospectus of the Institution if deemed necessary.

There being no further business, upon motion then adjourned.

Attest:

EWING L. MILLER, Secretary.

Report of the Board of Managers.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:—

It has been thought to be wise while the Founder of the "Church Training and Deaconess House," and some of the charter members are still with us, to recall the steps which led to the foundation of the House. As early as 1862, Bishop Alonzo Potter, in his address to the Convention of the Church in this Diocese, urged the need of the work of Christian women and suggested that they be trained for the many branches of Church work.

A committee appointed by the Convention reported favorably in the following year, and at the next session of the Convention held in 1864. From the minutes of the Episcopal Hospital, we learn that at a meeting held Nov. 30, 1866, Mr. William Welsh presented to the Board of Managers a statement as follows: "Bishop Potter as President of your Board, placed on me the responsibility of procuring and supervising the voluntary services of Christian women at the Hospital, and he bore the strongest testimony to the inestimable value of the services rendered by a little band of devoted women. Bishop Stevens renewed the commission. I now feel constrained to ask the Corporation of the Board of Managers to add to the number of workers, to increase their efficiency, and to extend the sphere of their operations by systematic training, and by a more complete organization of their services. I only ask your kindly co-operation, and the use of the Old Mansion House. As the Institution will be in strict accordance with the views of our late lamented Bishop, whose memory all desire to honor, I suggest that it be named the 'Bishop Alonzo Potter Mission House.'"

"On motion of the Rev. Mr. Miller, the following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That the Mansion House on the Hospital grounds when vacated by the Foster Home, be placed at the disposition of Mr. William Welsh, to enable him under the direction of Bishop Stevens to test the experiment indicated in his communication of this date, the property to be vacated by Mr. Welsh after six months' notice from this Board."

The House was opened April 5, 1867, with Mrs. Jackson, widow of the Rev. William Jackson, of Louisville, Kentucky, at its head. After five years of service for which she entered, this much loved House Mother returned to her family in 1872. Unable to fill her place with permanency, in 1877 Mr. William Welsh felt that the time had come for putting the work on a permanent basis in connection with the Diocese, and it became the Bishop Potter Memorial House for Deaconesses.

Failing to find a suitable person to take charge, the house does not appear to have been opened, and in 1881, the funds amounting to ten thousand dollars were invested, and the income therefrom has been applied of late to the needs of the "Church Training and Deaconess House."

The need of trained workers being keenly felt, the subject was brought before Bishop Whitaker in July, 1889, and the adoption of the Canon on Deaconesses by the General Convention in 1889, led to an extension of the plan. After several months of careful deliberation, a circular was issued dated August 1, 1890, signed by Bishop Whitaker. This and subsequent circulars printed in our 1st Annual Report, show the history of the movement.

In November, 1890, the property No. 708 Spruce Street was purchased on behalf of the Institution with the co-operation of Miss Coles, and conveyed to the Corporation in April, 1891.

A charter was obtained in March, 1891, and the Corporation legally organized in its present form. Bishop Whitaker secured the services of Miss Caroline H. Sanford as House Mother, and the Institution was opened on the Feast of the Epiphany, Jan. 6, 1891. In 1904, 710 Spruce Street was bought, and added to 708, the two becoming one house.

The object of the Church Training and Deaconess House is fourfold: 1st. It is to furnish the necessary intellectual, spiritual, and practical preparation for those who desire to become DEACONESSES. 2d. To afford the same advantages to those who desire to obtain like instruction as CHURCH WORKERS. 3d. To women offering themselves as MISSIONARIES, in our own and in foreign lands. 4th. To non-resident students who desire to become more thoroughly qualified for any department of Church Work, such as Bible Class or Sunday School teaching. Nonresidents do not have the practical work.

All through these twenty years, our instructors, most of whom have corresponding departments in the Divinity School, have freely given their services, their time and strength. Their teaching has been thorough and scholarly, and they have been the faithful friends of the students as well as their teachers.

We might expect this fidelity from the clergy, but the laity have been equally devoted. Our school has been peculiarly blest in their unwearied service and unselfish interest.

Dr. Seneca Egbert has been a lecturer on hygiene and emergencies from the foundation of the school. Of him as with others, their interest does not cease with graduation, but they are ever ready to help by letters of counsel and advice. One great secret of success has been the continued interest of all connected with the House, and this extends to our faithful servants, two of whom have been with us from the first year. "Honor to whom honor is due, praise to whom praise."

The past year was saddened by the death of our beloved Bishop Whitaker. Always a devoted friend and benefactor of the House, he gave the entire sum of the gift from the Diocese on his Twentieth Anniversary, thus forming the largest part of our endowment.*

Miss Maria Blanchard, a most valued manager, a wise counsellor, a warm-hearted generous friend of the school, beloved by all, she is sadly missed.

There have been many mercies as well as sorrows.

As we recall the long list of those who have gone out from us, and are doing noble work in our own land, and literally

* In April the Rev. Dr. Perry and his children endowed a scholarship and furnished a students' room in memory of Mrs. J. DeWolf Perry, an Associate to the Board of Managers.

"to the ends of the earth," we may surely thank God and take courage.

Will you not be a partner in this good work?

Tell of the House, its purpose, aim and results. Give to the House, its income is too small for its needs, we need help.

Above all, pray for the House, that its influence may be ever holy and blessed, and hasten the coming of the Kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY E. B. PEROT.

Report of the Associates of the Board of Managers.

It is a pleasure to report that the Associates now number forty-five active and thirty-two contributing members and is larger than ever before; but the ideal of two members from each parish is not yet realized. Meetings are held the second Tuesday in each month from October to May. Officers are now elected every two years instead of annually, as heretofore.

The teas are given as usual every third Tuesday in the month from October to February. Besides the students, associates, and friends, the students from the Presbyterian Deaconess House, and nurses from the Episcopal Hospital are now invited.

The House Committee has done excellent work in supplying the house with needful furnishings. Two hammocks and a swing have been placed in the garden, an associate gave a handsome alms-basin to the chapel as a memorial, and a white stole and book-marks were given. Mrs. S. F. Houston gave a dozen silver spoons, and the Bishop Whitaker Memorial window was lettered.

Christmas stockings, fruit, and toys were distributed among the poor, and during Lent many maternity bundles were added to the emergency closet.

Miss Sachse's sewing class, including the students of the Presbyterian Deaconess House, meets every Friday morning and is doing splendid work. Magazines are sent far and near to Deaconesses who desire them.

The Treasurer's report is as follows:

Household articles	$17.96
Personal presents, etc.	30.25
Deaconess Retiring Fund	41.00
Outings	20.00
Miscellaneous	47.15
	$156.36

In closing I would emphasize the very real pleasure and privilege we all feel in having a working friendship with Deaconess Sanford and Deaconess Clark and the students under them.

With thankful hearts for the year of successful effort just past, we look forward to that which is to come and would make the Deaconess' watchword ours, "Lord, what wouldst Thou have me to do?"

Respectfully submitted on behalf of the Associates,

ELSIE DOUGLAS.

Report of the House Mother.

The school year, which closed with October 1, 1911, will be memorable as a time of trial following four peculiarly prosperous years. Experience having proved that the age limit for applicants was placed too high, the Admission Committee lowered it from forty-five to forty; they also required that, besides being a good woman, the applicant must possess positive qualifications for Church work. By application of this stricter standard the entering class was reduced from fifteen to six.

We also met with heavy bereavements. Bishop Whitaker, who had taken a leading part in founding and guiding the school, passed away in February, followed within a few months by Miss Maria Blanchard, a beloved manager.

"How grows in Heaven our store," for we must add to these the names of Deaconess Chester, of North Carolina, and of the Rev. Wm. Ely, and the Rev. Rush S. Eastman, both members of the original faculty, who continued to give their services while health permitted. Although not herself an officer of the school, Mrs. Perry, the wife of our revered Warden, was very closely bound to us by ties of affection, and her sudden death early in the year was deeply felt. All these have joined the "great cloud of witnesses," but we feel the blessing of their prayers and example still with us, stirring us to renewed effort, that we too may finish our course in faith and hand on untarnished ideals to our successors.

Rev. Rush Eastman left a valuable gift of books to his department of Church History in the school.

In the early spring I was given eight months' leave of absence on account of impaired health. This enforced vacation has resulted in great benefit to the school, for the work had gradually grown too heavy for one person and needed reorganizing. Immediately upon learning the doctor's verdict help was most freely offered. While the Warden added to his already heavy diocesan duties, such as belonged exclusively to the acting head of the school, Miss Sinkler became the permanent head of the committee on the practical work of the students; Miss Randolph was made secretary of the faculty; Miss Anne M. Hubbard became directress of the department of mission study; Deaconess Morris was elected treasurer of the Deaconess Retiring Fund; and Deaconess Clarke met the emergency with such marked ability that she now has the sole responsibility for the domestic department. By this division of labor the efficiency of the work has been greatly increased.

Last summer, the experiment was tried of shortening the term for hospital service to eight weeks, but this plan proved unsatisfactory. Dr. John K. Mitchell, of our Board of Council, has taken up the matter, and, in co-operation with our Physical Culture teacher, Miss Small, is planning a series of exercises which will build up the muscles and so prepare the students for their hospital work that they need not feel the unusual exertion. This will be a happy solution of a vexed question.

We have made few changes in the curriculum for the coming year. We still continue to co-operate with the Presbyterian and Baptist Training Schools, in supporting a course on Social Problems, held in the Church House, and have now been joined by the Philadelphia School for Social Workers who send their first year students, and, as their contribution towards expenses, give us the valuable services of Mr. W. Easton as director. Besides these lectures, our seniors continue their relief work under the direction of the Society for Organizing Charity. We co-operate also with the Presbyterian Deaconess House in securing excellent instruction in physical culture, and exchange instruction in our normal course in needlework for their kindergarten training. The schools are now working out a course of training which shall equip our graduates for the work of educational secretaries in Sunday schools. Rev. Dr. George C. Foley has taken the work in Dogmatics, which Dean Groton felt obliged to lay down, but the Dean remains with us as lecturer on the comparative study of religions. Otherwise, the faculty is unchanged. "The Five Days' Training" inaugurated last year, was almost overwhelmingly successful, taxing the capacity of the school to the utmost. The new school year opened October 4th, with evening prayer in the Chapel, conducted by the Warden and Rev. Dr. Robinson. At the offertory a beautiful alms-basin was used for the first time, the gift of Mrs. Eavanson, an associate, in memory of her husband.

The entering class is the largest we have ever had and the future looks full of hope.

Respectfully submitted,

CAROLINE HAMLIN SANFORD,

House Mother.

The Report of the Deaconess Retiring Fund Society, 1911.

The Annual Meeting of the Deaconess Retiring Fund Society was held October 4, 1911. The Vice-President, the Rev. Dr. J. DeWolf Perry, presided. Eleven members were present. Deaconess Sanford, who has filled the office of treasurer from the beginning of the society, asked to be released from her duties. Her resignation was accepted with deep regret.

Two of our members having fulfilled the required conditions and, being retired from active service, have applied for annuities and are now receiving them.

The Treasurer's Report of the Society, from October 1, 1910 to October 2, 1911, was read.

THE Twenty-second Annual Meeting of the Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House was held in the Chapel of the Church House on Thursday, November 21, 1912, at 4 P. M.

The meeting was called to order by Bishop Rhinelander. After prayers by the Bishop, Rev. Dr. Perry moved that Rev. E. L. Sanford act as secretary of the meeting. This motion was carried.

Bishop Rhinelander then briefly expressed his sense of the importance of the institution and of the value of last year's work, and paid a tribute to the services of the retiring Head Deaconess.

On motion it was decided to dispense with the reading of the Minutes, on the ground that they would be printed in the Report.

The Treasurer submitted his annual report, which upon motion was accepted and referred to the Committee on Publication. It showed the following balances:

To credit of General Account	$30.26
Bishop Whitaker Endowment Fund, Principal Account	147.59
Bishop Whitaker Endowment Fund, Income Account	261.20
Mary Coles Fund, Principal Account	67.25
Mary Coles Fund, Income Account	373.64
E. C. McVickar Fund, Principal Account	18.00
E. C. McVickar Fund, Income Account	27.17
Elizabeth Russell Perry, Memorial Scholarship Fund, Income Account	49.25
Total cash on hand	$974.36

His memorandum of the securities held by the Pennsylvania Company, etc., under the Deed of Trust, shows the following:

Bishop Whitaker Endowment Fund	$38,010.34
Mary Coles Fund	12,345.75
E. C. McVickar Fund	2,192.00
Julia C. Whitaker Missionary Scholarship Fund	5,000.00
Elizabeth Russell Perry Memorial Scholarship Fund	5,000.00

The reports of the Board of Managers, including those of their Treasurer and Associates, were then read, accepted, and referred to the Committee on Publication.

Head Deaconess Sanford then read her report, which was accepted and referred. On motion it was decided to request the editors of the Church News to publish this report.

The election of the Board of Council followed, resulting in the unanimous choice of the following persons: R. Francis Wood, Ewing L. Miller, Arthur E. Newbold, John Cadwalader, and Dr. J. K. Mitchell, in addition to the President and Warden, ex officio.

The Secretary was then ordered to cast one ballot for the reëlection of Arthur E. Newbold as Treasurer, and Ewing L. Miller was elected in the same manner as Secretary.

The following persons were appointed by the Bishop as Managers for the year 1912–13: Miss Coles, President; Mrs. Effingham Perot, Vice-President; Miss Aertsen, Mrs. W. W. Farr, Miss E. S. Carryl, Miss J. U. Sinkler, Mrs. John Coates Brown, Miss Ellen Morris, Miss Anne M. Hubbard, Mrs. H. S. Lowber, Mrs. H. W. Page, Miss Anna Randolph.

The following Committee on Publication was then appointed: Miss Coles, Mrs. Perot, Deaconess Sanford, Rev. Dr. Perry, Ewing L. Miller, and Rev. E. L. Sanford.

Rev. J. DeWolf Perry, D.D., was reappointed as Warden, and Deaconess E. C. Clarke was reappointed as Assistant House Mother, by the Bishop, who also announced the acceptance by Deaconess Clara M. Carter, of the appointment as Head Deaconess and House Mother. The Secretary pro tem. was ordered to telegraph to Deaconess Carter the greetings of the Corporation.

R. Francis Wood was appointed Auditing Committee.

On motion, the meeting adjourned.

E. L. SANFORD,
Secretary pro tem.

Report of the Board of Managers.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

The past year, the twenty-first in the life of the Church Training and Deaconess House, for which we make this report, opened with much promise. That Deaconess Sanford was able, after eight months' rest, to resume her duties as Head Deaconess, with Deaconess Clarke co-operating as House Mother, and that an unusually large class was entering the School, gave reasonable ground for hopeful expectations. These expectations were realized, at least in part, in the healthy growth of the work. In two directions is the growth especially noticeable—in the increase in the number of the students and in the widening of the scope of the training given.

The increased number of students was due to nineteen Juniors entering the House in October of last year, this constituting the largest entering class in our history, so that in spite of the unusually small number of Seniors—six only—the total number of students exceeded that of the previous year by six. The full effect of the exceptionally large Junior class of last year is realized only in the opening of the present October, when the aggregate of Seniors and Juniors makes the largest number of full-course students in the school's existence.

Of even more importance was the addition to our curriculum of a much-needed branch of training,—a course in Religious Pedagogy,—without which our practical work department can no longer be complete. A detailed account of this course will be found in the report of the Head Deaconess.

A series of lectures on current Social Problems, under the auspices of our own School, the Presbyterian, Reformed Churches, and Baptist Training Schools, the Y. W. C. A., and the Philadelphia Training School for Social Work, was given at the Church House, once a week from October to May, and, as we believe such instruction to be most helpful in the social work done by our students, we hope it may now be regarded as an established part of our course. The class in physical training was also of great benefit to many of the students, especially in preparation for their summer work.

This increased efficiency of our social training during the past year is due in large measure to Deaconess Sanford, and we desire to express our great appreciation of all the time and thought expended by her in the working-out of these courses by which we feel we are enabled to send out women more completely equipped to work for the Master.

The growth thus indicated necessarily brings with it, as all such growth must, an additional burden of expense. To meet this we are forced to rely more than ever upon the support and interest of those friends whose readiness to aid in the past we gratefully acknowledge.

We cannot but express to our Associates, also, our hearty thanks for the untiring help contributed by them toward the welfare and happiness of the House in ways other than material. By their efforts much has been done in the way of strengthening among the students the bond of fellowship.

Reluctantly we turn from these gifts of the past year to the losses which it has brought us. In February, 1912, we lost by resignation one of our valued members—Mrs. Alexander Mackay-Smith. Her efficient services as a member of the House Committee and her interest in the students were aids which we could ill afford to part with, but a sincere appreciation of our past possession of them mingles with our sense of present loss. The resignation of Miss Marion Harris from membership on the Board was another misfortune.

With the deepest regret we record the deaths of Bishop Mackay-Smith and Miss Catherine C. Biddle. In their loss two have been taken whose unfailing interest and ever-ready counsel have meant more than words can well express.

We have spoken of the prosperity of the School in certain outward and visible growths which may well be to us all a cause of no small thankfulness, but there is a prosperity yet more deep and vital, for which, if we cannot find tangible proof, we can but earnestly long—a prosperity in that secret, invisible life of the Spirit which should be the very breath of the School, and without which all its activities shall be vain shadows and empty forms. To foster this prosperity is our greatest trust. As our graduates leave us every year it is our prayer that they may carry with them spirits deepened, widened, purified, strengthened, vivified by their years as students with us. And how shall these things be if the spiritual atmosphere of our School be not kept deep and wide and pure and strong and life-giving? Well may we renew within ourselves, as each year carries forth from us a new class, the sincere desire and hope and trust that this institution intrusted to our management may go from strength to strength in the spirit of the Living God.

Since the writing of this report, Deaconess Sanford, acting upon her physician's advice, has decided to retire from her position as Head of the School, which she has held so faithfully for twenty-two years,—an exceptional record in these days of constant changes,—and the Board of Managers has adopted the following resolution:

"We, the Managers of the Church Training and Deaconess House, receive with heartfelt sorrow the decision to retire of Deaconess Caroline H. Sanford.

"As Head Deaconess of the Institution from its beginning, ever devoted to its best interests, full of zeal, enthusiasm, and initiative, a student and teacher of unusual attainments, it is hard to express what her loss will mean to Students, Graduates, Associates, Managers, Faculty, and all connected with the House, including her most faithful servants.

"We desire to record our deep appreciation of her faithful, efficient, loyal service, during the past twenty-two years, and the earnest hope that with more leisure, many years of happy usefulness may be hers.

"As this chapter of her life closes, crowned by success, may the next be even more richly blessed by Him who calls now as of old to His beloved disciples, 'Come ye apart and rest awhile.' "

JACQUELINE P. EVANS

Report of the Associates of the Board of Managers.

The past year has been a very successful one in the history of the Associates—full of works and interest. They now number thirty-six, representing twenty parishes, and several who are unable to do active work have asked to become "contributing" Associates; these number thirty-seven.

Meetings and "teas" are held as usual each month through the winter.

The work of the Associates is very varied—Miss Sachse still continues her sewing class. Through the efforts of Mrs. Goodrich many maternity bundles have been made at St. Paul's Church, Chestnut Hill, which church also gives, through her influence, $25 annually to the Deaconess Retiring Fund.

At Christmas 150 stockings were filled with toys and candy for the students to distribute in their work, and presents were given to Missions needing them.

Flowers are sent every Saturday for the Chapel and House.

A croquet set was given to the House, and tennis racket to St. Martha's House.

Magazines are given to the House, as well as being sent to many former students, and a book-case has been given for the use of the Faculty, and through an Associate donations of books have been given to the Sanford Club Room, and St. Martha's House.

The Treasurer reports:

Printing	$17.31
Personal presents	125.25
Outings for students	20.00
Deaconess Retiring Fund	34.43
Miscellaneous	35.65
	$232.64

The principal work of the Associates is the personal contact and interest in the students. Coming as they do from all parts of our country as strangers, they need personal friends, and the Associates strive to supply that need, and hope that, through the coming year, our work will increase more and more in interest and result

Respectfully submitted,

S. E. GILPIN,

Secretary.

Report of the Head Deaconess.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

The division of labor mentioned in last year's report—that is, placing sub-committees in charge of the various departments—has enabled us to meet with ease the increased demands resulting from our present growth. We have now 30 students in regular course, and have graduated 142, including 70 deaconesses, beside sending out 19 non-graduates as missionaries with the endorsement of the school. Our workers are in every mission field of the Church except South America, and are the only white women in our African mission.

The Alumnæ Association has become a valuable auxiliary of the school. It supports a quarterly "News Letter," keeping all our graduates in touch with one another; it has established local circles for intercession and conference; it sends delegates to the Silver Bay and Cambridge Conferences; and makes an annual contribution to the endowment of the school. The greater part of our applicants come through the influence of our alumnæ, the best advertising medium possible, and the school is now prospering through the loving loyalty of its children.

A few who are here today were present twenty-two years ago, at the opening service at 708 Spruce Street. The Canon on Deaconesses had just been passed, causing our founders to enlarge their plan to include not only the training of women in general Church work, as originally intended, but the training of deaconesses also.

We had to evolve the whole system of discipline in the house, as we found no model in this country between a young ladies' boarding school and a convent. I recall that one of the questions raised was, "shall we require them to scrub the front steps?" as in the stricter sisterhoods; and another, "Should their letters be open to inspection?" We may smile now at these early perplexities, but they were very real then. The line we adopted finally has met with the approval not only of our sister training school in New York, but of those of the Protestant bodies started since. Later on we became greatly indebted to the English Deaconess School in Rochester for ideals, but their methods had to be so altered to suit American conditions as to become practically original with us.

The Canon, in specifying the duties of a deaconess, indicated the kind of knowledge needed by every one expecting to help in the work of "moral reformation," "caring for the sick and the poor," and "in the religious instruction of the young and others," and within a few years two of our graduates have taken charge of institutions for the work of moral reformation, and are willing to receive those wishing training in that most difficult work. Along the remaining lines of hospital, social, and religious work, our course has developed from small beginnings until we feel quite well equipped.

The Care of the Sick.—From the opening of the school, Dr. Seneca Egbert has lectured on "Hygiene and Emergencies," always arousing enthusiastic interest. Former pupils still remember a classmate coming in late and breathless to his bandaging class, explaining, "I fell down near the corner drug store and hurt my wrist; they wanted to fix it there, but I hurried back so we could see Dr. Egbert set a real fracture!" The Episcopal Hospital felt a natural hesitation about receiving outsiders coming for a term of ten weeks on the same footing with their own regular probationers, but the Bishop's wish prevailed. Since then five other hospitals have offered to take any that the Episcopal cannot accommodate, and too much cannot be said of the interest and patience shown our classes by superintendents and nurses wherever they have worked. Last year by the advice and under the supervision of Dr. John Kearsley Mitchell, all who were going to the hospital took a course in physical culture, with the result that they were able to go through the ten weeks without feeling muscular strain.

The Care of the Poor.—To help the poor to make comfortable homes the worker must have practical knowledge. Partly on this account, every resident pupil shares in household tasks for an hour each morning, taking them in rotation. They also have normal training in sewing and cooking, and are taught to keep simple accounts. Then as "field work" each helps in industrial schools or thrift societies, in some mission. We are making a special point of the kitchen gardens, as in teaching the little girls to become mother's helpers, the young teachers themselves learn system in domestic work. A deaconess told me that she never dusts a chair without thinking—

> "First the back and then the seat, > Then the rounds and then the feet"—

a formula learned years ago under Miss Morris.

Miss E. N. Biddle, Miss Buchanan, Miss Parrish, and Miss Elisabeth Morris gave our first women thorough training in work among the poor. But as years rolled by, the places of these rare women became vacant and could not be filled. Through the influence of the managers various agencies were enlisted to help. The Charity Organization receives our seniors as "friendly visitors" and trains them in the principles of co-operative relief, and several seniors are social service workers for the Pennsylvania Hospital,—all having the benefit of attending the weekly S. O. C. conferences. Meanwhile not only our Training School but the Presbyterian and Baptist also, found that the courses on sociology available at that time in the city, were openly anti-religious in sentiment, holding up professing Christians to scorn as being lacking in humanity compared to non-Christian social workers. As the charitable and social work of the city is dependent for the greater part of its support upon the subscriptions of professing Christians, we withdrew in protest against such attacks upon our faith; and the three training schools sharing the expense, started a "Course in Social Problems," held in the Church House. Within a year we were joined by the Philadelphia Training School for Social Work, their director securing the lecturers for us; while under his supervision, Rev. B. D. Weigle of our own Church conducts the "quizzes." Among the many helps in our practical training, the most indispensable is St. Martha's. Through the generosity of a Philadelphia Churchman, this house was bought and endowed as a center where our younger graduates could gain experience before going out to work on their own responsibility. Deaconess Colesberry was placed in charge and has made it an ideal Church settlement, where she trains not only graduates but as many students as she can receive, to lift the burdens of the poor from body, soul, and spirit, "to give them the oil of joy for mourning." We still need facilities for training in institutional work,—some place where those desiring it could be trained in economic management and in dietetics, and as undergraduates give special attention to the physical and religious care of children. If we could have third year scholarships for this purpose, we could secure the required courses at the Drexel Institute; but the beneficiary should be one who has proved herself to have that intuitive gift for winning the love of children. It seems peculiarly fitting that the orphans of the Church should be under the care of deaconesses as in the first centuries, and I never look out of my window when the St. Joseph's Orphanage children are playing in their yard without realizing how little money it takes to make children happy and useful, if one only knows how.

The Religious Instruction of the Young and Others.—The clergy of the Divinity School and Diocese have always responded most unselfishly to the Bishop's appeal for help in the educational department, with the result, as Bishop Whitaker used to say, that "We have a faculty unsurpassed by any Divinity School in the Church." Many lives have been spiritually enriched and even transformed through their teaching. Certainly our graduates should fulfil the first law of pedagogy at least—"Know what you teach." From earliest days here there has been a class for the instruction of Sunday-school teachers, begun by Miss E. N. Biddle. Until recently this included the study of the weekly diocesan Sunday-school lesson, universally used in the diocese. Within three years past the adoption of graded lessons in many of the schools, the establishment, through the last General Convention, of the Standard Course of Religious Instruction with examinations and diplomas, and the new demand for educational secretaries to help in organizing and grading the Sunday Schools and in teacher training,—all these causes led us to try to conform our methods to the current needs of the Church. Co-operating again, this time with the Presbyterian School, we have established a course in religious pedagogy of which we are justly proud. The juniors are trained in blackboard work by Miss Florence Darnell; in manual methods, by Miss Du Bois; in telling Bible stories by Miss Julia Williamson; besides studying class management and lesson construction. The seniors study the psychology of teaching, Sunday-school management, and department methods, under the direction of Prof. E. M. Fergusson, Educational Secretary of the Presbyterian Board, with a course on the religious nurture of the child, by Rev. W. E. Gardner, of our own General Board of Religious Education. That Board has decided that the requirements for their teacher training certificate are more than covered by our curriculum and thus will give their diploma on application to any one holding our certificate in the six subjects of Old and New Testament, Church History, Church Doctrine, the Prayer Book, and Pedagogy. The work done in vacation schools and colleges shows in a better average entrance preparation in Bible subjects. But we must still ask the question, "How can more of our Sunday-school teachers be led to use the opportunities afforded them in this diocese?" We must create the sense of need of more definite knowledge before our women will appreciate this school. In this effort the experience of those who have successfully organized classes for mission study would be invaluable in organizing for study under the General Board. It would seem a natural outgrowth from the study of missions to the study of the faith for which those missions stand. If the Junior Auxiliary leaders, the Tuesday Missionary Bible Class, and the Society for Home Study of Holy Scripture, combined to standardize and develop the work of religious education in the diocese, I believe they could easily become the standard-bearers in this great movement.

And now I close my last report as your head deaconess and house mother. It is hard to part with you all,—the fellow workers and tried friends of many years,—but I feel the deepest thankfulness for having been given these years of service with you in your labor of love.

Respectfully submitted,

CAROLINE H. SANFORD,
Head Deaconess.

Report of the Board of Managers.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

This year marks not only another milestone in the life of the Church Training and Deaconess House and the farewell to our loved and honored Head Deaconess, Caroline H. Sanford, but also a warm welcome to her successor, Deaconess Clara M. Carter, who is a graduate of the school and has been doing earnest work in St. John's in the Wilderness, Allakaket, Alaska, a mission beyond the Arctic Circle. After ten years of devoted service among the Indians and Eskimos, she shrank from leaving them, and only accepted this call when Deaconess Mills and Miss Pumphrey, a trained nurse, offered to go to that far field. Her knowledge of mission work and her spirit of consecration make her peculiarly fitted to train others, and we hope that many will come within the range of her influence. We are also fortunate in having Deaconess Clarke as Assistant House Mother, who continues to make the domestic wheels run smoothly and happily.

At the suggestion of the Bishop, a fund has been raised, through the generous interest of many in the Diocese, the income of which is to be given to Deaconess Sanford during her lifetime in recognition of the twenty-two years of loyal and efficient work, and eventually it will become a part of the Deaconess Retiring Fund.

The course in Old Testament history taught by Deaconess Sanford has been well and ably taken by Miss Caroline Porter. The Rev. Dr. Rogers is a great loss to us, but we wish him abundant success in his new work in the Diocese of Chicago, and welcome the Rev. Mr. Medary. To all the members of our faithful faculty we give our sincere thanks and appreciation of all they are doing to train our students.

Our own Board has changed somewhat in this past year, and we regret that Mrs. Evans and Miss Harris felt they could no longer give the needed time, but it is a pleasure to record that Miss Ellen Morris, Mrs. John Coats Browne and Miss Anne Hubbard have become managers.

This past year the Associates have contributed most generously toward the support of a scholarship, and their gifts of flowers and books, and, above all, their personal interest in the students, have added greatly to the happiness of the household.

We should like to emphasize the fact that while the Church Training and Deaconess House is intended for those who wish to prepare for the Deaconess Order, and those who wish to devote themselves to Church work at home or abroad without entering the Order, it is also meant for those desiring to take up religious study for their own improvement, and for greater usefulness in their home parishes. There must be many in this Diocese who would be interested and helped by taking one or more of the courses in the Old and New Testaments, in Liturgics or Church History, which are all free to non-residents, and information about days and hours can be obtained at the House.

We are indeed grateful to those who have shown their interest by their generous gifts, but we earnestly hope they will come and see the work they have made possible.

As our graduates go out to all parts of the mission field we feel in close vital touch with all the world, but recently we were grieved to hear of the death of Mrs. S. Harrington Littell, who, as Charlotte Mason, endeared herself to us during her training in our House, and while we realize that her life above must be one of greater service and opportunity, her influence in this world is truly expressed in the inscription in Chinese poetry on the brass book rest for the altar given by the students of All Saints' Catechetical School in Hankow:

> How good the teacher mother!
> Humble, excellent pattern!
> She stood at the side to help Mr. Littell
> In spreading The Way throughout China.
> Now called, raised to Paradise,
> Her goodness and virtues cannot perish.
> This engraved metal is to remember her.

Does not such a life show the glory and privilege of the joy of service, and are there not many women who can answer the Master's call, and say, "Here am I; send me"?

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH S. CARRYL.

Report of the Associates to the Board of Managers.

Under the interest and enthusiasm of our President, Mrs. English, the Associates have continued their work, numbering now 46, representing 31 parishes, and the Contributing Associates number 50.

Meetings and "teas" are held as usual each month through the winter.

Miss Sachse continued her sewing class and the Associates gave two ventilators, a blackboard, and sectional book-case for the use of the Faculty, which add greatly to the comfort of the school-rooms.

A new Prayer Book and Hymnal have been given for the Chapel, and flowers are sent every Saturday for the Chapel or House.

A personal parting gift of $80 was given to Deaconess Sanford, and last Christmas 350 families were reached through the stockings and toys given by the Associates.

The Treasurer reports: Received, $300.92, which was expended as follows:

Toward scholarship	$100.00
Printing	2.84
Personal presents	95.25
Outings for students	29.00
Deaconess Retiring Fund	32.00
Miscellaneous	41.50
Balance	.33
	$300.92

The principal work of the Associates is the personal contact and interest in the students. Coming as they do from all parts of our country as strangers, they need personal friends, and the Associates try to supply this need, and hope to increase their work and interest through the coming year.

Respectfully submitted,

S. E. GILPIN,
Secretary.

Report of the Head Deaconess.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

Though the year of 1912 is marked in the history of this School by Deaconess Sanford's resignation, with the pain of leaving was the joy of knowing that she was laying down a work prayerfully and carefully built upon a strong foundation; and this was due in no small part to her own constant giving of herself, in all that concerned its life and upbuilding, throughout the entire twenty-two years of its existence. Though nothing can speak more eloquently of the splendid way in which this work is organized than the fact that, notwithstanding the change of Housemothers in the middle of the year, the work moved on without let or hindrance; it was Deaconess Clarke's skillful management of household affairs that preserved the serene atmosphere which is so essential an element in our daily life.

As the new Housemother did not arrive until the Epiphany, the first term of the year was nearly completed, and there was barely time to become acquainted with the twenty-nine students, then members of the school, before the mid-year examinations in February. The talks upon the Woman's Auxiliary, Mothers' Meetings, etc., had all been given. The various courses of lectures which had been begun in October, as well as the classes upon Book-keeping, English, Needlework, Cooking, Voice Culture; the classes in Religious Pedagogy, four of which were held at the Presbyterian School and two in our class-rooms, and the co-operative course upon Social Problems, held at the Church House, were all satisfactorily completed.

In connection with the class upon Physical Culture, a complication arose in regard to obtaining a suitable room, and we were obliged to give it up at the end of ten weeks. Would it not be possible to fit up a large room for this class, which has so important a bearing upon the health of our students, in our great basement, of which so little is used?

Speaking of the students' health brings to mind the kindly interest and courtesy with which Dr. Charles M. Montgomery has invariably responded to the many demands we have made upon him as our House Physician. We are deeply indebted to him, and through him to Dr. Francis R. Packard and Dr. W. Estell Lee.

The Commencement Service, which was held the twenty-seventh of May, in the Chapel of the Church House, was conducted by Bishop Rhinelander, assisted by our Warden, Dr. James De Wolf Perry, and five members of the Faculty. Dr. Robert Johnston delivered a very impressive sermon. Four members of the graduating class were presented as Candidates.

Dean Knapp, Miss Julia Emery, and Deaconess Goodwin, as well as four of our own graduates, came over from New York. With the Managers, the Associates, friends of the House and friends of the students, the Chapel was filled to overflowing. After the Service about one hundred and twenty guests partook of the luncheon which was served in our dining-room.

Then followed the annual meeting of the Alumnæ. A number of matters were discussed and acted upon. Deaconess Humphreys undertook the care of Ryemoor for the summer, and a sufficient sum to meet the necessary expense of keeping the house open was placed at her disposal.

Authority was given the Housemother to appoint a delegate for the Silver Bay Conference, and Miss Barney was sent as our representative.

A letter from the Board of Managers was read requesting the Alumnæ to try to think of some way of assisting the Housemother in the work of placing former graduates who desired positions. This matter was referred to the Extension Committee. Miss Ethel Springer was elected as Chairman, and Deaconess Colesberry and Miss Carryl were appointed as members of the Executive Committee. As soon as possible forms for application and reference blanks were thought out and printed, with a small card of information; the necessary stationery was purchased and printed with the proper heading, and through the October copy of the News Letter, what had been accomplished was made known to all of our graduates. Though the actual work of the Extension Committee is only begun, it bids fair to clear up a very difficult problem. And just here I wish to acknowledge my debt of gratitude to the Bishop, the Warden, Miss Coles, the Board of Managers and the Faculty for their warm welcome and ever-ready help and counsel.

Of the thirteen members of the graduating class, eleven graduated in full course, after the satisfactory completion of their summer work. Two graduated in partial course only.

Five of this number are now doing parish work in the east, and one in St. Louis. One having been set apart as a deaconess in Pasadena, sailed in August for Hankow, China. Two have gone to work under Bishop Beecher in Western Nebraska. One who is taking a post-graduate course at St. Martha's has been appointed for Alaska. Two are taking the full three years' hospital training, preparatory to work in the mission field, and one who has graduated in partial course has since undergone a serious operation, from which she has not yet fully recovered. Miss Marianna Jones, who was a day pupil for two years, after several months of hospital experience returned to Haiti to assist her father in his mission work.

Of the fourteen Juniors, one has gone to Hankow, China, one with Deaconess Mills to St. John's-in-the-Wilderness, Alaska, and eight returned as Seniors.

Special kindness was shown our students this summer at St. Timothy's and the Pennsylvania Hospitals, while Miss Brown made room for eight at the Episcopal Hospital and gave them her usual careful oversight during the required ten weeks' training; and we particularly desire to thank Deaconess Colesberry at St. Martha's House and those in charge of Holy Trinity Holiday House, the Hospital of the Good Shepherd, Rosemont, and Buttercup Cottage, for their painstaking interest in our students during their period of summer work.

In talking with the students, it has been interesting to find that, as a rule, when through some deaconess, graduate, or friend of the work, they were told of the existence of our training school, the first thing they did was to search the pages of the Spirit of Missions, and the Church papers, for information which, almost without exception, they did not find. Would not the keeping of an advertisement in the Spirit of Missions, and always having one in the educational number of the leading Church papers, be the most effective means of calling the attention of the Clergy and Church people to the fact that this School has for over twenty years been training women for missionary work, in both foreign and domestic fields, as well as for parish work in our home dioceses?

Speaking of this matter brings some pertinent questions to hand. Under our present system we allow young women of eighteen to enter our School, but experience is teaching us that this is a mistake. In the New York School the age limit is twenty-one, in Rochester and Southwark, England, it is twenty-three. Few hospitals will take women under twenty-three years of age. That is work which, of course, entails grave responsibility, but are its obligations any greater than those of a deaconess or trained church worker? At least our age limit should, I think, be raised to twenty-one.

Again, two months is a very short term of probation. In most institutions this term varies from three months to six, and in deciding upon fitness to take training for work of as serious a character as this, three months seems none too long.

Our intellectual training, given by a Faculty which stands for the best that scholarly men have to offer, and complemented by a devoted staff of instructors and teachers, together with the training given in practical work for which the best fields have through all these twenty-three years been sought out, places our school upon a very high standing. But the well-stored mind and broad knowledge of practical methods, unless dominated by the power of the Holy Spirit, become as finely tempered instruments without the skill to use them; and that each graduate of this House, starting out as the avowed handmaid of our Lord, may have her heart so filled by that greatest of all God's gifts, that in gentleness and love, in faithfulness and patience, in humility and meekness, she may serve Him to the end, is my daily prayer.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARA M. CARTER,

Head Deaconess.

Mr. Arthur E. Newbold was appointed Treasurer, and all feel deeply grateful to him for accepting the office. One new member was admitted to the Society, making a total membership of forty-one.

The officers for the coming year: Vice-President, Rev. J. DeWolf Perry, D.D.; Trustees, Mr. R. Francis Wood, Mr. Arthur E. Newbold, Deaconess Sanford, and Deaconess Clarke; Treasurer, Arthur E. FROM THE BY-LAWS.

I.

The Corporation.

SECTION 1. The Corporation shall consist of the Board of Council, the Board of Managers, and of all persons who shall pay the sum of $5.00 a year.

Any person may become a life member on payment of $100.00 at one time.

MINUTE OF THE ANNUAL MEETING OF 1905.

"Resolved, That in order to insure the future maintenance and efficiency of this work, our Endowment Fund should be increased; and our Church people are urgently requested to contribute to this Fund, and in making their wills to remember it as deserving of their bequests."

Prayer for the School.

Grant, O Lord, we beseech Thee, that Thy blessing may rest upon our Training School, and upon every member thereof, both present and absent. Give to all of us grace to live in Christian love one toward another, to bear one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ; and to follow the example of Thy blessed Son, who pleased not Himself, and came not to be ministered unto but to minister: to whom, with Thee and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory, world without end. Amen.

The Prayer for Deaconesses.

By Bishop Thorold.

O Lord of souls, Who hast chosen and called me to service in Thy Church, all my trust is in Thee, for in Thee are the springs of my life. Abundantly give me of Thy Blessed Spirit, without Whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy; and use me as it shall please Thee for the glory of Thy name. Make my will patient, my conscience pure, my temper bright. Empty me of self, and fill me with the meekness of wisdom. Increase my faith, mellow my judgment, stir my zeal, enlarge my heart. Let my life enforce what my lips utter. Do Thou choose for me the work I do, and the place in which I do it; the success I win, and the harvest I reap. Preserve me from jealousy and impatience; from self-will and depression. Make me faithful unto death, and then give me the crown of life. All which we ask for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

Report of the Board of Managers.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

In looking back over the past year we realize that it has been spent in lengthening cords and strengthening stakes, rather than in noticeable changes. But such periods of quiet are not less helpful than those of more noticeable growth. It has been the first entire year under the direction of Deaconess Carter, and it has happily confirmed us in the confidence that in her we have a worthy successor to Deaconess Sanford. To Deaconess Carter and her able assistant, Deaconess Clarke, we owe the smoothly running machinery of our household, and thanks to their influence the students look on the House as a home, as well as a Training School. We consider this a factor of great importance in developing the characters of those who come to us, for the old tradition that a happy home is a helpful influence in confirming good traits and in helping to overcome undesirable ones is, we believe, a truth that is too often ignored in these days of individualism and scattered households, when the fine art of living peaceably with those of differing tastes and opinions is sometimes neglected. Eloquent testimony to the value of this home training was borne when the quarantine described in Deaconess Carter's report came, literally, like a thief in the night.

The resulting anxiety, inconvenience, and discomfort were all met with a cheerful determination to make the best of it that augurs well for the future service of the students who passed this searching test.

The number of students has been smaller this year, owing, in part, to a rigid application of physical and other tests, and in part to the summons of home duties which prevented several applicants from taking the training. Each year our endeavor has been to raise the standard for graduation, and our ideal is to have our list of graduates contain only those who, we are reasonably sure, will be able adequately to meet the arduous requirements for a useful missionary or parish worker. We have felt with increasing force, however, that there are many who, while not able to meet the full standard, can yet be trained for helpful service along certain lines, and the By-Laws have been amended to allow greater flexibility in such training. We hope that, while maintaining and even raising the standard for our graduates, we shall thus be able to help many whose character qualifies them for service, but who, for various reasons, are unable to graduate.

In making these changes we have consulted with members of the Faculty, to whom we extend our hearty thanks and sincere appreciation, not only in this instance, but for their unfailing help in the lectures. The high standing of our lecturers is an honorable distinction to the School, and the fact that their service is a free gift places us under an obligation which we are both proud and grateful to acknowledge. Without their help the School could not have succeeded as it has done.

With the exception of the resignation of Miss Porter, the Faculty list is unchanged; as the Rev. Dr. Johnston has kindly combined her work for the Juniors with his for the Seniors, thus returning to the earlier arrangement, in force for many years. We wish here to record our appreciation of Miss Porter's great help in taking Deaconess Sanford's class at short notice, and to express our gratitude for her unfailing interest and devotion, and our regret that she had to leave us.

To the Board of Associates we again acknowledge our indebtedness, not only for material assistance, which has been most helpful, but also for their interest and sympathy, manifested in many ways, both to the Institution and to the individual students.

Finally, we would thank all those who by their contributions have helped the work to continue. While gratefully acknowledging their help, may we not ask for a more widespread interest throughout the diocese? Thanks to the generosity of a comparatively small number of individuals and churches we have been able to meet our obligations, but at one time during the year the Board of Managers experienced a keen sense of anxiety for money to meet necessary bills, which more numerous, even though small, contributions would have obviated.

And more than money, we ask for the co-operation and interest of our fellow-members of the diocese, not only in availing themselves of the opportunities for study and service offered, but also in helping us to train others for that wider service in the Kingdom which many of us can only do by proxy, for "the Field is the World," and though "the harvest truly is plenteous, the laborers are few."

Report of the Associates to the Board of Managers.

We have entered upon another year with the loss of two of our Associates: Mrs. C. S. Eldredge, a contributing member, died October 8th, and Miss Susan Crawford, an active member for a number of years, who entered into rest the same month. Their loss will be most keenly felt by all who have come within the influence of their deeply active interest in the work of the Associates.

There are now fifty-one Contributing Associates on our roll, and forty-seven Active Members, who represent twenty-eight parishes. We realize that the work of the Church Training and Deaconess House should be known to more parishes, and hope that this year's work, under renewed enthusiasm, will produce the desired result. Monthly notices in Parish publications will prove of inestimable value in this connection.

Appeals for help in the past year have been numerous and varied. Deaconess Camp asked for help to make the Christmas celebration at St. Ambrose Mission a happier one than ever. We sent her fifteen dollars. Deaconess Betson wanted similar help for St. Nathaniel's Mission. We sent her games, toys, and books.

Gifts of books, magazines, and games will be gladly welcomed at St. Agnes' Hospital, Gibbon, Neb. (care of Miss Edith Willis); also at the Tubercular Hospital, Ft. Lapwai, Idaho (care of Miss M. E. Metzler).

The usual lines of activities are being carried out. The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Paul's, Chestnut Hill (through Mrs. Goodrich), contributes twenty-five dollars yearly to the Deaconess Retiring Fund. The Associates presented a new hymnal for the Chapel, and a much-needed screen for the dining-room. Mrs. English helped in the interesting work of a wedding dress for a former student, while a fine box from the Church of the Redeemer (through Miss Morris) gladdened the heart of the bride.

As usual, flowers are to be sent to the House weekly or for special occasions. Three of the Associates have helped Miss Willis in response to her appeal for books and games at St. Agnes' Hospital, Gibbon, Neb. The usual Christmas gifts to a retired Deaconess and the children's toys and stockings were given.

Mrs. Fries is the President of the Associates for the new year, while Mrs. Williamson will continue to take charge of our funds.

The Treasurer reports having received during the year the sum of $244.83.

Report of the Head Deaconess.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

Our rule of not opening school until the second Wednesday in October the year of the General Convention, was rendered futile by the General Convention itself opening on that day, so it was decided to begin the usual time, the first Wednesday in October, which, falling upon the first day of the month, gave us the longest possible school year, and for this later events made us very grateful.

The graduating exercises were held as usual, the last Tuesday in May, in the Chapel of the Church House. Bishop Rhinelander presided and Mr. Medary gave the address. Five members of the Faculty were in the chancel.

Of our seven seniors, one lost so much time on account of illness that she returned this fall for the full second year's course. Six graduated; of these, two have gone to China; one is in charge of work among foreigners in Hamilton, Canada; one is doing parish work in New Haven, Connecticut; one is assisting Deaconess Hall in New York; and one, who was taken ill just before Commencement, is now doing her last ten weeks of practical work. May I here call attention to the fact that the strain of making up lost lectures preceded both of these cases of illness. The first student entered in January; the second was detained at home for six weeks after Christmas, and upon her return made up the many lectures she had missed; the nervous strain of this is too great.

Of the nine members of the Junior Class, six returned as seniors; of the remaining three, one came for only one year; one was not strong enough for the work, and one was obliged to leave at the end of a few weeks owing to family complications.

In April Miss Martha Richards and Miss Miriam Homersham entered as visitors. Miss Richards completed ten weeks of summer work with an excellent record and returned for one year this fall. Miss Homersham did nearly eight weeks' work at the Episcopal Hospital, but when England became involved in the war she felt that she must return home, and she is now in training at St. Bartholomew's, which was the first hospital in London to be turned over to the army.

Miss Lillian Kaighn, having successfully passed the test of a year's work after graduating, was set apart as a Deaconess in Grace Church, Mt. Airy, the twenty-third of May. The service was conducted by Bishop Rhinelander, and Dr. Perry preached the sermon. Many friends were in the congregation, and among them the entire household of young girls over whom Deaconess Morris and Deaconess Kaighn preside. The beautiful service made a deep impression upon them.

Deaconess Mary Florence Sloane entered into life eternal Sunday, March 1st.

At the Faculty meeting in February a committee consisting of Dr. Perry, Dr. Robinson, Mr. Tait, and Mr. Medary was appointed to draw up a diploma to take the place of the testimonial which has hitherto been used. Mr. Medary designed the lettering and the illumination, and we now have a beautiful and dignified diploma.

We were very fortunate in securing the Rev. William E. Gardner for five lectures on the Religious Nurture of the Child. These lectures, which were a free gift, came in our department of Religious Pedagogy, in which we combine with the Presbyterian School. Miss Paxon, who was to teach the Principles of Story Telling, died very suddenly a few days before her classes were to begin, and this event, coupled with later complications, made it impossible for our students to get more than a mere outline of this subject.

In the beginning of this report I spoke of cause for gratitude that we had the longest possible school year, and this was owing to the fact that on the second morning in March we awakened to find ourselves in quarantine, due to our colored janitor having developed smallpox; fortunately, he did not sleep in the house and had left the evening before. In these days of inoculation and fumigation the prompt and thorough action of the Board of Health leaves but slight chance for the development of new cases.

Waiting until after chapel when we were all together, our situation and its contingencies were quietly explained and calmly accepted. That morning every member of the household was vaccinated, no account being made of recent vaccinations that had taken, or even of having had smallpox, as was the case with a guest who happened to be staying with us, and the wisdom of this was proved by the fact of the inoculation in her case taking well. The fumigation of the house was begun at once. This having to be done in sections, necessitated our moving into a different set of rooms each day until it was completed, as rooms which were being fumigated had to be closed for at least seven hours, and it was forty-eight hours after they were opened before we could inhabit them. The day the kitchen was being done bountiful meals were provided by two members of the Board of Managers and one of the Associates, and none of us shall ever forget the cheer and brightness the beautiful flowers sent by Mrs. Rhinelander brought. By the end of the fourth day the fumigation was complete, all the members of the household were clean, even the two cats, and that evening the quarantine was raised; but as the period of incubation is from fourteen to sixteen days, we felt that coming in contact with the large number of people we do in the ordinary routine of our daily lives a further moral responsibility rested upon us, so beyond the students going for a walk each day, when they took the less frequented streets, the quarantine was maintained until the sixteenth of March. The responsibility of our most difficult problem fell upon Deaconess Clarke; this was the care of the furnace, for the time we were without a janitor was during the coldest weather of the winter. Too much cannot be said of the splendid spirit shown by the students, and of their instant and hearty co-operation in helping in every way to keep a uniformly cheery atmosphere while trying to take advantage of the days of isolation for study and work for which our usual routine gives but little time.

We are again very greatly indebted to Dr. Charles M. Montgomery, our House Physician, and through him to Dr. Francis R. Packard and Dr. W. Estell Lee, for ever-ready help and advice in maintaining the health of the students.

For the many blessings of the past year we are deeply grateful: for the unvarying sympathy and help of the Bishop, the Warden, and the Board of Managers; for the great gift of time and talent of the busy members of the Faculty; for the painstaking work of the efficient staff of instructors, and for the constant effort of the Associates to contribute to the social life of our family. May the young lives that are going out to minister to God's poor and needy send back into the hearts of all who have labored so faithfully to fit them for the Master's service a rich harvest of joy by winning many souls for Christ!

Respectfully submitted,

CLARA M. CARTER,

Head Deaconess.

FROM THE BY-LAWS.

I.

The Corporation.

SECTION 1. The Corporation shall consist of the Board of Council, the Board of Managers, and of all persons who shall pay the sum of $5.00 a year.

Any person may become a life member on payment of $100.00 at one time.

MINUTE OF THE ANNUAL MEETING OF 1905.

"Resolved, That in order to insure the future maintenance and efficiency of this work, our Endowment Fund should be increased; and our Church people are urgently requested to contribute to this Fund, and in making their wills to remember it as deserving of their bequests."

Prayer for the School.

Grant, O Lord, we beseech Thee, that Thy blessing may rest upon our Training School, and upon every member thereof, both present and absent. Give to all of us grace to live in Christian love one toward another, to bear one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ; and to follow the example of Thy blessed Son, who pleased not Himself, and came not to be ministered unto but to minister: to whom, with Thee and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory, world without end. Amen.

The Prayer for Deaconesses.

By Bishop Thorold.

O Lord of souls, Who hast chosen and called me to service in Thy Church, all my trust is in Thee, for in Thee are the springs of my life. Abundantly give me of Thy Blessed Spirit, without Whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy; and use me as it shall please Thee for the glory of Thy name. Make my will patient, my conscience pure, my temper bright. Empty me of self, and fill me with the meekness of wisdom. Increase my faith, mellow my judgment, stir my zeal, enlarge my heart. Let my life enforce what my lips utter. Do Thou choose for me the work I do, and the place in which I do it; the success I win, and the harvest I reap. Preserve me from jealousy and impatience; from self-will and depression. Make me faithful unto death, and then give me the crown of life. All which we ask for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

THE Twenty-fifth Annual Meeting of the Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House was held in the Church House on Tuesday, November 23rd, 1915, at 3:30 P. M.

The meeting was called to order by Bishop Rhinelander, who offered prayer and made an address reviewing the work of the past year, and referred particularly to the loss of Dean Groton.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with inasmuch as they had been printed.

The report of Head Deaconess and Housemother was read by Deaconess Carter; the Report of the Board of Managers, by Mrs. H. W. Page; the Report of the Treasurer of the Board of Managers by Mrs. Lowber; the report of the Associates, by Mrs. Zesinger. These reports were referred to the Committee on Publication.

The Treasurer, Mr. Arthur E. Newbold, was unavoidably absent, but his report was presented and read in part by a representative from his office. A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Newbold for his efficient service as Treasurer.

The following officers were then duly elected:

Board of Council: R. Francis Wood, Arthur E. Newbold, John Cadwalader, Dr. J. K. Mitchell, and Charles Sinkler. The President and Warden are ex-officio members.

Secretary: Mr. Charles Sinkler.

Treasurer: Mr. Arthur E. Newbold.

The Bishop appointed the Board of Managers as follows for the year 1915–16: Miss Coles, Mrs. Effingham Perot, Miss Esther Aertsen, Mrs. W. W. Farr, Mrs. H. S. Lowber, Miss E. S. Carryl, Miss J. U. Sinkler, Mrs. John Coats Browne, Miss Ellen Morris, Miss Anne M. Hubbard, Mrs. H. W. Page, Miss Anna Randolph.

The Bishop appointed Rev. James DeWolf Perry, D.D., Warden, and Deaconess Clara M. Carter, Head Deaconess and House Mother.

The following committee on Publication was appointed: Miss Coles, Mrs. H. W. Page, Deaconess Carter, Rev. Dr. Perry, and Mr. Charles Sinkler.

It was reported that the rear of 708 Spruce Street had been altered into a garage, authorized at the last meeting, and that the cost was approximately $800.00; that a tenant had not yet been obtained, but that it was hoped to secure approximately $25.00 a month rent.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

CHARLES SINKLER,
Secretary.

THE Board of Council held a stated meeting at the Church House on Tuesday, November 23, Bishop Rhinelander, Dr. Perry and Charles Sinkler were present. The Board having no business before it on motion adjourned.

CHARLES SINKLER,
Secretary.

Report of the Board of Managers.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

In making our Twenty-fifth Annual Report and looking over the past year we feel that, though the number of students was smaller than we have sometimes had, this has been one of the best years in the history of the school. We have offered more opportunities than ever before, and the work of the students has been exceedingly good. We consider it a rare privilege for them to live under the uplifting influence of Deaconess Carter, whose interpretation of the Christian life in her own personality is a compelling example. She is ably assisted by Deaconess Clarke, under whose supervision the household runs smoothly, yet economically, and the atmosphere of cheerfulness and unselfishness transforms the school into a happy home. The house has been open all summer, with one of the House Mothers in charge, and has been the headquarters for the students doing summer work in the vicinity, as well as a retreat for those whose homes were too far away for them to return.

We also congratulate ourselves upon our able and devoted Faculty, who give us so generously of their time and interest, and maintain a high standard of scholarship. In addition to our ordinary courses, we are now offering a post-graduate course to missionaries and graduates who have done good and faithful service.

We wish to express our deep appreciation of the work of our Associates, who help both students and graduates in so many ways, and who have that love which never faileth.

We would also record our gratitude to two of our oldest friends who are now lost to our sight—Miss Agnes Irwin, who from the beginning of the school always gave us the help and wise counsel only to be found in one of her character and experience, and Miss Sally Roberts Smith, whose generosity was unbounded.

The Board of Council were called upon this year to undertake an important improvement to our property, and they have altered the stable in the rear, which was always in an unsanitary condition, into a garage, which should bring a larger rent and a much more desirable tenant.

We now come to our needs, two of which are very prominent in our minds: First, we wish we could have every one of our rooms occupied by a promising student, and the classes open and free to non-residents more largely attended. Very many applicants are refused admission on account of age, uncertain health, or other disqualifications, so that we have still room for more students. We therefore urge all our friends to spread the knowledge of the school among possible applicants.

Our other great need is for a larger income. The cost of living has risen, as every one knows, and in spite of the utmost economy all our resources put together last year left a large deficit. Feeling, as the Board does, that no institution has a right to end a year with any debt, we raised the required sum by special effort among ourselves. In order to prevent this constantly recurring emergency, we have been obliged very reluctantly to pass a resolution under which the board of students shall be increased from $200.00 to $250.00 a year, beginning with the class entering next year. But our endowment must be enlarged, and the claims of the school as a diocesan institution must be more widely recognized by the parishes, and new friends must be found to take the places of those generous ones who have passed on.

Respectfully submitted,

Report of the Associates to the Board of Managers.

During the past year we have added six new members to our ranks, and have lost two through resignation, though Mrs. LeRoy will continue to show her interest in the work through the Contributing Membership. Thus, we have fifty-three on our list of Active Members, representing thirty-three parishes, as against twenty-eight last year. There are fifty-one contributing members.

The usual appeals for help at Christmas were met with unusual sympathy. The annual gift to a retired Deaconess was most gratefully acknowledged. This enables her to enjoy a little outing in the summer.

In response to the call from Deaconess Adams, in Chester, we sent her $5.00 and some beautifully dressed dolls, while Mrs. Houston sent a personal gift of dressed dolls, collars, and jabots for the older girls.

To Deaconess Camp, at St. Ambrose Mission, we sent $15.00, some dressed dolls (through Mrs. Klink), and games by Mrs. Perot.

Mrs. English donated stockings, which were filled by the various gifts sent in by the other Associates. Then there were delicious oranges from Miss Morris and her mother, and the climax came in the mysteries of the cornucopias so bountifully provided by Mrs. Fries.

Through the influence of Mrs. J. L. Fryburg a large number of dolls, toys, games, and filled stockings was given by the pupils of the school near Sixty-ninth and Market Streets (Keystone Public School). All these gifts were delivered to St. Nathaniel's Mission, to St. Ambrose Mission, and to Deaconess Adams in Chester, through the courtesy of Mrs. Fries and Mrs. English.

Throughout the year different Associates have entertained students at their homes, or sent tickets for lectures and concerts to the family at 708 Spruce Street, as well as delightful surprises of fruit.

Gifts of books and magazines have been sent to Deaconess Metzler, to Miss Edith Willis, and to Deaconess Mills in Alaska—all so gratefully received.

St. Matthew's Sunday School (through Mrs. Zesinger) sends weekly to Deaconess Adams in Chester all surplus lesson leaflets for use in her colored Sunday School.

Flowers are sent weekly to 708 Spruce Street by the Associates, and Mrs. Houston, as usual, provided the flowers for the Commencement at the Church House. Through Miss Gilpin, the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of the Ascension will give $5.00 annually to the work, while through Mrs. Goodrich the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Paul's, Chestnut Hill, sends $25.00 yearly to the Deaconess Retiring Fund.

Mrs. Paxson kindly offered the use of her home for a week at a time to any students who might be in need of a little rest and change.

Mrs. Lane succeeded in raising $60.00 for the boat needed so much at St. John's-in-the-Wilderness.

The Associates were also asked for help in providing a much-needed typewriter for Deaconess Mills, and Mr. Fries came most nobly to the rescue and despatched a machine with necessary equipment.

The same officers were reëlected to serve another year.

The Treasurer reports having received during the year the sum of $269.38.

Report of the Head Deaconess.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

School was opened the afternoon of October 7, 1914, by the usual service in the Chapel, which was conducted by Dr. Perry and Mr. Medary. Bishop Garland gave the address, and after the service met the students. There were seven Seniors and twelve in the entering class, including two special students who came for one year. In January a third student entered for the remainder of the year. Of the seven members of the Senior Class, two, Miss Booth and Miss Humphreys, have gone to Japan; Miss Leach has succeeded Miss Cady in charge of the girls' department of the Episcopal Home for Children at Anacostia, near Washington; Miss Cady, who was with us for six months in 1913–1914, having gone to assist Miss Thackara at Fort Defiance, Arizona. Miss Perry has entered the Pennsylvania Hospital for the full training; Miss Kinsley is taking a course in kindergarten methods at Cambridge, Massachusetts; Miss Weaver is having a year at St. Martha's, and Miss Paine, after another prolonged and serious illness, was obliged to give up her training.

Of our three Special students, one returned to work in her home diocese; one has undertaken work at St. Augustine's, Raleigh, N. C.; and one is working in the Southern mountains. A graduate of the Episcopal Hospital, who was with us for a month, has gone to assist Miss Wright at Nenana, Alaska.

There were no changes in the Faculty, but Dean Groton's sudden death, the evening of our Commencement, was a very painful shock. He had taught in the School since 1899, and his genial presence will be greatly missed, for he was a general favorite with the students.

The class on Social Problems, under the supervision of Miss Helen L. Parrish and Miss Julia U. Sinkler, was a marked success, as was also the class in English, under the direction of Miss Henrietta Washburn.

An invitation for our Seniors to attend Mr. E. Carter Milliken's Normal Mission Study Class was accepted, and the Seniors of the Presbyterian School attended our class on Social Problems. Miss M. G. Lindley, Associate Secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary, gave our combined classes a very valuable course upon the Psychology of Teaching.

The record for the ten weeks of hospital work this year was exceptionally good, and not one day was lost through illness. Our thanks are due Miss Brown, Miss Dunlop, and Miss Simonton for their great kindness and consideration for our students. Our warmest thanks are again due Dr. Charles M. Montgomery, and through him, Dr. Francis R. Packard, and Dr. Estell W. Lee for their unfailing courtesy and help whenever we have had to call upon them.

The Chapel was enriched by two gifts, the first being twenty-five handsome chairs, which completed the set, and the second, four richly bound and beautifully illuminated books, comprising an Altar Book, the Litany and Penitential Office, a Prayer Book, and a Hymnal.

I cannot close this report without expressing my grateful appreciation of all the Bishop, the Warden, the Board of Managers, the Faculty, the Instructors, and the Associates have done to help the devotional, the intellectual, and the social life of those whom we are training for the Master's work. It is very sweet to me to hear the students talk of coming home, and it is because you have done all you could to fill their lives with the things that are highest and best. God has given us His blessing in large measure, and we thank Him.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARA M. CARTER,

Head Deaconess.

FROM THE BY-LAWS.

I.

The Corporation.

SECTION 1. The Corporation shall consist of the Board of Council, the Board of Managers, and of all persons who shall pay the sum of $5.00 a year.

Any person may become a life member on payment of $100.00 at one time.

MINUTE OF THE ANNUAL MEETING OF 1905.

"Resolved, That in order to insure the future maintenance and efficiency of this work, our Endowment Fund should be increased; and our Church people are urgently requested to contribute to this Fund, and in making their wills to remember it as deserving of their bequests."

Prayer for the School.

Grant, O Lord, we beseech Thee, that Thy blessing may rest upon our Training School, and upon every member thereof, both present and absent. Give to all of us grace to live in Christian love one toward another, to bear one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ; and to follow the example of Thy blessed Son, who pleased not Himself, and came not to be ministered unto but to minister: to whom, with Thee and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory, world without end. Amen.

The Prayer for Deaconesses.

By Bishop Thorold.

O Lord of souls, Who hast chosen and called me to service in Thy Church, all my trust is in Thee, for in Thee are the springs of my life. Abundantly give me of Thy Blessed Spirit, without Whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy; and use me as it shall please Thee for the glory of Thy name. Make my will patient, my conscience pure, my temper bright. Empty me of self, and fill me with the meekness of wisdom. Increase my faith, mellow my judgment, stir my zeal, enlarge my heart. Let my life enforce what my lips utter. Do Thou choose for me the work I do, and the place in which I do it; the success I win, and the harvest I reap. Preserve me from jealousy and impatience; from self-will and depression. Make me faithful unto death, and then give me the crown of life. All which we ask for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

THE Twenty-sixth Annual Meeting of the Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House was held in the Church House on Thursday, November 2d, 1916, at 3 P. M.

The meeting was called to order by Bishop Rhinelander, who offered prayer and made an address reviewing the work of the past year.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with, inasmuch as they had been printed.

The report of Head Deaconess and House Mother was read by Deaconess Carter; the Report of the Board of Managers by Miss Julia U. Sinkler; the Report of the Treasurer of the Board of Managers by Mrs. Browne; the Report of the Associates by Mrs. Medary. These reports were referred to the Committee on Publication.

The Treasurer, Mr. Arthur E. Newbold, was unavoidably absent, but his report was presented and read in part by the Warden. At Mr. Newbold's request it was referred to an Auditing Committee. A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Newbold for his efficient service as Treasurer.

The following officers were then duly elected:

Board of Council: R. Francis Wood, Arthur E. Newbold, John Cadwalader, Dr. J. K. Mitchell and Charles Sinkler. The President and Warden are ex-officio members.

Secretary: Mr. Charles Sinkler.

Treasurer: Mr. Arthur E. Newbold.

The Bishop appointed the Board of Managers as follows for the year 1916–17: Miss Coles, Mrs. Effingham Perot, Miss Esther Aertsen, Mrs. W. W. Farr, Mrs. H. S. Lowber, Miss E. S. Carryl, Miss J. U. Sinkler, Mrs. John Coats Browne, Miss Ellen Morris, Mrs. H. W. Page, Miss Anna Randolph.

The Bishop appointed Rev. James DeWolf Perry, D.D., Warden, and Deaconess Clara M. Carter, Head Deaconess and House Mother.

The following committee on Publication was appointed: Miss Coles, Miss J. U. Sinkler, Deaconess Carter, Rev. Dr. Perry and Mr. Charles Sinkler.

It was resolved that there be referred to the Board of Managers, with power, the question of advertising the Deaconess House in church magazines.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

CHARLES SINKLER,
Secretary.

Report of the Board of Managers.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

In presenting this our Twenty-sixth Annual Report, we look back with mingled feelings over the infancy and youth of our School; and long as it seems since it was started, it is still so young that it has hardly yet come into sight of the usefulness which should be expected of it in the future.

The Managers and Faculty have given their best efforts to make it an instrument fitted for turning out well trained and efficient workers. It has had the benefit of the vision, the deep interest, the wise counsel, and the authority of three Bishops as its Presidents; Bishop Whitaker, who moulded every policy of the first years, Bishop Mackay-Smith, its staunch friend, and Bishop Rhinelander, who is never too busy to help and advise and govern. Bishop Garland, too, has been a devoted friend, on the Faculty until he was made Bishop Suffragan, and since that time ready to help whenever he was called upon. The Warden, Dr. Perry, has been the heart of the School, not only giving lectures every week for many years, but has devoted time to the study of the students' characters, guiding them, and the policy toward them, with his wise and sane and kindly judgment. The School has been fortunate in having had only two Head Deaconesses, thus securing a continuity of policy, and the wisdom which comes from experience, and there is an increasingly accurate judgment as to the character of the women who make up the student body.

But we are only now beginning to feel the effect of one of the most important constituents of a school, and particularly of a professional school; I refer to the Alumnæ and to the vastly important part they play in that most intangible, but essential, element, the School Spirit. Without this the School is still in infancy, and Managers, Faculty, Bishops, and House Mother are but nurses and guardians. It is by the graduates of the School that the world judges it—they are the measure of its success in the past, the foundation stone for any success the future may bring. From the very beginning the graduates have helped in every way that offered, making the School known, and giving it the benefit of their experience gained in actual work. The School at this stage in its history is more dependent than ever before upon the loyalty and co-operation of its graduates—loyalty that refrains from criticism of policies until they are fully understood, and helps to mould them—and co-operation: First, in directing the right kind of human material to the School; second, in advising new methods of training to fit special needs and modern conditions.

The Board of Managers regret that Mrs. Lowber has found it necessary to resign from the Treasurership, the arduous and tedious duties of which she has carried out so faithfully, but she remains a valuable member of the Board, and we have been fortunate in securing the services of Mrs. John Coats Browne as Treasurer. Miss Anne Hubbard has found that she no longer had time to serve on the Board, and we deeply regret losing her friendly interest in the students and her knowledge of Missions, which were so important a contribution to the welfare of the School.

We owe a debt of gratitude which we can never express for the continued activity of the Faculty, who give of their time, their skill and their learning for the intellectual enlightenment of the students. We wish especially to express our appreciation to Dr. Heffern, who has resigned after giving for fourteen years very valuable courses on the Acts and the Pauline Epistles. We are very happy to say that the Reverend George Lynde Richardson will teach these courses in the future.

In the practical training of the students we have the cooperation of the Society for Organizing Charity in teaching approved methods of helping those who, for economic reasons, have fallen behind in the race. While in care of the sick our students have the privilege of short terms in the Episcopal Hospital, the Pennsylvania Hospital and St. Timothy's Hospital, a courtesy which involves much kindness on the part of Superintendents and Head Nurses.

To touch last upon the finances of the School, which are a large part of the responsibility of the Managers: we have had a more than usually prosperous year, owing in part to the largely increased offerings from churches. We gratefully record the endowment of a Scholarship by Miss Blanchard, in memory of her sister, Miss Maria Blanchard, for many years a Manager. This endowment perpetuates the gifts she was accustomed to make each year for the support of a student.

But our School, in spite of its endowments and the great generosity of many friends, can never meet its full expenses unless more Parishes and more Auxiliaries take up the matter. The School is a Diocesan Institution and it is to the interest of the Diocese that the appeal should be made, for properly to equip women to do the Church's work is an effort which is of such moment that the support of such an institution should come from the Parishes and must not rest upon the gifts of individuals. God has richly blessed this School in the past, but more than ever it needs the money, the interest and the prayers of the Diocese as a whole, and every member of it.

JULIA U. SINKLER.

Report of the Associates to the Board of Managers.

Two new members have been added to the list of Associates during the past year, and three have resigned, one having become a Contributing Associate. Our total membership now numbers forty-four, representing thirty parishes. There are forty-eight Contributing Associates.

At Christmas the usual appeals were received and responded to; to Deaconess Adams in Chester, five dollars and some dressed dolls were sent; to Deaconess Camp at St. Ambrose Mission, five dollars for gifts to her teachers; and to Deaconess Pew, ten dollars for gifts for the children of St. Nathaniel's. Stockings were again sent by Mrs. English, and other Associates gave toys and candy with which to fill them. As last year, the pupils of the Keystone Public School, at 69th and Market Streets, sent toys and games to St. Nathaniel's and St. Ambrose Missions.

Through the year different Associates have sent tickets for concerts and lectures to the various students, as well as entertained them in their homes.

Flowers have been sent weekly to 708 Spruce Street, for the Chapel and House, by the Associates; and to the Church House on Commencement Day. The Voluntary Emergency Fund, to be used by Deaconess Carter as she sees fit, has been a wonderful help to her in many ways during the year.

By reason of ill health, Mrs. Zesinger, the Secretary, was obliged to resign in February, and her resignation was received with great regret.

At the annual election of officers in May, the following were chosen: Mrs. J. M. Fries, President; Mrs. E. B. McCarthy, Vice-President; Mrs. H. M. Medary, Secretary; and Mrs. Frank Williamson, Treasurer.

The Treasurer reports $303.99 as having been received during the past year. She has made expenditures as follows:

Emergency box (For voluntary emergency fund)	$12.65
Teas	19.50
Salary (Miss Barry, for Music)	50.00
Dolls and toys for Christmas	8.00
Deaconess Adams, for Christmas work	5.00
Deaconess Pew, for Christmas work	10.00
Deaconess Camp, for Christmas work	5.00
Printing and postage	6.59
Deaconess Retiring Fund	25.00
For Church Training and Deaconess House	65.00
A present to Deaconess and Student	52.00
Gifts to the House	14.75	$303.99

AMIE H. S. MEDARY,
Secretary.

November 2, 1916.

Report of the Head Deaconess.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

The graduating class of 1916 is remarkable in that every member remained her full time. Of this class Miss Blacknall is now assisting Miss Wright at Nenana, Alaska. Miss Bowen is with Deaconess Williams at Dante, Va., doing with special joy the work she has so long looked forward to. Miss Gregg is in the Language School, Nanking, China, preparing for her work in Anking. Miss Koo, our Chinese student, having obtained a grant from her government, is spending the winter studying music at the University of Syracuse; she expects to return to China next summer and is to teach music at St. Hilda's School, Hankow. Miss Landon and Miss Rose are taking the full training as nurses at the Pennsylvania Hospital, in further preparation for work in the Mission field. Miss Poppleton is doing parish work at St. Paul's, Fifteenth and Porter Streets, Philadelphia. Miss Sterne answered Dr. Chapman's pressing call for a teacher and is now most happily at work at Anvik, Alaska. Miss Ridgway took Deaconess Mills's place at St. John's-in-the-Wilderness, Alaska, having given up the full Hospital training for which she had been accepted in order to meet this very urgent and important call. Miss Wilson is doing parish work at the Church of the Epiphany, Chicago. Miss Sibson, of the class of 1913, completed her training at the Pennsylvania Hospital this summer and is now in the Language School, Nanking, China, preparing for her work in St. James's Hospital, Wuchang. Miss Weaver, of the class of 1915, finished her year at St. Martha's House and is now working in the City Mission, Chicago. Sixteen entered last October, five proved not strong enough for the work, and one, very soon after reaching her post in Alaska, had a serious nervous breakdown and was obliged to return to her home; I cannot but think a bad railroad accident she was in on her way to Vancouver had a great deal to do with it, for she passed a strict medical examination before leaving and was pronounced in perfect physical condition. I am happy to say she is now improving rapidly. The seventh was obliged to stop at the end of the year owing to her mother's serious illness. Three were Special students, and of these Miss Ambler went to Japan; Miss Ramsaur, after doing summer work at Haymarket, Va., returned to her home in North Carolina, where she is helping in a Mission Church which is just being started, and Miss Würtele is in charge of the new G. F. S. Lodge that has been opened at Twenty-first and Catharine Streets, Philadelphia. This leaves only six in the Senior class of this year.

The ten weeks of summer work passed without illness or interruption of any sort and with highly satisfactory results, and our thanks are again due Deaconess Colesberry, Miss Brown of the Episcopal Hospital, Miss Dunlop of the Pennsylvania, Miss Simonton of St. Timothy's, and the Managers of Holy Trinity Holiday House.

With all the great strain and pressure of his work our Bishop took time whenever he could possibly snatch it to come Wednesday afternoons and give a lecture upon the History of Missions. The Reverend Mr. Burk's class upon Religious Pedagogy was a great success and this year he has consented to take the Juniors as well as the Seniors.

In Advent Miss Lindley held a series of classes with our Juniors upon "The Psychology of Teaching," and in Lent Miss Tillotson took the Seniors in a Mission Study class. It was a great deal for these busy women to come from New York for these classes and we feel deeply indebted to them.

Owing to a long illness Miss Sachse was unable to take charge of the Normal Sewing class; she had, however, taught so well in past years that by using her book and putting two experienced members of the class in charge of the two departments they conducted it in a most creditable manner.

There has been a great deal said of late about combining the Junior and Senior classes where a subject covers two years, taking one branch of the subject one year and the other the next. This, of course, saves very valuable time for the lecturer, but the students do not feel that this method is at all as satisfactory as when the subject is given to the separate classes.

Dr. Charles M. Montgomery responded to all our calls with never failing helpfulness and courtesy; Dr. George E. de Schweinitz performed a most difficult and successful operation upon the eyes of one of our students; Dr. Mason W. Zimmerman examined the eyes of several others, fitting them with glasses, and to all are due our warmest thanks.

Miss Coles's Epiphany party this year marked our twenty-fifth anniversary and we were very much touched by a telegram of congratulation from Deaconess Davison of St.

Andrew's Mission, Richmond, Va., who is a member of the first class that entered the Church Training and Deaconess House.

Miss Claudine Whitaker, of the class of 1912, was "set apart" as a Deaconess on the Feast of the Epiphany, at St. Clement's Church, Philadelphia.

Miss Minna Stewart, of the class of 1913, died in November after a very painful illness; she had been working in Western Nebraska since the fall of 1913, and Bishop Beecher spoke in the highest terms of her and of her work.

I cannot close this report without acknowledging the abundant blessings that have been poured out upon us in the care and interest of our administrators, teachers, and all associated with the training and life of our students and for that indefinable but most potent influence, the home atmosphere of love and loyalty to which "all who enter our walls or go out from them" contribute as well as every member of the family.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARA M. CARTER,

Head Deaconess.

The Report of the Deaconess Retiring Fund Society.

The Annual Meeting of the Deaconess Retiring Fund Society was held Wednesday, October 4, 1916, at 708 Spruce St. Vice-President Rev. J. De Wolf Perry, D.D., presided. Nine members were present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. In the absence of the Treasurer the Vice-President read the following report:

Receipts.

Balance from last report	$1,173.71
Received	854.60
Total		$2,028.31

Expenditures.

Annuities	$230.00
Investments, etc	1,044.17
Balance on deposit with Drexel & Co	754.14
Total		$2,028.31

Dr. Perry also read the statement of the Treasurer concerning the Deaconess Sanford Retiring Fund.

Dr. Perry, as chairman of the committee "On Adjustment of Annuities," reported that the Treasurer had been authorized by said committee to pay $10 additional to each annuitant this past year, this being a temporary arrangement, and in order to complete the work of adjustment for the next five years the following resolutions were proposed, and carried:

1. Resolved, That the Treasurer, Mr. Arthur E. Newbold, be authorized and requested to employ an Actuary to examine the financial accounts and system of the Deaconess Retiring Fund, and to propose such changes and readjustments of the present system as may seem to be desirable.

2. Resolved, That the Treasurer, with the Vice-President, be authorized to carry into effect such changes and readjustments as they, with the advice of the Actuary employed, shall think to be desirable; and that they be authorized to make rebates to members of the society, refunding such overpayments as they may have made and which they may not wish to remain standing to their credit.

The Vice-President then proposed that Article 1, Sec. 2, of the By-Laws be observed this year on account of the proposed readjustment. Carried.

All officers were appointed or re-elected to serve another year.

Respectfully submitted,

MABEL ADAMS,
Secretary.

FROM THE BY-LAWS.

I.

The Corporation.

SECTION 1. The Corporation shall consist of the Board of Council, the Board of Managers, and of all persons who shall pay the sum of $5.00 a year.

Any person may become a life member on payment of $100.00 at one time.

MINUTE OF THE ANNUAL MEETING OF 1905.

"Resolved, That in order to insure the future maintenance and efficiency of this work, our Endowment Fund should be increased; and our Church people are urgently requested to contribute to this Fund, and in making their wills to remember it as deserving of their bequests."

Prayer for the School.

Grant, O Lord, we beseech Thee, that Thy blessing may rest upon our Training School, and upon every member thereof, both present and absent. Give to all of us grace to live in Christian love one toward another, to bear one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ; and to follow the example of Thy blessed Son, who pleased not Himself, and came not to be ministered unto but to minister: to whom, with Thee and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory, world without end. Amen.

The Prayer for Deaconesses.

By Bishop Thorold.

O Lord of souls, Who hast chosen and called me to service in Thy Church, all my trust is in Thee, for in Thee are the springs of my life. Abundantly give me of Thy Blessed Spirit, without Whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy; and use me as it shall please Thee for the glory of Thy name. Make my will patient, my conscience pure, my temper bright. Empty me of self, and fill me with the meekness of wisdom. Increase my faith, mellow my judgment, stir my zeal, enlarge my heart. Let my life enforce what my lips utter. Do Thou choose for me the work I do, and the place in which I do it; the success I win, and the harvest I reap. Preserve me from jealousy and impatience; from self-will and depression. Make me faithful unto death, and then give me the crown of life. All which I ask for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

CLARA M. CARTER,
Head Deaconess.

THE Twenty-seventh Annual Meeting of the Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House was held in the Church House on Thursday, November 1, 1917, at 3 P. M.

In the absence of the Bishop the meeting was called to order by Dr. Perry, who offered prayer.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with, inasmuch as they had been printed.

The report of Head Deaconess and House Mother was read by Deaconess Carter; the Report of the Board of Managers by Miss Julia U. Sinkler; the Report of the Treasurer of the Board of Managers by Mrs. Browne; the Report of the Associates by Mrs. Medary. These reports were referred to the Committee on Publication.

The Treasurer, Mr. Arthur E. Newbold, was unavoidably absent, but his report was presented and read in part. At Mr. Newbold's request it was referred to an Auditing Committee. A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Newbold for his efficient service as Treasurer.

The following officers were then duly elected:

Board of Council: R. Francis Wood, Arthur E. Newbold, John Cadwalader, and Charles Sinkler, of which Mr. Sinkler is secretary and Mr. Newbold is treasurer. The President and Warden are ex-officio members.

The Bishop appointed the Board of Managers as follows for the year 1917–18: Miss Coles, Mrs. Effingham Perot, Miss Esther Aertsen, Mrs. W. W. Farr, Mrs. H. S. Lowber, Miss E. S. Carryl, Miss J. U. Sinkler, Mrs. John Coats Browne, Miss Ellen Morris, Mrs. H. W. Page, Miss Anna Randolph.

The Bishop appointed Rev. James DeWolf Perry, D.D., Warden, and Deaconess Clara M. Carter, Head Deaconess and House Mother.

The following Committee on Publication was appointed: Miss Coles, Miss J. U. Sinkler, Deaconess Carter, Rev. Dr. Perry, and Mr. Charles Sinkler.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

JULIA U. SINKLER,
Sec. pro temp.

Report of the Board of Managers.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

This twenty-seventh year of the School's life is one of great contrasts, the great struggle going on outside making our School life seem the veriest secluded, peaceful haven, in spite of some ripples on the surface. "In quietness and in confidence shall be your strength" is our motto: How can we live up to it? for serenity would seem the greatest contribution the Christian can offer to a perturbed world. We are living through times of tempest and terror, like another deluge; what kind of a world will be disclosed when the waters subside which cover the earth, how can those saved in the ark face the devastation to be revealed, and how best be prepared for service in the necessary work of reconstruction which will follow? The Church will have its message then, as it has now—how are we to prepare messengers that they may apprehend the message and find means to compel people to listen? Our women must be ready for what women have never done before—how are we to train them for it?

If serenity and steadfastness are attributes in leaders, they may in some degree be attained by looking back over the past and realizing that people in those old times had much the same problems as we have, different though the setting be, and that they weathered their storms and have handed on the torch to us, and here the Bible and Church History help by their parallels to anything now. Another real help is the attitude of modern sociologists, with their dispassionate scientific habit of mind, studying a problem in its sources and development. Our graduates will have to act, and yet a view of the laboratory method may teach them scientific patience and calmness, and the need to carefully consider their problems before they do act.

So, having these matters at heart, the Managers record their ever-increasing gratitude to those who contribute to this —first to our Faculty, and one cannot begin to tell of the time, the labor, and the self-sacrifice involved for these busy people, nor can one compute the value of their scholarly instruction and their guidance in the thought and study of the students. To the Instructors, in the more practical work of bookkeeping, cooking, English, and music, our warmest thanks are due. There is one department, that of Social Problems, where some of the foremost social students and social workers give out of their very busy lives a lecture on the particular subject upon which they are most qualified to speak. I dare not take time to speak in detail of the many who help us here, but several college professors and many of the active workers in the various social agencies speak to the class, and in a great degree lead them to take a sane point of view of this topic.

We have a never-failing admiration for the interest and friendship of the Associates for the students—much happiness and very pleasant social opportunities result for them.

The happy home life of the School impresses one more and more, and its influence on the development of character in the students is very marked. And here we must touch upon our sorrow that Deaconess Clarke has found it necessary to withdraw—a tempered sorrow, for we hope that a year of rest will bring her back entirely restored. She has given twelve years of almost unremitting labor and never-failing devotion to the good of the House. It was with something like dismay that we found that our two faithful maids, Maggie and Sarah, beloved of every student and graduate and friend of the House, have through failing health had to leave us. Their pleasant cheerfulness and geniality have had a great influence in molding the home-like atmosphere.

We must thank also our doctors—Dr. Montgomery, always ready and kind, no matter how often called upon, and the specialists who have helped in difficult cases, and the Pennsylvania and Episcopal Hospitals, who have taken students too ill to remain in the House, for this has been a year of an unusual amount of illness.

The Managers record their sorrow at the death of Dr. John K. Mitchell, of the Board of Council, who was a kind friend of the School, and when his health permitted, ready to serve us.

We also thank those who have helped in the training of the students on practical lines, the Society for Organizing Charity, for instruction in their methods, the Episcopal, Pennsylvania, and St. Timothy's hospitals for the summer short nursing course, and, above all, to St. Martha's for the wonderful opportunities offered there.

We are most grateful to our friends, whose gifts of money have made it possible for our work to continue. For the first time in years the financial situation is comfortable, but gifts from many people and especially many parishes are necessary if we are to carry it on this difficult year. We need your gifts more than ever to grow and meet our opportunities.

Report of the Head Deaconess.

Those whom we send forth year after year to work in the world-wide vineyard of the Master represent the fruits of the freely given service of all who have assisted in their teaching, support, or training, and it is a great privilege to tell where these earnest, consecrated young women are helping to sow the seed for the swiftly coming harvest. Miss Cox is doing parish work at St. Simeon's, Philadelphia; Mrs. Shaw has taken Deaconess Clarke's place as Assistant House Mother during her year's leave of absence; Miss Dayton is in charge of the school for native children at St. Mark's Mission, Nenana, Alaska; Miss Spencer is in Okazakicho, Japan, and Miss Cleaver and Miss Willing have entered the Pennsylvania Hospital for the full training for nurses. Of our Special students, Miss Miller is at St. Luke's Hospital, Shanghai, China; Miss Putnam is in Yangchow, China; Miss Nuneviller, of the class of 1913, who came to us for the spring term, after completing her training at the Episcopal Hospital, bringing with her Miss Wells, one of the Supervising Nurses, is now with Miss Wells, in charge of the new hospital at St. Stephen's Mission, Fort Yukon, Alaska; and Miss Katherine Koster, who was with us for a month after graduating from St. Timothy's Hospital, Roxborough, is at St. John's-in-the-Wilderness. I must not close without mention of Miss Koo, of the class of 1916, who returned to St. Hilda's, Wuchang, this summer, after completing her special course in music; of Miss Kinsley, of the class of 1915, who went to Tokyo this summer, taking her only sister with her, both having completed a full course in Kindergarten; Miss Wharton, of the class of 1912, who finished her training as a nurse and went to St. James' Hospital, Anking; and of Miss Berry, of the class of 1913, who went to South Dakota in September and is teaching in St. Elizabeth's School, Wakpala.

CLARA M. CARTER.

Report of the Associates to the Board of Managers.

During the past year two Associates have resigned, and unfortunately no new ones have taken their places. By one of the resignations one less parish of the Diocese is now represented by our forty-two working members. There are still forty-eight contributing Associates. The many kindnesses of the different Associates in sending lecture and concert tickets to the students, as well as entertaining them in their homes, has again been much appreciated. The volunteer emergency fund, inaugurated last year, still proves very helpful to Deaconess Carter in providing many small necessaries.

At the annual election the officers of the previous year were reëlected.

The Treasurer reports $379.34 as having been received and expended as follows:

HENRY MARTYN MEDARY,
Sec'y pro tem.

Report of the Board of Managers.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

The twenty-eighth year of the school has been completed, and in presenting our annual report we are happy to feel we have another year of earnest work and gratifying results to look back upon. The class that entered a year ago is one of the largest and best we have ever had; and we confidently expect them to maintain last year's high standard. The number of resident students in this year's junior class is very small, making it more advisable than ever for the young church women of Philadelphia to avail themselves of the opportunities the school affords.

Under Deaconess Carter's gentle guidance the school has the atmosphere of a real home, where peace and happiness abound, and the students frequently tell us how they love it.

We regretted very much having to raise the students' fees from $250 to $300 per annum, but the high cost of living made this necessary.

We were distressed to lose Dr. Johnston from our Faculty, for his exposition of the Old Testament was illuminating and inspiring. As his successor to the Chair of the Old Testament, we welcome the Rev. George J. Walenta, rector of St. Simeon's, who is amply qualified to handle his subject.

We feel that we have met with an irreparable loss in the resignation from the Board of Managers of Miss Randolph and Miss Carryl, whose devoted work for seventeen and sixteen years respectively has been done with signal ability, wisdom, and fidelity. We are very fortunate in securing as new members of the Board Miss Lila M. Wright, of Bryn Mawr, whose love of young girls and long experience with them will be of great advantage to us, and also Mrs. Percy R. Stockman, whose experience in the Mission Field gives her a peculiar understanding of our problems.

We rejoice that a year of rest has restored Deaconess Clarke, and that she has been able to return and take up again the duties and responsibilities of Assistant House Mother. And here we wish to record our appreciation of the way Mrs. Shaw took her place last winter, keeping the household running smoothly, and while conforming closely to the requirements of the Food Administration, offering to our students such a well-balanced diet that a food expert, whom we consulted, had no improvements to suggest.

We are also thankful that our faithful maids, Maggie and Sarah, whom we missed last winter, have been able to return, restored to health after a year's rest.

The health of our students is always a matter of prime importance, and in order to avoid admitting any whose physical condition would probably be unequal to the strain, we have prepared new physicians' certificates which must be filled out carefully by the applicant's physician. In spite of all precautions we are often obliged to call on our valued and ever-ready friend, Dr. Montgomery, and we are happy in having secured the services, when needed for special cases, of Dr. Margaret Large, who has been very helpful and successful.

In concluding we wish to thank our Associates for their interest in our students, which they have shown in numberless ways; and we thank the parishes in the Diocese for their contributions, and the individual friends who have helped us, for their support and their prayers.

It may be of interest to add that, since the conclusion of this report, during the recent epidemic, when the demand for nurses was so urgent, all of our students volunteered for service, some going to the Episcopal Hospital and some to the Pennsylvania Hospital, thus putting their summer training to valuable account.

Respectfully submitted,

EDITH C. PAGE,
Secretary.

Report of the Head Deaconess.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

School opened the first Wednesday in October with seven seniors and twenty juniors.

Of the graduating class, Miss Duke is working at Nora, and Miss Williamson at Sandy Ridge, both in the mountains of southern Virginia. Miss George went to Wind River, Wyoming, to work among the Indians; Miss Gordon is taking the full course of training at the Pennsylvania Hospital; Miss McKenzie had been accepted for Africa and was to return with Miss Seaman, but owing to her father's sudden death she was obliged to remain at home this year. When the urgent call was issued for trained nurses about Christmas, Miss Nunö volunteered; the fifteenth of January she was called to Camp Meade, and in May was sent as Chief Nurse to the United States Army Debarkation Hospital No. 1, at Ellis Island, where she is still doing splendid work. By the unanimous vote of the Faculty she graduated with her class. Miss Truesdell is assisting me this year as Secretary.

Though we realize fully the place of first importance belongs to the Faculty and instructors in the training of our young women, I so often wish they could hear the things that are said to me about the lectures and classes, for it would make them feel how deeply all they give is appreciated.

The seniors did their practical work with the City Mission and the Society of Organized Charities, visiting designated families and attending a weekly conference; and in connection with the class on Social Problems Miss Sinkler took them to visit Vineland, Sleighton Farms, the Institution for the Blind, the Juvenile Court, and the House of Detention; while St. Martha's, St. Timothy's, St. Agnes', St. John's Northern Liberties, St. Stephen's, the Hope Day Nursery, the G. F. S. at Christ Church, St. Peter's, and the Church of the Advocate, and the club for sailors and soldiers at St. Stephen's, where our students worked under the supervision of a member of our Board of Managers, gave the juniors a broad field for observation and practice.

Ten students did their summer work at the Episcopal Hospital, five at St. Timothy's Hospital, one at the Kensington Hospital for Women, and one at Holy Trinity Holiday House, Sellersville.

Sunday School Classes were taught regularly at All Saints; Christ Church; Holy Apostles; Holy Communion; Holy Trinity Memorial; the Italian Mission; Prince of Peace; Phillips Brooks Chapel; St. James; St. John's Northern Liberties; St. Luke's, Kensington; St. Paul's Memorial; St. Simeon's, and St. Stephen's.

In November Miss Coles gave a tea at the Church Training and Deaconess House for the members of the Synod of the Province of Washington, and more than two hundred delegates attended.

Miss McKenzie represented our School at the Conference of Student Volunteers which was held at Northfield in January, and at Easter Miss Williamson and Miss Hudson attended a Student Conference at St. Faith's, New York.

The Associates have, as always, done many lovely and helpful things; each year we owe a great deal to their kind thought and interest.

An event peculiar to these days which was greatly enjoyed by our students was acting as choir at the invitation of the Rev. W. Herbert Burk, at the consecration of the Motor Messenger Ambulance at Valley Forge. Each year Mr. and Mrs. Burk entertain the senior class at Valley Forge, when Mr. Burk takes them through the beautiful Memorial Chapel and shows them many places of historic interest.

In January Bishop Rhinelander called a meeting of the deaconesses at the Church Training and Deaconess House to discuss the advisability of organizing in some way for mutual helpfulness; this resulted in forming the "Chapter of Deaconesses of the Diocese of Pennsylvania." Wednesday of Easter week the Chapter had a corporate communion service in our chapel at which Bishop Rhinelander celebrated.

Two of our graduates, Miss Dorothy Weaver, of the class of 1915, and Miss Grace Wilson, of the class of 1916, were "set apart" by Bishop Anderson in Chicago on St. Thomas' Day.

Four of our graduates entered Paradise this year: Deaconess Elizabeth Walker of the class of 1896, died after a long illness November 20th; Miss Signe Enebuske, of the class of 1911, died in Boston Easter Day; Miss Flora Walker, of the class of 1914, was killed by a landslide at Kuling, China, June 14th, and Miss Eleanor Perry, of the class of 1915, who was taking the course of training at the Pennsylvania Hospital, died there September 29th of pneumonia resulting from influenza.

As those whom we know and love join "the great cloud of witnesses" they deepen the consciousness that our spiritual life is the great reality, and stir us to renewed effort not only to keep our own spirits in constant touch with God, but also to strive to help those with whom we are brought into daily contact to do the same.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARA M. CARTER,
Head Deaconess.

Report of the Associates to the Board of Managers.

Three new members have been added to the list of Associates during the past year, making the total number 45, representing 28 parishes. There are 48 Contributing Associates.

The work done since our last report is of the same general character as in previous years, and it is a most encouraging fact that all appeals are responded to most promptly and generously. At Christmas the usual gifts were sent to Deaconesses Camp, Pew, and Adams for their work among the children in the several missions where they were working, and a sum of money was given to Deaconess Carter to use as she desired for the Christmas celebration at 708. Through an Associate toys were again sent to some of the missions in the Diocese for their Christmas work. During the year the thoughtfulness of the Associates to students has once more been shown by invitations and tickets for concerts, as well as in many other ways.

The flowers for the Chapel and House each week are still provided by the Associates and are a source of never-ending pleasure. The teas have been held as usual, the day, however, having been changed from Tuesday to Monday, that day being more convenient for the students. The Voluntary Emergency fund still proves of the greatest use to Deaconess Carter by supplying many small needs known only to her. A light was provided for the house this year, much needed for use near the piano.

The treasurer's report shows $215.25 as having been received and the following expenditures made:

The running expenses of students for a year	$120.00
Teas	6.75
Printing and postage	5.80
Emergency Box	10.70

"Resolved, That in order to insure the future maintenance and efficiency of this work, our Endowment Fund should be increased; and our Church people are urgently requested to contribute to this Fund, and in making their wills to remember it as deserving of their bequests."

Prayer for the School.

Grant, O Lord, we beseech Thee, that Thy blessing may rest upon our Training School, and upon every member thereof, both present and absent. Give to all of us grace to live in Christian love one toward another, to bear one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ; and to follow the example of Thy blessed Son, who pleased not Himself, and came not to be ministered unto but to minister: to whom, with Thee and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory, world without end. Amen.

The Prayer for Deaconesses.

By Bishop Thorold.

O Lord of souls, Who hast chosen and called me to service in Thy Church, all my trust is in Thee, for in Thee are the springs of my life. Abundantly give me of Thy Blessed Spirit, without Whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy; and use me as it shall please Thee for the glory of Thy name. Make my will patient, my conscience pure, my temper bright. Empty me of self, and fill me with the meekness of wisdom. Increase my faith, mellow my judgment, stir my zeal, enlarge my heart. Let my life enforce what my lips utter. Do Thou choose for me the work I do, and the place in which I do it; the success I win, and the harvest I reap. Preserve me from jealousy and impatience, from self-will and depression. Make me faithful unto death, and then give me the crown of life. All which I ask for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

General Information for Prospective Students.

We are sure our readers would like to catch a glimpse of our methods of training for the Master's service, so we will open wide our doors and ask you to step inside; come with us down the hall and up one flight of stairs where we will pause at the chapel door and read the text thereon: "In Quietness and in Confidence shall be your strength"; the air of peace within tells us that here this lesson is learned.

Should the hour be between ten and twelve we will find the seniors downstairs in their class room listening attentively to a lecture upon some one of the following subjects: The Catholic Epistles; Religious Pedagogy; Old Testament Prophets; the New Testament use of the Old; the Pauline Epistles; Church Polity and the Collects; Church Doctrine; Anglican Church History; Social Problems; Hygiene and Sanitation; or in a Normal Mission Study Class.

In the adjoining room we will find the juniors at their desks taking notes as they listen to a lecture; it will depend upon the day and hour whether it be upon the Life of Christ in the Gospels; Old Testament History; the Acts of the Apostles; History of the Prayer Book; The Creeds; Religious Pedagogy; Ancient Church History; or in a Mission Study Class, or one upon Food Study, or the Study of Textiles and Sewing.

If you will come some morning at eight o'clock we will look in upon the various groups, each in charge of a senior, as they are doing their hour of housework; some are washing the breakfast dishes, others are setting the tables; others are caring for the altar and the chancel; others brushing up and dusting the chapel; the drawing rooms; the school rooms; two are in the laundry sorting and putting away the clean clothes; this work done, each person cares for her own room.

Sunday they teach in various Sunday Schools, and if you wish to join one of them you will have a wide choice, for their classes vary from the Kindergarten to the Bible class of women long past middle age. If it be a week day you may find them calling upon members of their class, or the juniors observing, or helping in some class or organization of Parish or Church Settlement. Come the afternoon of the first Friday of the month, and accompany the Seniors as they go to the wonderful Conference that is held at the City Mission, when its brave band of workers present and discuss their problems, or any Thursday afternoon and join the group that goes to the Conference of a section of the Society for Organizing Charity, or with some one who is going to a branch of Social Service; another afternoon accompany some one as she goes about the business of investigation, or rehabilitation that has been assigned to her, and you will find whether she has been able to accomplish anything or not she will always feel she has learned some valuable lesson.

Dear reader, are you young with the bright years of life stretching out before you? Are you sure the Lord Jesus is not calling you to prepare for work in His great vineyard? Or if your time is at your disposal, even though middle age be not far away, have you ever seriously considered that the insistent call for workers in Mission field, in Parish, or in Settlement may mean you? A glorious privilege awaits you if it does.

OBJECT.

The Church Training and Deaconess House is intended to meet the needs of three classes of women:

1. Those who wish to prepare for the Deaconess Order;

2. Those who wish to devote themselves to Church work at home or abroad, but without entering an Order;

3. Those who wish to take up religious study for their own improvement, or to become more useful in their home parishes.

ADMISSION.

Applicants for admission should be at least twenty-one years old and under forty. The course of study is planned for women having at least a high-school education or its equivalent.

An applicant will be required to answer in writing questions on the form which will be sent on request, and to send these, with the required certificate from her physician, to "The Admission Committee, 708 Spruce Street, Philadelphia, Pa." Students, upon entering the course of training, may be required to see and be examined by a physician approved by the Board.

It is required that applicants be vaccinated, that eyes, nose and throat be examined, and that teeth be put in order before entering. If necessary to have the tonsils removed, it should also be done before coming to the School.

Applicants must be accepted by the Admission Committee and enter as student visitors for at least two months' probation before they can be recognized as students.

Only the names of regular students appear in our printed reports. No entrance examinations are required.

COURSES OF STUDY.

1. Regular Students.—The full course of training covers two years.

2. Special Students.—Those who do not take the full course and are not eligible for graduation.

3. Missionary Students.—Women sent by the Board of Missions to be tested; must be resident at least six months, their training being adapted to their special needs.

At the end of each term an examination is held, and no student is allowed to proceed if conditioned in three subjects.

A third year of advanced and elective work is provided and offered to those who choose to take it. Recognition of this additional training will be made in the student's diploma.

DIPLOMAS AND CERTIFICATES.

By-Law, Article VIII.

SEC. 5. Upon the satisfactory completion of the prescribed course of study and training, the student shall receive a diploma signed by the Bishop, Warden, President of the Board of Managers, and the Head Deaconess.

SEC. 7. The diploma of the House may be refused to any student not proving satisfactory at any time before the end of her training.

3. To non-residents completing the required studies in one or more departments a certificate of the work accomplished will be given upon application.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR EMPLOYMENT.

We receive applications for graduates as parish and city mission visitors, heads of day nurseries, orphanages, homes of various kinds, hospitals, settlement workers, heads of Church dormitories in western university towns, teachers and principals of Church schools, diocesan deaconesses and missionaries for the home and foreign fields. Thus far we have always had more applications than we could fill.

EXPENSES.

Residents.—The charge for resident students, including tuition, training and the use of necessary books, is $300 for the school year, payable in advance, in October and February. This charge includes laundry of one dozen pieces weekly. Clothing must be distinctly marked.

Student visitors who leave during the period of probation are entitled to a refund of the first term's payment less the amount charged paying visitors for the time spent in the School.

Paying visitors are charged $10.00 per week and are received on the invitation of the Admission Committee after application to the Committee.

Resident Students taking the full course are at no expense for the required practical training in summer except providing three wash dresses, preferably gray or light blue, and twelve white aprons for hospital work. They are entitled to spend their vacations at the school without extra charge, performing such duties as may be assigned them by the House Mother.

All necessaries in the way of furniture and house linen are supplied by the school.

Non-Residents.—Women living in Philadelphia or its vicinity and attending the classes will be at no expense except for text-books, the tuition being free.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

A few scholarships are provided each year by friends of the school.

The Managers hope that, while no desirable applicant should be debarred from training through lack of means, she will, if possible, provide for the first year at least.

The course of training is so exacting that it has been necessary to prohibit students from attempting to work for their support while in the school.

THE SCHOOL YEAR.

The Academic Year is divided into two terms of sixteen weeks each, and begins with the first Wednesday in October, ending with Commencement Day, the last Tuesday in May.

Summer Work.—In addition to the eight months of study, a Regular Student must give ten weeks each summer, or twenty weeks in all, to hospital service or other practical work assigned as an equivalent.

Vacations consist of ten days or two weeks at Christmas, one week at Easter, and six weeks in summer. It is planned that each student shall have one day each week at her own disposal.

Report of the Head Deaconess.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

School was opened the first Wednesday in October, 1918, with the usual service in the chapel, but classes were held only one day when they were interrupted by the grave situation caused by the epidemic of influenza. One of the Seniors had become seriously ill and urgent calls for help were coming from all directions, and by Saturday part of our students were helping at the Episcopal Hospital and part at the Pennsylvania; that they all did good work was evidenced by the great appreciation expressed by both institutions.

A conference of the Board of Managers, the Board of Council and the Faculty was held January 17, 1919, to talk over important questions, among them that of adding a third year to our course of instruction; this was referred to a committee, who reported at a special meeting May 16th, when the Bishop and seven of the Faculty were present, that they recommended adding an elective third year, and a plan of study and work which was presented by the Rev. Dr. Richardson was accepted.

The work of the Associates to the Board of Managers is so quietly done that few have any realization how great is their help in the support and assistance they are always so ready to extend in times of illness, and the cheer and sunshine they are so constantly bringing through hidden channels into the family life. The statement made in their report of $243.34 expended tells of the greatly enjoyed reception they gave at Commencement, and of other things, both large and small, but does not tell of the beautiful flowers we all so love to see on the altar, and the many individual things that are done throughout the year, as well as at Christmas and Easter. The House Committee of the Board of Managers performs many difficult tasks year by year, but they too, are so quietly done that we accept the attractive, homelike appearance and comforts of the House as part of it, without realizing the difficulties that have constantly to be met and overcome in order to maintain them.

All Saints' Day we had a memorial service for our graduates who had been called to Paradise during the year.

Ten weeks of intensive training in the Booth Memorial Hospital, New York, which is run under the joint supervision of the Red Cross and the Salvation Army, was offered to us for a few of our Seniors and five took advantage of it. It gave them very exceptional opportunities and was a most valuable experience. One did her ten weeks of summer work in the hospital at Dante, which is the nearest town to the mission in Southern Virginia, of which she now has charge. Two students went to St. Timothy's Hospital, Roxborough, two to St. Martha's, one to Oakbourne, one to Holy Trinity Holiday House, Sellersville, and later in the summer three entered upon the full hospital training.

Two of our graduates were "set apart" as deaconesses by Bishop Rhinelander; Miss Grace A. Cox, of the class of 1917, at St. Simeon's Church, the evening of November 11th, and Miss Mary P. Truesdell, of the class of 1918, at the Diocesan Church of St. Mary, the morning of the Feast of the Ascension.

Miss Olive Willing, of the class of 1917, went with Miss Seaman to Cape Mount, Africa, this spring; we are very proud of the fact that the three women who have held this work alone for several years had the whole or part of their training at our School.

Miss Myrtle Rose, after completing her full course of training as nurse at the Pennsylvania Hospital this summer, went to Nenana, Alaska, and took a younger sister with her. The Alumnæ raised its second scholarship this year and we are very grateful for the increasing number who are in this way expressing their appreciation of the privileges they enjoyed by making it possible for some other eager soul to have the longed-for training; but above all, we render thanks to our Heavenly Father for the sustaining power of the unvarying sympathy and interest of our Bishop, Faculty, and Board of Managers.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARA M. CARTER,

Head Deaconess.

Secretary pro tem.

Report of Head Deaconess.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

Upon the Feast of the Epiphany, which was the thirtieth anniversary of the opening of the Church Training and Deaconess House, a beautiful service was held in our chapel in memory of Miss Mary Coles.

The Bishop of the diocese celebrated the Holy Communion, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Perry and the Rev. Dr. Robinson.

Dr. Perry had known Miss Coles from her early womanhood, and in the course of his very interesting address he spoke especially of her great and unremitting interest in all that concerned the School; also saying of Bishop Whitaker that, when he transferred to his coadjutor the administration of his diocese, he insisted upon one exception, saying, "One part of my work, the direction of the Church Training and Deaconess House, I will not give up to any one." Dr. Perry added, "They both loved it as their own child, whose birth and infancy they had watched, and we must not doubt that their interest and influence continue; that, though unseen, they are still watching and aiding our work."

When we look back over these thirty years, we think of many in "that great cloud of witnesses" whose interest and personality helped to make this School what it is: Of the Board of Council, Dr. John Ashurst, Jr., Dr. Wharton Sinkler, Dr. John K. Mitchell, Mr. George C. Thomas, and Mr. Arthur E. Newbold; of the Faculty, the Rev. Dr. Rumney, the Rev. Dr. Ely, the Rev. Dr. Micou, Dean Groton, and the Rev. Dr. Heffern; of the Board of Managers, Miss Coles, Miss Elizabeth Biddle, Miss Elizabeth Morris, Miss Maria Blanchard, Miss Agnes Irwin, and twenty of our graduates.

It seems very remarkable that in all these thirty years there have been but two Presidents of the Corporation, Bishop Whitaker, and Bishop Rhinelander; two Wardens, the Rev. Dr. Rumney and the Rev. Dr. Perry; two Secretaries of the Corporation, Mr. Ewing L. Miller and Mr. Charles Sinkler; one President of the Board of Managers, Miss Coles; two Vice-Presidents, Miss McVickar and Mrs. Effingham Perot; and two Head Deaconesses, Deaconess Sanford having served twenty-two years before being obliged to resign on account of failing health.

It is ten years since Bishop Rhinelander took Bishop Whitaker's place, officially as President of the Corporation, and practically as counsellor, adviser, and most interested friend.

Twenty-seven years ago Dr. Perry became a member of the Faculty, and twenty-five years ago he succeeded the Rev. Dr. Rumney as Warden, and ex-officio member of the Board of Council. The Rev. Dr. Robinson has now served as a member of the Faculty for over thirty years, as well as being Chaplain for over twenty years. Dr. Egbert also has taught for over thirty years. When Mr. R. Francis Wood resigned, he had served on the Board of Council for thirty years.

Mr. John Cadwalader has served on the Board of Council for eleven years; Dr. Francis R. Packard took Dr. John K. Mitchell's place in 1917, and every year we are deeply indebted to him for advice and treatment as well as for operations upon our students.

Two charter members of the Board of Managers are still with us, Mrs. Effingham Perot and Miss Esther Aertsen, now an honorary member but keeping up her interest and attending the meetings. On the Board of Associates, of which Mrs.

Perot has always been a most interested member, Mrs. Frank Williamson has served as Treasurer for twenty years, and Miss Juliana Wood, who became a life member of the Corporation the year it was formed, is still an interested member of the Board of Associates. At the end of this long list stand two, one of whom has entered upon her thirty-first year, the other upon her twenty-seventh year, of humble, devoted, loyal service, our Sarah and Maggie. The fruits of all these years of labor are before us. Of our graduates—

110 are in active service;
20 have entered the life beyond;
38 are married;
13 have retired, though most of them are still doing all their strength will permit;
14 are for various reasons living at home, some hoping soon to be able to go to work again;
5 whereabouts unknown;
1 is supporting herself as a physician;
1 as a nurse;
1 is taking a special course of study;
5 are in training in hospitals.

The 110 in active service are working throughout the length and breadth of our land, in Philadelphia and thereabout, Washington, New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Providence, Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, DesMoines, Minneapolis, and elsewhere in the States of New Hampshire, Connecticut, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Ohio, Kansas, S. Dakota, Texas, California, Washington, and in the mission fields of Africa, Alaska, China, Cuba, Japan, and the Philippines.

I cannot give the number of special students, but there have been many; at present we have 15 at work in the foreign mission fields of Africa, China, and Japan; 1 in Philadelphia, 1 in Washington, 1 in Vermont, 1 in Raleigh, N. C., 2 in Arizona, 1 in Ohio, and 1 in the southern mountains. The Alumnæ Association was organized in 1906, and the members have always done all in their power to help forward the interests of the School; at our annual meeting in 1915 it was suggested that we try to raise a scholarship; the first contribution came that autumn from one of our Deaconesses, she sold a little jewelry that had belonged to her mother, feeling that in giving it toward the scholarship she was investing it in a human soul going forth to work in the Master's vineyard, and that her mother would rejoice. Since then the Association has raised five scholarships, the first gave a senior year, the second and third carried one student through both her junior and senior year, and the fourth and fifth are being used this year. Now we are at work upon two more, one in memory of the Rev. Dr. Heffern and one as a token of appreciation of Dr. Robinson.

There has been one change upon the Faculty, the Rev. Dr. Anthony was obliged to resign on account of his health and the Rev. Frederick E. Seymour was appointed in his place. Mrs. Perot, as Vice-President of the Board of Managers, acted in Miss Coles' place, until she resigned her office in May, being made Honorary Vice-President; Miss Sinkler was made Vice-President in her place. Mrs. Samuel F. Houston and Mrs. William W. Frazier were made members of the Board of Managers. Vacant places have always been filled by the best of men and women, and we thank God for full ranks upon every Board and for our splendid Faculty, and we believe those who are watching us and helping us in the "great cloud of witnesses" are rejoicing with us.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARA M. CARTER,

Head Deaconess.

THE BOARD OF MANAGERS wish to express their thanks to the Tuesday Missionary Bible Class for the Scholarship presented as a

Memorial to Miss Coles

Given by them as a Thank Offering for the thirty-seven years during which her wise and loving teaching had inspired and guided them. For fifteen years a scholarship had been provided by the Class, and their desire to perpetuate her memory by this gift of over $6,000 is deeply appreciated by the Board.

Report of the Associates to the Board of Managers.

THERE are thirty-eight Associates, representing sixteen Parishes, and the work accomplished by them has this year been most encouraging. The attendance at meetings has, however, not been all that could be desired, and the need for new and interested Associates is greatly felt. The duties of an Associate are not strenuous, and the pleasure they are able to give is so great there should be many women anxious to be added to the list. During this year many extra things have been given by the Associates to the House, which added much to its comfort; among them, household linens and special gas burners. Flowers have been provided each week for the Chapel, and there have been the usual teas. Christmas brings many opportunities, and not only have we been glad to bring happiness into "708", but have helped with the work being done by some of the Alumnæ. During the holidays, and at other times, students have been given tickets to concerts, lectures, etc., by individual Associates, and the Emergency Fund as well as the money provided for summer outings, is much appreciated by both Deaconess Carter and the students. The materials for the Lenten sewing in the School were given; and a much needed gift of money to one of the old students, home for a rest from her arduous missionary post. The tea on Commencement Day has become a delightful feature, and was especially pleasant this year. A good sum was raised at graduation time that gifts of money might be given to the graduates, to buy for themselves books. Many of the Associates have entertained students in their homes; a most delightful way to know the girls. This year there will be but two teas, it being felt that two more largely attended would be better than a greater number of small ones. The report of expenditures by the Treasurer follows:

Household linen, sewing materials, Christmas, Hallowe'en	$124.87

Deaconess Adams, for work in Chester	15.00
Teas	20.50
Emergency box	8.35

General Information for Prospective Students.

The Church Training and Deaconess House is intended to meet the needs of three classes of women:

1. Those who wish to prepare for the Deaconess Order;

2. Those who wish to devote themselves to Church work at home or abroad, but without entering an Order;

3. Those who wish to take up religious study for their own improvement, or to become more useful in their home parishes.

ADMISSION.

Applicants for admission should be at least twenty-one years old and under forty. The course of study is planned for women having at least a high-school education or its equivalent.

An applicant will be required to answer in writing questions on the form which will be sent on request, and to send these, with the required certificate from her physician, to "The Admission Committee, 708 Spruce Street, Philadelphia, Pa." Students, upon entering the course of training, may be required to see and be examined by a physician approved by the Board.

It is required that applicants be vaccinated, that eyes, nose and throat be examined, and that teeth be put in order before entering. If necessary to have the tonsils removed, it should also be done before coming to the School.

Applicants must be accepted by the Admission Committee and enter as student visitors for at least two months' probation before they can be recognized as students.

Only the names of regular students appear in our printed reports. No entrance examinations are required.

COURSES OF STUDY.

1. Regular Students.—The full course of training covers two years.

2. Special Students.—Those who do not take the full course and are not eligible for graduation.

3. Missionary Students.—Women sent by the Board of Missions to be tested; their training is adapted to their special needs.

At the end of each term an examination is held, and no student is allowed to proceed if conditioned in three subjects.

DIPLOMAS AND CERTIFICATES.

By-Law, Article VIII.

SEC. 5. Upon the satisfactory completion of the prescribed course of study and training, the student shall receive a diploma signed by the Bishop, Warden, President of the Board of Managers, and the Head Deaconess.

SEC. 7. The diploma of the House may be refused to any student not proving satisfactory at any time before the end of her training.

3. To non-residents completing the required studies in one or more departments a certificate of the work accomplished will be given upon application.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR EMPLOYMENT.

We receive applications for graduates as parish and city mission visitors, Social Service workers, heads of day nurseries, orphanages, homes of various kinds, hospitals, settlement workers, teachers and principals of Church schools, diocesan deaconesses and missionaries for the home and foreign fields. Thus far we have always had more applications than we could fill.

EXPENSES.

Residents.—The charge for resident students, including tuition, training and the use of necessary books, is $300 for the school year, payable in advance, in October and February. This charge includes laundry of one dozen pieces weekly. Clothing must be distinctly marked.

Student visitors who leave during the period of probation are entitled to a refund of the first term's payment less the amount charged paying visitors for the time spent in the School.

Paying visitors are charged $10.00 per week and are received on the invitation of the Admission Committee after application to the Committee.

Resident Students taking the full course are at no expense for the required practical training in summer except providing three wash dresses, preferably gray or light blue, and twelve white aprons for hospital work. They are entitled to spend their vacations at the school without extra charge, performing such duties as may be assigned them by the House Mother.

All necessaries in the way of furniture and house linen are supplied by the school.

Non-Residents.—Women living in Philadelphia or its vicinity and attending the classes will be at no expense except for text-books, the tuition being free.

THE UNIFORM.

A uniform of midnight blue serge with a plain coat and hat, sailor or other, to match in color, are worn after the first of November.

As uniform dresses made before entering the school are never satisfactory prospective students are requested to do nothing about this matter until they are in residence. Each student should be supplied with a very dark blue sweater.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

A few scholarships are provided each year by friends of the school.

The Managers hope that, while no desirable applicant should be debarred from training through lack of means, she will, if possible, provide for the first year at least.

The course of training is so exacting that it has been necessary to prohibit students from attempting to work for their support while in the school.

THE SCHOOL YEAR.

The Academic Year is divided into two terms of sixteen weeks each, and begins with the first Wednesday in October, ending with Commencement Day, the last Tuesday in May.

Summer Work.—In addition to the eight months of study, a Regular Student must give ten weeks each summer, or twenty weeks in all, to hospital service or other practical work assigned as an equivalent.

Vacations consist of ten days or two weeks at Christmas, one week at Easter, and six weeks in summer. It is planned that each student shall have one day each week at her own disposal.

DIRECTIONS FOR REACHING THE SCHOOL.

Take a train which stops at Broad Street Station or the Reading Terminal. If you do not take a taxi, give your baggage check to the Union Transfer agent in the station, and get receipt. Take an east-bound car on Market Street, transfer at 8th Street, and get off at Spruce. Cross both 8th Street and Spruce. No. 708 is near 7th Street.

Prayer for the School.

Grant, O Lord, we beseech Thee, that Thy blessing may rest upon our Training School, and upon every member thereof, both present and absent. Give to all of us grace to live in Christian love one toward another, to bear one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ; and to follow the example of Thy blessed Son, who pleased not Himself, and came not to be ministered unto but to minister: to whom, with Thee and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory, world without end. Amen.

The Prayer for Deaconesses.

By Bishop Thorold.

O Lord of souls, Who hast chosen and called me to service in Thy Church, all my trust is in Thee, for in Thee are the springs of my life. Abundantly give me of Thy Blessed Spirit, without Whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy; and use me as it shall please Thee for the glory of Thy name. Make my will patient, my conscience pure, my temper bright. Empty me of self, and fill me with the meekness of wisdom. Increase my faith, mellow my judgment, stir my zeal, enlarge my heart. Let my life enforce what my lips utter. Do Thou choose for me the work I do, and the place in which I do it; the success I win, and the harvest I reap. Preserve me from jealousy and impatience, from self-will and depression. Make me faithful unto death, and then give me the crown of life. All which I ask for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

Minutes of the Annual Meeting.

Held November 10, 1922

THE meeting was called to order in the Church House at 4.30 o'clock P. M., with Bishop Garland in the chair; and was opened with prayer by the President.

The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting was, upon motion, dispensed with.

The report of the Head Deaconess was read by Deaconess Carter, and reviewed the past work and personnel of the School.

The report of the Treasurer of the Board of Managers was read by Mrs. Paul.

The report of the Treasurer was presented by the Secretary, and a summary thereof was read. It was referred to John Cadwalader and Charles Sinkler for audit.

The report of the Secretary of the Associates to the Board of Managers was read by Mrs. Medary.

All the reports were referred to the Publication Committee.

The printing of the Annual Report, and the number of copies of the same, was referred to the Publication Committee, consisting of Dr. Perry, Deaconess Carter, Miss Sinkler, and Mrs. Paul.

Resolved, That the report of the Secretary of the Associates to the Board be published after approval of the President of the Board.

The President announced the appointment of the Warden, the Head Deaconess, and the Board of Managers, as heretofore.

Upon motion, the present members of the Board of Council were re-elected.

Upon motion, duly seconded, the meeting adjourned at 4.50.

CHARLES SINKLER, Secretary.

Report of Head Deaconess.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

One of the principal events of this year was Miss Julia U. Sinkler's election as President of the Board of Managers; her acceptance was hailed with joy by all connected with the Church Training and Deaconess House, as was also the election of Mrs. John M. Fries as Vice-President.

Just before the opening of school the Rev. Mr. Walenta, owing to illness, found he would be unable to take his classes on the Old Testament. The Bishop appointed the Rev. Percy L. Urban in his place for the year, and we felt it was very gracious of him to accept on such short notice.

In the spring the Rev. Mr. Medary accepted a call to St. Thomas' Church, Taunton, Mass. He kept up his lectures until he left Philadelphia, about Easter, then assigned a course of reading which carried his classes through the remainder of the year. He has taught Church History since 1913, and we are indebted to him not only for nine years of faithful service as a member of the Faculty, but for designing our School seal and pin as well as our beautiful diploma; he also served for a number of years as Secretary of the Faculty.

The Rev. Dr. Richardson accepted a call to St. Paul's Church, Burlington, Vt., which made it necessary for him to resign. He has taught "The Acts of the Apostles" and the Pauline Epistles, and last year, when the Rev. Dr. Robinson found it impossible to continue taking our early celebrations Sunday morning, Dr. Richardson assumed this responsibility. He also drew up a plan of study for the elective third year which was tried out satisfactorily in 1919, and himself taught Public Speaking.

The Rev. Dr. Jefferys, of St. Peter's, consented to take Dr. Richardson's place on the Faculty, making himself responsible for our early services on Sundays and for the Saints' days as well; and the Rev. Percy L. Urban took Mr. Medary's place in Church History.

The Rev. Mr. Walenta was obliged to give up his classes on the Old Testament, having accepted a call for Missionary work in Minnesota having served most faithfully for three years. Owing to the Rev. Dr. Perry's indefatigable effort the Rev. Dr. Yerkes, of the Divinity School, has taken Mr. Walenta's place; we feel ourselves most fortunate to have these important places filled by such busy and able men. The faithfulness and zeal of the Faculty are beyond praise, and we appreciate all they have done and are doing doubly when we recall that their time and work are given without recompense.

A notable step was taken this year when Miss Sinkler added to the curriculum a course on Church Organizations, which included speakers on "The National Council," the Provincial System, Diocesan and Parish organizations. This course is to alternate with that on Social Problems.

While St. Martha's and the City Mission were as usual our two strongest centers for practical work, with the customary Sunday-school teaching and calling, several students assisted with the combined Church School and Church Service League which was held at the Pro-Cathedral Wednesday afternoons, while others gained experience in the work of the Church Service League at St. Philip's.

Relatives and friends of Miss Coles desiring to do something that would have pleased her put electric lights in about a third of the House, including the chapel, drawing-rooms, and dining-room.

It has been financially impossible the past few years to have the customary repairs properly attended to, but this year the Board of Managers realized it had become imperative to have the wood and iron work on the outside of the buildings thoroughly renovated and painted, and though it entailed heavy expense, they had this done.

As to the whereabouts of the members of the graduating class, Miss Hill left in June for Alaska. Miss Cannell, Miss Powell, and Miss Skiles reached Japan the last of September—they are all to work in Bishop Tucker's diocese. Miss Hamilton is working at Christ Church, Rochester, and Miss Boyden at Epiphany Chapel, Washington; Miss Murdoch entered the Pennsylvania Hospital the first of August for the full training, with missionary work in view. Miss Miriam B. Allen, of the class of 1920, was "set apart" as a Deaconess on the Feast of the Annunciation, in St. Mark's Church, Evanston, Illinois. The latter part of September Miss Bessie B. Leach, of the class of 1915, died very suddenly of pneumonia.

One of the closest bonds in the family life of the School is our daily chapel services, and Sunday evening, when we say the beautiful prayer beginning, "Grant, O Lord, that we who are Thy soldiers here may enjoy Thy peace hereafter," I find myself thinking specially of those of our number who have attained "that peace" and realize that the bond that has been formed is eternal.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARA M. CARTER,

Head Deaconess.

Report of the Associates to the Board of Managers.

DURING the past year 1921–22 the meetings of the Associates have been held on the second Tuesday of each month at the usual hour and place, 708 Spruce St. There has been frequent discussion as to increasing the interest of the friends and the public in the work at the Church Training and Deaconess House.

The electricity partly installed at 708 has proved so valuable that it is hoped later to electrify the whole house. Miss Julianna Wood has added greatly to the appearance of the parlors by her gift, electrifying the two crystal chandeliers and also several rooms.

At the May meeting officers were elected for the following year, Mrs. Charles P. Maule being unanimously elected President.

Mrs. Medary's letter of resignation as secretary after her long and faithful service was received with great regret.

Beside the regular teas during the winter, one was held in the Garden at Commencement.

The Treasurer's report showed $218.91 having been received, and $201.28 having been paid out for various household items at 708—outings for the students and Deaconess Truesdell's expenses as the Associate's representative at the Summer Conference at Wellesley College. This left a balance of $17.53 in the Treasury.

EDITH ROSS WAYNE,
Secretary.

ARTHUR E. NEWBOLD, Jr., Treasurer, in account with The Church Training and Deaconess House.

Prayer for the School.

Grant, O Lord, we beseech Thee, that Thy blessing may rest upon our Training School, and upon every member thereof, both present and absent. Give to all of us grace to live in Christian love one toward another, to bear one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ; and to follow the example of Thy blessed Son, who pleased not Himself, and came not to be ministered unto but to minister: to whom, with Thee and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory, world without end. Amen.

The Prayer for Deaconesses.

By Bishop Thorold.

O Lord of souls, Who hast chosen and called me to service in Thy Church, all my trust is in Thee, for in Thee are the springs of my life. Abundantly give me of Thy Blessed Spirit, without Whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy; and use me as it shall please Thee for the glory of Thy name. Make my will patient, my conscience pure, my temper bright. Empty me of self, and fill me with the meekness of wisdom. Increase my faith, mellow my judgment, stir my zeal, enlarge my heart. Let my life enforce what my lips utter. Do Thou choose for me the work I do, and the place in which I do it; the success I win, and the harvest I reap. Preserve me from jealousy and impatience, from self-will and depression. Make me faithful unto death, and then give me the crown of life. All which I ask for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

Report of the Associates to the Board of Managers.

THE Associates have continued their work through the year—making gifts from time to time as needed to the House and the students, and giving assistance to Deaconesses and graduates, and are working with renewed interest under their new President, Miss Sachse, who has for so many years been devoted to the House and its work.

CHARLES SINKLER, Secretary.

The Board of Council met immediately after the meeting.

Report of Head Deaconess.

To the Bishop and Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House of the Diocese of Pennsylvania:

THE FACULTY

THE Rev. Percy L. Urban, who had taught in our School for three years, and whom we were most sorry to part with, resigned in September, having accepted a call to Berkeley, Connecticut.

Bishop Garland appointed the Rev. Dr. Henry Riley Gummey, of St. James' Church, Downington, to take the classes in Church History.

INSTRUCTORS

For two or three years our students went to the Church House for instruction in the Christian Nurture Series, but through the Rev. Mr. Seymour's co-operation Mrs. John Loman consented to hold both Senior and Junior classes at our School, which enables us to add this important subject to our curriculum.

A need we have long felt for a class in Business Methods in Church Work has been supplied by Mr. Harry L. Jefferys graciously consenting to take it.

Church School

In addition to the usual Sunday School classes, three week-day Church School classes were taught by our students at Miss Wharton's School; one of twenty-two boys and girls of the first and second grades; one of seventeen girls between eight and ten years of age, and a third of nine girls between ten and eleven years. In these classes the work of the Church School and the Church School Service League are combined.

Summer Work

Our Seniors both being trained nurses and both having received an appointment to the Mission field, Miss Keefe to Anvik, Alaska, and Miss McGoldrick to St. Luke's, Shanghai, China, their summer work was of necessity omitted.

Five of the Juniors went to the Episcopal Hospital; this ten weeks of training is of great value, bringing them as it does into close contact with the sick and injured and familiarizing them somewhat with the great work that is being carried on within Hospital walls, there too the feeling of helplessness and dread so many have of coming into contact with sick people is overcome. Some of our young women are here brought for the first time into the presence of death, when the careful teaching of our Faculty comes to their aid and they realize that only the body is dying and they are keeping vigil with a soul about to enter into the life beyond.

One of our Juniors went to St. Martha's where she too had most valuable experience in assisting in the Dispensary work and visiting, and in helping in the Daily Vacation Bible School.

We lost two very old and staunch friends in September, Miss Esther Parry Aertsen and Miss Juliana Wood. In June Deaconess Annie J. Graham, of the class of 1899, and in September Deaconess Eugenia Collins, of the class of 1894, also passed into Paradise.

Commencement and Alumnæ Day

By the generous courtesy of the Rev. Dr. Jefferys our Commencement Service was again held at St. Peter's. It was marked by our Bishop's first address to the School since his installation as Bishop of Pennsylvania. Our warmest thanks are due Mr. Gilbert and the members of the choir.

We missed Dr. Perry who was unable to be present on account of illness.

The day following we had a most happy reunion of many members of the Alumnæ Association, Deaconess Sanford being with us. She seemed unusually well and enjoyed so much being surrounded by many who had graduated under her care.

Dr. Francis R. Packard did a great deal for us last year for which he will accept only our thanks.

Miss Mary R. Coles gave a very substantial gift towards installing electric lights in the School Rooms. They are a very great help and comfort.

SUMMER CONFERENCES

Our School was represented at Northfield by Mrs. John Coats Browne.
At Wellesley by Deaconess Kate S. Shaw, Deaconess Louisa Brainerd and Miss Christine Barr.
At Geneva by Deaconess Mary P. Truesdell.
At Princeton by Miss Helen Mockett.
At Bethlehem by Deaconess Mabel Adams.
At Eagles Mere by Deaconess Kate S. Shaw.
At Blue Ridge by Miss Marie Ravenel and Deaconess Grace A. Cox.

For the whole hearted interest of our Bishop, for the devotion of our Faculty, Instructors and Board of Managers and for the many other blessings this year has held we wish once more to place on record our thanks to Almighty God.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARA M. CARTER, Head Deaconess.

General Information for Prospective Students.

The Church Training and Deaconess House is intended to meet the needs of three classes of women:

1. Those who wish to prepare for the Deaconess Order;

2. Those who wish to devote themselves to Church work at home or abroad, but without entering an Order;

3. Those who wish to take up religious study for their own improvement, or to become more useful in their home parishes.

ADMISSION

Applicants for admission should be at least twenty-one years old and under forty. The course of study is planned for women having at least a high-school education or its equivalent.

An applicant will be required to answer in writing questions on the form which will be sent on request, and to send these, with the required certificate from her physician, to "The Admission Committee, 708 Spruce Street, Philadelphia, Pa." Students, upon entering the course of training, may be required to see and be examined by a physician approved by the Board.

It is required that applicants be vaccinated, that eyes, nose and throat be examined, and that teeth be put in order before entering. If necessary to have the tonsils removed, it should also be done before coming to the School.

Applicants must be accepted by the Admission Committee and enter as student visitors for at least two months' probation before they can be recognized as students.

Only the names of regular students appear in our printed reports. No entrance examinations are required.

COURSES OF STUDY

1. Regular Students.—The full course of training covers two years.

2. Special Students.—Those who do not take the full course and are not eligible for graduation.

3. Missionary Students.—Women sent by the Board of Missions to be tested; their training is adapted to their special needs.

At the end of each term an examination is held, and no student is allowed to proceed if conditioned in three subjects.

DIPLOMAS AND CERTIFICATES

By-Law, Article VIII

SEC. 5. Upon the satisfactory completion of the prescribed course of study and training, the student shall receive a diploma signed by the Bishop, Warden, President of the Board of Managers, and the Head Deaconess.

SEC. 7. The diploma of the House may be refused to any student not proving satisfactory at any time before the end of her training.

To non-residents completing the required studies in one or more departments a certificate of the work accomplished will be given upon application.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR EMPLOYMENT

We receive applications for graduates as Parish and City Mission Visitors, Leaders in Religious Education, Social Service workers, heads of day nurseries, orphanages, homes of various kinds, hospitals, settlement workers, teachers and principals of Church schools, diocesan deaconesses and missionaries for the home and foreign fields. Thus far we have always had more applications than we could fill.

EXPENSES

Residents.—The charge for resident students, including tuition, training and the use of necessary books, is $300 for the school year, payable in advance, in October and February. This charge includes a reasonable amount of laundry. Clothing must be distinctly marked.

Paying visitors are charged $10.00 per week and are received on the invitation of the Admission Committee after application to the Committee.

Resident Students taking the full course are at no expense for the required practical training in summer except providing three wash dresses, preferably gray or light blue, and twelve white aprons for hospital work.

All necessaries in the way of furniture and house linen are supplied by the school.

Non-Residents.—Women living in Philadelphia or its vicinity and attending the classes will be at no expense except for text-books, the tuition being free.

THE UNIFORM

A uniform of midnight blue serge with a plain coat and hat, to match in color, are worn after the first of November.

As uniform dresses made before entering the school are never satisfactory, prospective students are requested to do nothing about this matter until they are in residence. Each student should be supplied with a very dark blue sweater.

SCHOLARSHIPS

A few scholarships are provided each year by friends of the school.

The Managers hope that, while no desirable applicant should be debarred from training through lack of means, she will, if possible, provide for the first year at least.

The course of training is so exacting that it has been necessary to prohibit students from attempting to work for their support while in the school.

THE SCHOOL YEAR

The Academic Year is divided into two terms of sixteen weeks each, and begins with the first Wednesday in October, ending with Commencement Day, the last Tuesday in May.

Summer Work.—In addition to the eight months of study, a Regular Student must give ten weeks each summer, or twenty weeks in all, to hospital service or other practical work assigned as an equivalent.

Vacations consist of ten days or two weeks at Christmas, one week at Easter, and six weeks in summer. It is planned that each student shall have one day each week at her own disposal.

DIRECTIONS FOR REACHING THE SCHOOL

Take a train which stops at Broad Street Station or the Reading Terminal. If you do not take a taxi, give your baggage check to the Union Transfer agent in the station, and get receipt. Take an east-bound car on Market Street, transfer at 8th Street, and get off at Spruce. Cross both 8th Street and Spruce. No. 708 is near 7th Street.

Prayer for the School.

Grant, O Lord, we beseech Thee, that Thy blessing may rest upon our Training School, and upon every member thereof, both present and absent. Give to all of us grace to live in Christian love one toward another, to bear one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ; and to follow the example of Thy Blessed Son, Who pleased not Himself, and came not to be ministered unto but to minister: to Whom, with Thee and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory, world without end. Amen.

The Prayer for Deaconesses.

By Bishop Thorold.

O Lord of souls, Who hast chosen and called me to service in Thy Church, all my trust is in Thee, for in Thee are the springs of my life. Abundantly give me of Thy Blessed Spirit, without Whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy; and use me as it shall please Thee for the glory of Thy name. Make my will patient, my conscience pure, my temper bright. Empty me of self, and fill me with the meekness of wisdom. Increase my faith, mellow my judgment, stir my zeal, enlarge my heart. Let my life enforce what my lips utter. Do Thou choose for me the work I do, and the place in which I do it; the success I win, and the harvest I reap. Preserve me from jealousy and impatience, from self-will and depression. Make me faithful unto death, and then give me the crown of life. All which I ask for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

Minutes of Annual Meeting

Held November 11, 1929

THE Thirty-ninth Annual Meeting of the Corporation of the Church Training and Deaconess House was held at the Church Training and Deaconess House on this date. Bishop Garland presided. Others present: The Warden, Ven. James F. Bullitt, Deaconess Stewart, Deaconess Humphreys, Mrs. Perot, Mrs. Hill, Miss Frazier, Mrs. Page, Miss Ellen Morris, Miss Margaret Morris, Mrs. Van Pelt, Miss Sinkler, Mrs. Woodward, Miss Perot, Mrs. Fries, Deaconess Colesberry, Mrs. Browne, Miss Mockridge, Miss Mitchell, Miss Tilge, Miss Storrow, Miss Sachse and Mrs. Steel.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Bishop Garland. Reading of the minutes of the preceding meeting was dispensed with.

Deaconess Stewart presented the report of the Head Deaconess, which dealt with the changes in the officers and faculty of the school.

The annual report of the Board of Managers was read by Mrs. Page. Mrs. Van Pelt, Treasurer of the Board of Managers, read her report. Mr. Newbold's report as Treasurer of the School was presented. Both treasurers' reports were referred to the Warden and Mr. Sinkler for audit. The report of the Deaconess Retiring Fund was submitted. Miss Mockridge presented the report of the Associates. All these reports were referred to the Committee on Publication, Miss Sinkler, Deaconess Stewart and the Warden. Deaconess Stewart suggested the need of changing the date of Commencement, to prevent a conflict with a Convocation meeting. This matter was referred to Deaconess Stewart, Miss Sinkler and the Warden with power to act.

The Committee on the restrictions on the rear of the property was continued with the same powers; but the present Warden was put in the place of Dr. Jefferys, the former Warden.

The following resolution was passed: That the President and Secretary be authorized to sign the order to satisfy presented by the Provident Trust Company in connection with the legacy of $1,000 under the Will of Charlotte B. Lowber.

The following were elected on the Board of Council for the ensuing year:

President ex officio.
Rev. James F. Bullitt, D.D.,
Warden, ex officio.

Henry I. Brown
Arthur E. Newbold, Jr.,
15th and Walnut Sts.,
Treasurer.
Samuel F. Houston
Francis R. Packard, M.D.
Charles Sinkler, Secretary.

Adjourned.

JAMES F. BULLITT,
Secretary pro tem.

Report of the Board of Managers

AS THE report of the Head Deaconess will be very comprehensive, a few words from the Board of Managers will suffice.

Extensive and expensive repairs were necessary this year, such as repointing the chimneys, repairing the roofs, etc.

These have been attended to and the whole house is now in excellent condition.

Each year brings its changes in the personnel connected with the school, but we particularly regret that Dr. Edward M. Jefferys, in obeying doctor's orders, resigned as Professor, Chaplain and Warden. He had made himself much beloved, and it was hard to have him leave. The Bishop appointed the Ven. James F. Bullitt as Warden, and the Rev. A. A. Ewing as Chaplain.

Last winter it became evident that some changes in our courses would be advisable to meet certain demands of the churches and especially of the Sunday Schools. With this in view the Bishop appointed the Rev. F. E. Seymour Director of Curriculum, and he has brought our courses into line with what is now required of Sunday School teachers.

There is the change of one name among our Managers. To our great regret, Mrs. Samuel F. Houston resigned, after having served on the Board for eight years. Her unfailing interest and generosity will be greatly missed. In filling the vacancy on the Board, we felt that it would be mutually beneficial to the school and the Woman's Auxiliary to bring them into closer contact by having the place occupied, ex-officio, by the Diocesan President of the Woman's Auxiliary. Hence Mrs. George Woodward, the present President, was appointed and accepted the position.

The hospitality of the House has been extended to a large number of missionaries and others. In May an inspiring Institute on "Leadership" was held here, by Miss Mabel Lee Cooper, and the National Executive Committee of Deaconesses met here for two days. We have also taken as boarders some women who want to live in the religious atmosphere of the school while studying in Philadelphia. It is a cause of satisfaction that the school has been increasingly useful, and that every room is occupied except those on fourth floor, and that even in the summer when the school was closed, seventeen people sojourned at the House for longer or shorter periods.

Respectfully submitted,

EDITH C. PAGE,
Secretary.

Report of the Associates to the Board of Managers

For the year beginning November, 1928, and ending October, 1929.

THE Associates to the Board of Managers have continued their work as usual under the able leadership of their President, Mrs. E. H. Bonsall.

The Treasurer's report is as follows:

Received from dues and contributions	$127.00
Expended (for graduating gifts to the Students, contributions towards repairs for the kitchen, Christmas funds and summer outings for the students, etc.	124.00
Balance on hand	$3.00

The Associates feel it a great privilege to have a share in the life of the House. They have endeavored to show their real interest in the students in various ways, such as having the girls in their homes, etc. The relationships thus formed have been most pleasant and, in many cases, have continued after the students have graduated and have taken up their work in the field.

This report cannot be concluded without mentioning the deep regret and sense of loss felt by the Associates when the news was received of the death of Maryland Nichols, a graduate of the School. She entered into rest at her post in Cape Mount, Liberia, in January, 1929, the latest martyr in the field, and the Associates, as they lament the loss of her bright presence, feel a great pride in this brave witness for Christ and His Church. May she rest in peace!

Secretary to the Associates of the Board of Managers.

Report of the Head Deaconess

TO THE BISHOPS AND CORPORATION OF THE CHURCH TRAINING AND DEACONESS SCHOOL OF THE DIOCESE OF PENNSYLVANIA:

The year has been full of many interesting events and developments in the work of the school. It has been a privilege to be here, associated with so many earnest people and permitted to carry out plans for the enlargement of the scope of our work.

The Household. During the last school year we numbered 23, divided as follows: Students 15, Deaconesses 2, Boarders 3, maids 3. This fall term we number 25 in all, there being two new boarders with us. Our new class of students seems satisfactory in preliminary training and experience, and to have a fine spirit in taking up the work here. Four of them had been teachers, the others business women, and one is the wife of a clergyman. We have had a total of 81 house guests during this year. That included Missionaries, Special Speakers (15 in all), Graduates, and personal friends. Some were here for one night only, while others were here for a few days or a week or more. We have had 304 guests for meals only. These included Clergy (after a service), Faculty, Managers, Associates, Graduates, and personal friends. We had in all seven special guest dinners when we entertained many friends of the school. Those are included in the above figure. The large group for the Alumnæ Luncheon is not included. The plan of allowing others besides the students to live in the house has justified itself to us. We feel they add to the general pleasantness of the family life, as well as being a source of additional income. We have given to the Treasurer during this year $1,257.63 from these extra guests, regular or occasional. During the months of July and August no meals were served here at the expense of the school. Those living here did cooperative housekeeping, and the school received room rent only.

Resignations. Three resignations have been accepted with great regret. The first was that of the Rev. E. M. Jefferys, S.T.D., from his three-fold office of Warden, Chaplain and Instructor. It seemed too great a blow to rally from, but it was under doctor's orders, due to the state of his health and his increased duties in St. Peter's Parish, hence we had to accept it. We realize that the best way to show our appreciation of his years of work in the school is to carry on in the same spirit of devotion and faithfulness that he had always shown. The second was that of the Rev. R. K. Yerkes, Ph.D., D.D. This came due to strain of regular work. For the last two years Dr. Yerkes had continued his classes while under a very heavy personal strain, and it seemed unkind to urge him further. We thank him for all he has done for us and are looking forward to his occasional lectures which he has promised to give to us. The third was that of Mr. H. L. Jefferys. He felt unable to give the time for the development of the course on Business Methods that we felt the needs of the students require. We are sorry, indeed, to lose him from our staff, and are grateful for the years of help already given.

New Appointments. In the spring Bishop Garland appointed the Rev. F. E. Seymour to the position of Director of Curriculum. This new office fills an important need in our work, and Mr. Seymour is without doubt the right man for it. His work as Diocesan Director of Religious Education brings him into broad contacts and we know he will see to it that our curriculum is kept up to the present day requirements. He also brings our school into closer relationship with the Diocesan Normal School of which he is Principal. Very special thanks are due to him now for the thought and time he has spent on our course of study. He has already brought it to a standard of greater efficiency. The Ven. James F. Bullitt has assumed his new office of Warden, and the Rev. A. A. Ewing that of Chaplain. Dr. John H. Arnett has become our School Physician. Thus our needs are supplied and we are deeply grateful to these gentlemen who have so graciously accepted these responsibilities and additional work. (The new appointments to the Faculty are included in the next topic.)

New Schedule of Study. During the spring term Deaconess Humphreys taught a course in hand work and songs for use in weekday activities for Church schools. Miss Mabel Lee Cooper, National Secretary for Teacher Training, gave us an intensive course (ten hours) on "Leadership." Miss Mundelein led our students in two group discussions, the subjects being "The Negro and His Problem" and "World Peace." Mr. Seymour had an extra noonday class for some weeks on General History and Literature. The students conducted for themselves a short course in Readings from Famous Writers. During the summer three of our students had work in colleges. Miss Crossley obtained seven college credits in the Department of Religious Education in Teachers' College, New York, and has a teacher's certificate for one course under the National Department of Religious Education. Miss Janet Morris was granted a scholarship for part time study at Teachers' College, New York, and part time supervised work in a Daily Vacation Bible School. Miss Wilma Biggs has secured a U.T.O. Scholarship for Regular Teacher Training and is at the North Carolina College for Women for study. This fall the new courses added are: 1. Gymnasium work at the Y.W.C.A., once each week at the students' expense. Some also take swimming on other days. 2. Bible Introduction, including an elementary survey of the contents, Biblical Geography, and the History of the English Bible. This is taught by Deaconess Humphreys. 3. History and Principles of Christian Missions. This includes the current year Mission Study text book, taught by Mrs. John Hill. Then the course on the subject to be taught by me. (I am taking the course at Temple University in preparation for the class.) It will also give credit for the various missionary lectures which we so frequently have the privilege of having given here. 4. Parish Administration. This is in the process of development. The first unit of ten hours is to be given next week in an intensive course taught by Miss Edna Beardsley, the Assistant National Executive Secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary, on "Women in the Parish." The second unit is to be a symposium given by various experienced parish workers (Deaconess Brookman, Miss Henk and others) on Methods of Parish Work, that is various organizations, records, etc. The third unit is Business Methods. Dr. Franklin, Treas. of the National Council will give us some lectures on this subject. The new members on the regular faculty are the Rev. B. N. Bird for the Book of Acts and the Epistles of St. Paul; the Rev. S. V. Wilcox for the O. T. subjects; the Rev. M. W. Sharp for Sociology. We are grateful to all these many new helpers in our work and we trust they will enjoy being a part of the school. We also feel very happy that Bishop Taitt has been able and willing to continue his work here.

Outside Contacts and Interests. Our students now have regular work at the Diocesan Normal School. We do not duplicate in our curriculum the subjects in Religious Education given there. Hence Mrs. John Loman, who for years came faithfully to us, has our students in her classes there. Our students receive the N.A.T.A. Certificate before they receive our diploma. Many of our courses are, of course, much more detailed and thorough than those at the Normal School and others appreciate that fact. We have seven outside students coming to us for some classes. We have attended various Diocesan meetings: the Church School Annual Institute and Supper; The Diocesan Educational Day, and the Presentation of the U.T.O. Service of the Woman's Auxiliary; the Church Social Workers' Guild meetings and suppers; and the great and happy occasion of the consecration of Bp. Taitt. In the spring a new feature in practical work was tried. The Seniors, two by two, a week at a time, went into residence at St. Martha's House, coming back to us for class work only during their time there. It was thought that by living there when the work was at its height, they would get an insight into that type of work which occasional observation could not give. They were all most interested in the work and happy to have had that privilege. Another thing was that one of our students was admitted to two classes for regular work, one in Theory, and one in Demonstration, of Nursing, with the class of probationers at the Pennsylvania Hospital. We are very grateful to Miss Dunlop for making that possible. Miss Alley had a number of courses at Temple University in the spring, and Miss Keller has a heavy schedule of work there this fall.

Repairs and Equipment. Much has been done this year to improve our building. During the Easter vacation the kitchen was completely redone, and fine new linoleum (the gift of Mrs. Browne) was laid. During the summer, eleven bed-rooms were papered and most of them painted (through the help of Miss Sinkler and Miss Morris). The parlor, Chapel and dining room floors were refinished, the chimneys and roofs repaired, and a new roof put on the garage; the electric lights were repaired and new ones installed in some parts of the house; and in the spring a Thermovent attachment for the furnace, being regulated by a thermostat, was a great improvement to the heating system. All these have added much to the appearance and comfort of the House and have, of course, added much to the expenditures for the year.

Class of 1929. Seven students were graduated on May 28th. These were: Miss Mildred Alley, of Maine, now the Diocesan Director of Religious Education in North Dakota; Miss Wilma Biggs, of North Carolina, now studying in the N. C. College for Women in preparation for work in Cuba; Miss Dorothy Crossley, of Philadelphia, now Director of Religious Education in St. Mark's Parish, Frankford; Miss Ella Davis, of Connecticut, now a worker at St. Martha's House; Miss Mabel Hissey, of New York, now a worker at St. Mark's Mission, Nenana, Alaska; Miss Rachel Jackson, of New Hampshire, now at St. Elizabeth's School in South Dakota; and Miss M. W. Sumner, now in charge of a Mission Settlement House at Flat Rock, N. C. (her home Diocese) and also the Assistant Diocesan Secretary of the Young People's Service League. It is very gratifying to feel that these young women are now giving themselves to such a variety of church work in such a wide area, and that they are busy and happy in the Master's service.

Deaconess Chapter. The Philadelphia Chapter of Deaconesses has held three meetings here during the year. One of these was a Quiet Half Day, when the Rev. S. V. Wilcox conducted the devotions. In May, the National Executive Committee of Deaconesses, of which Deaconess Colesberry and I are members, met here. It was a great joy to entertain these visiting Deaconesses. The time spent together was given to much interesting discussion and real fellowship. It is a matter of real concern to us all that so few young women seem to be thinking of entering the Order. This is especially true of the graduates of this school. We would like to know the reason for this. Is it that the life seems too hard or lonely or uncertain? Is it that Bishops and clergy in general prefer their trained workers not to be set apart? Is it due to a dislike of the uniform? I shall be glad to receive opinions from any one interested in this.

Gifts to the School. We are under obligation to many friends for many kindnesses. We have mentioned several substantial gifts under Repairs and Equipment. Others are: Flowers for the Altar, sent regularly by the Managers and Associates; A fine desk for my use; Chapel supplies of many kinds, two sets of linen dust covers, two fair linens, lace for two superfrontals, a lectern lamp, a pair of cruets, two sets of burse and veil, one white and one purple, 40 new Prayer Books, and money for other further equipment; $50 for table linen (from Mrs. Fries); tickets for many concerts and lectures; entertainment in many homes; Two weeks vacation for four students in Atlantic City; Christmas gifts both to the school as a whole and to individuals; gifts to the Seniors at Commencement; the Alumnæ Luncheon (from Mrs. Houston); financial help for some of the students. The list of names would be long but our thanks are now meant for you all, for having shown your interest in the school in so many thoughtful and kind ways.

Personal Activities. The routine of desk work (correspondence, records, reports, accounts, etc.) fills an important part of my time. I have kept up several lines of study also. In April I received the N.A.T.A. Certificate along with the other Normal School Graduates. I am glad thus to be in close touch with the actual work they are doing. During the year I have written 649 letters for the school (personal correspondence is entirely separate) and I have addressed envelopes for 600 Reports, 150 Tea Invitations, and 180 Commencement Invitations, making a total of 1,579 pieces of mail I have sent out. I have written sections for each Newsletter and an article for the Diocesan Church News. During the year I have had several trips away, sometimes to speak on China but always to refer to our school. In November I was in Rhode Island and Connecticut for four days; in December, in Vermont for the Christmas holidays; in May I went to Boston to speak at the U.T.O. Presentation Service and Conference; in June I had a month's vacation in Vermont; in July I attended the Blue Mountain Conference in Frederick, Md.; in September I attended the meeting of the National Executive Committee of Deaconesses and the Retreat in New York; in October I attended the Provincial Synod in Harrisburg, and then spent a day in Williamsport; and last week I was in Pittsburgh for the Diocesan U.T.O. Service and Conference, as a speaker. I have spoken at all sorts of meetings in and near Philadelphia, at Church services, or Church Schools, W. A. meetings, G.F.S. suppers; Toc H meeting; at the Interdenominational Prayer-Day Meeting; at the Y.W.C.A. Committee of Religious Education; at a number of Y.P.F. meetings, etc. It is always interesting to meet and know so many people interested in the church's work and to feel that we are all workers together with God.

The Assistant House Mother. Deaconess Humphreys has carried her share of work most efficiently, and has also helped much in other ways, besides looking after our physical comforts. She has helped in the chapel services and music as well as the work in the classes she has taught. She has improved in health in spite of her many duties and my gratitude to her is sincere and deep. We both wish to thank our faithful helpers, the three colored maids, Cora, Rose and Emma, and also the extra helpers, the furnace man, laundress, and cleaning woman, all of whom do good work for the school.

On All Saints' Day, at the early Communion Service in our Chapel, we remembered the names of four of our graduates who have entered into the nearer presence of our Lord during this year. These were:

Maryland Nicholas, '25, January 24, 1929, in Liberia, Africa.

Harriet G. Jacob (Sister Brigit), '14, March 17, 1929, in Sagada, P. I.

Emma L. Gale, '09, April 6, 1929, in Philadelphia.

Pauline Neidhart, '06, September 10, 1929, in Philadelphia.

Without the daily sympathetic backing of our firm friends, the Board of Managers; and the friendly personal interest of the Associates; and the splendid work of the faithful Faculty through all the months of steady teaching; and the help of our Bishops, Warden and Chaplain; and all who uphold their hands and ours, by gifts of money, prayers and work, we could do nothing. May God bless you all and bless our School, so that we may joyfully and effectively serve him in this work.

Respectfully submitted,

GERTRUDE STEWART,

Head Deaconess.

General Information for Prospective Students.

The Church Training and Deaconess School is intended to meet the needs of three classes of women:

1. Those who wish to prepare for the Deaconess Order;

2. Those who wish to devote themselves to Church work at home or abroad, but without entering an Order;

3. Those who wish to take up religious study for their own improvement, or to become more useful in their home parishes.

ADMISSION

Applicants for admission should be at least twenty-one years old and under forty. The course of study is planned for women having at least a high-school education or its equivalent.

Students having credit in approved schools or colleges for subjects required by this School may be given recognition upon presentation of credentials to the Director of Curriculum.

An applicant will be required to answer in writing questions on the form which will be sent on request, and to send these, with the required certificate from her physician, to "The Admission Committee, 708 Spruce Street, Philadelphia, Pa." Students, upon entering the course of training, may be required to see and be examined by a physician approved by the Board.

It is required that applicants be vaccinated, that eyes, nose and throat be examined, and that teeth be put in order before entering. If necessary to have the tonsils removed, it should also be done before coming to the School.

Applicants must be accepted by the Admission Committee and enter as student visitors for at least two months' probation before they can be recognized as students.

Only the names of regular students appear in our printed reports.

COURSES OF STUDY

1. Regular Students.—The full course of training covers two years.

2. Special Students.—Those who do not take the full course and are not eligible for graduation.

Students desiring to pursue postgraduate courses or to complete a college course will find many opportunities in connection with colleges, universities and special schools in Philadelphia. Such courses are at their own expense. The life in the school gives a religious and social environment to such students.

3. Missionary Students.—Women sent by the Department of Missions to be tested; their training is adapted to their special needs.

At the end of each term examinations are held, or term papers are required and no student is allowed to proceed if conditioned in three subjects.

DIPLOMAS AND CERTIFICATES

By-Law, Article VIII

SEC. 5. Upon the satisfactory completion of the prescribed course of study and training, the student shall receive a diploma signed by the Bishop, Warden, President of the Board of Managers, and the Head Deaconess.

SEC. 7. The diploma of the School may be refused to any student not proving satisfactory at any time before the end of her training.

To non-residents completing the required studies in one or more departments a certificate of the work accomplished will be given upon application.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR EMPLOYMENT

We receive applications for graduates as Parish and City Mission Visitors, Leaders in Religious Education, Social Service workers, heads of day nurseries, orphanages, homes of various kinds, hospitals, settlement workers, teachers and principals of Church schools, diocesan deaconesses and missionaries for the home and foreign fields. Thus far we have always had more applications than we could fill.

EXPENSES

Residents.—The charge for resident students, including tuition, training and the use of necessary books, is $300 for the school year, payable in advance, in October and February. This charge includes a reasonable amount of laundry, but does not include medical care, or fees for any work taken outside of the school, such as University classes, Gymnasium, etc.

Paying visitors are charged at the rate of $2 per day if for short visits. If permanent for a term or more, rooms are at the rate of $15 per month, and meals at $1.20 per day. If one meal is regularly taken outside a reduction will be made.

Resident Students taking the full course are at no expense for the required practical training in summer, except for hospital uniforms.

All necessary furniture and house linen are supplied by the school. It is suggested that an extra pair of blankets or top comfortable be provided by each student when possible.

Non-Residents.—Women living in Philadelphia or its vicinity and attending the classes will be charged one dollar for each subject for each half year. (This is the same rate as the Diocesan Normal School Classes.)

THE UNIFORM

A uniform of midnight blue (with a plain coat and hat, and black shoes), is worn after the probation period. Students are required to wear the uniform for Chapel services, classroom work and practical work connected with the school. At other times the students may wear their ordinary clothes.

SCHOLARSHIPS

A few scholarships are provided each year by friends of the school.

The Managers hope that, while no desirable applicant should be debarred from training through lack of means, she will, if possible, provide for the first year at least.

The course of training is so exacting that it has been necessary to prohibit students from attempting to work for their support while in the school.

THE SCHOOL YEAR

The Academic Year is divided into two terms of sixteen weeks each, and begins with the first Wednesday in October, ending with Commencement Day, the last Wednesday in May.

Summer Work.—In addition to the eight months of study, a Regular Student must give ten weeks each summer, or twenty weeks in all, to hospital service or other practical work assigned as an equivalent.

Vacations consist of ten days or two weeks at Christmas, one week at Easter, and six weeks in summer. It is planned that each student shall have one day each week at her own disposal.

Prayer for the School.

Grant, O Lord, we beseech Thee, that Thy blessing may rest upon our Training School, and upon every member thereof, both present and absent. Give to all of us grace to live in Christian love one toward another, to bear one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ; and to follow the example of Thy Blessed Son, Who pleased not Himself, and came not to be ministered unto but to minister: to Whom, with Thee and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory, world without end. Amen.

The Prayer for Deaconesses.

By Bishop Thorold.

O Lord of souls, Who hast chosen and called me to service in Thy Church, all my trust is in Thee, for in Thee are the springs of my life. Abundantly give me of Thy Blessed Spirit, without Whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy; and use me as it shall please Thee for the glory of Thy name. Make my will patient, my conscience pure, my temper bright. Empty me of self, and fill me with the meekness of wisdom. Increase my faith, mellow my judgment, stir my zeal, enlarge my heart. Let my life enforce what my lips utter. Do Thou choose for me the work I do, and the place in which I do it; the success I win, and the harvest I reap. Preserve me from jealousy and impatience, from self-will and depression. Make me faithful unto death, and then give me the crown of life. All which I ask for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

Report of the Board of Managers

WE are glad to report that the school opened this year with a larger number in the Junior Class, and all of them promising candidates. We expect much of them.

Since the last report there have been many changes in the personnel closely associated with the school. Our first loss was Bishop Garland, who was our President and a wise counselor, always intensely interested in our work. In his successor, Bishop Taitt, we have one who is entirely familiar with the school, having generously given us his time and thought for twenty-five years as a member of the Faculty.

Then we were shocked by the sudden death of Rev. Benjamin N. Bird, instructor in New Testament, an inspiring man and teacher; and later we lost a beloved and invaluable member of the Board of Managers, Mrs. John Coats Browne. Also our most efficient Treasurer, Mrs. John Van Pelt, has been obliged to resign. Mrs. Robert Faulconer Jefferys has come to our rescue, and kindly consented to accept the office of Treasurer.

Besides all these, we had to relinquish Deaconess Stewart when Bishop Roots sent for her to return to her work in China. Her three years as Head Deaconess were years of untiring constructive work for the school, and we deeply regretted her leaving. Her mantle has fallen upon one of our own graduates, Miss Ethel Springer, who is to have the title of Dean. Having graduated from Radcliffe College before taking the course here, and having pursued her studies in the Graduate School of the University of Pennsylvania, she brings to her task an unusually thorough mental training, and her practical experience supplements this in a comprehensive way. First as Assistant Parish Worker at St. Peter's Church, Philadelphia, then as Field Representative for the Federal Children's Bureau in Washington, and later as Supervisor of Probation Officers of the Juvenile Court of the District of Columbia, she has had a wide experience and now is glad to offer this to the work of the Church. We welcome her heartily, feeling that she will keep up the standards and reputation of the school, and we ask for her the interest, sympathy and encouragement of the Diocese.

Respectfully submitted, EDITH C. PAGE, Secretary.

Rt. Rev. Thomas J. Garland

At sunset of Sunday, March first, our dear Bishop Garland was called into the immediate Presence of the Lord, whom he had so faithfully loved and served. In the midst of active work, with only four days to wait, "the gate opened of its own accord," and he passed from us to be at Home with God.

Among the hundreds who will miss him and mourn his loss, the Managers of the Church Training and Deaconess House, with the Associates and Household, desire to place on record their gratitude for his unceasing devoted service. He gave his personal thought, sympathy, counsel, and comradeship, at all times and in all directions, temporal and spiritual.

To his devoted wife we extend our earnest sorrow and sympathy, remembering, "The righteous live forevermore, and the care of them is with the Most High."

Rev. Benjamin N. Bird

On February 12, 1931, in the 48th year of his age, Benjamin Newcomer Bird passed into the Life Beyond.

For the last year and a half he had been on the Faculty of the Church Training and Deaconess House, teaching the Book of Acts and the Pauline Epistles.

Scholarly, earnest, and sincere, he was an inspiring teacher, and his genial and sympathetic nature won the hearts of his students and of all connected with the school.

We, the Board of Managers, wish to record our deep appreciation of his teaching and example, and our sense of the irreparable loss his death brings to our School and to the Church at large.

Resolved, That this resolution be spread upon the minutes and that a copy be sent to his bereaved wife, together with our deepest sympathy.

Mrs. John Coats Browne

In June, after several months' illness, Mrs. John Coats Browne entered into Life Eternal.

A member of the Board of Managers for nineteen years, for a large part of that time she ably held the office of Treasurer, and later she was Chairman of the Admission Committee and member of the House Committee.

We, the Board of Managers, have lost a dear friend and faithful co-worker, one who gave her ready sympathy and help at every opportunity. Greatly do we miss her; but for her it is far better, for we know that she has entered into the joy of her Lord.

Report of Associates to the Board of Managers, 1930–1931

THE work of the Associates has been carried on as usual, under the leadership of the President, Mrs. Bonsall.

The two teas given annually by the Associates were omitted this year, as it was proposed that the Feast of the Epiphany, January 6, 1931, being the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the School, the Associates should join with the Managers in giving a large anniversary tea on that day. This proposal was carried out, and the tea, at which large numbers were present, was a great success.

The sum of $88.00 was contributed this year by the Associates. This money was expended for various gifts to the School, summer outings and graduation presents for students, etc.

It was with the deepest regret that the Associates heard Deaconess Stewart make her last report as Head of the School. Her bright presence and unceasing activity on behalf of the School, her valuable suggestions, have been for the last three years an inspiration to everyone who knew her. The Associates pray for God's blessing upon the Deaconess as she returns to work in China.

The Associates also wish to record the pleasant associations they have had already with the new Head of the School, Miss Ethel Springer, to whom they wish every blessing as she begins her work at the School.

The contacts made with the students personally have been very interesting and stimulating; and it is most encouraging to think of the fine band of trained workers produced by the School every year, who go forward to work for Christ and His Church.

Respectfully submitted,

Report of the Head Deaconess

TO THE BISHOP AND CORPORATION OF THE CHURCH TRAINING AND DEACONESS HOUSE OF THE DIOCESE OF PENNSYLVANIA:

The work of the School from October, 1930, through the summer of 1931 has been done regularly and I hope satisfactorily. It is with a thankful heart for many blessings that I now give to you this report.

The household has numbered about 22 for the year. In the fall we had 9 students but in the winter we added 3 more. Our boarders were 8 in all for the year, but they varied at times; 2 deaconesses and 3 maids were a regular part of the household. Our income from boarders was less than before, as some had rooms only, due to irregularities in meals. It totaled $1,200.75 for the year. Our house guests (some for one night only, others for days or weeks) have numbered 103, and those for meals only totaled 363, not including the large group on Alumnæ Day. Hence the size of the regular group was at times considerably enlarged.

Speakers.—It is always a privilege to entertain in our School bishops, other clergy and women workers and to have them speak to the students about their work. We had 14 such speakers and the scope of the subjects was very broad, indeed. We have had three times of special devotions, and we found them a great help and inspiration. They gave a very impressive tone to the devotional life of the School. One was in February, when our students shared the Quiet Half-Day for the Deaconess Chapter, which was conducted by the Rev. Thomas Burgess, D.D. Another was in April, led by the Rev. A. A. Ewing, D.D., and the third was just before Commencement, led by our Chaplain, the Rev. E. M. Jefferys, S.T.D.

Studies.—The routine class work was carried on faithfully, and the Faculty deserves our warmest thanks for their important part in this. The students were loyal in their response and preparation and the results were satisfactory. Two meetings of the Faculty were held, one in February, and one in May, when all details were considered. At the May meeting the resignation of Bishop Taitt from our staff brought deep regret to all. He had given twenty-five years of devoted and consecrated teaching in the School. We were extremely grateful that he carried the work to the end of the term, even when the full responsibility of the Diocese came upon him so suddenly. The death of the Rev. B. N. Bird in February came as a great shock and sorrow to us all. The Warden kindly took over his class work to the end of the year, and his help has been deeply appreciated. That made five vacancies to be filled during the summer in the teaching staff—the two above noted and that left by Dr. Ewing last year, and by the withdrawal from the School of Deaconesses Humphreys and Stewart. It is hoped that these will be filled by fall.

Three of our graduates have passed to the Life Eternal during this year:

On April 29, 1931, Martha H. Wurts, Deaconess, Class of 1911.

On June 13, 1931, Mary E. Metzler (Mrs. Henry Lunt) Class of 1903.

On July 21, 1931, Emily DeWitt Seaman, Class of 1905.

"The souls of the righteous are in the hand of God, . . . Therefore shall they receive a glorious Kingdom and a beautiful crown from the Lord's right hand. For with his right hand shall he cover them and with his arm shall he protect them."

Class of 1931.—Commencement was held on May 27th. Five students were graduated. These were: Miss Elizabeth Brown, of the Diocese of Western New York, now to teach at the Blue Ridge Industrial School in Virginia; Miss Marian Brown, of the Diocese of Delaware, now to work at St. John's House, at post-graduate work; Miss Mary Landis, of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, now to be the Kindergartner at St. Martha's House; Miss Eunice Olsen, of South Dakota, now to be a U.T.O. worker in her home diocese; and Miss Bessie Sims of Virginia, now to be a missionary at Nanking, China. Three special students received certificates of credit for a great deal of work done in the School. These were: Miss Lilian Merner, of Iowa; Miss Margaret Marshall, of South Carolina, a U.T.O. worker; and Miss Esther Hazlett, of Pennsylvania.

Summer Work.—The ten weeks of summer work was well done by the regular students and the reports are excellent.

Six students were at the Episcopal Hospital; one at Buttercup Cottage; one at St. Martha's House; and two at the Blue Ridge Industrial School. The special students did not do the required practical work.

Institute: In November Miss Margaret Marston gave us an Institute on "Adult Education." It covered ten hours' work. We are grateful to her for her help in making this vast subject so real and interesting to our students.

Our thanks are due to many persons for many kindnesses:

To the Rev. E. M. Jefferys, for his willing assistance as Chaplain, and also for the privileges afforded us at St. Peter's Church and in the parish;

To Dr. John H. Arnett, for his ever-ready response to any call we have made upon his time or skill;

To Deaconess Humphreys, for her work as Assistant House Mother, the daily care of the health and happiness of the household, and for her class work in two preliminary Bible Courses and in the hand-work class;

To the Associates, for their kindness to the students in personal ways, and to the School in general, for several gifts of money for special purposes, for treats for students during their summer work, for graduation gifts to the seniors, and for a personal farewell gift to me;

To Mrs. B. N. Bird, for a fine lot of books from her husband's library for our library;

To the Director of Curriculum, the Warden, and the Board of Managers, for their continual services to the School in every detail, both of the academic and household life.

My personal share in the school work has been the same as in other years. Much time has been spent at my desk in correspondence and other work of administration, in representing the School at public meetings, conferences, and in personal interviews. I continued the course in "Christian Missions," and felt happy at the response in interest for that great cause.

It has been a great privilege to have been associated with this work for the past three and a half years. I thank you all for your cordial support and ever-ready help. May God bless you all, and especially your new dean and her assistant, as you carry on this work. May the future years be full of happy and useful service to Christ's Church!

Respectfully submitted,

GERTRUDE STEWART,
Head Deaconess.
